(1)(a) The authority created and established by the provisions of this chapter is hereby granted and shall have the right to acquire, hold, construct, improve, maintain, operate, own and lease in the capacity of lessor, the Jacksonville Expressway System (hereinafter referred to as "system") heretofore partially constructed or acquired by Florida State Improvement Commission in the Jacksonville, Duval County, metropolitan area, as more specifically described in the proceedings of said commission which authorized the issuance of $28 million bonds of said commission for said purpose, and as hereafter completed or improved or extended as authorized by this chapter, and all appurtenant facilities, including all approaches, streets, roads, bridges and avenues of access for said Jacksonville Expressway System, and to construct or acquire extensions, additions and improvements to said system and to complete the construction and acquisition of said system.

(b) The authority may, in addition, acquire, hold, construct, improve, operate, maintain, and lease in the capacity of lessor, a mass transit system employing motor cars or buses, street railway systems beneath, on the surface, or above the surface, or any other means determined useful to the rapid transfer of large numbers of people among the locations of residence, commerce, industry, and education in the City of Jacksonville.

(c) The authority may further plan, coordinate, and recommend to appropriate officers and agencies of federal, state, and local governments methods and facilities for the parking of vehicles, the movement of pedestrians, and vehicular traffic, public and private, in the City of Jacksonville, to accomplish a coordinated transportation system for the greater Jacksonville area. The authority may construct and operate passenger terminals for the parking of automobiles and movement by public conveyance of persons and construct and operate all other facilities necessary to a complete and coordinated transportation system in the Jacksonville area.

(d) It is the express intention of this chapter that said authority, in completing the construction of said Jacksonville Expressway System, shall not be limited to the description thereof contained in said proceedings of said commission which authorized the issuance of $28 million bonds to finance part of the cost thereof, but shall be authorized to construct any additional extensions, additions or improvements to said system, or appurtenant facilities, including all necessary approaches, roads, bridges and avenues of access, with such changes, modifications or revisions of said project as shall be deemed desirable and proper. It is the intent of this chapter, and to effect its purposes, the Legislature determines that bonds issued under this chapter are deemed to be state capital improvement bonds to finance or refinance the cost of state capital projects.

(f) To fix, alter, charge, establish and collect rates, fees, rentals and other charges for the services and facilities of the Jacksonville Expressway System, which rates, fees, rentals and other charges shall always be sufficient to comply with any covenants made with the holders of any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter; provided, however, that such right and power may be assigned or delegated, by the authority, to the department.

(g)1. thority, or by Florida State Improvement Commission to finance part of the cost of the Jacksonville Expressway System, and purposes related thereto, and for the purpose of financing all or part of the completion or improvement or extension of the Jacksonville Expressway System, and appurtenant facilities, including all approaches, streets, roads, bridges and avenues of access for said Jacksonville Expressway System and for any other purpose authorized by this chapter, said bonds to mature in not exceeding 40 years from the date of the issuance thereof, and to secure the payment of such bonds or any part thereof by a pledge of any or all of its revenues, rates, fees, rentals or other charges, including all or any portion of the Duval County gasoline tax funds received by the authority pursuant to the terms of any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department; and in general to provide for the security of said bonds and the rights and remedies of the holders thereof.

2. In the event that the authority shall determine to fund or refund any bonds theretofore issued by said authority, or by said commission as aforesaid prior to the maturity thereof, the proceeds of such funding or refunding bonds shall, pending the prior redemption of the bonds to be funded or refunded, be invested in direct obligations of the United States, and it is the express intention of this chapter that such outstanding bonds may be funded or refunded by the issuance of bonds pursuant to this chapter notwithstanding that part of such outstanding bonds will not mature or become redeemable until 6 years after the date of issuance of bonds pursuant to this chapter to fund or refund such outstanding bonds.

(h) To make contracts of every name and nature and to execute all instruments necessary or convenient for the carrying on of its business.

(i) Without limitation of the foregoing, to borrow money and accept grants from, and to enter into contracts, leases or other transactions with any federal agency, the state, any agency of the state, the County of Duval, the City of Jacksonville or with any other public body of the state.

(j) To have the power of eminent domain.

(k) To pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber all or any part of the revenues, rates, fees, rentals or other charges or receipts of the authority, including all or any portion of the Duval County gasoline tax funds received by the authority pursuant to the terms of any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, as security for all or any of the obligations of the authority.

(l) To do all acts and things necessary or convenient for the conduct of its business and the general welfare of the authority, in order to carry out the powers granted to it by this chapter or any other law.

bonds or any part thereof by a pledge of any or all of its revenues, rates, fees, rentals or other charges, and in general to provide for the security of said bonds and the rights and remedies of the holders thereof.

(3) The authority shall have no power at any time or in any manner to pledge the credit or taxing power of the state or any political subdivision or agency thereof, nor shall any of the authority's obligations be deemed to be obligations of the state or of any political subdivision or agency thereof, nor shall the state or any political subdivision or agency thereof, except the authority, be liable for the payment of the principal of, or interest on, such obligations. However, this provision shall not be applicable to the type or manner of financing authorized by s. 9(c)(5), Art. XII of the State Constitution and laws enacted pursuant thereto.

Two public hearings shall be held by the authority to insure public participation in the process for determining the need for the project contemplated and the location and effect of such project. One hearing shall be conducted before the route location of any expressway or right-of-way for mass transit operations is approved and before the authority is committed to a specific proposal. A second hearing shall be held after the route location has been approved, but before the authority is committed to a specific design proposal.

(2) NOTICE.—No such public hearing shall be held until after the authority has published notice thereof, the size of which shall be at least one fourth page, inviting the public to be present and heard, in a daily newspaper published in Jacksonville of at least 50,000 circulation, 14 to 30 days in advance of the public hearing to be held. #### 349.05 Bonds of the authority.—

(1)(a) The bonds of the authority issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be authorized by resolution of the members thereof and may be either term or serial bonds, shall bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, not exceeding 40 years from their respective dates, bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding 7½ percent per annum, payable semiannually, be in such denominations, be in such form, either coupon or fully registered, shall carry such registration, exchangeability and interchangeability privileges, be payable in such medium of payment and at such place or places, be subject to such terms of redemption and be entitled to such priorities on the revenues, rates, fees, rentals or other charges or receipts of the authority including the Duval County gasoline tax funds received by the authority pursuant to the terms of any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, as such resolution or any resolution subsequent thereto may provide. The bonds shall be executed either by manual or facsimile signature by such officers as the authority shall determine, provided that such bonds shall bear at least one signature which is manually executed thereon, and the coupons attached to such bonds shall bear the facsimile signature or signatures of such officer or officers as shall be designated by the authority and shall have the seal of the authority affixed, imprinted, reproduced or lithographed thereon, all as may be prescribed in such resolution or resolutions.

(b) Prior to any sale of bonds the authority shall cause notice to be given by publication in some newspaper published in the county that the authority will receive bids for the purchase of the bonds at the office of the authority in the county. Said notice shall be published twice and the first publication shall be given not less than 15 days prior to the date set for receiving the bids. Said notice shall specify the amount of the bonds offered for sale and shall state that the bids shall be sealed bids, shall give the schedule of the maturities of the proposed bonds and such other pertinent information as may be prescribed in the resolution authorizing the issuance of such bonds or any resolution subsequent thereto. Bidders may be invited to name the rate of interest which the bonds are to bear or the authority may name rate of interest and invite bids thereon. In addition to publication of notice of the proposed sale the authority shall also give notice in writing of the proposed sale enclosing a copy of such advertisement to the secretary of the Department of Transportation and to at least three recognized bond dealers in the state, such notice to be given not less than 10

(c) All bonds and refunding bonds issued pursuant to this chapter shall be sold to the highest and best bidder at such public sale unless sold at a better price or yield basis within 30 days after failure to receive an acceptable bid at a duly advertised public sale, provided that the interest cost to the authority on such bonds shall not exceed 7½ percent per annum, and provided further, that the authority shall have the right to reject all bids and cause a new notice to be given in like manner inviting other bids for such bonds. In determining the highest and best bidder for bonds offered for sale, the net interest cost to the authority as shown in standard bond tables shall govern; provided, that the determination of the authority as to the highest and best bidder shall be final. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim certificates may be issued to the purchaser or purchasers of such bonds, and may contain such terms and conditions as the authority may determine.

(d) The authority may require all bidders for said bonds to give security by bond or deposit to the authority to insure that the bidder shall comply with the terms of the bid, and any bidder whose bid shall be accepted shall be liable to the authority for all damages on account of the nonperformance of the terms of such bid or to a forfeiture of the deposit required by the authority.

(2) Any such resolution or resolutions authorizing any bonds hereunder may contain provisions which shall be part of the contract with the holders of such bonds, as to:

(a) The pledging of all or any part of the revenues, rates, fees, rentals, (including all or any portion of the Duval County gasoline tax funds received by the authority pursuant to the terms of any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, or any part thereof), or other charges or receipts of the authority, derived by the authority from the Jacksonville Expressway Systems;

(3)(a) The State Board of Administration of Florida shall be the fiscal agent of the authority for any bonds issued by the authority pursuant to this chapter whenever the authority requires the issuance of bonds related to or dependent upon pledging of Duval County gasoline tax funds; but the state board of administration need not be the fiscal agent for the authority in the issuance of bonds not related to or dependent upon the pledging of Duval County gasoline tax funds. The authority may enter into deeds of trust, indentures or other agreements with said fiscal agent, or with any bank or trust company within or without the state, with the consent of said board, as security for such bonds, and may, under such agreements, assign and pledge all or any of the revenues, rates, fees, rentals, or other charges or receipts of the authority, including all or any portion of the Duval County gasoline tax funds received by the authority pursuant to the terms of any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, thereunder. #### 349.06 Remedies of the bondholders.—

(1) The rights and the remedies herein conferred upon or granted to the bondholders shall be in addition to and not in limitation of any rights and remedies lawfully granted to such bondholders by the resolution or resolutions providing for the issuance of bonds, or by any lease-purchase agreement, deed of trust, indenture or other agreement under which the bonds may be issued or secured. In the event that the authority shall default in the payment of the principal of or interest on any of the bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter after such principal of or interest on said bonds shall have become due, whether at maturity or upon call for redemption, or the department shall default in any payments under, or covenants made in, any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, and such default shall continue for a period of 30 days, or in the event that the authority or the department shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this chapter or any agreement made with, or for the benefit of, the holders of the bonds, the holders of 25 percent in aggregate principal amount of the bonds then outstanding shall be entitled as of right to the appointment of a trustee to represent such bondholders for the purposes hereof; provided, however, that such holders of 25 percent in aggregate principal amount of the bonds then outstanding shall have first given notice of their intention to appoint a trustee, to the authority and to the department. Such notice shall be deemed to have been given if given in writing, and deposited in a securely sealed postpaid wrapper, mailed at a regularly maintained United States post-office box or station and addressed, to the chairman of the authority at the principal office of the authority and to the secretary of the Department of Transportation at the principal office of the department.

(2) Such trustee, and any trustee under any deed of trust, indenture or other agreement, may, and upon written request of the holders of 25 percent (or such other percentages as may be specified in any deed of trust, indenture or other agreement aforesaid) in principal amount of the bonds then outstanding, shall, in any court of competent jurisdiction, in his or its own name:

(a) By mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law, or in equity, enforce all rights of the bondholders, including the right to require the authority to fix, establish, maintain, collect and charge rates, fees, rentals, and other charges, adequate to carry out any agreement as to, or pledge of, the revenues or receipts of the authority, and to require the authority to carry out any other covenants and agreements with or for the benefit of the bondholders, and to perform its and their duties under this chapter,

(b) By mandamus or other suit, action or proceeding at law, or in equity, enforce all rights of the bondholders under or pursuant to any lease-purchase agreement between the authority and the department, including the right to require the department to make all rental payments required to be made by it under the provisions of any such lease-purchase agreement, whether from the Duval County gasoline tax funds or other funds of the department so agreed to be paid and to require the department to carry out any other covenants and agreements with or for the benefit of the bondholders, and to perform its and their duties under this chapter,

(c) Bring suit upon the bonds,

In any suit, action or proceeding by the trustee, the fees, counsel fees, and expenses of the trustee, and said receiver, if any, and all costs and disbursements allowed by the court shall be a first charge on any rates, fees, rentals, or other charges, revenues or receipts, derived from the Jacksonville Expressway System, or the facilities or services or any part or parts thereof, including payments under any such lease-purchase agreement as aforesaid which said rates, fees, rentals, or other charges, revenues or receipts shall or may be applicable to the payment of the bonds so in default. (6) Said department shall have power to covenant in any lease-purchase agreement that it will pay all or any part of the cost of the operation, maintenance, repair, renewal and replacement of said system, and any part of the cost of completing said system to the extent that the proceeds of bonds issued therefor are insufficient, from sources other

350.001 Legislative intent.—The Florida Public Service Commission has been and shall continue to be an arm of the legislative branch of government. It is the desire of the Legislature that the Governor participate in the appointment process of commissioners to the Public Service Commission. The Legislature accordingly delegates to the Governor a limited authority with respect to the Public Service Commission by authorizing him to participate in the selection of members only from the list provided by the Florida Public Service Commission Nominating Council in the manner prescribed by s. 350.031.

History.—s. 1, ch. 78-426.

350.01 Florida Public Service Commission.—

(1) The Florida Public Service Commission shall consist of five commissioners appointed pursuant to s. 350.031.

(2)(a) Each commissioner serving on July 1, 1978, shall be permitted to remain in office until the completion of his current term. Upon the expiration of the term, a successor shall be appointed in the manner prescribed by s. 350.031(3) and (4) for a 4-year term, except that the terms of the initial members appointed under this act shall be as follows:

1. The vacancy created by the present term ending in January, 1981, shall be filled by appointment for a 4-year term and for 4-year terms thereafter; and

2. The vacancies created by the two present terms ending in January, 1979, shall be filled by appointment for a 3-year term and for 4-year terms thereafter.

(b) Two additional commissioners shall be appointed in the manner prescribed by s. 350.031(3) and (4) for 4-year terms beginning the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1979, and successors shall be appointed for 4-year terms thereafter.

(c) Vacancies on the commission shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner as original appointments to the commission.

(3) If the electorate approves an amendment to the State Constitution at the general election to be held in November, 1978, authorizing commissioners to serve terms in excess of 4 years, the following shall apply:

(a) Each commissioner serving on the effective date of the constitutional amendment or appointed for a term beginning in January, 1979, shall be permitted to remain in office until the completion of his current term or the term beginning in January, 1979. Upon the expiration of such terms, all subsequent appointments shall be made in the manner prescribed by s. 350.031(3) and (4) for 6-year terms.

(b) A vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner as the original appointment.

(4) Any person serving on the commission who seeks to be appointed or reappointed shall file with the nominating council at least 180 days before the expiration of his term a statement that he desires to serve an additional term.

(5) One member of the commission shall be elected by majority vote to serve as chairman for a term of 2 years, beginning with the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1979. A member may not serve two consecutive terms as chairman.

(6) The primary duty of the chairman is to serve as chief administrative officer of the commission; however, the chairman may participate in any proceedings pending before the commission when administrative duties and time permit. In order to distribute the work load and expedite the commission's calendar, the chairman, in addition to other administrative duties, has authority to assign the various proceedings pending before the commission requiring hearings to two or more commissioners or to the commission's office of hearing examiners under the supervision of the office of general counsel. Only those commissioners assigned to a proceeding requiring hearings are entitled to participate in the final decision of the commission as to that proceeding; provided, if only two commissioners are assigned to a proceeding requiring hearings and cannot agree on a final decision, the chairman shall cast the deciding vote for final disposition of the proceeding. If more than two commissioners are assigned to any proceeding, a majority of the members assigned shall constitute a quorum and a majority vote of the members assigned shall be essential to final commission disposition of those proceedings requiring actual participation by the commissioners. If a commissioner becomes unavailable after assignment to a particular proceeding, the chairman shall assign a substitute commissioner. In those proceedings assigned to a hearing examiner, following the conclusion of the hearings, the designated hearing examiner is responsible for preparing recommendations for final disposition by a majority vote of the commission. A petition for reconsideration shall be voted upon by those commissioners participating in the final disposition of the proceeding.

(7) A majority of the commissioners may determine that the full commission shall sit in any proceeding. The public counsel or a person regulated by the Public Service Commission and substantially affected by a proceeding may file a petition that the proceeding be assigned to the full commission. Within 15 days of receipt by the commission of any petition or application, the full commission shall dispose of such petition by majority vote and render a written decision thereon prior to assignment of less than the full commission to a proceeding. In disposing of such petition, the commission shall consider the overall general public interest and impact of the pending proceeding, including but not limited to the following criteria: the magnitude of a rate filing, including the number of customers affected and the total revenues requested; the services rendered to the affected public; the urgency of the requested action; the needs of the consuming public and the utility; value of service involved; the effect on consumer relations, regulatory policies, conservation, economy, competition, public health, and safety of the area involved. If the petition is denied, the commission shall set forth the grounds for denial.

(8) This section does not prohibit a commissioner, designated by the chairman, from conducting a hearing as provided under s. 120.57(1), s. 323.07, or s. 350.631, and the rules of the commission adopted pursuant thereto.

The commission shall fairly represent the above-stated fields. Recommendations of the council shall be on a nonpartisan basis.

The official reporters shall furnish only to the commission transcripts of all testimony taken by them, and the commission may make and sell certified copies of such testimony and charge therefor the same fees as are allowed clerks of the circuit courts of the state, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission.

(4) When needed, the commission may engage supplementary qualified reporters at their usual rate of compensation; however, the supplementary reporters shall furnish the commission the original certified transcripts of testimony taken by them, but such reporters shall have the right to sell copies of such transcripts subject to rules and regulations of the commission. The commission may make copies of the transcripts for internal use without further compensation. When supplementary reporters are unable to provide copies within a reasonable time, the commission may, upon request, sell copies at its usual rate and shall deposit the proceeds in the Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund.

(5) Upon request by the governing body of a municipal or county government within 7 days after completion of the transcript and its delivery to the commission, the commission shall provide copies of the transcripts of testimony at the cost of reproduction and mailing, but such copies need not be certified unless specifically requested.

(6) The commission shall make available to the public counsel the original copy of all transcripts for use and study in the commission offices. If the commission makes any copies of transcripts for internal use and if the public counsel has so requested in writing to the clerk of the commission at the time of his intervention, the commission shall supply the public counsel with a copy of the transcript at no charge. In all other cases, the public counsel may obtain a copy of the transcript from the commission for the cost of reproduction.

(7) The commission shall collect for copying, examining, comparing, correcting, verifying, certifying, or furnishing orders, records, transcripts of testimony, papers, or other instruments the same fees that are allowed clerks of the circuit courts of Florida. ### '350.12 Duties and powers of commissioners.

(1) It shall be the duty of said commissioners:

(a) To make reasonable and just rates of freight and passenger tariffs to be observed by all railroads, railroad companies and common carriers doing business in this state over their respective lines. This clause shall include the right to prescribe how much baggage may be carried free with each passenger and the rates of excess baggage.

(b) To make reasonable and just rules and regulations to enforce observance of their tariffs for the handling, transportation and delivery of all kinds of freight and for the transportation of passengers.

(c) To make reasonable and just rates of charges for the use and transportation of all kinds of railroad cars conveying all kinds of freight to and from any and all points in this state.

(d) To make reasonable and just rules and regulations for the prevention of any unjust discrimination against persons or localities in charges or in furnishing facilities.

(e) To make reasonable and just rates of freight to be observed by all railroads, railroad companies, and common carriers doing business in this state, and to be observed in all handling, transportation, and delivery of freight, which rates do not discriminate against the transport of solid waste, recovered resources, or recycled materials, and which rates shall, whenever practicable, provide an incentive for resource recovery and recycling.

(2) The commissioners shall have power:

(a) To make reasonable and just joint rates for all connecting carriers doing business in this state as to all traffic passing from the line of one common carrier to another, and to apportion such joint rates between said carriers participating therein.

(b) To compel all railroads and railroad companies crossing or meeting each other at any point, or serving the same city, town or locality, provided they be of the same gauge, to construct such switches, sidetracks and connections as will enable them to transport cars to and from each other's lines. And in the event railroads or railroad companies required to construct such switches, sidetracks and connections are unable to agree upon how the costs thereof shall be borne or apportioned, it shall then be the duty of the commissioners, upon a proceeding in accordance with chapter 120, to apportion the costs between them on a just and equitable basis, or, if justice requires, to impose the entire cost of construction upon one railroad or railroad company.

(c) To require railroads and water carriers serving any given point or community as common carriers of freight or passengers to provide such reasonable physical connection as may be necessary to properly facilitate the transfer of freight or passengers from one of said carriers to the other.

(d) To compel the interchange of traffic and cars between railroad companies under such rules and regulations as will secure due compensation for cars and the prompt return of cars to the railroad company from which they are received.

(e) To require the establishment of stations, including flag stations, at which trains may be required to stop, and the establishment of landings and wharves at which water carriers may be required to stop; to designate the location and require the erection of such freight and passenger depots, houses, platforms and wharves with all necessary conveniences as the safety, convenience and comfort of passengers and the proper handling, care, protection and prompt delivery and transportation of freight may require; to supervise, regulate and control all stations, depots, platforms, houses and wharves and to require a sufficient force of employees to be maintained therein and thereat to conduct in a proper manner the business of the carriers.

(f) To establish such schedules for the arrival and departure of all trains at stations and depots, and to order such connections in point of time to be made between common carriers, as the public convenience, comfort and interest may require, and to prescribe rules and regulations relating to and regulating the changing of time schedules of all common carriers and the bulletining by railroad companies of the arrival and departure of all regular passenger trains which may be late.

(g) To regulate, supervise and control all passenger, terminal or union depot companies, whether owned or operated by any railroad in connection with its main line or by separate company organized for that purpose and to require the admission into such union depot or terminal by the owner, lessee or operator thereof of any railroad company which may desire to enter such terminal or union depot or which may be required to do so by order of the said commissioners and to compel the person operating said depot or terminal to furnish to the railroad entering the same fair and equal participation in all the rights, privileges, connections, interchanges of traffic and other benefits of said depot or terminal and to prescribe and enforce just and reasonable rates for the use of such terminals or depots and the privileges thereof.

(h) To require two or more of the railroads entering the same town, city or point, to erect, operate and maintain a joint passenger or freight or a joint passenger and freight terminal or union depot and to provide for the interchange of traffic between said railroads.

The operation of this general grant or of any other general grant of power in this chapter shall not be held to be limited by the grants of specific powers.

(m) To prescribe all rules and regulations appropriate for the execution of any of the powers conferred upon them by law either in express terms or by implication. All rules and regulations made and prescribed by the commissioners shall be made prima facie evidence in the manner that the schedules are made prima facie evidence. Every rule, regulation, schedule or order heretofore or hereafter made by the commissioners shall be deemed and held to be within their jurisdiction and their powers, and to be reasonable and just and such as ought to have been made in the premises and to have been properly made and arrived at in due form of procedure and such as can and ought to be executed, unless the contrary plainly appears on the face thereof or be made to appear by clear and satisfactory evidence, and shall not be set aside or held invalid unless the contrary so appears. All presumptions shall be in favor of every action of the commissioners and all doubts as to their jurisdiction and powers shall be resolved in their favor, it being intended that the laws relative to the Florida Public Service Commissioners shall be deemed remedial laws to be construed liberally to further the legislative intent to regulate and control public carriers in the public interest. If in any proceeding to enforce any rule, regulation, schedule or order, any part thereof shall be found invalid, the court shall proceed to enforce such portion thereof as may be valid if the same can be done.

(n) To promulgate and enforce reasonable rules and regulations relating to sanitation and adequate shelter as affecting the health and welfare of railroad trainmen, enginemen, yardmen, maintenance-of-way employees, highway-crossing watchmen, clerical, platform, freight house and express employees.

Every railroad company shall operate over every part of its line not less than one passenger and one freight train each way daily except Sunday; provided, if after investigation the Florida Public Service Commissioners shall determine that the public need does not require such daily service, they shall prescribe such service as in their opinion the public need does require and such service will be deemed sufficient until the commissioners shall otherwise order. 350.28 Penalty for violation of law; defense of carriers; recovery of penalty; pleadings; evidence; fine imposed illegal, etc.—

(1) If any railroad, railroad company, or other common carrier doing business in this state shall by any officer, agent, or employee be guilty of a violation or disregard of any order, rate, schedule, rule, or regulation provided or prescribed by the Florida Public Service Commission, or shall fail to make any report required to be made under the provisions of this chapter or shall otherwise violate any provision of this chapter, such company or common carrier shall thereby incur a penalty for each such offense of not more than $5,000, unless otherwise provided, to be fixed and imposed by said commissioners.

(2) The said penalty in the amount so imposed, if not promptly paid to the State Treasurer, shall be recovered with interest thereon from the date of the order in a civil action brought by the said commissioners in the name of the state in any county in the state where such violation has occurred, or in any other county through or in which such common carrier runs or does business.

(3) The complaint shall be deemed sufficient if it recites fully or sets forth the said order on which the suit is brought, with an averment that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff thereon in the amount of the penalty imposed with interest as aforesaid.

(4) In such cases there shall be no general issues, but the answer shall specifically set forth the particular defense or defenses to the action; and no defense which existed prior to the day of hearing before the commissioners, and which was not made before them, shall be permitted to stand as a defense in the action.

(5) The fact of the fixing and imposing of such fine by the commissioners shall constitute prima facie evidence of everything necessary to create the liability or require the payment of the fine or penalty as fixed and imposed, and to authorize a recovery thereon in any suit brought by the commissioners, and a copy of the entry in the minute book of the commissioners of the order fixing and imposing such fine or penalty, certified by the chairman of the board of Florida Public Service Commissioners, shall constitute prima facie evidence of the fact that such fine or penalty was fixed and imposed by the commission.

(6) Every fine when imposed by the commissioners shall be a lien upon the railroad, equipment, boats and real property of the common carrier on which it is imposed except such real property as is not used in the business of transportation.

(7) If any railroad, railroad company or other common carrier doing business in this state shall claim that any penalty sought to be imposed upon it under the provisions of this section unlawfully deprives said railroad, railroad company or other common carrier of its property or property rights without due process of law, said railroad, railroad company or other common carriers shall have the right by answer to assert such defense in any suit brought under this section, and if the court shall find that the answer is well-founded in law and fact it shall enter judgment for the defendant.

(8) An answer filed as a defense upon the ground that the enforcement of the penalty will unlawfully deprive the defendant of its property without due process of law shall be as full and particular in averment as would be essential if pleaded as in a suit in equity seeking an injunction to restrain the enforcement of the acts for which the penalty is sought to be imposed and the courts shall have the power to render such judgment in said action as might be necessary to give said defendant the full benefit of its constitutional rights in the premises.

(9) In all such cases the burden of establishing such last-mentioned defense or defenses shall be upon the defendant and the same shall be required to be established by such defendant by a preponderance of the evidence.

(10) A proceeding under s. 350.36 shall be a bar to a like proceeding under this section and a proceeding under this section shall be a bar to a like proceeding under s. 350.36.

'350.29 Action commenced.—The commissioners shall institute such action through the Department of Legal Affairs or State Attorney, who shall not require other fees than those they now receive by law, or by special counsel employed by the commissioners and the Department of Legal Affairs, as provided in this chapter, the fees of which special counsel shall be fixed and allowed by the commissioners and the Department of Legal Affairs as may seem to them reasonable and just; and any and all expenses of litigation and proceedings under the provisions of this chapter may be by the commissioners allowed and paid, and in the event of recovery of any such fine or penalty may be paid out of any moneys recovered under the provisions hereof, and the balance of any moneys so recovered shall be, by the State Treasurer, put to the credit of the Florida Public Service Commission to meet any of the expenses of said commission and the cost of carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this chapter. (1) If any railroad, railroad company or other common carrier, doing business in this state shall, in violation or disregard of any rule, rate or regulation provided by the commissioners aforesaid, inflict any wrong or injury upon any person, the Florida Public Service Commissioners if requested by such injured person shall institute proceedings to compel restitution; and such action by the Florida Public Service Commission shall preclude any settlement by the party or parties injured without the consent of the commission.

(2) If any railroad company or common carrier shall discriminate, by way of rebate or otherwise, directly or indirectly, in favor of any consignor or consignee of freights within this state, or allow him a reduction of the rate fixed by said commissioners as reasonable and just, any other consignor or consignee of freights within this state shall have a right of action against the said railroad company or common carrier, and the amount of his damages shall be fixed by a jury, unless a jury shall be waived, and the measure of damages shall be such sum or sums of money as will fairly compensate the injury done to said last mentioned consignor or consignee.

(3) In all such cases demand in writing on said railroad, railroad company or common carrier shall be made for the money damages sustained before suit is brought for recovery under this section.

(4) All suits under this chapter shall be brought within 2 years after the commission of the alleged wrong or injury, except in cases where the Florida Public Service Commissioners have heretofore been or shall hereafter be, by refusal of such railroad or common carrier to observe the rates, rules, schedules or regulations by the Florida Public Service Commissioners, compelled to resort to suits to enforce such rates, rules, schedules or regulations, and in such cases suits for such loss, damage, or penalty may be brought within 12 months after the termination of such suits in favor of the Florida Public Service Commissioners.

ages, and such right of action shall exist in the legal representatives or assignee of any such person.

(2) Any such action or any other action instituted by the Florida Public Service Commission shall be in the name, except as herein otherwise provided, of the Florida Public Service Commissioners without using their individual names, and the recovery had thereon shall be held by such commissioners and applied to the use of the party or parties so injured.

(3) Such commissioners may unite in one action the claims of different persons by whom they may be requested to institute such suits where such claims are of the same character and against the same defendant.

The remedies hereby given the injured person shall be regarded as cumulative to the remedies now given by law against railroads, railroad corporations, and common carriers, and this chapter shall not be construed as repealing any statute giving such remedies; provided, that making recompense to any person or corporation for wrongs or injuries done them by any railroad, railroad companies or other common carriers shall not prevent the commissioners from enforcing penalties for any violations of rules, regulations, or rates.

(2) Any common carrier, railroad, street railroad, railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, express, telephone, telegraph, or terminal company or corporation, or any other corporations, companies, or persons coming under the provisions of this section, which shall violate any provision of this section or the laws heretofore passed, or hereafter passed, or now in force, or which fails, refuses, or neglects to obey, observe and comply with any order, direction or requirement of the Florida Public Service Commissioners heretofore or hereafter passed, shall forfeit to the state a sum of not more than $5,000 unless otherwise provided for each and every offense, the amount to be fixed by the presiding judge. Every violation of the provisions of this section or any preceding law, or of any such order, direction, or requirement of the Florida Public Service Commission shall be a separate and distinct offense.

(3) An action for the recovery of such penalty may be brought in the county of the principal office of such corporation or company in this state, or in the county of the state where such violation has occurred and wrong shall be perpetrated, or in any county in this state through which said corporation or company operates, or, where the violation consists of an excessive charge for the carriage of freight or passengers or services rendered, in any county in which such charges are made or through which it was intended that such passengers or freight should have been carried or through which such corporation operates, and shall be brought in the name of the state by direction of the Florida Public Service Commissioners.

(4) Any procedure to enforce such penalty shall be triable the first term of the court at which it is brought and shall be given precedence over other civil business by the presiding judge, and the court shall not be adjourned until such proceeding is legally continued or disposed of, without the consent of counsel representing the state as plaintiff.

(5) Any judgment in any such case may be taken by either party to the cause to the appropriate district court of appeal for review in the manner and within the time provided by the Florida Appellate Rules for reviewing judgments rendered by circuit courts in actions at law.

(6) The complaint in any case shall be deemed sufficient if it shall allege the making of an order or rule, regulation, requirement or direction against the defendant, and that such defendant has failed, neglected or refused to obey the same.

(7) In such cases there shall be no general issues, but the answer shall specifically set forth the particular defense to the action, and no defense other than by answer specifically setting forth all of the facts to show a particular defense to the action shall be permitted in the action.

(8) Suits may be brought and instituted under this section by counsel employed by the Florida Public Service Commission under the authority of s. 350.30 and such counsel by and with the consent of said Florida Public Service Commissioners may compromise and adjust with the defendant the amount of any penalties sought to be recovered.

(9) All suits brought under this section shall be subject to the provisions of s. 350.31 relating to the conduct of suits by or on behalf of the Florida Public Service Commissioners, and the same legal pre-

1350.37 Power to require delivery by shortest and most available route.—The commissioners may regulate, require and provide for delivery of such freight by the shortest or most available route and no such company or common carrier shall charge more compensation for the transportation of freight or passengers over an unnecessarily long route than would be a just and reasonable charge for the transportation of the same by the nearest available route, whether the nearest available route be over one railroad or line of transportation or over more than one. When a carrier for the purpose of shortening the distance as compared to the existing route, and for improvement in service to the public, shall have completed within the last 5 years, or may hereafter construct, a shorter route that does or will reduce the distance between any two or more points in the state not to exceed 30 miles and continues to operate both the new and the old routes such carrier shall be permitted to charge for the transportation of passengers and freight over said shorter route the same rates and fares as were theretofore legally applicable over the longer route, for a period of 5 years from the time said shorter route was placed in operation, and upon the expiration of said period of time the Florida Public Service Commission may, in its discretion, permit said carrier to charge for the transportation of passengers or freight or both over the shorter route the same rates and fares as were theretofore legally applicable over the longer route, and where the distance between any two or more points in the state shall, subsequently to June 4, 1927, by the construction by any carrier of a shorter route, be reduced by more than 30 miles and said carrier continues to operate both the new and the old route, then, in that event the commissioners may, in their discretion, permit said carrier to charge for the transportation of passengers and freight over the last-named shorter route the same rates and fares as were theretofore legally applicable over the longer route.

(1) Nothing contained in s. 350.37 shall be construed as affecting any principle of rate making, except when and as applied to a situation described in said section.

(2) Any carrier or carriers may file with the Florida Public Service Commission a disclaimer or waiver, waiving the provisions of s. 350.37 and this section, with respect to either freight or passenger rates, or both, over any such reduced route or routes

1350.43 Schedules and rate sheets open to public.—The common carriers affected shall furnish at their own cost and shall keep open to public access in such manner as may be directed by the commissioners their schedules and rate sheets and shall also post within their depots, cars, landings or boats such notices relating to the conduct of their business as the Florida Public Service Commissioners may prescribe by rule or regulation.

The commissioners may require by order or subpoena the production within this state at such time and place as they may designate of any accounts, books, records and papers of any description kept by such common carriers in any office or place without the state, or verified copies in lieu thereof if the commissioners shall so order in order that an examination thereof may be made by the commission or under its direction.

The common carrier issuing such freight receipts or bills of lading shall be entitled to recover from the common carrier on whose line the delay, damage, loss or injury shall have been sustained, the amount which it may have been required to pay to the owners of such property, as may be evidenced by any receipt, judgment or transcript thereof.

(1) There is hereby created in the State Treasury a special fund to be designated as the Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund which shall be used in the operation of the Florida Public Service Commission in the performance of the various functions and duties required of it by law.

(2) All fees, licenses, and other charges, collected by the commission, except road taxes under chapter 323, shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of said Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund to be used in the operation of said commission as authorized by the Legislature; provided, however, punitive fines assessed and collected by said commission shall not be deposited in said trust fund but shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund of the state.

(3) Each telephone and telegraph company, as defined in chapter 364, and each electric and gas utility under the jurisdiction of the Florida Public Service Commission, which was in operation for the preceding 6-month period shall pay to said commission within 30 days following each 6-month period, commencing June 30, 1977, one-eighth of 1 percent of its intrastate gross operating revenues for such 6-month period, except that revenues owing for calendar year 1976 shall not be due until July 1, 1977. Differences, if any, between the amount paid in any calendar year and the amount actually determined by the commission to be due for the calendar year shall, upon notification by the commission, be added to, or deducted from, the payment for the 6-month period ending June 30, which is payable 30 days subsequent to June 30. Each telephone and telegraph company, and each electric and gas utility, which is, or may become, subject to the jurisdiction of said commission, but which did not operate during the entire preceding 6-month period, shall, within 30 days after it has completed its first 6-months' operation under the jurisdiction of said commission and within 30 days following each 6-month period thereafter, pay to said commission one-eighth of 1 percent of its gross operating revenues derived from intrastate business done within the state during said 6-months' operation. (5) Annual appropriations from the General Revenue Fund of the state for the operation of the Florida Public Service Commission may be credited to the Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund in appropriate monthly amounts, and all expenditures authorized by the Legislature and the Executive Office of the Governor for the operation of said regulatory commission may be from said trust fund as supplemented by appropriations from the General Revenue Fund.

the preceding calendar year. §350.80 Coal slurry pipeline companies regulated.—

(1) Any person, corporation, or other legal entity which exercises or intends to exercise powers of eminent domain pursuant to s. 361.08, or which owns or operates a coal slurry pipeline which was constructed on property acquired by eminent domain, shall be subject to regulation as a common carrier by the Florida Public Service Commission, unless such regulation is preempted by regulation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and then only to the extent that such regulation is actually preempted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, to assure fairness in rates, rate structure or tariffs, and conditions of service.

(2) All coal slurry pipeline companies, as common carriers, shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the Florida Public Service Commission relating thereto and all applicable laws, including, but not limited to, those governing common carriers as defined in s. 350.11. No coal slurry pipeline company shall discriminate between or against any person, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other legal entity in regard to facilities furnished, services rendered, or rates charged for the transportation of coal or its derivatives. All contracts or agreements between any coal slurry pipeline company and any person, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other legal entity for the transportation of coal or its derivatives shall be submitted to the Florida Public Service Commission for review and approval prior to their execution. The commission shall adopt rules and regulations to ensure that all contracts, rates, and charges involving the transportation of coal or its derivatives by pipeline shall be just and reasonable, nondiscriminatory, and offer no preference to any person, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other legal entity. The commission shall prohibit any contract charging a rate for the transportation by pipeline of coal or its derivatives which is higher than the lowest rate available by any other common carrier operating in Florida.

(3) The Florida Public Service Commission shall file for proposed adoption, within 180 days from the effective date of this act, the necessary rules for the implementation of this act. The rules shall provide, among other things, an administrative procedure pursuant to chapter 120, under and by which the commission shall determine the public need for and the economic and environmental feasibility of any proposed coal slurry pipeline. Prior to the commission's determination of the environmental feasibility of any proposed coal slurry pipeline, it shall ask for comment from the Department of Environmental Regulation. A final order of the Florida Public Service Commission determining the economic and environmental feasibility of a coal slurry pipeline system shall be conclusive and binding on the court in any condemnation proceeding brought pursuant to s. 361.08 and chapter 73 or chapter 74.

(4) It is the intent of the Legislature that electric utility companies under the regulation of the Florida Public Service Commission shall not unduly profit from markups on the purchase price of the coal for the pipeline in the event that such companies are participants in the coal pipeline company. To this end, the commission shall have the right of access to the appropriate financial records of any coal pipeline company in which electric utility companies participate with regard to any rate hearing for the affected electric utility company. Should the commission be unable to enforce this provision, it shall consider the average price of coal in Florida at that time as being the cost to the electric utility company for ratemaking purposes.

History.—ss. 3-5, ch. 79-236.

Note.—Section 5 of ch. 79-236 provides that: "This act shall take effect when every state in which the coal slurry pipeline will pass en route to Florida has enacted laws granting eminent domain authority to coal slurry pipeline companies or other entities operating or proposing to operate a coal slurry pipeline, and when the appropriate governmental authority has guaranteed in writing to the Public Service Commission that a continuous source of water shall be available for use in said coal slurry pipeline." Section 6 of that act provides further that: "There is created the Coal Slurry Pipeline Study Committee . . . . The committee shall study the net energy cost of construction and maintenance of a coal slurry pipeline in this state, its overall impact on other transportation modes and the costs of moving other commodities, freight and passengers by such other transportation modes, and other health, economic and social impacts of a coal slurry pipeline. Such study shall be completed and submitted to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate on or before February 1, 1980. This act shall not take effect until completion of this report and completion of the regular session of the 1980 Legislature."

When such plat or plan is so filed and such approval secured, the party filing same and securing such approval shall secure the first right to the occupancy and use of the designated locality, which first right of first occupancy and use shall be lost by failure to use any of the

—In case any title or interest in real estate required by any railroad company formed under any law of this state for its incorporation shall be vested in any trustee not authorized to sell, release and convey the same, or in an infant, idiot or person of unsound mind, the circuit court by a summary proceeding or petition may authorize and empower such trustee or the guardian of such infant, idiot or person of unsound mind to sell and convey the same to such company for the purposes of its incorporation on such terms as may be just; and in case any such infant, idiot or person of unsound mind has no guardian, the said court may appoint a guardian for the purpose of making such sale, release or conveyance, or may require security from such guardian as the court may require and deem proper. Before any conveyance or release authorized by this section shall be executed, the terms on which the same is executed shall be reported to the court on oath, and if the court is satisfied that such terms are just to the party interested in such real estate, the court shall confirm the report and direct the proper conveyance and release to be executed, which shall have the same effect as if executed by an owner of said land having legal power to sell and convey the same.

The county commissioners shall declare such roads or highways, as located by the railroad or canal company, open for the purposes of a public road or highway, without cost or expense to such railroad or canal company, and such land so declared open shall be held for highway purposes.

The company shall make and file in the office of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund a certificate of such alteration or change, which certificate shall then be entered of record, and such company shall have the same right and power to acquire title to any land required for the purposes of the company in such altered or changed route as if the road had been located there in the first instance. No such alteration shall be made in any city or town, after the road shall have been constructed unless the same shall be sanctioned by a vote of the common council of the city, and in case of any alteration made in the route of any railroad which the company has commenced grading, compensation shall be made to all persons for injury so done to any lands that may have been donated to the company. All the provisions of law relative to the first location and acquiring title to land shall apply to every such new or altered portion of the route.

It is lawful for such companies to build, construct and run as a part of their corporate property such number of steamboats or vessels as they may deem necessary to facilitate the business operation of such company or companies. No railroad company or canal company shall consolidate its franchises or its line or lines or its management with the franchises, line or lines or management of any company or person owning or controlling any parallel or competing line of railroad or canal without permission from the Florida Public Service Commission, and all such consolidations or attempted consolidations, without permission as aforesaid, shall be ultra vires.

Any portion of such refund not thus refunded to patrons or customers of the utility shall be refunded or disposed of by the utility as the commission may direct; however, no such funds shall accrue to the benefit of the utility.

364.44 Gross revenue tax.—Each radio common carrier shall, on or before March 15 in every year, report to the commission, under oath of one of its officers, the total amount of the gross revenue derived by it in the immediately preceding period of January 1 to December 31, inclusive, from business done within this state. At the time of so reporting, each radio common carrier shall pay to the commission a gross revenue tax in the amount of one-eighth of 1 percent of such gross revenues, but in no event less than $25 annually. If any radio common carrier fails to make such report and pay such tax, the commission, after giving at least 5 days' written notice to the radio common carrier, shall estimate the amount of such gross revenue from such information as it may be able to obtain from any source, and shall add 10 percent of the amount of such tax as a penalty and shall proceed to collect such tax and penalty, together with all costs of collection thereof, in the same manner as other delinquent taxes are collected. However, no penalty shall be added to the tax in the event a return is made and the amount of the tax is paid before the expiration of the time fixed in the notice given by the commission. All such tax payments and penalties shall be placed in the Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund, as established under the provisions of chapter 350. The commission may audit such reports, and, upon demand, every radio common carrier shall submit all of its records, papers, books, and accounts to the commission or its representatives for audit.

The circuit court shall, within 48 hours after application and written notice to the subscriber, hold a hearing to determine whether such service should be discontinued and the facilities removed. The 48-hour period prescribed herein shall commence to run from the time the written notice is served upon such subscriber by delivering the same to the address at which the telephone service is furnished and the facilities are located.

1365.171 Emergency telephone number "911".—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This section shall be known and cited as the "Florida Emergency Telephone Act of 1974."

(2) LEGISLATIVE INTENT.—The legislature hereby finds and declares that it is in the public interest to shorten the time required for a citizen to request and receive emergency aid. There currently exist thousands of different emergency phone numbers throughout the state. Provision for a single, primary three-digit emergency number through which emergency services can be quickly and efficiently obtained would provide a significant contribution to law enforcement and other public service efforts by making it easier to notify public safety personnel. Such a simplified means of procuring emergency services will result in the saving of life, a reduction in the destruction of property, and quicker apprehension of criminals. It is the intent of the legislature to establish and implement a cohesive statewide emergency telephone number "911" plan which will provide citizens with rapid direct access to public safety agencies by dialing the telephone number "911" with the objective of reducing the response time to situations requiring law enforcement, fire, medical, rescue, and other emergency services.

(3) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "Department" means the Department of General Services.

(b) "Division" means the Division of Communications of the Department of General Services.

(c) "Local government" means any city, county, or political subdivision of the state and their agencies.

(d) "Public agency" means the state and any city, county, city and county, municipal corporation, chartered organization, public district, or public authority located in whole or in part within this state, which provides, or has authority to provide, firefighting, law enforcement, ambulance, medical, or other emergency services.

(e) "Public safety agency" means a functional division of a public agency which provides firefighting, law enforcement, medical, or other emergency services.

(4) STATE PLAN.—The division shall develop a statewide emergency telephone number "911" system plan. The plan shall provide for:

(a) The establishment of the public agency emergency telephone communications requirements for each entity of local government in the state.

(b) A system to meet specific local government requirements. Such system shall include law enforcement, firefighting, and emergency medical services and may include other emergency services such as poison control, suicide prevention, and civil defense services.

(c) Identification of the mutual aid agreements necessary to obtain an effective "911" system.

(d) A funding provision which shall identify the cost necessary to implement the "911" system.

(e) A firm implementation schedule, which shall include the installation of the "911" system in a local community within 24 months after the designated agency of the local government gives a firm order to the telephone utility for a "911" system.

The division shall be responsible for the implementation and coordination of such plan. The division shall promulgate any necessary rules, regulations, and schedules related to public agencies for implementing and coordinating such plan, pursuant to chapter 120. The public agency designated in the plan shall order such system within 6 months after publication date of the plan if the public agency is in receipt of funds appropriated by the Legislature for the implementation and maintenance of the "911" system. Any jurisdiction which has utilized local funding as of July 1, 1976, to begin the implementation of the state plan as set forth in this section, shall be eligible for at least a partial reimbursement of its direct cost when, and if, state funds are available for such reimbursement.

(5) SYSTEM DIRECTOR.—The director of the division is designated as the director of the statewide emergency telephone number "911" system and, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section, is authorized to coordinate the activities of the system with state, county, local, and private agencies. 366.01 Legislative declaration.—The regulation of public utilities as defined herein is declared to be in the public interest and this chapter shall be deemed to be an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare and all the provisions hereof shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose.

History.—s. 1, ch. 26545, 1951; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

366.015 Interagency liaison.—The Public Service Commission is directed to provide for, and assume primary responsibility for, establishing and maintaining continuous liaison with all other appropriate state and federal agencies whose policy decisions and rulemaking authority affect those utilities over which the commission has primary regulatory jurisdiction. This liaison shall be conducted at the policy-making levels as well as department, division, or bureau levels. Active participation in other agencies' public hearings is encouraged to transmit the commission's policy positions and information requirements, in order to provide for more efficient regulation.

History.—s. 6, ch. 74-196; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

366.02 "Public utility" defined.—The term "public utility" as used herein means and includes every person, corporation, partnership, association or other legal entity and their lessees, trustees or receivers, now or hereafter either owning, operating, managing or controlling any plant or other facility supplying electricity or gas (natural, manufactured or similar gaseous substance) to or for the public within this state, directly or indirectly for compensation; but the term "public utility" as used herein does not include either a cooperative now or hereafter organized and existing under the Rural Electrification Cooperative Law of the state nor a municipality nor any natural gas pipeline transmission company making only sales of natural gas at wholesale and to direct industrial consumers, nor a person supplying liquefied petroleum gas, in either liquid or gaseous form, irrespective of the method of distribution or delivery, unless such person also supplies electricity, manufactured or natural gas.

366.03 General duties of public utility.—Each public utility shall furnish to each person applying therefor reasonably sufficient, adequate and efficient service upon terms as required by the commission, provided, no public utility shall be required to furnish electricity or gas for resale. All rates and charges made, demanded or received by any public utility for any service rendered, or to be rendered by it, and each rule and regulation of such public utility, shall be fair and reasonable. No public utility shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any person or locality, or subject the same to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect.

366.04 Florida Public Service Commission; jurisdiction.—

(1) In addition to its existing functions, the Florida Public Service Commission shall have jurisdiction to regulate and supervise each public utility with respect to its rates, service and the issuance and sale of its securities except a security which is a note or draft maturing not more than 1 year after the date of such issuance and sale, and aggregating (together with all other then outstanding notes and drafts of a maturity of 1 year or less on which such public utility is liable) not more than 5 percent of the par value of the other securities of the public utility then outstanding. In the case of securities having no par value, the par value for the purpose of this section shall be the fair market value as of the date of issue. The jurisdiction conferred upon said commission shall be exclusive and superior to that of all other boards, agencies, political subdivisions, municipalities, towns, villages, or counties, and in case of conflict therewith all lawful acts, orders, rules and regulations of the commission shall in each instance prevail.

(2) In the exercise of its jurisdiction, the commission shall have power over rural electric cooperatives and municipal electric utilities for the following purposes:

(a) To prescribe uniform systems and classifications of accounts.

(b) To prescribe a rate structure for all electric utilities.

(c) To require electric power conservation and reliability within a coordinated grid, for operational as well as emergency purposes.

(d) To approve territorial agreements between and among rural electric cooperatives, municipal electric utilities, and other electric utilities under its jurisdiction. However, nothing in this chapter shall be construed to alter existing territorial agreements as between the parties to such agreements.

(e) To resolve any territorial dispute involving service areas between and among rural electric cooperatives, municipal electric utilities, and other electric utilities under its jurisdiction. In resolving territorial disputes, the Public Service Commission may consider, but not be limited to, the ability of the utilities to expand services within their own capabilities and the nature of the area involved, including population and the degree of urbanization of the area and its proximity to other urban areas and the present and reasonably foreseeable future requirements of the area for other utility services.

No provision of this chapter shall be construed or applied to impede, prevent, or prohibit any municipally owned electric utility system from distributing at retail electrical energy within its corporate limits, as such corporate limits exist on July 1, 1974; however, existing territorial agreements shall not be altered or abridged hereby.

(3) The commission shall further have jurisdiction over the planning, development, and maintenance of a coordinated electric power grid throughout Florida to assure an adequate and reliable source of energy for operational and emergency purposes in Florida and the avoidance of further uneconomic duplication of generation, transmission, and distribution facilities.

(1) In fixing the just, reasonable, and compensatory rates, charges, fares, tolls, or rentals to be observed and charged for service within the state by any and all public utilities under its jurisdiction, the Florida Public Service Commission is authorized to give consideration, among other things, to the efficiency, sufficiency, and adequacy of the facilities provided and the services rendered, the value of such service to the public, and the ability of the utility to improve such service and facilities; provided that no public utility shall be denied a reasonable rate of return upon its rate base in any order entered pursuant to such proceedings. In its consideration thereof, the commission shall have authority, and it shall be the commission's duty, to hear service complaints, if any, that may be presented by subscribers and the public during any proceedings involving such rates, charges, fares, tolls, or rentals; provided however, that no service complaints shall be taken up or considered by the commission at any proceedings involving rates, charges, fares, tolls or rentals unless the utility shall have been given at least 30 days' written notice thereof and any proceeding may be extended prior to final determination for such period; and provided further that no order hereunder shall be made effective until a reasonable time shall be given the utility involved to correct the cause of service complaints considering the factor of growth in the community and availability of necessary equipment.

(2) The power and authority herein conferred upon the Florida Public Service Commission shall not cancel or amend any existing punitive powers of the commission but shall be supplementary thereto and shall be construed liberally to further the legislative intent that adequate service shall be rendered by public utilities in the state in consideration for the rates, charges, fares, tolls, and rentals fixed by said commission and observed by said utilities under its jurisdiction.

(3) The term "public utility" as used herein means all persons or corporations which the Public Service Commission has the authority, power, and duty to regulate for the purpose of fixing rates and charges for services rendered and requiring the rendition of adequate service.

(4) Any order entered pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be fully reviewable by the Supreme Court as provided by law.

History.—ss. 1-4, ch. 67-326; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 53, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

§366.05 Powers.—

(1) In the exercise of such jurisdiction, the commission shall have power to prescribe fair and reasonable rates and charges, classifications, standards of quality and measurements, and service rules and regulations to be observed by each public utility; to prescribe uniform system and classification of accounts for all public utilities, which among other things shall set up adequate, fair and reasonable depreciation rates and charges; to require the filing by each public utility of periodic reports and all other reasonably necessary data; to require repairs, improvements, additions and extensions to the plant and equipment of any public utility reasonably necessary to promote the convenience and welfare of the public and secure adequate service or facilities for those reasonably entitled thereto; to employ and fix the compensation for such examiners, and technical, legal and clerical employees as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter; to prescribe all rules and regulations reasonably necessary and appropriate for the administration and enforcement of this chapter; and to exercise all judicial powers, issue all writs and do all things, necessary or convenient to the full and complete exercise of its jurisdiction and the enforcement of its orders and requirements.

(2) Every public utility as defined in s. 366.02, who in addition to the production, transmission, delivery or furnishing of heat, light or power also sells appliances or other merchandise, shall keep separate and individual accounts for the sale and profit deriving from such sales. No profit or loss shall be taken into consideration by the commission from the sale of such items in arriving at any rate to be charged for service by any public utility.

(3) The commission shall provide for the examination and testing of all appliances used for measuring any product or service of a public utility.

(4) Any consumer or user may have any such appliance tested upon payment of the fees fixed by the commission.

(5) The commission shall establish reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the consumers or users, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request, but to be paid by the public utility and repaid to the consumer or user if the appliance be found defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the consumer or user, in excess of the degree or amount of tolerance customarily allowed for such appliances, or as may be provided for in rules and regulations of the commission.

(6) The commission may purchase materials, apparatus, and standard measuring instruments for such examination and tests.

(7) The commission shall have the power to require reports from all electric utilities to assure the development of adequate and reliable energy grids.

(8) If the commission determines that there is probable cause to believe that inadequacies exist with respect to the energy grids developed by the electric utility industry, it shall have the power, after proceedings as provided by law, and after a finding that mutual benefits will accrue to the public utilities involved, to require installation or repair of necessary facilities, including generating plants and transmission facilities, with the costs to be distributed in proportion to the benefits received, and to take all necessary steps to insure compliance. The electric utilities involved in any action taken or orders issued pursuant to this subsection shall have full power and authority, notwithstanding any general or special laws to the contrary, to jointly plan, finance, build, operate, or lease generating and transmission facilities and shall be further authorized to exercise the powers granted to corporations in chapter 361. This subsection shall not supersede or control any provision of the Electric Power Plant Siting Act, ss. 403.501-403.515.

366.055 Availability of, and payment for, energy reserves.—

(1) Energy reserves of all utilities in the Florida energy grid shall be available at all times to insure that grid reliability and integrity are maintained. The commission is hereby authorized to take such action as necessary to assure compliance. However, prior commitments as to energy use:

(a) In interstate commerce, as approved by the Federal Power Commission;

(b) Between one electric utility and another, which have been approved by the Federal Power Commission; or

(c) Between an electric utility which is a part of the energy grid created herein and another energy grid shall not be abridged or altered except during an energy emergency as declared by the governor and cabinet.

(2)(a) When the energy produced by one electric utility is transferred to another or others through the energy grid and under the powers granted by this section, the commission shall direct the appropriate recipient utility or utilities to reimburse the producing utility in accordance with the latest wholesale electric rates approved for the producing utility by the Federal Power Commission for such purposes.

(b) Any utility which provides a portion of those transmission facilities involved in the transfer of energy from a producing utility to a recipient utility or utilities shall be entitled to receive an appropriate reimbursement commensurate with the transmission facilities and services provided. However, no utility shall be required to sell purchased power to a recipient utility or utilities at a rate lower than the rate at which the power is purchased from a producing utility.

(3) To assure efficient and reliable operation of a state energy grid, the commission shall have the power to require any electric utility to transmit electric energy over its transmission lines from one utility to another or as a part of the total energy supply of the entire grid, subject to the provisions hereof.

History.—s. 3, ch. 74-196; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

366.056 Annual tax on gross revenues of municipal electric utilities and rural electric cooperatives.—Each municipal electric utility and rural electric cooperative shall pay to the commission, on or before March 31 of each year, one-sixty-fourth of 1 percent of its gross operating revenues for the preceding calendar year. All payments shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund to be used by the commission in the performance of its duties under ss. 366.04(2) and (3), 366.05(7) and (8), and 366.055.

History.—s. 6, ch. 76-265.

Note.—This section was created subsequent to the enactment of ch. 76-168, and is therefore presumed to be excluded from the blanket repeal of ch. 366 by that act.

366.06 Rates; procedure for fixing and changing.—

(1) All rates being charged and collected by a public utility on May 9, 1951 shall be the lawful rates until changed in accordance with the rules, regulations or orders of the commission or court decree. Under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commission every public utility shall, within 90 days after the effective date of such rules and regulations, file with the commission schedules showing all rates, classifications and charges for service of every kind furnished by it, and all rules and regulations relating thereto in effect on May 9, 1951. Thereafter current schedules shall be maintained on file with the commission on such forms and under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe.

(2) A public utility shall not, directly or indirectly, charge or receive any rate not on file with the commission for the particular class of service involved, and no change shall be made in any schedule. All applications for changes in rates shall be made to the commission in writing under rules and regulations prescribed, and the commission shall have the authority to determine and fix fair, just and reasonable rates that may be requested, demanded, charged or collected by any public utility for its service. The commission shall investigate and determine the actual legitimate costs of the property of each utility company, actually used and useful in the public service, and shall keep a current record of the net investment of each public utility company in such property which value, as determined by the commission, shall be used for rate-making purposes and shall be the money honestly and prudently invested by the public utility company in such property used and useful in serving the public, less accrued depreciation, and shall not include any goodwill or going-concern value or franchise value in excess of payment made therefor.

(3) Whenever the commission shall find, upon request made or upon its own motion, that the rates demanded, charged or collected by any public utility company for public utility service, or that the rules, regulations or practices of any public utility company affecting such rates are unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, or in anywise in violation of law, or that such rates are insufficient to yield reasonable compensation for the services rendered, or that such service is inadequate or cannot be obtained, the commission shall order and hold a public hearing, giving notice to the public and to the utility company, and shall thereafter determine just and reasonable rates to be thereafter charged for such service and to promulgate rules and regulations affecting equipment, facilities and service to be thereafter installed, furnished, and used; provided, however, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect a rate in litigation and refund proceedings thereunder pending in the courts on April 3, 1951; provided, however, that a rate order of a duly constituted local regulatory board or authority entered before April 3, 1951 shall be deemed to be the lawful rates charged and collected by the public utility subject to such regulatory body, and should such rate order be challenged or such challenge is pending before the courts of this state or the United States, such rate order shall continue in full force and effect until final determination of such litigation, or until changed by an order of the commission, and the jurisdiction of said board to continue said litigation, and said rates, shall continue until such final determination by the courts, and the commission shall not interfere with the conduct of such litigation nor the jurisdiction of the board.

(4) Pending a final order by the commission in any rate proceeding under this section, the commission may withhold consent to the operation of all or any portion of the new rate schedules, delivering to the utility requesting such increase, within 30 days, a reason or written statement of good cause for withholding its consent. Such consent shall not be withheld for a period longer than 8 months from the date of filing the new schedules. The new rates or any portion not consented to shall go into effect under bond at the end of such period, but the commission shall, by order, require such utility to keep accurate account in detail of all amounts received by reason of such increase, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid, and upon completion of hearing and final decision in such proceeding shall by further order require such utility to refund with interest at a fair rate, to be determined by the commission in such manner as it may direct, such portion of the increased rate or charge as by its decision shall be found not justified. Any portion of such refund not thus refunded to patrons or customers of the utility shall be refunded or disposed of by the utility as the commission may direct; however, no such funds shall accrue to the benefit of the utility.

366.065 Prevention of discrimination or unreasonably high profits.—In order to prevent discrimination or unreasonably high profits, upon receipt of a consumer complaint alleging that:

(1) The consumer purchases energy from a company holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity from a state or federal agency authorizing it to sell energy;

(2) The rates and charges of the company are either discriminatory or unreasonably high;

(3) The energy product or an alternative energy product is not readily available to the consumer from a competitive supplier; and

(4) The price of energy sold by the company to the consumer is not regulated by a government agency, the Public Service Commission may assume jurisdiction to investigate the allegations and is authorized to exercise all of the powers and duties it is granted by law for the regulation of public utility rates and charges notwithstanding any exemptions or limitations otherwise placed upon the commission's jurisdiction.

366.07 Rates; adjustment.—Whenever the commission, after public hearing either upon its own motion or upon complaint, shall find the rates, rentals, charges or classifications, or any of them, proposed, demanded, observed, charged or collected by any public utility for any service, or in connection therewith, or the rules, regulations, measurements, practices or contracts, or any of them, relating thereto, are unjust, unreasonable, insufficient, or unjustly discriminatory or preferential, or in anywise in violation of law, or any service is inadequate or cannot be obtained, the commission shall determine and by order fix the fair and reasonable rates, rentals, charges or classifications, and reasonable rules, regulations, measurements, practices, contracts or service, to be imposed, observed, furnished or followed in the future.

366.072 Rate adjustment orders.—Any order issued by the Florida Public Service Commission adjusting general increases or reductions of the rates of an electric, telephone, or gas company shall be reduced to writing including any dissenting or concurring opinions within 20 days of the official vote of the commission. Within said 20 days, the commission shall also mail a copy of the order to the clerk of the circuit court of each county in which customers are served who are affected by the rate adjustment, which copy shall be kept on file and made available to the public. The commission shall notify all parties of record in the proceeding of the date of such mailing. Such an order shall not be considered rendered for purposes of appeal, rehearing, or judicial review until the date the copies are mailed as required by this section. This provision shall not delay the effective date of the order. Such an order shall be considered rendered on the date of the official vote for the purposes of ss. 364.05(4) and 366.06(4).

(3) A utility proposing to extend service in accordance with subsection (1) shall cause notice to be given at least 30 days prior to commencing of construction of the proposed extension, in the manner provided by s. 367.041(4).

(a) If within 50 days following the date notice was first given the commission does not receive writ-

(b) If objection is received, the matter will be disposed of in accordance with s. 367.051(2) and (3).

(4) An application to amend a certificate may be made at any time, but no later than April 1 of the year following the extension. The application shall contain a description of all additional territory served. The commission shall issue an amended certificate describing all territory which it had theretofore been authorized to serve, together with the additional territory served by such extension.

(5) Notices will be styled "Application For Amendment Of Certificate No....."

(6) Applications made pursuant to this section shall be accompanied by a fee as provided by s. 367.141.

(a) The notice shall be styled "Application For Transfer Of Certificate No.....," and

(b) The application shall be accompanied by a fee as provided by s. 367.141. No fee is required to be paid by a governmental agency that is buyer, assignee, or transferee.

1367.081 Rates; procedure for fixing and changing.—

(1) Rates and charges being charged and collected by a utility shall be changed only by approval of the commission.

(2) The commission shall, either upon request or upon its own motion, fix rates which are just, reasonable, compensatory, and not unjustly discriminatory. In all such proceedings, the commission shall consider the value and quality of the service and the cost of providing the service, which shall include, but not be limited to, debt interest, the utility's requirements for working capital, maintenance, depreciation, tax, and operating expenses incurred in the operation of all property used and useful in the public service, and a fair return on the utility's investment in property used and useful in the public service. The commission shall also consider the utility's investment in property required by duly authorized governmental authority to be constructed in the public interest within a reasonable time in the future, not to exceed 24 months.

(3) The commission shall grant to any utility which receives all of its utility service from a governmental agency and redistributes that service to its utility customers an increase or decrease in rates for service, without hearing, upon verified notice that the rates charged by the governmental agency have changed. The new rates authorized shall reflect the amount of the change of the rates imposed upon the utility by the governmental agency. Provisions of this subsection shall not prevent a utility which receives its service from a governmental agency from seeking changes in rates pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2).

(4) Applications for rate changes shall be accompanied by a fee as provided by s. 367.141, except that no fee shall be required for applications for rate changes made pursuant to subsection (3).

(5) Pending a final order by the commission in any rate proceeding under this section, the commission may withhold consent to the operation of all or any portion of the new rate schedules, delivering to the utility requesting such increase, within 30 days, a reason or written statement of good cause for withholding its consent. Such consent shall not be withheld for a period longer than 8 months from the date of filing the new schedules. The new rates or any portion not consented to shall go into effect under bond at the end of such period, but the commission shall by order require such utility to keep accurate account in detail of all amounts received by reason of such increase, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid, and upon completion of hearing and final decision in such proceeding shall by further order require such utility to refund with interest at a fair rate, to be determined by the commission in such manner as it may direct, such portion of the increased rate or charge as by its decision shall be found not justified. Any portion of such refund not thus refunded to patrons or customers of the utility shall be refunded or disposed of by the utility as the commission may direct; however, no such funds shall accrue to the benefit of the utility.

(6) In no instance is any regulated company allowed to put suspended rates into effect more than one time in any 12-month period.

s. 364.05 Changing rates, tolls, rentals, etc.

367.091 Rates; new class of service.—If any request for service of a utility shall be for a new class of service not provided for in the filings required by s. 367.041(2), the utility may furnish the new class of service and fix and charge just, reasonable, and compensatory rates or charges therefor. A schedule of rates or charges so fixed shall be filed with the commission within 10 days after the service is furnished. The commission may approve such rates or charges as filed or may approve such other rates or charges

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-278; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 53, ch. 78-95.

367.101 Charges for service availability.—Charges and conditions made by a utility shall be just and reasonable. The commission shall, upon request or upon its own motion, investigate agreements or proposals for charges and conditions to be made by a utility for service availability. The commission shall set just and reasonable charges and conditions for service availability.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-278; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 53, ch. 78-95.

367.111 Service.—

(1) Each utility shall provide service to the territory described in its certificate within a reasonable time. If the commission finds that any utility has failed to provide service to any person reasonably entitled thereto, or finds that extension of service to any such person could be accomplished only at an unreasonable cost and that addition of the deleted territory to that of another utility company is economical and feasible, it may amend the certificate to delete the territory not served or not properly served by the utility, or it may rescind the certificate.

(2) Each utility shall provide to each person reasonably entitled thereto such safe, efficient, and sufficient service as is prescribed by chapter 10D-4, Florida Administrative Code for Water Systems, and chapter 17-4, Florida Administrative Code for Sewer Systems, but such service shall not be less safe, efficient, and sufficient than is consistent with the approved engineering design of the system and the reasonable and proper operation of the utility in the public interest.

367.121 Powers of commission.—

(1) In the exercise of its jurisdiction, the commission shall have power:

(a) To prescribe fair and reasonable rates and charges, classifications, standards of quality and measurements, and service rules and regulations to be observed by each utility;

(b) To prescribe uniform system and classification of accounts for all utilities, which, among other things, shall establish adequate, fair, and reasonable depreciation rates and charges;

(c) To require the filing by each utility of periodic reports and all other reasonably necessary information;

(d) To require repairs, improvements, additions, and extensions to the plant and equipment of any utility reasonably necessary to promote the convenience and welfare of the public and secure sufficient service or facilities for those reasonably entitled thereto in the territory, except that no utility shall be required to extend its service outside its territory, or make additions to its plant or equipment to serve outside its territory, unless the commission shall first enter an order based upon findings establishing the financial ability of the utility to make such additional investment without impairing its capacity to serve its existing customers and its ability to operate efficiently;

(e) To employ and fix the compensation for such examiners and technical, legal, and clerical employees as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter;

(f) To prescribe all rules and regulations reasonably necessary and appropriate for the administration and enforcement of this chapter; and

(g) To exercise all judicial powers, issue all writs, and do all things necessary or convenient to the full and complete exercise of its jurisdiction and the enforcement of its orders and requirements.

(2) The commission or its duly authorized representatives may, during all reasonable hours, enter upon any premises occupied by any utility and set up and use thereon all necessary apparatus and appliances for the purpose of making investigations, inspections, examinations, and tests and exercising any power conferred by this chapter. Such utility shall have the right to be notified of and be represented at the making of such investigations, inspections, examinations, and tests.

§367.122 Examination and testing of appliances.—

(1) The commission may provide for the examination and testing of all appliances used for measuring any product or service of a utility.

(2) Any customer or user may have any such appliance tested by the utility upon payment of the fee fixed by the commission.

(3) The commission shall establish reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the customers. The fee shall be paid by the customer or user at the time of his request. However, the fee shall be paid by the utility and repaid to the customer or user if the appliance is found defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the customer or user in excess of the degree or amount of tolerance customarily allowed for such appliances, or as may be provided for in rules and regulations of the commission. No fee may be charged for any such testing done by the commission or its representatives.

(4) The commission may purchase materials, apparatus and standard measuring instruments for such examinations and tests.

§367.123 Service for resale.—The commission shall not require a utility to provide service for resale, but any utility which provides service for resale shall provide such service upon terms and conditions established by the commission, and no utility shall discontinue such service without the approval of the commission.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-278; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§367.131 Review of commission's orders.—Any utility, or any person in interest, dissatisfied with any order of the commission may have it reviewed by the Supreme Court by certiorari.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-278; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Each utility whose ownership or system is transferred in any manner to a governmental agency shall, within 30 days of the date of transfer, report the total amount of gross receipts derived by it during the period from January 1 to the date of transfer. In either event, at the time of so reporting, each utility shall pay to the commission a gross receipts tax in the amount of 2.5 percent of such gross receipts. However, whenever a purchase is made of any water and a tax is paid thereon by a utility and such utility resells the same directly to customers, such utility shall be entitled to, and receive, credit on such taxes as may be due by it under this section to the extent of the tax paid or payable upon such water by the person, firm, or corporation from whom such purchase was made. If any utility fails to make such report and pay such tax, the commission, after giving at least 5 days' written notice to the utility, shall estimate the amount of such gross receipts from such information as it may be able to obtain from any source, add 10 percent of the amount of such tax as a penalty, and proceed to collect such tax and penalty, together with all costs of collection thereof, in the same manner as other delinquent taxes are collected. However, no penalty shall be added to the tax in the event a return is made and the amount of the tax is paid before the expiration of the time fixed in the notice given by the commission. All such tax payments and penalties shall be placed in the Florida Public Service Regulatory Trust Fund, as established under the provisions of chapter 350. The commission may audit such reports, and, upon demand, every utility shall submit all of its records, papers, books, and accounts to the commission or its representatives for audit.

(1) A person called upon to testify before the commission or one of its examiners shall not be excused from answering on the ground or claim that his testimony would tend to incriminate him; but no person having so testified shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may have testified or produced documentary evidence. However, no person so testifying shall be exempted from prosecution or punishment for perjury in so testifying.

(2) If any utility, by any authorized officer, agent, or employee, shall knowingly refuse to comply with, or willfully violate, any provision of this chapter or any lawful rate, rule or regulation, order, direction, demand, or requirement prescribed by the commission, such utility shall incur a penalty for each such offense of not more than $5,000, to be fixed, imposed, and collected by the commission. Each day that said refusal or violation continues shall constitute a separate offense. Each penalty shall be a lien upon the real and personal property of the utility, enforceable by the commission as statutory liens under chapter 85. The proceeds from the enforcement of any such lien shall be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state.

§367.171 Effectiveness of this chapter.—

(1) The provisions of this chapter shall become effective in a county of this state upon the adoption of a resolution by the board of county commissioners of such county, or, in counties operating under a countywide charter, by the appropriate board, declaring that such county is subject to the provisions of this chapter. Any board of county commissioners adopting such resolution shall immediately notify the commission of its adoption and submit the resolution to the commission.

(a) Within 30 days after this chapter becomes applicable to a county, each utility shall register by filing with the commission a written statement setting forth the full legal name of the utility, its mailing address, and a brief description of its area of service.

(b) On the day this chapter becomes applicable to any county, any utility engaged in the operation or construction of a system shall be entitled to receive a certificate for the area served by such utility on the day this chapter becomes applicable to it if, within 90 days, the utility will make application by filing with the commission:

1. A map of its existing system or system under construction; and
2. A description of the area served by the system.

Such application shall be accompanied by a fee as provided by s. 367.141.

(2)(a) In consideration of the advisory opinion of the Supreme Court of Florida to the Governor on May 14, 1969, responding to the Governor's request for the court's opinion upon a question affecting the executive powers and duties, as authorized by s. 1(c), Art. IV, State Constitution, the court found, inter alia, that the Legislature of the State of Florida is vested with inherent power to prevent unjust discrimination and excessive charges by persons engaged in common carriage and providing other service of a public nature. Thus, the Legislature has inherent authority to create and empower a public utilities commission and impose upon it responsibility and authority for regulation of water and sewer utilities in certain areas of this state.

(b) In consideration of the variance of powers, duties, responsibilities, population, size of municipalities of the several counties and that every county varies from every other county and thereby affects the functions, duties and responsibilities required of its county officers and the scope of responsibilities which each county may, at this time, undertake, the Counties of Alachua, Baker, Bay, Bradford, Calhoun, Citrus, Collier, Columbia, Dade, DeSoto, Dixie, Escambia, Flagler, Gadsden, Gilchrist, Glades, Gulf, Hamilton, Hardee, Hendry, Highlands, Hillsborough, Holmes, Indian River, Jefferson, Lafayette, Leon, Levy, Liberty, Madison, Manatee, Marion, Martin, Monroe, Okaloosa, Okeechobee, Polk, St. Johns, Sarasota, Seminole, Sumter, Suwannee, Taylor, Union, Wakulla and Washington are excluded from the provisions of this chapter until such time as the board of county commissioners of such counties, acting pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1), shall make this chapter applicable to such county or until the Legislature shall, by appropriate act, remove one or more such counties from this exclusion.

368.021 Applicability.
368.03 Purpose and legislative intent.
368.05 Commission jurisdiction, rules and regulations.
368.061 Penalty for violation of chapter.

368.01 Short title.—This law may be known and cited as "The Gas Safety Law of 1967."

History.—s. 1, ch. 59-304; s. 1, ch. 67-379.

368.021 Applicability.—The provisions of this law and all orders, rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto shall apply to every person, corporation, partnership, association, public agency, municipality, cooperative, gas district, or other legal entity and their lessees, trustees, or receivers, now or hereafter owning, operating, managing, or controlling any gas transmission or distribution facilities or any other facility supplying natural or manufactured gas or liquefied gas with air admixture or any similar gaseous substance to or for the public within this state; provided, however, that the terms of this law shall not apply to those supplying liquefied petroleum gas in either the liquid or gaseous form.

History.—s. 2, ch. 67-379; s. 1, ch. 69-248.

368.03 Purpose and legislative intent.—This law authorizes the establishment of rules and regulations covering the design, fabrication, installation, inspection, testing and safety standards for installation, operation and maintenance of gas transmission and distribution systems, including gas pipelines, gas compressor stations, gas metering and regulating stations, gas mains, and gas services up to the outlet of the customer's meter set assembly, gas-storage equipment of the closed-pipe type fabricated or forged from pipe or fabricated from pipe and fittings, and gas-storage lines. It is intended that the requirements of such rules and regulations shall be adequate for safety under conditions normally encountered in the gas industry, but requirements for abnormal or unusual conditions or all details of engineering and construction need not be specifically provided for or prescribed. It is not intended that the rules and regulations adopted pursuant hereto be applied retroactively to existing installations so far as design, fabrication, installation, establishing operating pressure and testing are concerned. It is intended, however, that the provisions of the rules and regulations shall be applicable to the operation, maintenance and uprating of existing installations. This law, and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to it, are declared to be in the public interest and are deemed to be an exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare and shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose.

History.—s. 2, ch. 59-304; s. 3, ch. 67-379.

The jurisdiction conferred upon the commission hereby shall be exclusive of and superior to that of all other boards, agencies, political subdivisions, municipalities, towns, villages or counties; and in case of conflict therewith all lawful safety acts, orders, rules and regulations of the commission shall in each instance prevail.

(2) The commission shall have the power to perform any and all acts, and to prescribe, issue, make, amend and rescind such orders, rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as it may find necessary or appropriate to the exercise of the authority granted under the provisions of this law. The commission may require the filing of periodic reports and all other data reasonably necessary to determine whether the safety standards prescribed by it are being complied with; may require repairs and improvements to the gas transmission and distribution piping systems subject to this law which are reasonably necessary to promote the protection of the public; and may exercise all judicial powers, issue all writs and do all things necessary or convenient to the full and complete exercise of its jurisdiction and the enforcement of its safety orders and rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this law.

(2) Any such civil penalty may be compromised by the commissioners. In determining the amount of such penalty or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of such penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance after notification of a violation shall be considered. Each penalty shall be a lien upon the real and personal property of said persons and enforceable by the commission as statutory liens under chapter 85, the proceeds of which shall be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state.

(3) The commissioners may, at their discretion, cause to be instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state proceedings for injunction against any person subject to the provisions of this chapter to compel the observance of the provisions of

2. Whenever a person, firm or corporation, already in possession of a wholesale seafood dealer license, shall find it useful and expedient to have more than one establishment, and the function of such additional establishments shall be the loading and preparation of products for later transshipment to the central place of business, it shall not be necessary for that person, firm or corporation to obtain an additional wholesale dealer license.

(b) A "retail seafood dealer"; any person, firm or corporation who sells saltwater fish or other saltwater products directly to the consumer as seafood, but no license shall be required of dealers in merchandise who deal in or sell only salted, cured, canned, or smoked seafood.

Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(b) It is unlawful for any person, while fishing or attempting to fish for shrimp or saltwater fish, to attach or otherwise secure a frame net, trawl net, trap net, or similar device to any state road bridge or associated structure situated over any saltwater body or to use more than one such net or device while fishing from such bridge or structure. For the purposes of this paragraph, a "frame net" is any net similar to a hoop net, the mouth of which is held open by a frame, with a trailing mesh net, of any size. Cast nets, dip nets, and similar devices are specifically excluded from the operation of this paragraph.

(3) USE OF PURSE SEINES, GILL NETS, AND POUND NETS, ETC.; PENALTY.—No person may take food fish within or without the waters of this state with a purse seine, purse gill net, or other net using rings or other devices on the lead line thereof, through which a purse line is drawn, or pound net, or have any food fish so taken in his possession for sale or shipment. applicable where crawfish are in possession of seafood dealers.

(c) Egg-bearing female crawfish shall not be taken or possessed at any time. Egg-bearing female crawfish found in traps shall be immediately returned to the water free, alive and unharmed.

(d) The practice of stripping or otherwise molesting egg-bearing crawfish in order to remove the eggs is prohibited, and the possession of crawfish or crawfish tails from which eggs, swimmerettes, or pleopods have been removed is prohibited, and the possession on the water or the landing of crawfish or crawfish tails from which eggs, swimmerettes, or pleopods have been removed is prohibited unless such products are imported from a foreign country, cleared through U.S. Customs, and accompanied by a valid invoice.

(3) TRAPS; BUOYS; LICENSE NUMBERS; SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF LICENSES.—

(a) No person, firm, or corporation shall have in possession at any time, or fish with, set, place, or cause to be fished with, set, or placed, any trap other than those described below:

1. Wood slat traps and traps having biodegradable tops or throats;

2. Ice cans, drums, and similar devices; however, no trapping device shall at any time include grains, spears, grabs, hooks, or similar devices.

The traps and methods of taking crawfish described in subparagraphs 1. and 2. may be used only during those periods of time when such activities are permitted under law and may not be used during those periods when crawfish trapping and taking are prohibited. Traps may be placed in the water and baited 5 calendar days prior to the opening of the crawfish season and shall be removed within 5 days after the close of the crawfish season; however, nothing herein shall authorize the landing or sale of any crawfish during the closed season. Traps may be worked during daylight hours only, and the pulling of traps from 1 hour after official sunset until 1 hour before official sunrise is prohibited. The traps described in subparagraphs 1. and 2. may be reinforced with 16-gauge, 1-inch poultry wire as a protection against the ravages of turtles. Such reinforcement shall be limited to the sides of the trap. The tops and bottoms shall not be so protected.

(b) A buoy shall be attached to each trap with a timed release mechanism if desired and must be of sufficient strength and buoyancy to float, except when intentionally submerged by a timed float release device, and must be of such color, hue, and brilliancy as to be easily distinguished, seen, and located. Such color shall also be permanently and conspicuously displayed on the boat used for setting and collecting said traps and buoys in such a manner as to be readily identifiable from the air and water. Each trap, can, drum, and similar device used for taking or attempting to take crawfish must have a license number permanently attached to the device and the buoy. No numbers shall be permitted other than the current licenseholder numbers. The licenseholder may, at his option and in lieu of individual trap buoys, attach the individual traps to a trotline;

however, such a trotline must have attached at each end a permanently floating or timed release buoy. This license number may be issued by the Division of Law Enforcement upon the receipt of application by the owner of the traps, cans, drums, buoys, or similar devices and accompanied by the payment of a fee of $50. The design of the applications and of the license number shall be determined by the division. The trap license number shall be painted or affixed in legible figures at least 3 inches high on each buoy, drum, can, trap, or similar device. Any trap, drum, can, buoy, or similar device used in the taking or in attempting to take crawfish, other than the devices listed and described in subparagraphs 1. and 2. of paragraph (a) with license number attached as prescribed in this paragraph, shall be seized and destroyed by the division. The proceeds of the fee imposed by this paragraph shall be used by the Department of Natural Resources for the purposes of enforcing the provisions of this section through aerial and other surveillance. It shall be unlawful to sell crawfish without possession of a valid crawfish license or for a licensed wholesale dealer to buy crawfish from anyone other than the holder of a valid crawfish license. However, a licensed dealer may buy crawfish from a licensed wholesale dealer. The above shall not prohibit retail sales of crawfish by a licensed retail dealer. The Department of Natural Resources is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the intent of this section.

(c) The crawfish license must be on board the boat, and both the license and the harvested crawfish shall be subject to inspection at all times. Only one license shall be issued for each boat. The crawfish license number must be prominently displayed above the topmost portion of the boat so as to be easily and readily identified. It is a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083, for any person willfully to molest any traps, lines, or buoys, as defined herein, belonging to another without permission of the licenseholder.

(d) Any crawfish licenseholder, upon selling licensed crawfish traps, shall furnish the division notice of such sale of all or part of his interest within 15 days thereof. Any holder of said license shall also notify the division within 15 days if his address no longer conforms to the address appearing on the license and shall, as a part of such notification, furnish the division with his new address.

(e) Possession of crawfish traps or parts thereof or other devices for the taking of crawfish, above or below the surface of the water, or the placing or setting of traps or similar devices during the closed season shall be unlawful, except as authorized herein.

(f) Upon the arrest and conviction for violation of any of the crawfish regulations or laws, the licenseholder must show just cause why his license should not be suspended or permanently revoked.

(g) It is unlawful for any person who is not a licenseholder or any boat without a current license prominently displayed as required by this section, in or on the waters of this state, to possess, have on board, or remove from the waters of the state, within any 24-hour period, more than 24 crawfish.

(h) No person, firm, or corporation shall take crawfish by means of grains, spears, grabs, hooks, or similar devices. The possession of speared, pierced, or punctured crawfish or crawfish tails shall be prima facie evidence of violation of this section.

(i) Upon posting a $250 bond, payable to the Florida Saltwater Products Promotion Trust Fund and approved by the Division of Law Enforcement, a licenseholder may possess, while on the water, undersized crawfish not exceeding 200 per license or 3 per trap aboard each boat, whichever is greater, if used exclusively for luring or decoying noncaptive crawfish into traps. Such undersized crawfish must be kept alive, wet, and shaded while in possession and shall be returned and released to the water alive and unharmed immediately upon leaving the trap lines and prior to 1 hour after official sunset. Any boat or undersized crawfish shall be subject to inspection and search without a search warrant for violation of this section by any authorized agent or employee of the division or by any other law enforcement officer, provided such inspection or search is conducted when the owner or operator is on board such boat. Upon conviction of the illegal possession of undersized crawfish tails, the licenseholder shall forfeit said bond to the fund.

(4) CLOSED SEASON.—No person, firm, or corporation shall take or have in his possession, regardless of where taken, any saltwater crawfish (spiny lobster or crayfish) of the species Panulirus argus, during the closed season of April 1 through July 25 of each year, except by special permit and as provided by s. 370.141, for storage and distribution of inventory stocks.

(a) Special permit to import saltwater crawfish during closed season.—

1. By a special permit granted by the Division of Law Enforcement, a Florida licensed seafood dealer may lawfully import, process, and package saltwater crawfish or uncooked tails of the species Panulirus argus during the closed season. However, crawfish landed under special permit shall not be sold in the state.

2. The licensed seafood dealer importing any such crawfish under the permit shall, 12 hours prior to the time the seagoing vessel or airplane delivering such imported crawfish enters the state, notify the Division of Law Enforcement as to the seagoing vessel's name or the airplane's registration number and its captain, location, and point of destination.

3. At the time the crawfish cargo is delivered to the permit holder's place of business, the crawfish cargo shall be weighed in the presence of the marine patrol officer, and a signed receipt of such quantity in pounds shall be furnished to said officer, which receipt shall be filed by the marine patrol officer with the Division of Law Enforcement.

4. Within 48 hours from the time the receipt is given to the marine patrol officer, the permit holder shall submit to the Division of Law Enforcement, on forms provided by the division, a sworn report of the quantity, in pounds, of the saltwater crawfish received, which report shall include the location of said crawfish and a sworn statement that said crawfish were taken at least 50 miles from Florida's shoreline. The landing of crawfish or crawfish tails from which the eggs or swimmerettes, pleopods, have been removed; the falsification of information as to area from which crawfish were obtained; or the failure to file the report called for in this section shall be grounds to revoke the permit.

5. Each permit holder shall keep throughout the period of the closed season copies of the bill of sale or invoices covering each transaction involving crawfish imported under this permit. Such invoices and bills shall be kept available at all times for inspection by the division.

(b) Special permit license fees.—

1. A Florida licensed seafood dealer may obtain a special permit to import, process, and package uncooked tails of saltwater crawfish upon the payment of the sum of $100 to the Division of Law Enforcement.

2. A special permit must be obtained by any airplane or seagoing vessel other than a common carrier used to transport saltwater crawfish or crawfish tails for purchase by licensed seafood dealers for purposes as provided herein upon the payment of $50.

3. All special permits issued under subparagraphs 1. and 2. are nontransferable.

(5) CARRIERS.—No common carrier or employee of said carrier may carry, knowingly receive for carriage, or permit the carriage of, any crawfish of the species Panulirus argus, regardless of where taken, during the closed season of April 1 through July 25 of each year, except of the species Panulirus argus lawfully imported from a foreign country for reshipment outside of the territorial limits of the state under U.S. Customs bond or in accordance with subparagraph (4)(a)1.

(6) SPORTS FISHERMEN'S CRAWFISH SEASON.—

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter, there is created a sports fishermen's crawfish season to be on July 20 and 21 of each year.

(b) No person may have in his possession more than 6 crawfish on July 20, nor more than 12 crawfish cumulatively for July 20 and 21.

(c) Any vehicle, boat, or other transportation device may, with probable cause, be searched during the sports fishermen's crawfish season.

(7) PENALTY.—

(a) Any person violating the provisions of this section, unless otherwise provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(b) Any person convicted of a violation of this section for a second or more time, unless otherwise provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

370.141 Crawfish and stone crab; reports by dealers during closed season required.—

(1) Within 3 days after the commencement of the closed season for the taking of saltwater crawfish and stone crabs, each and every seafood dealer, either retail or wholesale, of the state shall submit to the Division of Marine Resources, on forms provided by the division, a sworn report of the quantity, in pounds, of frozen saltwater crawfish and stone crabs, frozen crawfish tails, and frozen crawfish and stone crabmeat in his (its) name or possession at the beginning of the aforementioned closed season. This report shall state the location of and describe each as to the number of pounds of frozen crawfish and stone crabs, frozen crawfish tails, and frozen crawfish and stone crabmeat. Any reports postmarked later than midnight of the 3rd day after the commencement of the closed season may not be accepted by the division, and the frozen stocks or crawfish and stone crabs reported therein may be seized by the division.

(2) Whenever any dealer fails to submit a report as described above or should any dealer report a greater or lesser amount of frozen crawfish or stone crabs, frozen crawfish tails or frozen crawfish or stone crabmeat than is actually in his (its) possession or name, said dealer is and shall be considered in violation of the provisions of ss. 370.13 and 370.14, and the division may seize the entire supply of unreported or falsely reported frozen crawfish and stone crabs, tails or meat and shall carry same before the court for disposal as provided for under s. 370.061.

(3) Each and every dealer having reported stocks of frozen crawfish and stone crabs as aforesaid may sell or offer for sale such stocks of frozen crawfish or frozen stone crabs; however, such dealer shall submit an additional report on the 1st and 15th day of each month during the duration of the closed season on forms supplied by the division. Each dealer shall state on this report the number of pounds sold during the report period and the pounds remaining on hand. In every case the amount of frozen crawfish and stone crabs sold and the amount remaining on hand shall total to equal the amount reported on hand in the last submitted report. Reports postmarked later than midnight of the 2nd and 16th of each month during the duration of the closed season may not be accepted by the division. Whenever any dealer fails to submit the semimonthly supplementary report as described above the division may impound said dealer's entire stock of frozen crawfish and stone crabs for the remainder of the closed season.

(4) Each and every seafood dealer shall at all times during the closed season make his stocks of frozen crawfish and stone crabs, frozen crawfish tails or frozen crawfish and stone crabmeat available for inspection by the division.

(5) Each dealer in frozen crawfish or stone crabs, frozen crawfish tails or frozen crawfish and stone crabmeat shall keep throughout the period of the closed season copies of the bill of sale or invoice covering each transaction involving frozen crawfish and stone crabs, tails or meats excepting only retail sale directly to the consumer. Such invoices and bills shall be kept available at all times for inspection by the division.

(6) Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

370.15 Shrimp; regulation.—

(1) GENERAL AUTHORITY; CONSERVATION.—The department is authorized and directed to adopt, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations consistent with the provisions of this section and the general policy of encouraging the production of the maximum sustained yield consistent with the preservation and protection of breeding stock, taking into consideration the recommendations of the various marine laboratories, as well as those of interested and experienced groups of private citizens. Such rules and regulations are to control the method, manner and equipment used in the taking of shrimp or prawn, as well as limiting and defining the areas where taken.

(2) SHRIMP CATCH REGULATION; PENALTY.—

(a) It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to catch, kill, or destroy shrimp or prawn within or without the waters of this state, or have in his possession any small shrimp or prawn taken in such waters, provided such small shrimp or prawn constitute at least 5 percent of all such shrimp or prawn in such possession. "Small shrimp" or "prawn" are defined as those that require more than 47 with the heads, or 70 without the heads, to make a pound by shrimp count. The words "shrimp count" shall refer to the number of shrimp, heads off, 70 to make a pound or 47 with the heads on to make a pound. This count shall be determined by random sampling in five different locations in the catch, at as widely separated distances and depths as practicable. Each sample shall consist of at least 1 pound of shrimp. The average counts of these five samples shall be the established count for the cargo. In the event shrimp, which when caught, landed, and prior to grading were of legal size under the terms of this subsection, are thereafter graded for size for the purpose of packaging, processing, or other lawful purpose; the smaller shrimp making up the average count of such entire lot as herein provided are graded out into separate lot or lots; and such shrimp so segregated from such entire lot are above the average count as herein provided, the possession, purchase, sale, unloading, transporting, or handling of such particular smaller graded shrimp shall not be unlawful. This provision shall exclude any product which has been processed and imported into the state. "Processed" is defined as frozen, canned, or packaged in up to 10-pound packages. This section shall not apply to live bait shrimp.

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation convicted of violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083. In the event of a second or subsequent conviction of a violation of this subsection within 24 months, the division shall suspend the license of the violator for a period not to exceed 1 year.

(3) REGULATION OF BREEDING AREAS.—

Any areas or places as defined in subsection (2) shall be designated sanctuary areas for shrimp and prawn to be opened or closed to the taking of shrimp or prawn according to the provisions of this section or the rules and regulations of the division.

(4) CATCHING SHRIMP AT NIGHT.—It shall be unlawful to catch or attempt to catch shrimp or prawn in the territorial waters of the state in any county whose coastal boundary borders solely on the Atlantic Ocean, by use of trawl nets during night hours except during the months of June, July and August.

(5) SHRIMP TRAPS.—

(a) It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to take or attempt to take shrimp by the use of any trap which:

1. Exceeds the following dimensions: 36 inches long (from rear of the heart to the leading edge of the trap), by 24 inches wide (between the leading edges of the trap, or heart opening), by 12 inches high; or

2. Has external or unattached wings, weirs, or other devices intended to funnel shrimp to the trap heart.

(b) The user of any trap shall affix his name and address securely to each trap. Any such trap not having proper identification shall be subject to confiscation by the department. No person, firm, or corporation shall have more than four traps in use at any time. The department shall have the authority to inspect such traps when being used in or on the waters of the state.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation which violates the provisions of this subsection is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(6) SHRIMP FISHING; PERMITS; PENALTY.—

(a) All persons, firms and corporations desiring to fish for commercial or bait shrimp within areas in which trawling is permitted shall first apply to the Division of Marine Resources for a permit. Such applications shall be made on forms to be supplied by the division and which shall require the applicant to furnish such information as may be deemed pertinent to the best interests of saltwater conservation. Provided, that the division may refuse to grant permit when it shall be apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such denial. Provided further, that permits so granted shall remain on board at all times and will be subject to immediate revocation upon conviction for violation of this section or when it shall be apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such action. Provided further, that due to the varied habitats and types of bottoms and hydrographic conditions embraced by the open fishing area, the division shall have the authority to specify and regulate the types of gear that may be used in the different sections of the open areas.

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation convicted of violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083. In the event of a second or subsequent conviction of a violation of this subsection within 24 months, the division shall suspend the license of the violator for a period not to exceed 1 year.

Okaloosa Counties and between Brooks Bridge as the east boundary and Bascule Bridge in Santa Rosa County as the west boundary.

2. Live bait shrimp may be caught at any time but only under permit issued by the division. Permittees must fish with gear and under those conditions specified by the division. Application for such permits shall be on forms supplied by the division and no charges may be made for issuing said permits. Permits shall be revocable when holder does not comply with the laws and regulations applicable to saltwater conservation. All vessels fishing for live bait shrimp must be equipped with live bait shrimp tanks, and no more than 5 pounds of dead shrimp will be allowed on board such vessel per day.

(b) Any person convicted of violating the provisions of this subsection shall, for the first or second convictions, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. A third or any subsequent violation by any person of this subsection within a 3-year period shall be a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(8) CLOSED AREA FOR SHRIMPING.—

(b) All persons, firms, and corporations desiring to fish for live bait shrimp within the above described area shall first apply to the Division of Law Enforcement for a permit. Such application shall be made on forms to be supplied by the division which shall require the applicant to furnish such information as may be required by the department.

(c) The division may refuse to grant permits when it is apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such denial.

(d) Permits so granted will be subject to immediate revocation upon conviction for violation of this subsection or when it shall be apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such revocation.

(e) Any person convicted of violating the provisions of this subsection shall for the first conviction be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. A second or any subsequent violation by any person of this subsection shall be a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

370.151 Tortugas shrimp beds; closed areas; permits; penalties.—

(1) It is the intention of the Legislature that action should be taken to conserve the supply of shrimp in the large shrimp beds which lie in and around the coast of the Lower Keys of Florida and in the vicinity of the islands of Dry Tortugas in the Florida Keys, hereinafter referred to as the "Tortugas Shrimp Bed," and which furnish more than 50 percent of the shrimp in waters adjacent to the coast of Florida. It is further the sense of this legislature that the shrimp industry is a valuable industry to the economy of this state and deserves adequate protection.

(2) Tortugas Shrimp Bed is described as follows:

(b) No shrimping shall be permitted at any time except live bait production as provided in this chapter in the above-described area.

(3)(a) The Division of Law Enforcement is authorized to take title in the name of the state to any vessel or vessels suitable for use in carrying out the inspection and patrol of the Tortugas Bed which may be offered as a gift to the state by any person, firm, corporation, or association in the shrimp industry for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. In the event such title is taken to such vessel or vessels, the division is authorized to operate and keep said vessel or vessels in proper repair.

(b) The division is further authorized to accept the temporary loan of any vessel or vessels, suitable for use in carrying out the provisions of this section, for periods not exceeding 1 year. However, the state shall not assume any liability to the owner or owners of said vessels for any damage done by said vessels to other vessels, persons, or property. In the operation of said loaned vessels, upkeep and repair shall consist only of minor repairs and routine maintenance. The owner or owners shall carry full marine insurance coverage on said loaned vessel or vessels for the duration of the period during which said vessels are operated by the state.

(4) It is unlawful to land or attempt to land any shrimp in the territorial waters of the state without a permit issued by the Division of Law Enforcement. Such permit shall be issued without charge. The division may revoke such landing permit upon a violation of any portion of this section. Such revocation of permit by the division may be reviewed by the Department of Natural Resources.

(5) It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to receive any shrimp from any vessel not in possession of a valid permit issued by the Division of Law Enforcement. Any person violating this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083.

(6) The owner or master of any vessel not equipped with live shrimp bait tanks dragging shrimp nets in the above-defined area without a live bait permit for this area is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083, and the nets and shrimping door shall be confiscated. A second violation by any person under this subsection shall be a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. A third or any subsequent violation by any person under this subsection within a 3-year period shall be a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 and s. 775.083.

(7) Each offense under all subsections, except subsections (5) and (6), shall be a misdemeanor and punishable as follows:

(d) In addition to the fines enumerated above, the court may punish the master as provided in s. 775.082.

(8)(a) Nothing in this section shall apply to the taking of live shrimp for bait. All persons, firms, and corporations desiring to fish for live bait shrimp within any area shall first apply to the Division of Law Enforcement for a permit. Such application shall be made on forms to be supplied by the division which shall require the applicant to furnish such information as may be deemed pertinent to the best interests of saltwater conservation.

(b) The division may refuse to grant permits when it is apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such denial.

(c) Permits so granted will be subject to immediate revocation upon conviction for violation of this subsection or when it shall be apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such revocation.

(d) Due to the varied habitats and types of bottoms and hydrographic conditions, the division shall have the authority to specify and regulate the types of gear that may be used in the area. Such specifications and regulations shall be consonant with sound saltwater conservation.

(d) "Pattern" means ten or more stations.

(e) "Station" means a single location on the water of the areas defined.

(f) "Licensed live bait shrimp producer" means any individual licensed by the Department of Natural Resources to employ the use of any trawl for the taking of live bait shrimp within the inland waters of Nassau, Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, Flagler, or Clay Counties.

(g) "Licensed dead shrimp producer" means any individual licensed by the Department of Natural Resources to employ the use of any trawl for the taking of shrimp within the inland waters of Nassau, Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, Flagler, or Clay Counties.

(2) SHRIMPING PROHIBITED.—It is unlawful to employ the use of any trawl or other net, except a common cast net, designed for or capable of taking shrimp, within the inland waters of Nassau, Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, Flagler, or Clay Counties, except as hereinafter provided.

(3) LIVE BAIT SHRIMP PRODUCTION.—

(a) Any licensed live bait shrimp producer shall be permitted to use a roller frame trawl or an otter trawl not to exceed 20 feet in width for the production of live bait shrimp. No other type or size of trawl shall be permitted.

(b) A live bait shrimp production license shall be issued by the Department of Natural Resources upon the receipt of an application by a person intending to use a boat, not to exceed 35 feet in length in Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, Flagler, and Clay Counties and not to exceed 45 feet in length in Nassau County, for live shrimp production within the inland waters of Nassau, Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, Flagler, or Clay Counties and the payment of a fee of $50. The design of the application and permit shall be determined by the department. The proceeds of the fee imposed by this paragraph shall be used by the Department of Natural Resources for the purposes of enforcement of marine resource laws.

(c) The executive director of the Department of Natural Resources, or his designated representative, may by order close certain areas to live bait shrimp production when sampling procedures justify the closing, based upon sound conservation practices. The revocation of any order to close has the effect of opening the area.

(d) Every live bait shrimp producer shall produce evidence satisfactory to the department that he has the necessary equipment to maintain the shrimp alive while aboard the shrimp fishing vessel. All vessels fishing for live bait shrimp must be equipped with live bait shrimp tanks of a type and capacity satisfactory to the department, and no more than 5 pounds of dead shrimp will be allowed on board such vessel per day.

(e) 1. Each licensed live bait shrimp producer who stores his catch for sale or sells his catch shall either:

a. Maintain onshore facilities which have been annually checked and approved by the local Marine Patrol office to assure the facilities' ability to maintain the catch alive when the live bait shrimp producer produces for his own facility; or

b. Sell his catch only to persons who have onshore facilities which have been annually checked and approved by the local Marine Patrol office to assure the facilities' ability to maintain the catch alive, when the producer sells his catch to an onshore facility. The producer shall provide the Department of Natural Resources with the wholesale number of the facility to which the shrimp have been sold and shall submit this number on a form designed and approved by the department.

2. All persons who maintain onshore facilities as described in this paragraph, whether the facilities are maintained by the licensed live bait shrimp producer or by another party who purchases shrimp from live bait shrimp producers, shall keep records of their transactions in conformance with the provisions of s. 370.07(5).

(4) DEAD SHRIMP PRODUCTION.—Any person may operate as a commercial dead shrimp producer on the St. Johns River provided that:

(a) A dead shrimp production permit is procured from the Department of Natural Resources upon the receipt by the department of a properly filled out and approved application by a person intending to use a boat, not to exceed 35 feet in length in Duval, St. Johns, Putnam, and Clay Counties, and not to exceed 45 feet in length in Nassau County, for dead shrimp production within the inland waters of Nassau County and the inland waters of the St. Johns River of Duval, Putnam, St. Johns, Flagler, or Clay Counties, which permit shall cost $250 and shall be required for each vessel used for dead shrimp production. The design of the application and permit shall be determined by the Department of Natural Resources. The proceeds of the fees imposed by this paragraph shall be deposited into the account of the Motorboat Revolving Trust Fund to be used by the Department of Natural Resources for the purpose of enforcement of marine resource laws.

(b) All commercial trawling shall be restricted to the St. Johns River proper in the area north of Buckman Bridge at Orange Park and at least 100 yards from the nearest shoreline.

(c) No person shall use any trawl exceeding 35 feet in length or less than a 1½-inch stretch mesh with a 10-pound pull. Length measurement shall be made from the point where the webbing is hung on the corkline at one end of said net to the point where the webbing is hung on the corkline at the opposite end of said net.

(d) No person shall use any tickler chain.

(e) The Department of Natural Resources may, by rule, place additional restrictions upon the types of equipment to be used by dead shrimp producers.

(f) All commercial shrimping activities shall be allowed during daylight hours from Tuesday through Friday each week.

(g) No person holding a dead shrimp production permit issued pursuant to this subsection shall simultaneously hold a permit for noncommercial trawling under the provisions of subsection (5). The number of permits issued by the department for commercial trawling or dead shrimp production in any one year shall be the number issued in the base year, 1976. All permits shall be nontransferable and annually renewable only by the original holder thereof. All permits not renewed shall expire and shall not be renewed under any circumstances.

(h) It is illegal for any person to sell dead shrimp caught in the St. Johns River, unless the seller is in possession of a dead shrimp production license issued pursuant to this subsection.

(i) It is illegal for any person to purchase shrimp for consumption from any seller (with respect to shrimp caught in the St. Johns River) who does not produce his dead shrimp production license prior to the sale of the shrimp.

(j) In addition to any other penalties provided for in this section, any person who violates the provisions of this subsection shall have his license revoked by the department.

(5) NONCOMMERCIAL TRAWLING.—Any person may harvest shrimp in the St. Johns River for his own use as food and may trawl for such shrimp under the following conditions:

(a) Each person who desires to trawl for shrimp for use as food shall obtain a noncommercial trawling permit from the local Marine Patrol office of the Department of Natural Resources upon filling out an application on a form prescribed by the department and upon paying a fee for the permit, which shall cost $50.

(b) Each trawl used for noncommercial trawling shall measure not more than 15 feet from the point where the webbing is hung on the corkline at one end of said net to the point where the webbing is hung on the corkline at the opposite end of said net, and the nets shall be no less than 1½ inches stretch mesh. Only one trawl shall be pulled at a time.

(c) All trawling shall be restricted to the confines of the St. Johns River proper in the area north of Buckman Bridge at Orange Park and at least 100 yards from the nearest shoreline.

(d) Trawling shall be allowed only during daylight hours on Saturdays and Sundays, and at no time shall any person or boat possess more than 50 pounds of shrimp while on the water.

(e) No shrimp caught by a person licensed under the provisions of this subsection shall be sold or offered for sale.

(6) SAMPLING PROCEDURE.—

(a) The executive director of the Department of Natural Resources shall have samples taken at established stations within patterns at frequent intervals.

(b) No area shall be closed to live bait shrimp production unless a series of samples has been taken and it has been determined that the shrimp are undersized or that continued shrimping in this area would have an adverse effect on conservation. Standards for size may be established by rule of the department.

(c) No area shall be opened to dead shrimp production unless a series of samples has been taken and it has been determined that the shrimp are of legal size. Legal-sized shrimp shall be defined as not more than 47 shrimp with heads on, or 70 shrimp with heads off, per pound.

(7) LICENSE POSSESSION.—The operator of a boat employing the use of any trawl for shrimp production must be in possession of a current shrimp production license issued to him pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(8) USE OF TRAWL; LIMITATION.—

(a) The use of a trawl by either a live bait shrimp producer or dead shrimp producer shall be limited to the daylight hours, and the taking of dead shrimp shall not take place on Saturdays, Sundays, or legal state holidays.

(b) The use of a trawl by either a live bait shrimp producer or dead shrimp producer within 100 yards of any shoreline is prohibited. The Department of Natural Resources, by rule or order, may define the area or areas where this subsection shall apply.

(c)1. It is unlawful to employ the use of any trawl designed for, or capable of, taking shrimp within ¼ mile of any natural or manmade inlet in Duval County or St. Johns County.

2. It is unlawful for anyone to trawl in the Trout River west of the bridge on U.S. 17 in Duval County.

(9) PENALTY.—

(a) Any person violating any provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished as provided by law.

(b) The license of any shrimp producer convicted of violating any provision of this section shall be suspended for a period of 1 year.

History.—ss. 1-10, ch. 71-460; ss. 1, 2, ch. 72-116; s. 1, ch. 73-150; ss. 1, 2, ch. 74-140; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-186; s. 80, ch. 79-164.

370.154 Shrimp regulations; closed areas; suspension of license, etc.—Any person convicted of taking shrimp in a closed area who is punishable under s. 370.15(6) or s. 370.151(5) shall, in addition to the penalties set forth therein, have his permit and the permit of the boat involved in the violation, issued pursuant to s. 370.15(5), revoked, if he holds such a permit, and he shall be ineligible to make application for such a permit for a period of 2 years from the date of such conviction. If a person not having a permit is convicted hereunder, that person and the boat involved in the violation shall not be eligible for such a permit for 5 years.

History.—s. 3, ch. 72-54.

370.155 Regulation of shrimp fishing in a designated area.—

(1) It shall be unlawful to catch or take, or attempt to catch or take, with nets in excess of 18 feet on the cork line, in excess of 24 feet on the lead line, and in excess of 3 feet on the leg line with trawl doors or other boards which exceed 36 inches in length by 18 inches in width, shrimp from April 1 to June 15 of each year in the following area, to wit: Beginning at a central point on Cape San Blas, proceeding thence 180 degrees to a point 3 miles seaward, thence southeasterly along a meandering line 3 miles from the shoreline to a point 3 miles due south of Cape St. George, proceeding thence zero degrees to Cape St. George, thence follow the shoreline bordering the Gulf of Mexico to the point of beginning. It is unlawful for any person to have in his boat at one time more than one net of the permissible size to take shrimp in the area herein defined. However, the Department of Natural Resources shall issue such permits as are necessary for harvesting roe shrimp in pursuance of mariculture programs.

(2) Any person violating this section shall, upon conviction, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

370.156 Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed; closed areas; permits; penalties.—

(1) It is the intention of the Legislature that action should be taken to conserve the supply of shrimp in the large shrimp beds that exist from the Florida-Georgia boundary to the southern boundary of St. Lucie County, in both the inland and the coastal territorial waters. This area shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed." It is further the sense of this Legislature that the shrimp industry is a valuable component of the state's economy and deserves adequate protection.

(2) The Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed is defined as: All of the inside and outside waters within the territorial limits of the State of Florida, lying and being within Nassau, Duval, Clay, Putnam, St. Johns, Flagler, Volusia, Seminole, Brevard, Indian River, and St. Lucie Counties as defined in chapter 7.

(3) No power trawling for dead shrimp shall be permitted in the Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed between April 1 and June 1 of each year. Only trawling for live bait is allowed in the Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed between April 1 and June 1 of each year, and each vessel shall comply with subsection (5).

(4) It is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to receive any shrimp from any vessel not in possession of a valid permit issued by the division.

(5) Any vessel trawling in the Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed for live bait shrimp shall have a live bait shrimping permit for this area, shall be equipped with live bait shrimp tanks, and shall not have in excess of 5 pounds of dead shrimp in its possession.

(6) Violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as follows:

(a) For the first offense, the owner or master, or both, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083, and the nets and shrimping doors shall be confiscated.

(b) For the second offense, the owner or master, or both, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083, and the vessel shall be confiscated as provided in s. 370.061.

(c) In addition to the fines, the court may punish the master of the vessel as provided in s. 775.082.

(7)(a) All persons, firms, and corporations desiring to trawl for either live bait shrimp or dead shrimp within the Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed shall first apply to the division for a permit. The application shall be made on forms supplied by the division which shall require the applicant to furnish information as may be deemed pertinent to the best interests of saltwater conservation.

(b) The division may refuse to grant permits when it is apparent that the best interests of saltwater conservation will be served by such denial.

(c) Due to the varied habitats, types of bottoms, and hydrographic conditions, the division shall have the authority to specify and regulate the types of gear that may be used in the Florida East Coast Shrimp Bed. Such specifications and regulations shall be consonant with sound saltwater conservation.

(d) It is unlawful to land or attempt to land any shrimp in the territorial waters of the state without a permit issued by the division. The division shall revoke a permit upon conviction of a violation of any portion of this section. Revocation of a permit by the division may be reviewed by the Department of Natural Resources, and the decision of the department may be reviewed according to the procedure prescribed in the Florida Appellate Rules.

History.—s. 3, ch. 74-140.

370.157 Cedar Key closed area for shrimping.—

(1) It shall be unlawful to catch or take, or attempt to take, except with a single rig boat 35 feet or less in length or with a net not to exceed 35 feet on the cork line, 45 feet on the lead line, and 5 feet on the leg line with trawl doors or other boards which exceed 48 inches in length by 24 inches in width, shrimp from the following area: Beginning at a point on the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico on the south side of the channel entering the Cross Florida Barge Canal near Port Inglis; thence southwesterly along the line of navigational buoy marking the south side of said channel to sea buoy number "2" marking the outer extent of said channel; thence westerly to navigational buoy number "3"; thence northwesterly to red flashing light number "12" at latitude 29°11'45" North and longitude 83°18'16" West; thence northerly to sea buoy number "2" at the outer limit of the navigational channel entering Horseshoe Beach; thence northeasterly along the south side of the navigational channel to the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico; thence southerly along the shoreline along the Gulf of Mexico to the point of beginning. This section shall not apply to persons holding live bait shrimp permits issued by the Department of Natural Resources.

(2) Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

370.16 Oysters and shellfish; regulation.—

(1) LEASE, APPLICATION FORM; NOTICE TO RIPARIAN OWNER; LANDS LEASED TO BE COMPACT.—When any qualified person desires to lease a part of the bottom or bed of any of the water of this state, for the purpose of growing oysters or clams, as provided for in this section, he shall present to the Division of Marine Resources a written application setting forth the name and address of the applicant, a reasonably definite description of the location and amount of land covered by water desired, and shall pray that the application be filed; that the water bottoms be surveyed and a plat or map of the survey thereof be made if no plat or map of such bottoms should have been so made thereto, and that the water bottoms described be leased to the applicant under the provisions of this section; such applicant shall accompany with his written application a sufficient sum to defray the estimated expenses of the survey; thereupon the said division shall file such application and shall direct the same surveyed and platted forthwith at the expense of the applicant. When applications are made by two or more persons for the same lands, they shall be leased to the applicant who first filed application for same; but to all applications for leases of any of the bottoms of said waters owned under the riparian acts of the laws of Florida, heretofore enacted, notice of such application shall be given the riparian owner, when known, and when not known, notice of such application shall be given by publication for 4 weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which the water bottoms lie; and when there is no newspaper published in such county, then by posting such notice for 4 weeks at the courthouse door of said county, and preference shall be given to such riparian owners under the terms and conditions herein created, when such riparian owner makes application for such water bottoms for the purpose of planting oysters or clams before the same are leased to another. The lands leased shall be as compact as possible, taking into consideration the shape of the body of water and the condition of the bottom as to hardness, or soft mud or sand, or other conditions which would render the bottoms desirable or undesirable for the purpose of oyster or clam cultivation.

(2) SURVEYS, PLATS AND MAPS OF REEFS.—The Division of Marine Resources shall accept, adopt and use official reports, surveys and maps of oyster, clam or other shellfish grounds made under the direction of any authority of the United States as prima facie evidence of the natural oyster and clam reefs, for the purpose and intent of this chapter. The said division may also make surveys of any natural oyster or clam reefs when it deems such surveys necessary and where such surveys are made pursuant to an application for a lease, the cost thereof may be charged to the applicant as a part of the cost of his application.

(3) EXECUTION OF LEASES; LESSEE TO

STAKE OFF BOUNDARIES; PENALTY FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH REGULATIONS.—

As soon as the survey has been made and the plat or map thereof filed with the Division of Marine Resources and the cost thereof paid by the applicant, the said division may execute in duplicate a lease of the water bottoms to the applicant. One duplicate, with a plat or map of the water bottoms so leased, shall be delivered to the applicant, and the other, with a plat or map of the bottom so leased shall be retained by the said division, and registered in a lease book which shall be kept exclusively for that purpose by the said division; thereafter such lessees shall enjoy the exclusive use of said lands and all oyster and clams, shell and cultch grown or placed thereon shall be the exclusive property of such lessee as long as he shall comply with the provisions of this chapter. The division shall require the lessee to stake off and mark the water bottoms leased, by such ranges, monuments, stakes, buoys, etc., so placed and made as not to interfere with the navigation, as it may deem necessary to locate the same to the end that the location and limits of the lands embraced in such lease be easily and accurately found and fixed, and such lessee shall keep the same in good condition during the open and closed oyster or clam season. All leases shall be marked according to the standards derived from the uniform waterway markers for safety and navigation as described in s. 371.521. The division may stipulate in each individual lease contract the types, shape, depth, size and height of marker or corner posts. Failure on the part of the lessee to comply with the orders of the division to this effect within the time fixed by it, and to keep the markers, etc., in good condition during the open and closed oyster or clam season, shall subject such lessee to a fine not exceeding $100 for each and every such offense. All lessees shall cause the area of the leased water bottoms and the names of the lessees to be shown by signs as may be determined by the said division, if so required.

(4) LEASES IN PERPETUITY; RENT; STIPULATIONS; TAXES; CULTIVATION, ETC.—

(a) All leases made under the provisions of this chapter shall begin on the day executed and continue in perpetuity under such restrictions as shall herein be stated. The rent for the first 10 years shall be $5 per acre, or any fraction of an acre, per year. However, the rent for any lease currently in effect shall not be increased during the first 10 years of said lease. This rent shall be paid in advance at the time of signing the lease up to January 1 following, and annually thereafter in advance on or before January 1, whether the lease be held by the original lessee or by an heir, assignee, or transferee. No taxes, assessments, or other licenses other than those imposed in this chapter shall be levied or imposed on said leases or leased lands, but the annual rental exacted and paid shall be held and considered all that can or shall be exacted by the state or county, subordinate political corporations, or municipalities.

(b) Effective cultivation shall consist of the growing of the oysters or clams in a density suitable for commercial harvesting over the amount of bottom prescribed by law. This commercial density shall be accomplished by the planting of seed oysters, shell, and cultch of various descriptions. The Division of Marine Resources may stipulate in each individual lease contract the types, shape, depth, size and height of cultch materials on lease bottoms according to the individual shape, depth, location, and type of bottom of the proposed lease. Each tenant leasing from the state water bottoms under the provisions of this section shall have begun within 1 year from the date of such lease, bona fide cultivation of the same, and shall, by the end of the second year from the commencement of his lease, have placed under cultivation at least one-fourth of the water bottom leased, and shall each year thereafter place in cultivation at least one-fourth of the water bottom leased until the whole, suitable for bedding of oysters or clams, shall have been put in cultivation by the planting thereon of not less than 200 barrels of oysters, shell or its equivalent in cultch to the acre. When leases are granted, or when grants have heretofore been made under existing laws for the planting of oysters or clams, such lessee or grantee is authorized to plant the leased or granted bottoms both in oysters and clams.

(c) These stipulations will apply to all leases granted after the passing of this section. All leases existing prior to the passing of this section will operate under the law which was in effect when the leases were granted.

(d) When evidence is gathered by the division and such evidence conclusively shows a lack of effective cultivation, said division may revoke leases and return the bottoms in question to the public domain.

(e) When evidence obtained by qualified marine biologists is available to the division which indicates that relatively temporary or transient hydrographic or biological conditions preclude the successful cultivation of oysters, lessees may apply to the division for a permit to suspend planting operations. Such permits shall be revocable upon 30 days' notice from the division that growing conditions are again suitable and, upon the revocation of such permits, cultivation will again be mandatory as required by law.

(f) The department has the authority to adopt rules and regulations pertaining to the water column over shellfish leases. All cultch materials in place 6 months after the formal adoption and publication of rules and regulations establishing standards for cultch materials on shellfish leases which do not comply with such rules and regulations may be declared a nuisance by the division. The division shall have the authority to direct the lessee to remove such cultch in violation of this section. The division may cancel a lease upon the refusal by the lessee violating such rules and regulations to remove unlawful cultch materials, and all improvements, cultch, marketable oysters, and shell shall become the property of the state. The division shall have the authority to retain, dispose of, or remove such materials in the best interest of the state.

(5) INCREASE OF RENTALS AFTER 10 YEARS.—After 10 years from the execution of the lease, the rentals shall be increased to a minimum of $1 per acre per annum. The Division of Marine Resources shall assess rental value on the leased water bottoms, taking into consideration their value as oyster-growing or clam-growing water bottoms, their nearness to factories, transportation, and other conditions adding value thereto and placing such valuation upon them in shape of annual rental to be paid thereunder as said condition shall warrant.

(6) LEASES TRANSFERABLE, ETC.—Said leases shall be inheritable and transferable, in whole or in part, and shall also be subject to mortgage, pledge, or hypothecation, and shall be subject to seizure and sale for debts as any other property, rights, and credits in this state, and this provision shall also apply to all buildings, betterments, and improvements thereon. Leases granted under this section cannot be transferred, by sale or barter, in whole or in part, without the written, express acquiescence of the Division of Marine Resources, and such transferee shall pay a $50 transfer fee before division acquiescence may be given. No lease or part of a lease may be transferred by sale or barter until the lease has been in existence at least 2 years and has been cultivated according to the statutory standards found in paragraph (4)(b), except as otherwise provided by regulation adopted by the Division of Marine Resources. No such inheritance or transfer shall be valid or of any force or effect whatever unless evidenced by an authentic act, judgment, or proper judicial deed, registered in the office of the division in a book to be provided for said purpose. The said division shall keep proper indexes so that all original leases and all subsequent changes and transfers can be easily and accurately ascertained.

(7) PAYMENT OF RENT; FORFEITURE FOR NONPAYMENT; NOTICE, ETC.—All leases shall stipulate for the payment of the annual rent in advance on or before January 1 of each year, and the further stipulation that the failure of the tenant to pay the rent punctually on or before said day, or within 30 days thereafter shall ipso facto, and upon demand, terminate and cancel said lease and forfeit to the state all the works, improvements, betterments, oysters and clams on the said leased water bottoms, and authorize the Division of Marine Resources to at once enter on said water bottom and take possession thereof, and such water bottom shall then be open for lease as herein provided; and the said division shall within 10 days thereafter enter such termination, cancellation and forfeiture on its books and shall give such public notice thereof, and of the fact that the water bottoms are open to lease, as it shall deem proper; provided, that the said division may, in its discretion, waive such termination, cancellation and forfeiture when the rent due, with 10 percent additional, and all costs and expenses growing out of such failure to pay, be tendered to it within 60 days after the same became due; provided, that in all cases of cancellation of lease, the said division shall, after 60 days' notice by publication in some newspaper published in the state, having a general statewide circulation, which said notice shall contain a full description of the leased waters and beds and any parts thereof, sell such lease to the highest and best bidder; and all moneys received over and above the rents due to the state, under the terms of the lease and provisions herein, and costs and expenses growing out of such failure to pay, shall be paid to the lessee forfeiting his rights therein. No leased water bottoms shall be forfeited for nonpayment of rent under the provisions of this section, unless there shall previously have been mailed by the said division to the last known address of such tenant according to the books of said division, 30 days' notice of the maturity of such lease. Whenever any leased water bottoms are forfeited for nonpayment of rent, and there is a plat or survey thereof in the archives of the said division, when such bedding grounds are re-leased, no new survey thereof shall be made, but the original stakes, monuments and bounds shall be preserved, and the new lease shall be based upon the original survey. This subsection shall also apply to all costs and expenses taxed against a lessee by the division under this section.

(8) CANCELLATION OF LEASES TO NATURAL REEFS.—Any person, within 6 months from and after the execution of any lease to water bottoms, may file a petition with the Division of Marine Resources for the purpose of determining whether a natural oyster or clam reef having an area of not less than 100 square yards existed within the leased area on the date of the lease, with sufficient natural or maternal oysters or clams thereon (not including coon oysters) to have constituted a stratum sufficient to have been resorted to by the public generally for the purpose of gathering the same to sell for a livelihood. The said petition shall be in writing addressed to the Division of Marine Resources of the Department of Natural Resources, verified under oath, stating the location and approximate area of the natural reef and the claim or interest of the petitioner therein and requesting the cancellation of the lease to the said natural reef. No petition may be considered unless it be accompanied by a deposit of $10 to defray the expense of examining into the matter. The petition may include several contemporaneous natural reefs of oysters or clams. Upon receipt of such petition, the division shall cause an investigation to be made into the truth of the allegations of the petition, and, if found untrue, the $10 deposit shall be retained by the division to defray the expense of the investigation, but should the allegations of the petition be found true and the leased premises to contain a natural oyster or clam reef, as above described, the said $10 shall be returned to the petitioner and the costs and expenses of the investigation taxed against the lessee and the lease canceled to the extent of the natural reef and the same shall be marked with buoys and stakes and notices placed thereon showing the same to be a public reef, the cost of said markers and notices to be taxed against the lessee.

(9) WHEN NATURAL REEFS MAY BE INCLUDED IN LEASE.—When an application for oyster or clam bedding grounds is filed and upon survey of such bedding ground, it should develop that the area applied for contains natural oyster or clam reefs or beds less in size than 100 square yards, or oyster or clam reefs or bars of greater size, but not of sufficient quantity to constitute a stratum, and it should further be made to appear to the Division of Marine Resources by the affidavit of the applicant, together with such other proof as the division may require, that the natural reef, bed or bar could not be excluded, and the territory applied for properly protected or policed, the division may, if it deems it for the best interest of the state and the oyster industry so to do, permit the including of such natural reefs, beds, or bars; and it shall fix a reasonable value on the same, to be paid by the applicant for such bedding ground; provided, that no such natural reefs shall be included in any lease hereafter granted to the bottom or bed of waters of this state contiguous to Franklin County. There shall be no future oyster leases issued in Franklin County.

(10) SETTLEMENT OF BOUNDARY DISPUTES; REVIEW.—The Division of Marine Resources shall determine and settle all disputes as to boundaries between lessees of bedding grounds. The division shall, in all cases, be the judge as to whether any particular bottom is or is not a natural reef or whether it is suitable for bedding oysters or clams.

(11) TRESPASS ON LEASED BEDS; GATHERING OYSTERS AND CLAMS BETWEEN SUNSET AND SUNRISE FROM NATURAL REEFS, ETC.—Any person who shall willfully take oysters, shells, cultch or clams bedded or planted by a licensee under this chapter, or grantee under the provisions of heretofore existing laws, or riparian owner who may have heretofore planted the same on his riparian bottoms, or any oysters or clams deposited by anyone making up a cargo for market, or who shall willfully carry or attempt to carry away the same without permission of the owner thereof, or who shall willfully or knowingly remove, break off, destroy, or otherwise injure or alter any stakes, bounds, monuments, buoys, notices or other designations of any natural oyster or clam reefs or beds or private bedding or propagating grounds, or who shall willfully injure, destroy or remove any other protection around any oyster or clam beds, or who shall willfully move any bedding ground stakes, buoys, marks or designations, placed by the division, or who shall gather oysters or clams between sunset and sunrise from the natural reefs or from private bedding grounds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(12) PROTECTION OF OYSTER AND CLAM REEFS.—The Division of Marine Resources shall improve, enlarge and protect the natural oyster and clam reefs of this state to the extent it may deem advisable and the means at its disposal will permit. Said division shall also, to the same extent, assist in protecting the leased or granted reefs in the hands of lessees or grantees from the state. Said division shall also make a detailed report, to the Legislature at each session, of its efforts in relation to the oyster and clam business, together with recommendations for their development and the proper protection of the rights of the state and private holders therein.

(13) STAKING OFF WATER BOTTOMS OR BEDDING OYSTERS WITHOUT OBTAINING LEASE; PENALTY.—Any person staking off the water bottoms of this state, or bedding oysters on the bottoms of the waters of this state, without previously leasing same as required by law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083, and shall acquire no rights by reason of such staking off. This provision does not apply to grants heretofore made under the provisions of any heretofore existing laws or to artificial beds made heretofore by a riparian owner or his grantees on his riparian bottoms.

(14) CLOSED SEASON FOR OYSTERS; RULES

OF EVIDENCE; PROVISIO.—No person may take, gather, or catch oysters on the natural reefs of this state, or have such oysters in his possession, between June 1 and September 1 of each year, except from private leased or granted grounds, or artificial beds of riparian owners and except as otherwise provided in this section. The possession of oysters during said closed season shall be prima facie a violation of this section, and the burden shall be on the possessor of such oysters to prove that they were fished or gathered beyond the jurisdiction of the state or from private oyster beds. The Division of Marine Resources shall, however, have authority to permit the fishing of uncultured oysters from the natural oyster reefs as herein provided, from April 1 until October 1, but only for bedding purposes, and then only under such rules as said division may adopt to carry out the provisions of law. The provision prohibiting the harvesting of oysters shall not apply between June 1, 1979, and September 1, 1979, in three areas of Franklin County, described as follows: in that area of East Bay, Franklin County, and located north of the John Gorrie Bridge classified as conditionally approved for the harvesting of shellfish by the Division of Marine Resources; in that area of Apalachicola Bay, Franklin County, and located south of the John Gorrie Bridge, east and north of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, and west of the Bryant Patton Bridge classified as conditionally approved for the harvesting of shellfish by the Division of Marine Resources; and in that area of St. George Sound, Franklin County, and located west of a line from the east end of St. George Island due north to the mainland, and located east of a line described as follows: begin at the tip of Shell Point on St. George Island, thence run northwest to Channel Marker No. 31, thence westerly along the Intracoastal Waterway to Channel Marker No. 41, thence north through Marker No. 5 to the mainland, which area is classified as approved for the harvesting of shellfish by the Division of Marine Resources. Provided further, that the provisions of this subsection regarding possession of oysters shall not apply to oysters harvested from the described areas, except that possession of uncultured oysters outside of these three designated areas shall be prima facie a violation of this section and the burden of proof shall be upon the possessor of such oysters to prove that they were fished or gathered within the designated areas. Provided further, that all oysters shipped out of Franklin County between June 1, 1979, and September 1, shall be accompanied by invoices, bills of lading, or other similar instruments showing said oysters were produced in Franklin County and the burden of proof shall be on the possessor of said oysters. Any other provision of this section to the contrary notwithstanding, any person who violates any provision with respect to the special season in Franklin County shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, for the first offense, shall be subject to a fine of not less than $200 and, for the second or subsequent offense, a fine of not less than $500 and a term of imprisonment of not less than 7 days in jail. Furthermore, notwithstanding the provisions of s. 948.01, adjudication of guilt or imposition of sentence shall not be suspended, deferred, or withheld with respect to any violation of the provisions of the special season in Franklin County.

(15) REMOVING OYSTERS FROM NATURAL REEFS; LICENSES, ETC., PENALTY.—

(a) It is unlawful to use a dredge or any means or implement other than hand tongs in removing oysters from the natural or artificial state reefs, except in bodies of water over a general depth of twelve feet, or where in the opinion of the Division of Marine Resources, the body of water regardless of its depth, is too open and exposed to be ordinarily fished with hand tongs, in which event the said division shall be authorized to issue a license for the use of scrapers or dredges; provided, the applicant shall pay an annual police license fee of $25 for each sailing or power vessel using scrapers or dredges, in addition to its other license, and shall give bond in favor of the Governor of the State of Florida, with good security, to be approved by the division in the sum of $3,000, conditioned that said implements shall not be used on the state reefs contrary to law. Upon the payment of $25 annually, for each vessel or boat using a dredge or machinery in the gathering of clams, a license may be issued by the division for such use to such person.

(b) Lessees of bedding grounds shall have the right to use in such bedding grounds any implements, or appliances that they may desire. The division shall require that such lessees procure a permit from it to use such implements, and shall require of such lessees that they shall furnish a bond payable to the Governor of the State of Florida, to be approved by the said division, in the sum of $3,000, that such implements or appliances shall not be used on the natural oyster reefs contrary to law. When such implements or appliances are used exclusively on private propagating or bedding grounds, no charge shall be made for said permit. Anyone violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(c) Oysters may be harvested from natural or public grounds by common hand tongs or by hand without a harvesting method license being required. Oysters may be harvested by hand, by scuba diving, free diving, leaning from vessels, or wading.

(16) CULLING OYSTERS; POSSESSION OF UNDERSIZED OYSTERS REGARDLESS OF SOURCE; REGULATIONS.—

(a) All oysters taken from the waters of this state shall be culled, unless otherwise provided in this section.

(b) In the case of oysters emanating from natural, publicly owned beds, all oysters which measure less than 3 inches in greatest dimensions and all bedding shells shall be immediately replaced and scattered broadcast upon the natural reefs from which they were taken.

(c) In the case of oysters emanating from privately owned or privately controlled beds, all oysters which measure less than 3 inches in greatest dimensions, and all bedding shells may be returned to lease or privately managed area or may be spread broadcast over natural publicly owned reefs.

(d) No person shall be in possession while on the waters of this state of oysters which are less than the prescribed legal size, regardless of their source, except that oysters which are less than the prescribed legal size may be placed upon the culling board of a vessel while on the bar for the purpose of culling out illegal-sized oysters.

(e) In determining what oysters shall be removed from marketable oysters, no oysters under 3 inches in greatest dimension shall be included in the percentage of oysters undersize, when they adhere to the marketable oysters so closely that to remove the same would destroy either the oyster undersize or the marketable oysters. No person in any vessel shall have in his possession oysters not culled according to law, unless permitted by the Division of Marine Resources for the purpose of planting or relaying as provided by law. An excess of over 15 percent of small oysters estimated as above provided for in any cargo or lot of oysters shall be considered a violation of this section. Any oysters under 3 inches in greatest dimension in any cargo or lot of oysters shall be a violation of this section during the special oyster harvesting season, June 1, 1979, to September 1, 1979, in Franklin County. The Division of Law Enforcement, any marine patrol officer, or any police officer of the state shall cause to be measured to determine the percentage of undersized oysters, 1 sample bushel to be taken at random from the cargo of oysters, while such oysters are in the county from which they were harvested and before said oysters are deposited in an oyster house certified under the rules of the Department of Natural Resources. If a total of undersized oysters from the 1 bushel shall total more than 15 percent of the amount of oysters contained in the 1 bushel, it shall constitute a violation of this section, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

(17) FISHING FOR BEDDING PURPOSES, ETC.—

(a) Designation of areas for the taking of oysters and clams to be planted on leases, grants, and public areas is to be made by qualified personnel of the Division of Marine Resources. Oysters and clams may be taken for relaying at any time during the year so long as, in the opinion of the division, the public health will not be endangered. The amount of oysters and clams to be obtained for relaying, the area relayed to, and relaying time periods will be established in each case by the division.

(b) Application for a permit for obtaining oysters and clams must be made to the division. In return, the division may assign an area and a period of time for the oysters and clams to be relayed to be taken. All planting and relaying operations shall take place under the surveillance of the division.

(c) Relayed oysters or clams shall not be subsequently harvested for any reason without written permission or public notice from the division, if oysters or clams were relayed from areas not approved by the division as shellfish harvesting areas.

(18) SEVERANCE TAX ON OYSTERS AND CLAMS; DISPOSITION.—No severance or privilege taxes on oysters and clams shall be collected after June 17, 1959, provided, all moneys in the "oyster severance tax fund" shall be transferred to the "Oyster and Clam Rehabilitation Trust Fund."

(19) LICENSES; OYSTER AND CLAM CAN-

NERIES.—Every person, as a condition precedent to the operation of any oyster or clam canning factory in this state, shall obtain a license therefor and pay a license fee of $50. Said license shall be issued by the Division of Marine Resources upon proper written application on forms to be furnished by it. The moneys paid for licenses under this section shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(20) FALSE RETURNS AS TO OYSTERS OR CLAMS HANDLED.—Each packer, canner, corporation, firm, commission man or dealer in fish shall, on the first day of each month, make a return under oath to the Division of Marine Resources, as to the number of oysters, clams and shellfish purchased, caught or handled during the preceding month. All severance tax as provided for in subsection (18) shall be paid to the division with this report. Whoever is found guilty of making any false affidavit to any such report shall be guilty of perjury and punished as provided by law, and any person who fails to make such report shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 6 months.

(21) COLLECTION OF LICENSES AND TAXES.—All taxes and licenses shall be collected by the Division of Marine Resources under such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the division, and by it deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund. The said division shall keep a detailed account of all funds passing through its hands.

(22) WATER PATROL FOR COLLECTION OF TAX.—

(a) The Division of Law Enforcement may establish and maintain necessary patrols of the salt waters of Florida, with authority to use such force as may be necessary to capture any vessel or person violating the provisions of the laws relating to oysters and clams, and may establish ports of entry at convenient locations where the severance or privilege tax levied on oysters and clams may be collected or paid and may make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary for the enforcement of such tax.

(b) Each person in any way dealing in shellfish shall keep a record, on blanks or forms prescribed by the Division of Marine Resources, of all oysters, clams and shellfish taken, purchased, used or handled by him, with the name of the persons from whom purchased, if purchased, together with the quantity and the date taken or purchased, and shall exhibit said account at all times when requested so to do by the said division or any conservation agent; and he shall, on the first day of each month, make a return under oath to the said division as to the number of oysters, clams and shellfish purchased, caught or handled during the preceding month. The said division may require detailed returns whenever it deems same necessary.

(23) SEIZURE OF VESSELS AND CARGOES VIOLATING OYSTER AND CLAM LAWS, ETC.—Vessels, with their cargoes, violating the provisions of the laws relating to oysters and clams may be seized by anyone duly and lawfully authorized to make arrests under this section or by any sheriff or his deputies, and taken into custody, and when not arrested by the sheriff or his deputies, delivered to the sheriff of the county in which the seizure is made, and shall be liable to forfeiture, on appropriate proceedings being instituted by the Division of Marine Resources, before the courts of that county. In such case the cargo shall at once be disposed of by the sheriff, for account of whom it may concern. Should the master or any of the crew of said vessel be found guilty of using dredges or other instruments in fishing oysters on natural reefs contrary to law, or fishing on the natural oyster or clam reefs out of season, or unlawfully taking oysters or clams belonging to a lessee, such vessel shall be declared forfeited by the court, and ordered sold and the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited with the State Treasurer to the credit of the General Revenue Fund; any person guilty of such violations shall not be permitted to have any license provided for in this chapter within a period of 1 year from the date of conviction. Pending proceedings such vessel may be released upon the owner furnishing bond, with good and solvent security in double the value of the vessel, conditioned upon its being returned in good condition to the sheriff to abide the judgment of the court.

(24) OYSTER REHABILITATION COMMISSION.—The Governor of this state may appoint in any county, where natural oyster reefs exist, an oyster rehabilitation commission for such county, the same to be composed of three good and lawful citizens of such county. Such commission shall serve without compensation.

(25) COMMISSION ADVISORY ONLY.—The oyster rehabilitation commission in any county shall constitute an advisory commission to the Division of Marine Resources with reference to all matters pertaining to the replanting and rehabilitation of natural oyster bars in such county and shall have no other power than to advise said division concerning the administration of the shellfish laws in the county in which its members are appointed; and to recommend to such division the manner and method of the expenditure of funds provided for the rehabilitation of natural oyster beds in such county so that the fullest benefit of such oyster beds may be received from said expenditure. The recommendation of the said commission shall not be binding upon the division but is advisory only.

(26) DUTIES OF COMMISSION.—The members of the oyster rehabilitation commission shall acquaint themselves with all conditions affecting the natural beds in the county for which appointed and shall locate, select and recommend to the Division of Marine Resources the natural oyster beds in their respective counties in greatest need of rehabilitation; they shall recommend to said division the ways and means of replanting and rehabilitating said beds, having regard to local conditions, and make such other recommendations concerning the opening and closing of the natural reefs and beds and propagation and care of oysters thereon as may appear to them to be advisable.

(27) CONFERENCE WITH DIVISION OF MARINE RESOURCES.—The Division of Marine Resources shall confer with, receive and consider the recommendations of the several county oyster rehabilitation commissions concerning the shellfish industry of their respective counties and shall be governed thereby only to the extent that the same may be to the best interest of the shellfish industry of the state.

(28) REMOVAL OF COMMISSIONERS.—The Governor may remove any commissioner appointed to any county oyster rehabilitation commission, who shall fail or neglect to diligently perform the duties of such office, and shall fill the vacancy so created by such removal so that there shall be a complete commission of three members in each county, having natural oyster reefs or beds, at all times.

(29) OYSTER AND CLAM REHABILITATION.—The board of county commissioners of the several counties may appropriate and expend such sums as it may deem proper for the purpose of planting or transplanting oysters, clams, oyster shell or clam shell or cultch, or to perform such other acts for the enhancement of the oyster and clam industries of the state, out of any sum in the county treasury not otherwise appropriated.

(30) OYSTER CONSERVATION DISTRICTS.—Whenever it shall appear to the Division of Marine Resources, that any area in the state is in need of special protection, development or encouragement in the planting, propagation, within such area, except private leased or granted oyster grounds. The said area shall be readily identifiable by reference to geographical location or recognized landmarks, or by survey made by the division. Notice of the designation of said area or areas as oyster conservation district or districts shall be published once each week for 2 consecutive weeks, and such additional publicity of the creation of such district may be circulated as the division may deem necessary.

(31) REVENUE FROM SALE OF DEAD SHELLS AND LEASE BOTTOMS.—Any and all moneys hereafter received or collected by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund under the provisions of s. 253.45, or any amendments thereof for or on the account of the sale of dead shell or for the right or privilege to take shell or shell deposits from the sovereign lands of the state shall be deposited in the State Treasury in the General Revenue Fund. These moneys shall be appropriated for use in financing biological, marketing, transportation, processing, and promotional research for fisheries, oyster, clams and shrimp within the jurisdiction of this state. The Department of Natural Resources is authorized and directed to spend up to 20 percent of the moneys collected from the sale of dead oyster shell dredged from that county's waters for the sole purpose of oyster and clam rehabilitation.

(32) DREDGING OF DEAD SHELLS FROM LIVE GROUND PROHIBITED.—The dredging of dead shell deposits from living oyster grounds is hereby prohibited in the state. The Division of Marine Resources is hereby empowered to prohibit all dredging of dead oyster shell deposits when in its judgment and discretion the same will adversely affect the said oyster industry. The said division, however, may authorize the dredging of dead oyster shell deposits by permit when in its judgment and discretion the same will not adversely affect the oyster industry of the state.

(33) OYSTER CONSERVATION COMMISSION

WITHIN CONSERVATION DISTRICTS.—The Governor of this state shall appoint in any oyster conservation district which may be created under the provisions of subsection (30) an oyster conservation commission for the said district, the same to be composed of seven outstanding citizens of the said district, two of whom shall be experienced oyster gatherers; two of whom shall be experienced oyster dealers, and two of whom shall be experienced businessmen, not directly connected with the industry, and one of whom shall be the chief conservation agent in the oyster conservation district. The members of such commission shall serve without compensation and shall be vested with the duties, and subject to the limitations, prescribed by subsections (24) through (28) authorizing the creation of oyster rehabilitation commissions.

(34) COOPERATION WITH U. S. FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE.—The Division of Marine Resources shall cooperate with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, under existing federal laws, rules and regulations, and is authorized to accept donations, grants, and matching funds from said Federal Government under such conditions as are reasonable and proper for the purpose of carrying out subsections (29) through (34) and said division is further authorized to accept any and all donations including funds, oysters, or oyster shells.

(35) OYSTER AND CLAM SHELLS PROPERTY OF DIVISION.—

(a) Except for oysters used directly in the half-shell trade, all shells from oysters and clams shucked commercially in the state shall be and remain the property of the Division of Marine Resources when such shells are needed and required for rehabilitation projects and planting operations, when sufficient resources and facilities exist for handling and planting said shell, and when the collection and handling of such shell is practical and useful, except that bona fide holders of leases and grants who desire to retain such shell as they produce for planting purposes may do so by obtaining a permit from the division. Such storage, transportation, and planting of shells so retained by lessees and grantees shall be carried out under the surveillance of agents of the division and be subject to such reasonable time limits as the division may fix. In the event of an accumulation of an excess of shells, the division is hereby authorized to sell shells only to private growers for use in oyster or clam cultivation on bona fide leases and grants. No profit shall accrue to the division in these transactions, and shells are to be sold for the estimated moneys spent by the division to gather and stockpile said shells. Planting of shells obtained from the division by purchase shall be subject to the surveillance of the division if said division chooses to exercise its right of supervision. Any shells not claimed and used by private oyster cultivators ten years after shells are gathered and stockpiled, may be sold at auction to the highest bidder for any private use.

(b) Whenever the division determines that it is unfeasible to collect oyster or clam shells, the shells become the property of the producer.

(c) Whenever oyster or clam shells are owned by the division and it is not useful, or feasible to use them in the rehabilitation projects, and when no leaseholder has exercised his option to acquire them, the division may sell such shells for the highest price obtainable. The shells thus sold may be used in any manner and for any purpose at the discretion of the purchaser.

(d) Moneys derived from the sale of shell shall be deposited in the State Treasury into the General Revenue Fund.

(e) The division shall annually publish notice, in a newspaper serving the county, of its intention to collect the oyster and clam shells, and shall notify, by certified mail, each shucking establishment from which shells are to be collected. The notice shall contain the period of time the division intends to collect the shells in that county and the collection purpose.

(36) OYSTER CULTURE.—The Division of Marine Resources shall protect all oyster beds, oyster grounds, and oyster reefs from damage or destruction resulting from improper cultivation, propagation, planting, or harvesting and control the pollution of the waters over or surrounding oyster grounds, beds, or reefs, and to this end the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services is hereby authorized and directed to lend its cooperation to the division, to make available to it its laboratory testing facilities and apparatus. The division may also do and perform all acts and things within its power and authority necessary to the performance of its duties.

A gasoline engine which has such an air and fuel intake system and which is to be operated without an approved flame arrestor shall be labeled to meet requirements of the United States Coast Guard.

(c) Any attachment to the carburetor or location of the engine air intake by means of which flames caused by engine backfire will be dispersed to the atmosphere outside the vessel in such a way that the flames will not endanger the vessel or persons on board. All attachments shall be of metallic construction with flame-tight connections and firmly secured to withstand vibration, shock and engine backfire. Such installations do not require formal approval but will be accepted by the law enforcement officers on the basis of this item.

371.62 Legislative intent.—It is the legislative intent that boats be licensed uniformly throughout the state. The purpose of ss. 371.63-371.68 is to make licensing and registration procedures similar to those of automobiles and airplanes, all of which are power-driven either on land or air or water, as motor vehicles or motorboats and to provide for a boat registration license fee and certificate so as to determine the ownership of boats which travel the waters of this state and to aid in the advancement of maritime safety.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-361; s. 8, ch. 74-327.

371.63 Legislative declaration.—All boats registered as provided herein, except live-aboard vessels assessed as tangible personal property, are hereby declared to be motor vehicles and shall be taxed and certified as motor vehicles; however, nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any municipality that expends money for the patrol, regulation, and maintenance of any lakes, rivers, or waters in such municipality from regulating such boats resident in such municipalities and charging a license fee therefor. All moneys received from such fee shall be expended for the patrol, regulation, and maintenance of the lakes, rivers, and waters of such municipality.

However, live-aboard vessels are subject to the tax on tangible personal property and shall be annually exempt from the license fee under this part if assessed as tangible personal property for the current year. A certificate of registration shall be issued for any documented vessel, the owner of which has paid the boating registration certificate license fee, but no state registration number shall be issued to said vessel.

371.645 Intent of legislature.—It is declared to be the intent of the legislature that all vessels in the state shall be subject to a uniform registration license fee at a rate based on the length of the vessels. It is also declared to be the intent of the legislature that all separate classes of vessels, such as saltwater commercial, freshwater commercial, and private pleasure craft or motorboat be abolished, and that all such vessels be licensed according to the provisions of s. 371.65.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-336; s. 8, ch. 74-327.

The department shall ascertain, as a guideline in determining amounts of grants each county may receive, the number of noncommercial vessels registered in the county during the preceding license year according to the license fee schedule provided in subsection (1), and shall promulgate rules and regulations to effectuate this.

(4) FRACTIONAL REGISTRATION FEE.—Any boat registered for the first time between January 1 and June 30 shall be charged one-half the annual registration rate. Such vessels or motorboats shall be issued certificates of registration and numbers upon application and payment of the service fee provided in subsection (2). However, for live-aboard vessels proof of assessment by the county property appraiser as tangible personal property must be shown upon application in order to qualify for said exemption. Vessels assessed as live-aboard vessels on the 1980 assessment rolls shall be eligible for exemption from the registration fees imposed by this section beginning June 1, 1980. Similarly, any live-aboard vessel deleted from an assessment roll shall be subject to said registration fees commencing in the year of deletion.

(c) "Threatened species" means any species of fish and wildlife naturally occurring in Florida which may not be in immediate danger of extinction, but which exists in such small populations as to become endangered if it is subjected to increased stress as a result of further modification of its environment.

History.—s. 3, ch. 59-81; s. 6, ch. 73-299.

372.313 Delivery of property to claimant.—

Any person, firm or corporation filing a claim in the cause, which claim shall state fully his right, title, claim or interest, in and to the seized property, may, at any time after said claim is filed with the clerk of the court, obtain possession of the seized property by filing a petition therefor with the board of county commissioners and posting with said board, to be approved by it, a surety bond, payable to the governor of the state, in twice the amount of the value of the said property as fixed in the board's return to the clerk of the circuit court, with a corporate surety duly authorized to transact business in this state as surety, conditioned upon his paying to the board of county commissioners the value of the property together with costs of the proceeding, if judgment of forfeiture be entered by the court. Upon the posting of such bond with the board and the release of the property to the applicant the cause shall proceed to final judgment in the same manner, as it would have, had no such bond been filed, except that any exception to be issued in the cause pursuant to judgment may run against and be enforced against the person posting said bond and his surety.

History.—s. 4, ch. 59-81.

372.314 Proceeding when no claim filed.—

When no claim is filed in the cause within the time required the clerk shall enter a default against all persons, firms and corporations owning, claiming or having an interest in and to the property seized and the cause may then proceed in the same manner as a common law cause after default, and final judgment shall be entered therein ex parte, except as may be herein otherwise provided.

372.315 Proceeding when claim filed.—

When one or more claims are filed in the cause the cause shall be tried upon the issues made thereby with the petition for forfeiture with any affirmative defenses being deemed denied without further pleading. Judgment by default shall be entered against all other persons, firms and corporations owning, claiming or having an interest in and to the property seized, after which the cause shall proceed as in other common law cases; except any claimant shall prove to the satisfaction of the court that he did not know or have any reason to believe, at the time his right, title, interest, or lien arose, that the property was being used for or in connection with the violation of any of the statutes or laws of this state prohibiting the illegal use of nets, traps or fishing devices, and further that at said time there was no reasonable reason to believe that the said property might be used for such purpose. Where the owner or user of the property has been convicted of a violation of the statutes and laws of this state prohibiting the illegal use of nets, traps or fishing devices, such conviction shall be prima facie evidence that each claimant had reason to believe that the property might be used for or in connection with a violation of such statutes and laws, and the burden of proof shall be upon each claimant to satisfy the court that he was without knowledge of such conviction, providing, however, the prima facie presumption of knowledge of a previous conviction of a violation of this law shall only apply to a subsequent proceeding involving the forfeiture of nets, traps or fishing devices, when owned by such previous offender and upon which a lien is held by the same lienor involved in the first claim proceedings. Trial of all such causes shall be without a jury, except in such cases as a trial by jury may be guaranteed by the state constitution and in such cases trial by jury shall be deemed waived unless demanded in the claim filed.

History.—s. 5, ch. 59-81.

372.316 State Attorney to represent state.—

Upon the filing of the board's return with the Clerk of the Circuit Court the said clerk shall furnish the State Attorney with a copy thereof and the said State Attorney shall represent the state in the forfeiture proceeding. The Department of Legal Affairs shall represent the state in all appeals from judgments of forfeiture to the Supreme Court. The state may appeal any judgment denying forfeiture in whole or in part or that may be otherwise adverse to the state.

History.—s. 6, ch. 59-81; ss. 11, 35, ch. 69-106.

372.317 Judgment of forfeiture.—On final hearing the return of the board to the Clerk of the Circuit Court shall be taken as prima facie evidence that the property seized was or had been used in, or in connection with, the violation of the statutes and laws of this state prohibiting the illegal use of nets, traps or fishing devices in this state and shall be sufficient predicate for a judgment of forfeiture in the absence of other proofs and evidence. The burden shall be upon the claimant to show that the property was not so used, if so used, that they had no knowledge of such violation and no reason to believe that the seized property was or would be used for the violation of such statutes and laws. Where such property is encumbered by a lien or retained title agreement under circumstances wherein the lienholder had no knowledge that the property was or would be used in violating such statutes and laws, and no reasonable reason to believe that it might be so used, then the court may declare a forfeiture of all other rights, titles and interests, subject, however, to the lien of such innocent lienholder, or may direct the payment of such lien from the proceeds of any sale of the said property. The proceedings and the judgment of forfeiture shall be in rem and shall be primarily against the property itself. Upon the entry of a judgment of forfeiture the court shall determine the disposition to be made of the property, which may include the destruction thereof, the sale thereof, the allocation thereof to some governmental function or use, or otherwise as the court may determine. Sales of such property shall be at public sale to the highest and best bidder therefor for cash after 2 weeks' public notice as the court may direct. Where the property has been delivered to a claimant upon the posting of a bond the court shall determine the value of the property or portion thereof subject to forfeiture and shall enter judgment against the principal and surety of the bond in such amount for which execution shall issue in the usual manner. Upon the application of any claimant the court may fix the value of the forfeitable interest or interests in the seized property and permit such claimant to redeem the said property upon the payment of a sum equal to said value which sum shall be disposed of as would the proceeds of a sale of the said property under a judgment of forfeiture.

History.—s. 7, ch. 59-81.

372.318 Service charges.—Service charges required hereunder shall be the same as provided for sheriffs and clerks under law for similar services in other cases and matters.

372.319 Disposition of proceeds of forfeiture.—All sums received from sale or other disposition of the seized property shall be paid into the county fine and forfeiture fund and shall become a part thereof.

History.—s. 9, ch. 59-81.

372.321 Exercise of police power.—It is deemed by the Legislature that this law (ss. 372.31 to 372.319, both inclusive) is necessary for the more efficient and proper enforcement of the statutes and laws of this state prohibiting the illegal use of nets, traps or fishing devices and a lawful exercise of the police power of the state for the protection of the public welfare, health, and safety of the people of the state. All the provisions of this law shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of these purposes.

(2) The Department of Natural Resources is vested with the authority to direct the control, eradication, and regulation of noxious aquatic weeds and the research and planning related to said activities, as provided by law, so as to protect human health, safety, and recreation and, to the greatest degree practicable, prevent injury to plant and animal life and property.

(3) It shall be the duty of the department to guide and coordinate the activities of all public bodies, authorities, agencies, and special districts charged with the control or eradication of aquatic weeds and plants. It may delegate all or part of such functions to the Division of Game and Fresh Water Fish.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 70-203.

372.932 Nonindigenous aquatic plant control.—

(1) This section shall be known as the "Florida Nonindigenous Aquatic Plant Control Act."

(2) For the purpose of this section, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Natural Resources.

(b) "Aquatic plant" is any plant growing in, or closely associated with, the aquatic environment and includes "floating," "emersed," "submersed" and "ditch bank" species.

(c) "Nonindigenous aquatic plant" is any aquatic plant that is nonnative to the State of Florida and has certain characteristics, such as massive productivity, choking density, or an obstructive nature, which render it detrimental, obnoxious, or unwanted in a particular location.

(d) A "maintenance program" is a method for the control of nonindigenous aquatic plants in which control techniques are utilized in a coordinated manner on a continuous basis in order to maintain the plant population at the lowest feasible level as determined by the department.

(e) An "eradication program" is a method for the control of nonindigenous aquatic plants in which control techniques are utilized in a coordinated manner in an attempt to kill all the aquatic plants on a permanent basis in a given geographical area.

(f) A "complaint spray program" is a method for the control of nonindigenous aquatic plants in which weeds are allowed to grow unhindered to a given level of undesirability, at which point eradication techniques are applied in an effort to restore the area in question to a relatively low level of infestation.

(g) "Waters" means rivers, streams, lakes, navigable waters and associated tributaries, canals, meandered lakes, enclosed water systems, and any other bodies of water.

(h) "Intercounty waters" means any waters which lie in more than one county or form any part of the boundary between two or more counties, as determined by the department.

(i) "Intracounty waters" means any waters which lie wholly within the boundaries of one county as determined by the department.

(j) "Districts" means the six water management districts created by law and named, respectively, the Northwest Florida Water Management District, the Suwannee River Water Management District, the St. Johns River Water Management District, the Southwest Florida Water Management District, the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, and the Ridge and Lower Gulf Coast Water Management District; and on July 1, 1975, shall mean the five water management districts created by chapter 73-190, Laws of Florida, and named, respectively, the Northwest Florida Water Management District, the Suwannee River Water Management District, the St. Johns River Water Management District, the Southwest Florida Water Management District, and the South Florida Water Management District.

(3) The Legislature recognizes that the uncontrolled growth of nonindigenous aquatic plants in the waters of Florida poses a variety of environmental, health, safety, and economic problems. The Legislature acknowledges the responsibility of the state to cope with the uncontrolled and seemingly never ending growth of nonindigenous aquatic plants in the waters throughout Florida. It is, therefore, the intent of the Legislature that the state policy for the control of nonindigenous aquatic plants in waters of state responsibility are to be carried out under the general supervision and control of the Department of Natural Resources, and that the state itself shall be responsible for the control of said plants in all intercounty waters but that control of said plants in intracounty waters be the designated responsibility of the appropriate unit of local or county government, special district, authority, or other public body. It is the intent of the Legislature that the control of nonindigenous aquatic plants be carried out primarily by means of maintenance programs, rather than eradication or complaint spray programs, for the purpose of achieving more effective control at a lower long-range cost. It is also the intent of the Legislature that the department shall guide, review, approve, and coordinate all nonindigenous aquatic plant control programs within each of the water management districts as defined in subsection (2)(j). It is the intent of the Legislature to account for the costs of nonindigenous aquatic plant maintenance programs by watershed for comparison management purposes.

(4) The Department of Natural Resources is vested with the authority to supervise and direct all maintenance programs of control of nonindigenous aquatic plants, as provided by law, so as to protect human health, safety, and recreation and, to the greatest degree practicable, prevent injury to plant, fish, and animal life and property.

(5) Where state funds are involved, or where waters of state responsibility are involved, it shall be the duty of the department to guide, review, approve, and coordinate the activities of all public bodies, authorities, state agencies, units of local or county government, commissions, districts, and special districts engaged in operations to maintain, control, or eradicate nonindigenous aquatic plants. It may delegate all or part of such functions to any appropriate state agency, special district, unit of local or county government, commission, authority, or other public body. However, special attention shall be given to the keeping of accounting and cost data in order to prepare the annual fiscal report as required in subsection (7).

(6) The department may disburse funds to any district, special district, or other local authority for the purpose of operating a maintenance program for controlling nonindigenous aquatic plants and other noxious aquatic plants in the waters of state responsibility upon:

(a) Receipt of satisfactory proof that such district or authority has sufficient funds on hand to match the state funds herein referred to on an equal basis;

(b) Approval by the department of the maintenance control techniques to be used by the district or authority; and

(c) Review and approval of the program of the district or authority by the department to be in conformance with the state maintenance control plan.

(7) The department shall submit a fiscal year report on the status of the nonindigenous aquatic plant maintenance program to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Governor and Cabinet by January 1 of the following year. This report shall include a statement of the degree of maintenance control achieved by individual nonindigenous aquatic plant species in the intercounty waters of each of the water management districts for the preceding calendar year, together with an analysis of the costs of achieving this degree of control. This cost accounting shall include the expenditures by all governmental agencies in the waters of state responsibility. If the level of maintenance control achieved falls short of that which is deemed adequate by the department, then the report shall include an estimate of the additional funding that would have been required to achieve this level of maintenance control. All measures of maintenance program achievement and the related cost shall be presented by water management districts so that comparisons may be made among the water management districts, as well as with the state as a whole.

(8) The department shall have the authority to cooperate with the United States and to enter into such cooperative agreements or commitments as the department may determine necessary to carry out the maintenance, control, or eradication of water hyacinths, alligator weed, and other noxious aquatic plant growths from the waters of the state and to enter into contracts with the United States obligating the state to indemnify and save harmless the said United States from any and all claims and liability arising out of the initiation and prosecution of any project undertaken under this section. However, any claim or claims required to be paid under this section shall be paid from money appropriated to the nonindigenous aquatic plant control program.

(9) The department may delegate various nonindigenous aquatic plant control and maintenance functions to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. The commission shall, in accepting commitments to engage in nonindigenous aquatic plant control and maintenance activities, be subject to the rules and regulations of the department. In addition, the commission shall render technical and other assistance to the department in order to carry out most effectively the purposes of s. 372.925. However, nothing herein shall diminish or impair the regulatory authority of the commission with respect to the powers granted to it by s. 9, Art. IV of the State Constitution.

turn shall describe the property seized and recite in detail the facts and circumstances under which it was seized, together with the reason that the property was subject to seizure. The return shall also contain the names of all persons known to the officer to be interested in the property.

(2) The commission, upon receipt of the property, shall promptly fix its value and make return thereof to the clerk of the circuit court of the county wherein the article was seized; after which, on proper showing of ownership of the property by someone other than the person arrested, the property shall be returned by the court to the said owner.

(3) Upon conviction of the violator, the property, if owned by the person convicted, shall be forfeited to the state under the procedure set forth in ss. 372.312-372.318, when not inconsistent with this section. All amounts received from the sale or other disposition of the property shall be paid into the state game trust fund. If the property is not sold or converted, it shall be delivered to the director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

372.9905 Applicability of ss. 372.9903 and 372.9904.—The provisions of ss. 372.9903 and 372.9904 relating to seizure and forfeiture of vehicles, vessels, or other transportation devices shall not apply when such vehicles, vessels, or other transportation devices are owned by, or titled in the name of, innocent parties. The provisions of said sections shall not vitiate any valid lien, retain title contract, or chattel mortgage on such vehicles, vessels, or other transportation devices if such lien, retain title contract, or chattel mortgage is properly of public record at the time of the seizure.

373.012 Topographic mapping.—

(1) In order to accelerate topographic mapping in this state by the United States Geological Survey, the Department of Transportation is hereby authorized and directed to set aside, to pledge, and to make available annually out of its State Transportation Trust Fund the sum of $30,000; and the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund is hereby authorized and directed to set aside, to pledge and to make available annually out of the Land Acquisition Trust Fund the sum of $10,000; and the South Florida Water Management District out of its funds to be derived out of the proceeds of special assessments of its flood control taxes, is authorized and directed to set aside, to pledge and to make available annually such sum as may be required to meet the needs for topographic mapping of areas affecting said district. Such sums shall be delivered to the Treasurer of the United States or to other proper officer, to be applied by the Department of the Interior, U. S. Geological Survey, as to said Department of Transportation and to said Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, toward the payment of not exceeding one-half the cost of standard topographic mapping in this state conducted by the United States Geological Survey and as to said flood control district to be applied toward the payment of such proportion or part of such cost as said district may determine. Provided, however, that said sums authorized in this section for the Department of Transportation and for the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund shall not prevent either of said agencies from providing additional amounts for topographic mapping of areas which either agency may consider of priority status in the interest of said agencies.

(2) To further accelerate the rate at which topographic mapping may be carried on in Florida, any state agency having funds available for the purpose, any county or drainage or reclamation or flood control district organized under the laws of this state, any person, firm or corporation, is authorized to contribute to the cost of such mapping by depositing with the Department of Transportation such amounts as may be determined to be applied in like manner toward topographic mapping in this state as set forth in subsection (1).

(3) The Department of Transportation, the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund of this state, and the South Florida Water Management District are hereby authorized to make such arrangements or enter into such agreements with the United States as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(4) The Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, as and when copies of topographic maps are made available to it, shall file such maps in the same manner as other maps and plats of land surveys by the United States, and the maps shall be available for examination by any interested person.

373.013 Short title.—This chapter shall be known as the "Florida Water Resources Act of 1972."

History.—s. 1, part I, ch. 72-299.

373.016 Declaration of policy.—

(1) The waters in the state are among its basic resources. Such waters have not heretofore been conserved or fully controlled so as to realize their full beneficial use.

(2) It is further declared to be the policy of the Legislature:

(a) To provide for the management of water and related land resources;

(b) To promote the conservation, development, and proper utilization of surface and ground water;

(c) To develop and regulate dams, impoundments, reservoirs, and other works and to provide water storage for beneficial purposes;

(d) To prevent damage from floods, soil erosion, and excessive drainage;

(e) To preserve natural resources, fish and wildlife;

(f) To promote recreational development, protect public lands, and assist in maintaining the navigability of rivers and harbors; and

(g) Otherwise to promote the health, safety, and general welfare of the people of this state.

(3) The Legislature recognizes that the water resource problems of the state vary from region to region, both in magnitude and complexity. It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to vest in the Department of Environmental Regulation or its successor agency the power and responsibility to accomplish the conservation, protection, management, and control of the waters of the state and with sufficient flexibility and discretion to accomplish these ends through delegation of appropriate powers to the various water management districts. The department may exercise any power herein authorized to be exercised by a water management district; however, to the greatest extent practicable, such power should be delegated to the governing board of a water management district.

History.—s. 2, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 36, ch. 79-65.

373.019 Definitions.—When appearing in this chapter or in any rule, regulation, or order adopted pursuant thereto, the following words shall, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, mean:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Environmental Regulation or its successor agency or agencies.

(2) "Water management district" means any flood control, resource management, or water management district operating under the authority of this chapter.

(3) "Governing board" means the governing board of a water management district.

(4) "Reasonable-beneficial use" means the use of water in such quantity as is necessary for economic and efficient utilization for a purpose and in a manner which is both reasonable and consistent with the public interest.

(5) "Person" means any and all persons, natural or artificial, including any individual, firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, company, the United States of America, and the state and all political subdivisions, regions, districts, municipalities, and public agencies thereof. The enumeration herein is not intended to be exclusive or exhaustive.

(6) "Domestic use" means any use of water for individual personal needs or for household purposes such as drinking, bathing, heating, cooking, or sanitation.

(7) "Nonregulated use" means any use of water which is exempted from regulation by the provisions of this chapter.

(8) "Water" or "waters in the state" means any and all water on or beneath the surface of the ground or in the atmosphere, including natural or artificial watercourses, lakes, ponds, or diffused surface water and water percolating, standing, or flowing beneath the surface of the ground, as well as all coastal waters within the jurisdiction of the state.

(9) "Ground water" means water beneath the surface of the ground, whether or not flowing through known and definite channels.

(10) "Surface water" means water upon the surface of the earth, whether contained in bounds created naturally or artificially or diffused. Water from natural springs shall be classified as surface water when it exits from the spring onto the earth's surface.

(11) "Stream" means any river, creek, slough, or natural watercourse in which water usually flows in a defined bed or channel. It is not essential that the flowing be uniform or uninterrupted. The fact that some part of the bed or channel shall have been dredged or improved does not prevent the watercourse from being a stream.

(12) "Other watercourse" means any canal, ditch, or other artificial watercourse in which water usually flows in a defined bed or channel. It is not essential that the flowing be uniform or uninterrupted.

(13) "Coastal waters" means waters of the Atlantic Ocean or the Gulf of Mexico within the jurisdiction of the state.

(14) "Impoundment" means any lake, reservoir, pond, or other containment of surface water occupying a bed or depression in the earth's surface and having a discernible shoreline.

History.—s. 3, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 37, ch. 79-65.

373.023 Scope and application.—

(1) All waters in the state are subject to regulation under the provisions of this chapter unless specifically exempted by general or special law.

(2) No state or local governmental agency may enforce, except with respect to water quality, any special act, rule, regulation, or order affecting the waters in the state controlled under the provisions of this act, whether enacted or promulgated before or after the effective date of this act, until such special act, rule, regulation, or order has been filed with the department. However, any agency empowered to issue emergency orders affecting such waters may enforce such emergency orders prior to filing such orders with the department. Any rule or regulation in effect on the effective date of this act which is not filed with the department within 180 days after the effective date of this act shall be deemed repealed if the notice hereinafter called for shall have been received by the state or local agency issuing such rule or regulation. The department is directed to notify by certified or registered mail every state or local governmental agency known to be authorized to enforce any special act, rule, regulation or order affecting the waters of the state regarding the provisions of this subsection. The department is directed to review periodically such special acts, rules, regulations, and orders and to recommend to the appropriate agencies or the legislature the amendment, consolidation, or revocation of inconsistencies or duplications therein.

(3) Any state or local governmental agency or other person having the power of eminent domain or condemnation under the laws of this state must notify the department or the governing board of a water management district prior to exercising that power.

History.—s. 4, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 1, ch. 73-190.

373.026 General powers and duties of the department.—The Department of Environmental Regulation, or its successor agency, shall be responsible for the administration of this chapter at the state level. However, the department may enter into interagency agreements with any other state agency conducting programs related to or materially affecting the water resources of the state. All such interagency agreements shall be subject to the provisions of s. 373.046. In addition to its other powers and duties, the department is authorized:

(1) To conduct, independently or in cooperation with other agencies, topographic surveys, research, and investigations into all aspects of water use and water quality.

(2) To collect, compile, and analyze, for its use and guidance in administering the water resource laws of this state, scientific and factual data from the United States Geological Survey or any state agency. State agencies are directed to cooperate with the department or its agents in making available to it for this purpose such scientific and factual data as they may have.

(3) To cooperate with other state agencies, water management districts, and regional, county, or other local governmental organizations or agencies created for the purpose of utilizing and conserving the waters in this state; to assist such organizations and agencies in coordinating the use of their facilities; and participate in an exchange of ideas, knowledge, and data with such organizations and agencies. For this purpose the department may maintain an advisory staff of experts.

(4) To prepare and provide for dissemination to the public of current and useful information relating to the water resources of the state.

(5) To identify by continuing study those areas of the state where saltwater intrusion is a threat to freshwater resources and report its findings to the water management districts, boards of county commissioners, and public concerned.

(6) To conduct, either independently or in cooperation with any person or governmental agency, a program of study, research, and experimentation and evaluation in the field of weather modification.

(7) To exercise general supervisory authority over all water management districts. The department may exercise any power herein authorized to be exercised by a water management district. The department shall review, and may rescind or modify, any policy, rule, regulation, or order of a water management district, except those policies, rules, or regulations which involve only the internal management of the district, to insure compliance with the provisions and purposes of this chapter. Such review may be initiated at any time either by the department or by an interested person aggrieved by such policy, rule, regulation, or order by filing a request for such review with the department and serving a copy on the water management district. Such request for review is not a precondition to the effectiveness of such policy, rule, regulation, or order, or to the seeking of judicial review as otherwise provided.

(8)(a) To provide such coordination, cooperation, or approval necessary to the effectuation of any plan or project of the Federal Government in connection with or concerning the waters in the state. Unless otherwise provided by state or federal law, the department shall, subject to confirmation by the Legislature, have the power to approve or disapprove such federal plans or projects on behalf of the state.

(b) The department, subject to confirmation by the Legislature, shall act on behalf of the state in the negotiation and consummation of any agreement or compact with another state or other states concerning waters of the state.

(9)(a) To hold annually a conference on water resources developmental programs. Each agency, commission, district, municipality, or political subdivision of the state responsible for a specific water resources development program requiring federal assistance shall present at such conference its programs and projects and the needs thereof. Notice of the time and place of the annual conference on water resources developmental programs shall be extended by mail at least 30 days prior to the date of such conference to any person who has filed a written request for notification with the department. Adequate opportunity shall be afforded for participation at the conference by interested members of the general public.

(b) Upon termination of the water conference, the department shall select those projects for presentation in the Florida program of public works which best represent the public welfare and interest of the people of the state as required for the proper development, use, conservation, and protection of the waters of the state and land resources affected thereby. Thereafter, the department shall present to the appropriate committees and agencies of the Federal Government a program of public works for Florida, requesting authorization for funds for each project.

Note.—See s. 11, ch. 75-22 (s. 373.114), which vests exclusive authority to review policies, rules, regulations, and orders of water management districts in the Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission.

373.029 Southeast River Basins Resources Advisory Board.—

(1) The Governor of this state shall have authority to appoint a representative of this state to serve on the Resources Advisory Board, Southeast River Basins, as said board is now, or may hereafter be, authorized, designated, and constituted. This power of appointment shall include the authority to fill vacancies in the position of representative of this state on said board from whatever cause existing and, from time to time, to make appointments for successive terms.

(2) The representative of this state on said board shall be reimbursed by this state for his necessary travel expenses while engaged in the business of said board, as provided by s. 112.061.

(3) For the purpose of paying Florida's pro rata share of the expense of maintaining and operating the Resources Advisory Board, Southeast River Basins, the department may expend an amount not in excess of $25,000 per annum out of moneys allocated the department.

(4) The Resources Advisory Board, Southeast River Basins, is hereby authorized to enter into whatever agreement or agreements are necessary for the purpose of extending old-age and survivors insurance coverage to the employees of said board. Funds appropriated to or available to said board may be expended for such purpose. The board is hereby authorized to take whatever action or actions deemed necessary to provide the aforesaid coverage.

373.033 Saltwater barrier line.—

(1) The department may, at the request of the board of county commissioners of any county, at the request of the governing board of any water management district, or any municipality or water district responsible for the protection of a public water supply, or, having determined by adoption of an appropriate resolution that saltwater intrusion has become a matter of emergency proportions, by its own initiative, establish generally along the seacoast, inland from the seashore and within the limits of the area within which the petitioning board has jurisdiction, a saltwater barrier line inland of which no canal shall be constructed or enlarged, and no natural stream shall be deepened or enlarged, which shall discharge into tidal waters without a dam, control structure or spillway at or seaward of the saltwater barrier line, which shall prevent the movement of salt water inland of the saltwater barrier line. Provided, however, that the department is authorized, in cases where saltwater intrusion is not a problem, to waive the requirement of a barrier structure by specific permit to construct a canal crossing the saltwater barrier line without a protective device and provided, further that the agency petitioning for the establishment of the saltwater barrier line shall concur in the waiver.

(2) Application by a board of county commissioners or by the governing board of a water management district, a municipality or a water district for the establishment of a saltwater barrier line shall be made by adoption of an appropriate resolution, agreeing to:

(a) Reimburse the department the cost of necessary investigation, including, but not limited to, subsurface exploration by drilling, to determine the proper location of the saltwater barrier line in that county or in all or part of the district over which the applying agency has jurisdiction.

(b) Require compliance with the provisions of this law by county or district forces under their control; by those individuals or corporations filing plats for record and by individuals, corporations or agencies seeking authority to discharge surface or sub-surface drainage into tidal waters.

(3) The board of county commissioners of any county or the governing board of any water management district, municipality or water district desiring to establish a saltwater barrier line is authorized to reimburse the department for any expense entailed in making an investigation to determine the proper location of the saltwater barrier line, from any funds available to them for general administrative purposes.

(4) The department, any board of county commissioners, and the governing board of any water management district, municipality, or water district having competent jurisdiction over an area in which a saltwater barrier is established shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and authority for the maintenance of actions set forth in s. 373.129 shall apply to this section.

(5) The provisions of s. 373.191 shall apply specifically to the authority of the board of county commissioners, or to the governing board of a water management district, a municipality, or a water district having jurisdiction over an area in which a saltwater barrier line is established, to expend funds from whatever source may be available to them for the purpose of constructing saltwater barrier dams, dikes, and spillways within existing canals and streams in conformity with the purpose and intent of the board in establishing the saltwater barrier line.

373.036 State water use plan.—

(1) The department shall proceed as rapidly as possible to study existing water resources in the state; means and methods of conserving and augmenting such waters; existing and contemplated needs and uses of water for protection and procreation of fish and wildlife, irrigation, mining, power development, and domestic, municipal, and industrial uses; and all other related subjects, including drainage, reclamation, flood-plain or flood-hazard area zoning, and selection of reservoir sites. The department shall cooperate with the Executive Office of the Governor, or its successor agency, progressively to formulate, as a functional element of a comprehensive state plan, an integrated, coordinated plan for the use and development of the waters of the state, based on the above studies. This plan, with such amendments, supplements, and additions as may be necessary from time to time, shall be known as the state water use plan.

(2) In the formulation of the state water use plan, the department shall give due consideration to:

(a) The attainment of maximum reasonable-beneficial use of water for such purposes as those referred to in subsection (1).

(b) The maximum economic development of the water resources consistent with other uses.

(c) The control of such waters for such purposes as environmental protection, drainage, flood control, and water storage.

(d) The quantity of water available for application to a reasonable-beneficial use.

(e) The prevention of wasteful, uneconomical, impractical, or unreasonable uses of water resources.

(f) Presently exercised domestic use and permit rights.

(g) The preservation and enhancement of the water quality of the state and the provisions of the state water quality plan.

(h) The state water resources policy as expressed by this chapter.

(3) During the process of formulating or revising the state water use plan, the department shall consult with, and carefully evaluate the recommendations of, concerned federal, state, and local agencies, particularly the governing boards of the water management districts, and other interested persons.

(4) Each governing board is directed to cooperate with the department in conducting surveys and investigations of water resources, to furnish the department with all available data of a technical nature, and to advise and assist the department in the formulation and drafting of those portions of the state plan applicable to the district.

(5) The department shall not adopt or modify the state water use plan or any portion thereof without first holding a public hearing on the matter. At least 90 days in advance of such hearing, the department shall notify any affected governing boards, and shall give notice of such hearing by publication within the affected region pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120, except such notice by publication shall be extended at least 90 days in advance of such hearings.

(6) For the purposes of this plan the department may, in consultation with the affected governing board, divide each water management district into sections which shall conform as nearly as practicable to hydrologically controllable areas and describe all water resources within each area.

(7) The department shall give careful consideration to the requirements of public recreation and to the protection and procreation of fish and wildlife. The department may prohibit or restrict other future uses on certain designated bodies of water which may be inconsistent with these objectives.

(8) The department may designate certain uses in connection with a particular source of supply which, because of the nature of the activity or the amount of water required, would constitute an undesirable use for which the governing board may deny a permit.

(9) The department may designate certain uses in connection with a particular source of supply which, because of the nature of the activity or the amount of water required, would result in an enhancement or improvement of the water resources of the area. Such uses shall be preferred over other uses in the event of competing applications under the permitting systems authorized by this chapter.

(10) The department, in cooperation with the Executive Office of the Governor, or its successor agency, may add to the state water use plan any other information, directions, or objectives it deems necessary or desirable for the guidance of the governing boards or other agencies in the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

History.—s. 6, part I, ch. 72-299; ss. 2, 3, ch. 73-190; s. 122, ch. 79-190.

373.039 Florida water plan.—The state water use plan together with the water quality standards and classifications of the department or its successor agency shall constitute the Florida water plan. The state water use plan should be developed in coordination with the water quality standards system.

History.—s. 7, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 41, ch. 79-65.

373.042 Minimum flows and levels.—Within each section, or the water management district as a whole, the department or the governing board shall establish the following:

(1) Minimum flow for all surface watercourses in the area. The minimum flow for a given watercourse shall be the limit at which further withdrawals would be significantly harmful to the water resources or ecology of the area.

(2) Minimum water level. The minimum water level shall be the level of ground water in an aquifer and the level of surface water at which further withdrawals would be significantly harmful to the water resources of the area.

The minimum flow and minimum water level shall be calculated by the department and the governing board using the best information available. When appropriate, minimum flows and levels may be calculated to reflect seasonal variations. The department and the governing board shall also consider, and at their discretion may provide for, the protection of nonconsumptive uses in the establishment of minimum flows and levels.

History.—s. 6, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 2, ch. 73-190.

Note.—Former s. 373.036(7).

373.043 Adoption and enforcement of regulations by the department.—The department shall adopt, promulgate, and enforce such regulations and review procedures as may be necessary or convenient to administer the provisions of this chapter.

History.—s. 8, part I, ch. 72-299; s. 5, ch. 74-114.

373.044 Rules and regulations; enforcement.—In administering this chapter the governing board of the district is authorized to make and adopt reasonable rules, regulations and orders consistent with law and such rules, regulations and orders may be enforced by mandatory injunction, or other appropriate action in the courts of the state.

History.—s. 4, ch. 29790, 1955; s. 25, ch. 73-190.

Note.—Former s. 378.151.

373.046 Interagency agreements.—The department may enter into interagency agreements with or among any other state agencies conducting programs or exercising powers related to or affecting the water resources of the state. Such agreements may establish principal-agency or contract relationships, provide for cross-deputization of enforcement personnel, provide for consolidation of facilities, equipment or personnel, or such other relationships as may be deemed beneficial to the public interest.

Such interagency agreements shall be promulgated in the same manner as rules and regulations, subject to chapter 120. All state agencies conducting programs or exercising powers relating to or affecting the water resources of the state are hereby authorized to delegate such authority to the department or any of the several water management districts pursuant to such interagency agreements.

History.—s. 9, part I, ch. 72-299.

373.047 Cooperation between districts.—Any flood control district created under the authority of chapter 378 is authorized to advise other flood control districts or water management districts of the state in processing matters with the federal government and to render such technical assistance as may be helpful to the efficient operation of such other districts.

In the event the Okeechobee Basin is subdivided into smaller basins, as authorized in paragraph (b), the governing board shall ascertain the equitable pro rata share for each smaller basin and charge back such share so as to insure that the portion of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project remaining in the South Florida Water Management District shall continue to be funded on an equal basis throughout the entire Okeechobee Basin as initially described on December 31, 1976.

The two districts shall continue to exercise the taxing powers authorized to them in the territories within their respective boundaries, except that nothing herein shall limit the department in considering and recommending to the 1973 session of the legislature changes in the boundaries and transfers of funds, appropriations, personnel, property, or equipment between or among the existing districts and districts created by this chapter. The two districts shall continue to exercise the powers presently authorized by chapters 378 and 373, notwithstanding provisions contained to the contrary in this chapter, until any such powers shall be specifically revoked or modified by the department pursuant to this chapter, except that the provisions of s. 373.139 relating to acquisition of real property shall apply.

(b) Regulate the use of water within the affected area by apportioning, limiting, or rotating uses of water or by preventing those uses which the governing board finds have ceased to be reasonable or beneficial.

(c) Make other rules, regulations, and orders necessary for the preservation of the interests of the public and of affected water users.

(2) In promulgating rules and regulations and issuing orders under this law, the governing board shall act with a view to full protection of the existing rights to water in this state insofar as is consistent with the purpose of this law.

(3) No rule, regulation or order shall require any modification of existing use or disposition of water in the district unless it is shown that the use or disposition proposed to be modified is detrimental to other water users or to the water resources of the state.

(4) All rules and regulations adopted by the governing board shall be filed with the Department of State as provided in chapter 120. An information copy will be filed with the Department of Environmental Regulation.

373.175 Declaration of water shortage; emergency orders.—

(1) The governing board of the district may by order declare that a water shortage exists within all or part of the district when insufficient ground or surface water is available to meet the needs of the users or when conditions are such as to require temporary reduction in total use within the area to protect water resources from serious harm.

(2) The governing board may impose such restrictions on one or more users of the water resource as may be necessary to protect the water resources of the area from serious harm.

(3) When a water shortage is declared, the governing board shall cause notice thereof to be published in a prominent place within a newspaper of general circulation throughout the area. Publication of such notice shall serve as notice to all users in the area of the condition of water shortage.

(4) If an emergency condition exists due to a water shortage within any area of the district and the executive director of the district, with the concurrence of the governing board, finds that the exercise of powers under this section is not sufficient to protect the public health, safety, or welfare, the health of animals, fish, or aquatic life, a public water supply, or recreational, commercial, industrial, agricultural, or other reasonable uses, he may, pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120, issue emergency orders reciting the existence of such an emergency and requiring that such action, including, but not limited to, apportioning, rotating, limiting, or prohibiting the use of the water resources of the district, be taken as the executive director, with the concurrence of the governing board, deems necessary to meet the emergency.

373.191 County water conservation projects.

—The several counties of the state may cooperate with the division by engaging in county water development and conservation projects and may use county funds and equipment for this purpose and to do all other things necessary in connection with the development and conservation of the county's water resources consistent with the provisions of this law and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

373.196 Legislative findings.—

(1) It is the finding of the Legislature that cooperative efforts between municipalities, counties, water management districts, and the Department of Environmental Regulation are mandatory in order to meet the water needs of rapidly urbanizing areas in a manner which will supply adequate and dependable supplies of water where needed without resulting in adverse effects upon the areas from whence such water is withdrawn. Such efforts should utilize all practical means of obtaining water, including, but not limited to, withdrawals of surface water and ground water, recycling of waste water, and desalinization, and will necessitate not only cooperation but also well-coordinated activities. The purpose of this act is to provide additional statutory authority for such cooperative and coordinated efforts.

(2) Municipalities and counties are encouraged to create regional water supply authorities as authorized herein. It is further the intent that municipalities, counties, and regional water supply authorities are to have the primary responsibility for water supply, and water management districts and their basin boards are to engage only in those functions that are incidental to the exercise of their flood control and water management powers.

(3) Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the various municipalities and counties from continuing to operate existing water production and transmission facilities or to enter into cooperative agreements with other municipalities and counties for the purpose of meeting their respective needs for dependable and adequate supplies of water, provided the obtaining of water through such operations shall not be done in a manner which results in adverse effects upon the areas from whence such water is withdrawn.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-114; s. 43, ch. 79-65.

373.1961 Water production.—In the performance of, and in conjunction with, its other powers and duties, the governing board of a water management district existing pursuant to chapter 373:

(1) May engage in planning to assist counties, municipalities, and regional water supply authorities in meeting the water supply needs of the rapidly urbanizing areas within its district in such manner as will give priority to reducing adverse environmental effects of improper or excessive withdrawals of water from concentrated areas.

(2) Upon request of a county, municipality, or regional water supply authority, shall assist such counties and municipalities and water supply authorities in meeting the water supply needs of the rapidly urbanizing areas within its district in such manner as will give priority to reducing adverse environmental effects of improper or excessive withdrawals of water from concentrated areas.

(3) At the request of a county, municipality, or regional water supply authority, may establish water production and transmission facilities for the purpose of supplying water to such counties, municipalities, and regional water supply authorities.

(4) Shall not engage in local distribution.

(5) Shall not deprive, directly or indirectly, any county wherein water is withdrawn of the prior right to the reasonable and beneficial use of water which is required to supply adequately the reasonable and beneficial needs of the county or any of the inhabitants or property owners therein.

(6) May provide water and financial assistance to regional water supply authorities, but may not provide water to counties and municipalities which are located within the area of such authority without the specific approval of the authority or, in the event of the authority's disapproval, the approval of the Governor and Cabinet sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission. The district may supply water at rates and upon terms mutually agreed to by the parties or, if they do not agree, as set by the governing board and specifically approved by the Governor and Cabinet sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission.

(7) May acquire title to such interest as is necessary in real property, by purchase, gift, devise, lease, eminent domain, or otherwise, for water production and transmission consistent with this section. However, the district shall not use any of the eminent domain powers herein granted to acquire water and water rights already devoted to reasonable and beneficial use or any water production or transmission facilities owned by any county, municipality, or regional water supply authority.

373.1962 Regional water supply authorities.—

(1) By agreement between local governmental units created or existing pursuant to the provisions of Art. VIII of the State Constitution, pursuant to the Florida Interlocal Cooperation Act of 1969, s. 163.01, and upon the approval of the Governor and Cabinet sitting as head of the Department of Natural Resources to insure that such agreement will be in the public interest and complies with the intent and purposes of this act, regional water supply authorities may be created for the purpose of developing, storing, and supplying water for county or municipal purposes in such a manner as will give priority to reducing adverse environmental effects of excessive or improper withdrawals of water from concentrated areas. In approving said agreement the Governor and Cabinet, sitting as head of the Department of Natural Resources, shall consider, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) Whether the geographic territory of the proposed authority is of sufficient size and character to reduce the environmental effects of improper or excessive withdrawals of water from concentrated areas.

(b) The maximization of economic development of the water resources within the territory of the proposed authority.

(c) The availability of a dependable and adequate water supply.

(d) The ability of any proposed authority to design, construct, operate, and maintain water supply facilities in the locations, and at the times necessary, to insure that an adequate water supply will be available to all citizens within the authority.

(e) The effect or impact of any proposed authority on any municipality, county, or existing authority or authorities.

(f) The existing needs of the water users within the area of the authority.

(2) In addition to other powers and duties agreed upon, and notwithstanding the provisions of s. 163.01, such authority may:

(a) Upon approval of the electors residing in each county or municipality within the territory to be included in any authority, levy ad valorem taxes, not to exceed one-half mill, pursuant to s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution. No tax authorized by this paragraph shall be levied in any county or municipality without an affirmative vote of the electors residing in such county or municipality.

(b) Acquire water and water rights; develop, store, and transport water; provide, sell and deliver water for county or municipal uses and purposes; provide for the furnishing of such water and water service upon terms and conditions and at rates which will apportion to parties and nonparties an equitable share of the capital cost and operating expense of the authority's work to the purchaser.

(c) Not engage in local distribution.

(d) Exercise the power of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use to acquire title to such interest in real property as is necessary to the exercise of the powers herein granted, except water and water rights already devoted to reasonable and beneficial use or any water production or transmission facilities owned by any county or municipality.

(e) Issue revenue bonds in the manner prescribed by the Revenue Bond Act of 1953, as amended, part I, chapter 159, to be payable solely from funds derived from the sale of water by the authority to any county or municipality. Such bonds may be additionally secured by the full faith and credit of any county or municipality, as provided by s. 159.16 or by a pledge of excise taxes, as provided by s. 159.19. For the purpose of issuing revenue bonds, an authority shall be considered a "unit" as defined in s. 159.02(2) and as that term is used in the Revenue Bond Act of 1953, as amended. Such bonds may be issued to finance the cost of acquiring properties and facilities for the production and transmission of water by the authority to any county or municipality, which cost shall include the acquisition of real property and easements therein for such purposes. Such bonds may be in the form of refunding bonds to take up any outstanding bonds of the authority or of any county or municipality where such outstanding bonds are secured by properties and facilities for production and transmission of water, which properties and facilities are being acquired by the authority. Refunding bonds may be issued to take up and refund all outstanding bonds of said authority that are subject to call and termination, and all bonds of said authority that are not subject to call or redemption, when the surrender of said bonds can be procured from the holder thereof at prices satisfactory to the authority. Such refunding bonds may be issued at any time when, in the judgment of the authority, it will be to the best interest of the authority financially or economically by securing a lower rate of interest on said bonds or by extending the time of maturity of said bonds or, for any other reason, in the judgment of the authority, advantageous to said authority.

(f) Sue and be sued in its own name.

(g) Borrow money and incur indebtedness and issue bonds or other evidence of such indebtedness.

(h) Join with one or more other public corporations for the purpose of carrying out any of its powers and for that purpose to contract with such other public corporation or corporations for the purpose of financing such acquisitions, construction, and operations. Such contracts may provide for contributions to be made by each party thereto, for the division and apportionment of the expenses of such acquisitions and operations, and for the division and apportionment of the benefits, services, and products therefrom. Such contract may contain such other and further covenants and agreements as may be necessary and convenient to accomplish the purposes hereof.

(3) When it is found to be in the public interest, for the public convenience and welfare, for a public benefit, and necessary for carrying out the purpose of any regional water supply authority, any state agency, county, water control district existing pursuant to chapter 298, water management district existing pursuant to chapter 373, municipality, governmental agency, or public corporation in this state holding title to any interest in land is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to convey the title to or dedicate land, title to which is in such entity, including tax reverted land, or to grant use-rights therein, to any regional water supply authority created pursuant to this section. Land granted or conveyed to such authority shall be for the public purposes of such authority and may be made subject to the condition that in the event said land is not so used, or if used and subsequently its use for said purpose is abandone, the interest granted shall cease as to such authority and shall automatically revert to the granting entity.

(4) Each county or municipality which is a party to an agreement pursuant to subsection (1) shall have a preferential right to purchase water from the regional water supply authority for use by such county or municipality.

(5) In carrying out the provisions of this section, any county wherein water is withdrawn by the authority shall not be deprived, directly or indirectly, of the prior right to the reasonable and beneficial use of water which is required adequately to supply the reasonable and beneficial needs of the county or any of the inhabitants or property owners therein.

(6) Upon a resolution adopted by the governing body of any county or municipality, the authority may, subject to a majority vote of its voting members, include such county or municipality in its regional water supply authority upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed.

(7) The authority shall design, construct, operate, and maintain facilities in the locations and at the times necessary to insure that an adequate water supply will be available to all citizens within the authority.

373.1963 Assistance to West Coast Regional Water Supply Authority.—

(1) In lieu of the provisions in paragraph 373.1962(2)(a), the Southwest Florida Water Management District shall assist the West Coast Regional Water Supply Authority for a period of 5 years, terminating December 31, 1981, by levying an ad valorem tax, upon request of the authority, of not more than 0.05 mill on all taxable property within the limits of the authority. During such period the corresponding basin board ad valorem tax levies shall be reduced accordingly.

(2) The authority shall prepare its annual budget in the same manner as prescribed for the preparation of basin budgets, but such authority budget shall not be subject to review by the respective basin boards or by the governing board of the district.

(3) The annual millage for the authority shall be the amount required to raise the amount called for by the annual budget when applied to the total assessment on all taxable property within the limits of the authority, as determined for county taxing purposes.

(4) The authority may, by resolution, request the governing board of the district to levy ad valorem taxes within the boundaries of the authority. Upon receipt of such request, together with formal certification of the adoption of its annual budget and of the required tax levy, the authority tax levy shall be made by the governing board of the district to finance authority functions.

(5) The taxes provided for in this section shall be extended by the property appraiser on the county tax roll in each county within, or partly within, the authority boundaries and shall be collected by the tax collector in the same manner and time as county taxes, and the proceeds therefrom paid to the district which shall forthwith pay them over to the authority. Until paid, such taxes shall be a lien on the property against which assessed and enforceable in like manner as county taxes. The property appraisers, tax collectors, and clerks of the circuit court of the respective counties shall be entitled to compensation for services performed in connection with such taxes at the same rates as apply to county taxes.

(6) The governing board of the district shall not be responsible for any actions or lack of actions by the authority.

373.1965 Kissimmee River Valley and Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin; coordinating council on restoration; project implementation.—

(1) There is created the Coordinating Council on the Restoration of the Kissimmee River Valley and Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin. The council shall be composed of the Executive Director of the Department of Natural Resources, the Executive Director of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, the Executive Director of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, and the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, or their designees, and the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Regulation, who shall serve as chairman.

(2) In recognition of the complete findings of the Special Project to Prevent the Eutrophication of Lake Okeechobee, the council shall develop measures which are to be taken by the Department of Environmental Regulation, the Department of Natural Resources, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, and the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District to restore the water quality of the Kissimmee River Valley and Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin. Such measures shall be designed to minimize and ultimately remove the threats to the agricultural industry, the wildlife, and the people of central and southern Florida, posed by land uses and water-management practices which cause the degradation of water quality in such area and shall be designed to alleviate excessive nutrient loading from the Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin. In developing such measures, the council shall seek to:

(a) Conserve and improve ground and surface water supplies throughout the region.

(b) Improve the quality of water for all beneficial purposes throughout the region, and in Lake Okeechobee.

(c) Restore the natural seasonal water level fluctuations in the lakes of the Kissimmee River and in its natural flood plains and marshlands.

(d) Recreate conditions favorable to increases in production of wetland vegetation, native aquatic life, and wetland wildlife.

(e) Protect presently developed areas from unnatural floods, to the extent that such protection is now achievable.

(f) Utilize the natural and free energies of the river system to the greatest extent possible, so as to hold to a minimum all recurring annual needs of petroleum energy supplies.

(g) Provide for the effective enforcement of existing laws designed to prevent excessive nutrient loading of area waters.

(3) The Department of Environmental Regulation, the Department of Natural Resources, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, and the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District shall each implement and enforce those measures developed by the council which are within its jurisdiction. The Secretary of the Department of Environmental Regulation shall be responsible for the overall supervision of the enforcement of such measures.

(4) The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District or its successor agency shall establish a Special Trust Fund for the Restoration of the Kissimmee River Valley and Lake Okeechobee, which shall be funded from State General Revenue, federal matching funds, donations, and district funds, provided that district funds shall equal 20 percent of State General Revenue funds.

(5) The Secretary of the Department of Environmental Regulation shall present to the Legislature, within 1 year of the effective date of this act, the council's comprehensive report and complete plans for implementation of the corrective actions required, including fund requirements, and the implementation of the program within 5 years after the effective date of this act. During the 5-year implementation period, the Secretary of the Department of Environmental Regulation shall present to the Legislature an annual, comprehensive, interim progress report.

(6) Upon completion of the entire program to the satisfaction of the council and the Legislature, the council shall cease to exist, and all funds and moneys remaining in the Special Fund shall be immediately paid over to the General Revenue Fund.

History.—s. 1, ch. 76-113.

373.197 Kissimmee River Valley and Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin restoration project; measures authorized.—

(1) The Legislature hereby directs the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation, in conjunction with the South Florida Water Management District, to seek appropriate authorization by the Congress of the United States for a restudy of the Kissimmee River Valley and the Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin.

(2) The Legislature recommends that the authorization provide that the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, created under s. 3 of the Rivers and Harbors Act, approved June 13, 1902, be directed to review the report of the Chief of Engineers on Central and Southern Florida, published as House Document Numbered 643, Eightieth Congress, and other pertinent reports, with a view to determining whether any modification of the recommendations contained therein and of the system of works constructed pursuant thereto is advisable with respect to questions of the quality of water entering the Kissimmee River and Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough and Lake Okeechobee therefrom, flood control, recreation, navigation, loss of fish and wildlife resources, other current and foreseeable environmental problems, and loss of environmental amenities in those areas. Potential modification alternatives, if any, shall include, but not be limited to, consideration of restoration of all or parts of the Kissimmee River below Lake Kissimmee and of the Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin.

(3) The Department and the Water Management District shall also seek to assure that this restudy be conducted by the Corps of Engineers in close cooperation with the Coordinating Council on the Restoration of the Kissimmee River Valley and the Taylor Creek-Nubbins Slough Basin and that the study be responsive to the problems and needs identified by the Coordinating Council and consider development of detailed physical and mathematical models to assess and predict these identified problems.

(1) An "artesian well" is defined as an artificial hole in the ground from which water supplies may be obtained and which penetrates any water-bearing rock, the water in which is raised to the surface by natural flow, or which rises to an elevation above the top of the water-bearing bed. "Artesian wells" are defined further to include all holes, drilled as a source of water, that penetrate any water-bearing beds that are a part of the artesian water system of Florida, as determined by representatives of the Florida Geological Survey or Department of Environmental Regulation.

(2) "Waste" is defined to be the causing, suffering or permitting any water flowing from, or being pumped from, an artesian well to run into any river, creek, or other natural watercourse or channel, or into any bay or pond (unless used thereafter for the beneficial purposes of irrigation of land, mining or other industrial purposes of domestic use), or into any street, road or highway, or upon the land of any person, or upon the public lands of the United States or of the state, unless it be used thereon for the beneficial purposes of the irrigation thereof, industrial purposes, domestic use, or the propagation of fish. The use of any water flowing from an artesian well for the irrigation of land shall be restricted to a minimum by the use of proper structural devices in the irrigation system.

However, if the water in a well is so highly mineralized or otherwise of such poor quality that it is no longer a usable water supply, as determined by the Department of Environmental Regulation, then it shall be plugged in accordance with the department's specifications for well plugging.

(b) Permit the water to flow unnecessarily.

(c) Pump a well unnecessarily.

(d) Permit the water from the well to go to waste.

(2) A well is exempt from the provisions of this section unless the Department of Environmental Regulation can show that the uncontrolled flow of water from the well does not have a reasonable and beneficial use, as defined in s. 373.019(5).

(3) Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be subject to either:

(a) The remedial measures provided for in s. 373.436; or

(b) A civil penalty of $100 a day for each and every day of such violation and for each and every act of violation. The civil penalty may be recovered by the water management board of the water management district in which the well is located or by the department in a suit in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county where the defendant resides, in the county of residence of any defendant if there is more than one defendant, or in the county where the violation took place. The place of suit shall be selected by the board or department, and the suit, by direction of the board or department, shall be instituted and conducted in the name of the board or department by appropriate counsel. The payment of any such damages does not impair or abridge any cause of action which any person may have against the person violating any provision of this section.

(4) The penalties provided by this section shall apply notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary.

373.213 Certain artesian wells exempt.—Nothing in ss. 370.051-370.055 shall be construed to apply to an artesian well feeding a lake already in existence prior to June 15, 1953, which lake is used or intended to be used for public bathing and/or the propagation of fish, where the continuous flow of water is necessary to maintain its purity for bathing and the water level of said lake for fish.

Note.—Former ss. 370.055, 373.061.

373.216 Implementation of program for regulating the consumptive use of water.—The department may authorize the governing board of a water management district to implement a program for the issuance of permits authorizing the consumptive use of particular quantities of water. Notice of any required hearing on the proposed implementation of these regulations shall be published at least once a week for 2 weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the area to be affected by such regulations, the last notice appearing no less than 10 days prior to the date of the public hearing, in addition to any notice required by chapter 120.

History.—s. 1, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 8, ch. 73-190; s. 14, ch. 78-95.

373.217 Superseded laws and regulations.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature to provide a means whereby reasonable programs for the issuance of permits authorizing the consumptive use of particular quantities of water may be authorized by the Department of Environmental Regulation, subject to judicial review and also subject to review by the Governor and Cabinet, sitting as the Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission as provided in s. 373.114.

(2) It is the further intent of the Legislature that Part II of the Florida Water Resources Act of 1972, as amended, as set forth in ss. 373.203-373.249, shall provide the exclusive authority for requiring permits for the consumptive use of water and for authorizing transportation thereof pursuant to s. 373.223(2).

(3) If any provision of Part II of the Florida Water Resources Act of 1972, as amended, as set forth in ss. 373.203-373.249, is in conflict with any other provision, limitation, or restriction which is now in effect under any law or ordinance of this state or any political subdivision or municipality, or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, Part II shall govern and control, and such other law or ordinance or rule or regulation promulgated thereunder shall be deemed superseded for the purpose of regulating the consumptive use of water. However, this section shall not be construed to supersede the provisions of the Florida Electrical Power Plant Siting Act.

(4) Other than as provided in subsection (3) of this section, Part II of the Florida Water Resources Act of 1972, as amended, preempts the regulation of the consumptive use of water as defined in this act.

373.219 Permits required.—

(1) The governing board or the department may require such permits for consumptive use of water and may impose such reasonable conditions as are necessary to assure that such use is consistent with the overall objectives of the district or department and is not harmful to the water resources of the area. However, no permit shall be required for domestic consumption of water by individual users.

(2) In the event that any person shall file a complaint with the governing board or the department that any other person is making a diversion, withdrawal, impoundment, or consumptive use of water not expressly exempted under the provisions of this chapter and without a permit to do so, the governing board or the department shall cause an investigation to be made, and if the facts stated in the complaint are verified the governing board or the department shall order the discontinuance of the use.

373.223 Conditions for a permit.—

(1) To obtain a permit pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the applicant must establish that the proposed use of water:

(a) Is a reasonable beneficial use as defined in s. 373.019(5); and

(b) Will not interfere with any presently existing legal use of water; and

(c) Is consistent with the public interest.

(2) The governing board or the department may authorize the holder of a use permit to transport and use ground or surface water beyond overlying land, across county boundaries, or outside the watershed from which it is taken if the governing board or department determines that such transport and use is consistent with the public interest, and no local government shall adopt or enforce any law, ordinance, rule, regulation, or order to the contrary.

(3) The governing board or the department, by regulation, may reserve from use by permit applicants, water in such locations and quantities, and for such seasons of the year, as in its judgment may be required for the protection of fish and wildlife or the public health and safety. Such reservations shall be subject to periodic review and revision in the light of changed conditions. However, all presently existing legal uses of water shall be protected so long as such use is not contrary to the public interest.

History.—s. 3, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 10, ch. 73-190; s. 10, ch. 76-243.

373.224 Existing permits.—Any permits or permit agreements for consumptive use of water executed or issued by an existing flood control, water management, or water regulatory district pursuant to chapter 373 or chapter 378 prior to December 31, 1976, shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its terms until otherwise modified or revoked as authorized herein.

373.226 Existing uses.—

(1) All existing uses of water, unless otherwise exempted from regulation by the provisions of this chapter, may be continued after adoption of this permit system only with a permit issued as provided herein.

(2) The governing board or the department shall issue an initial permit for the continuation of all uses in existence before the effective date of implementation of this part if the existing use is a reasonable beneficial use as defined in s. 373.019(5) and is allowable under the common law of this state.

(3) Application for permit under the provisions of subsection (2) must be made within a period of 2 years from the effective date of implementation of these regulations in an area. Failure to apply within this period shall create a conclusive presumption of abandonment of the use, and the user, if he desires to revive the use, must apply for a permit under the provisions of s. 373.229.

373.229 Application for permit.—

(1) All permit applications filed with the governing board or the department under this part and notice thereof required under s. 373.116 shall contain:

(a) The name of the applicant and his address or, in the case of a corporation, the address of its principal business office;

(b) The date of filing;

(c) The date set for a hearing, if any;

(d) The source of the water supply;

(e) The quantity of water applied for;

(f) The use to be made of the water and any limitation thereon;

(g) The place of use;

(h) The location of the well or point of diversion; and

(i) Such other information as the governing board or the department may deem necessary.

(2) The notice shall state that written objections to the proposed permit may be filed with the governing board or the department by a specified date. The governing board or the department, at its discretion, may request further information from either applicant or objectors, and a reasonable time shall be allowed for such responses.

(3) If the proposed application is for less than 100,000 gallons per day, the governing board or the department may consider the application and any objections thereto without a hearing. If the proposed application is for 100,000 gallons per day or more and no objection is received, the governing board or the department, after proper investigation by its staff, may, at its discretion, approve the application without a hearing.

History.—s. 5, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 13, ch. 73-190; s. 11, ch. 76-243; s. 1, ch. 77-174.

373.232 Citation of rule.—In addition to any other provisions within this part or any rules promulgated hereunder, the permitting agency shall, when requesting information for a permit application pursuant to this part or such rules promulgated hereunder, cite a specific rule. If a request for information cannot be accompanied by a rule citation, failure to provide such information cannot be grounds to deny a permit.

373.233 Competing applications.—

(1) If two or more applications which otherwise comply with the provisions of this part are pending for a quantity of water that is inadequate for both or all, or which for any other reason are in conflict, the governing board or the department shall have the right to approve or modify the application which best serves the public interest.

(2) In the event that two or more competing applications qualify equally under the provisions of subsection (1), the governing board or the department shall give preference to a renewal application over an initial application.

History.—s. 6, part II, ch. 72-299.

373.236 Duration of permits.—

(1) Permits may be granted for any period of time not exceeding 20 years. The governing board or the department may base duration of permits on a reasonable system of classification according to source of supply or type of use, or both.

(2) The governing board or the department may authorize a permit of duration of up to 50 years in the case of a municipality or other governmental body or of a public works or public service corporation where such a period is required to provide for the retirement of bonds for the construction of waterworks and waste disposal facilities.

History.—s. 7, part II, ch. 72-299.

373.239 Modification and renewal of permit terms.—

(1) A permittee may seek modification of any terms of an unexpired permit.

(2) If the proposed modification involves water use of 100,000 gallons or more per day, the application shall be treated under the provisions of s. 373.229 in the same manner as the initial permit application. Otherwise, the governing board or the department may at its discretion approve the proposed modification without a hearing, provided the permittee establishes that:

(a) A change in conditions has resulted in the water allowed under the permit becoming inadequate for the permittee's need, or

(b) The proposed modification would result in a more efficient utilization of water than is possible under the existing permit.

(3) All permit renewal applications shall be treated under this part in the same manner as the initial permit application.

History.—s. 8, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 14, ch. 73-190.

373.243 Revocation of permits.—The governing board or the department may revoke a permit as follows:

(1) For any material false statement in an application to continue, initiate, or modify a use, or for any material false statement in any report or statement of fact required of the user pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the governing board or the department may revoke the user's permit, in whole or in part, permanently.

(2) For willful violation of the conditions of the permit, the governing board or the department may permanently or temporarily revoke the permit, in whole or in part.

(3) For violation of any provision of this chapter, the governing board or the department may revoke the permit, in whole or in part, for a period not to exceed 1 year.

(4) For nonuse of the water supply allowed by the permit for a period of 2 years or more, the governing board or the department may revoke the permit permanently and in whole unless the user can prove that his nonuse was due to extreme hardship caused by factors beyond his control.

(5) The governing board or the department may revoke a permit, permanently and in whole, with the written consent of the permittee.

History.—s. 9, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 14, ch. 78-95.

373.244 Temporary permits.—

(1) The governing board of a water management district may issue, or may authorize its executive director to issue, temporary permits for the consumptive use of water while an application is pending for a permit pursuant to ss. 373.219 and 373.229.

(2) Such a temporary permit shall be issued for a period of time to expire on the day following the next regular meeting of the governing board. At such meeting, the governing board shall consider whether it appears that the proposed use meets the criteria set forth in s. 373.223(1) and that such temporary permit is necessary for consumptive use of water prior to final action on an application for a permit pursuant to ss. 373.219 and 373.229.

(3) The governing board may summarily extend the term of a temporary permit for subsequent periods of time to expire on or before the day following the next regular meeting of the governing board.

(4) The board shall review temporary permits at each regular meeting and may terminate a temporary permit or refuse to extend it further upon a finding that the water use does not meet the criteria set forth in s. 373.223(1) or that adverse effects are occurring as a result of water use under the temporary permit or that the water authorized to be used under such permit is no longer required by the permit holder.

(5) The notice and hearing that might otherwise be required pursuant to s. 373.116(2) and chapter 120 shall not be required prior to issuance or extension of a temporary permit pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(6) Issuance of a temporary permit pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not in any way be construed as a commitment to issue a permit pursuant to ss. 373.219 and 373.229. No action taken by the governing board, or by the executive director if so authorized, shall be construed to estop the governing board from subsequently denying an application for a permit pursuant to ss. 373.219 and 373.229.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-160.

373.246 Declaration of water shortage or emergency.—

(1) The governing board or the department by regulation shall formulate a plan for implementation during periods of water shortage. As a part of this plan the governing board or the department shall adopt a reasonable system of permit classification according to source of water supply, method of extraction or diversion, use of water, or a combination thereof.

(2) The governing board or the department by order may declare that a water shortage exists within all or part of the district when insufficient water is available to meet the requirements of the permit system or when conditions are such as to require temporary reduction in total use within the area to protect water resources from serious harm. Such orders shall be final agency action.

(3) In accordance with the plan adopted under subsection (1), the governing board or the department may impose such restrictions on one or more classes of permits as may be necessary to protect the water resources of the area from serious harm and to restore them to their previous condition.

(4) A declaration of water shortage and any measures adopted pursuant thereto may be rescinded by the governing board or the department.

(5) When a water shortage is declared, the governing board or the department shall cause notice thereof to be published in a prominent place within a newspaper of general circulation throughout the area. Publication of such notice shall serve as notice to all users in the area of the condition of water shortage.

(6) The governing board or the department shall notify each permittee in the district by regular mail of any change in the condition of his permit or any suspension of his permit or of any other restriction on his use of water for the duration of the water shortage.

(7) If an emergency condition exists due to a water shortage within any area of the district, and if the department, or the executive director with the concurrence of the governing board, finds that the exercise of powers under subsection (1) are not sufficient to protect the public health, safety, or welfare, the health of animals, fish or aquatic life, a public water supply, or recreational, commercial, industrial, agricultural, or other reasonable uses, it or he may, pursuant to the provisions of s. 373.119, issue orders reciting the existence of such an emergency and requiring that such action, including but not limited to apportioning, rotating, limiting, or prohibiting the use of the water resources of the district, be taken as the department or the executive director deems necessary to meet the emergency.

(8) An affected party to whom an emergency order is directed under subsection (7) shall comply immediately, but may challenge such an order in the manner set forth in s. 373.119.

History.—s. 10, part II, ch. 72-299; s. 14, ch. 78-95.

373.249 Existing regulatory districts preserved.—The enactment of this chapter shall not affect any existing water regulatory districts pursuant to chapter 373, or orders issued by said regulatory districts, unless specifically revoked, modified, or amended by such regulatory district or by the department.

History.—s. 11, part II, ch. 72-299.

of Interior Resources.

373.313 Prior permission and notification.—

(1) Taking into consideration other applicable state laws, in any geographical area where the department determines such permission to be reasonably necessary to protect the groundwater resources, prior permission shall be obtained from the department for each of the following:

- (a) The construction of any water well;

- (c) The abandonment of any water well.

However, in any area where undue hardship might arise by reason of such requirement, prior permission will not be required.

If a request for information cannot be accompanied by a rule citation, failure to provide such information cannot be grounds to deny a permit.

History.—s. 5, ch. 79-161.

373.316 Existing installations.—No well in existence on the effective date of this part shall be required to conform to the provisions of s. 373.313 or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto. However, any well now or hereafter abandoned or repaired as defined in this part shall be brought into compliance with the requirements of this part and any applicable rules or regulations with respect to abandonment of wells, and any well which is determined by the department to be a hazard to the groundwater resources must comply with the provisions of this part and applicable rules and regulations within a reasonable time after notification of such determination has been given.

History.—s. 5, part III, ch. 72-299.

373.319 Inspections.—

(1) The department is authorized to inspect any water well or abandoned water well. Duly authorized representatives of the department may at reasonable times enter upon and shall be given access to any premises for the purpose of such inspection.

(2) If upon the basis of such inspections the department finds applicable laws, rules, or regulations have not been complied with, it shall disapprove the well. If disapproved, no well shall thereafter be used until brought into compliance with the rules and regulations promulgated under this law.

The department shall license as a water well contractor any person properly making application therefor who is an adult for all legal purposes, has knowledge of rules and regulations adopted under this part, and has had not less than 2 years' experience in the work for which he is applying for a license. The department shall prepare an examination which each such applicant must pass in order to qualify for such license.

(3) This section shall not apply to any person who performs labor or services at the direction and under the supervision of a licensed water well contractor.

(4) A political subdivision engaged in well-drilling shall be licensed under this part but shall be exempt from paying the license fees for the drilling done by regular employees of, and with equipment owned by, it.

After July 31 of each year, a license will be renewed only upon application and payment of the applicable fee plus a penalty of $50.

(6) Whenever the department determines that the holder of any license issued pursuant to this section has violated any provision of this part or any rule or regulation adopted pursuant thereto, the department is authorized to suspend or revoke any such license. (1) When the department finds that compliance with all requirements of this part would result in undue hardship, an exemption from any one or more such requirements may be granted by the department to the extent necessary to ameliorate such undue hardship and to the extent such exemption can be granted without impairing the intent and purpose of this part.

(2) Nothing in this part shall prevent a person who has not obtained a license pursuant to s. 373.323 from constructing a well that is 2 inches or under in diameter, on his own or leased property, intended for use only in a single family house which is his residence, or intended for use only for farming purposes on his farm, and when the waters to be produced are not intended for use by the public or any residence other than his own. Such persons shall comply with all rules and regulations as to construction of wells adopted under this part.

History.—s. 8, part III, ch. 72-299.

Such notice shall identify the provision of this part or regulation issued hereunder alleged to be violated and the facts alleged to constitute such violation.

(2) Such notice shall be served in the manner required by law for the service of process upon persons in a civil action and shall be accompanied by an order of the department requiring described remedial action which, if taken within the time specified in such order, will effect compliance with the requirements of this part and regulations issued hereunder. Such order shall become final unless a request for hearing as provided in chapter 120 is made within 30 days from the date of service of such order.

History.—s. 10, part III, ch. 72-299.

373.336 Penalties.—Any person who violates any provision of this part or regulation or order issued hereunder shall, upon conviction, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in ss. 775.082 and 775.083. History.—s. 11, part III, ch. 72-299; s. 17, ch. 73-190.

373.339 Existing regulations preserved.—The enactment of this chapter shall not apply in any area where water wells are regulated by a water regulatory district pursuant to the authority of chapter 373 unless and until the department shall modify or revoke such regulations and provide that such area will thereafter be governed by the provisions of this part.

(2) If any owner shall not have constructed or installed such headgate or valve or such measuring device within 60 days after the governing board or department has ordered its construction, the governing board or department shall have such headgate, valve, or measuring device constructed or installed, and the costs of installing the headgate, valve, or measuring device shall be a lien against the owner's land upon which such installation takes place until the governing board or department is reimbursed in full.

(1) Except for the exemptions set forth herein, the governing board or the department may require such permits and impose such reasonable conditions as are necessary to assure that the construction or

373.417 Citation of rule.—In addition to any other provisions within this part or any rules promulgated hereunder, the permitting agency shall, when requesting information for a permit application pursuant to this part or such rules promulgated hereunder, cite a specific rule. If a request for information cannot be accompanied by a rule citation, failure to provide such information cannot be grounds to deny a permit.

History.—s. 6, ch. 79-161.

373.419 Completion report.—Within 30 days after the completion of construction or alteration of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works, the permittee shall file a written statement of completion with the governing board or department. History.—s. 6, part IV, ch. 72-299.

373.423 Inspection.—

(1) During the construction or alteration of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works, the governing board or department shall make at its expense such periodic inspections as it deems necessary to insure conformity with the approved plans and specifications included in the permit.

(2) If during construction or alteration the governing board or department finds that the work is not being done in accordance with the approved plans and specifications as indicated in the permit, it shall give the permittee written notice stating with which particulars of the approved plans and specifications the construction is not in compliance and shall order immediate compliance with such plans and specifications. Failure to act in accordance with the orders of the governing board or department after receipt of written notice shall result in the initiation of revocation proceedings in accordance with s. 373.429.

(3) Upon completion of the work, the executive director of the district or the Department of Environmental Regulation or its successor agency shall have periodic inspections made, annually or more frequently as deemed necessary, of permitted dams, reservoirs, impoundments, appurtenant work, or works to protect the public health and safety and the natural resources of the state. No person shall refuse immediate entry or access to any authorized representative of the governing board or the department who requests entry for purposes of such inspection and presents appropriate credentials.

373.426 Abandonment.—

(1) Any owner of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works wishing to abandon or remove such work may first be required by the governing board or the department to obtain a permit to do so and may be required to meet such reasonable conditions as are necessary to assure that such abandonment will not be inconsistent with the overall objectives of the district.

(2) Where any permitted dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works is not owned nor directly controlled by the state or any of its agencies and is not used nor maintained under the authority of the owner for a period of 3 years, it shall be presumed that the owner has abandoned such dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works, and has dedicated the same to the district for the use of the people of the district.

(3) The title of the district to any such dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works may be established and determined in the court appointed by statute to determine the title to real estate.

The affected party may file a written petition for hearing no later than 14 days after notice of revocation or modification is served. If the executive director of the district or the division determines that the danger to the public is imminent, he may order a temporary suspension of the construction, alteration, or operation of the works until the hearing is concluded, or may take such action as authorized under s. 373.439.

History.—s. 9, part IV, ch. 72-299; s. 14, ch. 78-95.

373.433 Abatement.—Any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works which violates the laws of this state or which violates the standards of the governing board or the department shall be declared a public nuisance. The operation of such dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works may be enjoined by suit by the state or any of its agencies or by a private citizen. The governing board or the department shall be a necessary party to any such suit. Nothing herein shall be construed to conflict with the provisions of s. 373.429.

History.—s. 10, part IV, ch. 72-299.

373.436 Remedial measures.—

(1) Upon completion of any inspection provided for by s. 373.423(3), the executive director shall determine what alterations or repairs are necessary and order that such alterations and repairs shall be made within a time certain, which shall be a reasonable time. The owner of such dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works may file a written petition for hearing before the governing board or the department no later than 14 days after such order is served. If, after such order becomes final, the owner shall fail to make the specified alterations or repairs, the governing board or the department may, in its discretion, cause such alterations or repairs to be made.

(2) Any cost to the district or the department of alterations or repairs made by it under the provisions of subsection (1) shall be a lien against the property of the landowner on whose lands the alterations or repairs are made until the governing board or department is reimbursed, with reasonable interest and attorney's fees, for its costs.

373.439 Emergency measures.—

(1) The executive director, with the concurrence of the governing board, or the Department of Environmental Regulation shall immediately employ any remedial means to protect life and property if either:

(a) The condition of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works is so dangerous to the safety of life or property as not to permit time for the issuance and enforcement of an order relative to maintenance or operation.

(b) Passing or imminent floods threaten the safety of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works.

(2) In applying the emergency measures provided for in this section, the executive director or the Department of Environmental Regulation may in an emergency do any of the following:

(a) Lower the water level by releasing water from any impoundment or reservoir.

(b) Completely empty the impoundment or reservoir.

(c) Take such other steps as may be essential to safeguard life and property.

(3) The executive director or the Department of Environmental Regulation shall continue in full charge and control of such dam, impoundment, reservoir, and its appurtenant works until they are rendered safe or the emergency occasioning the action has ceased.

History.—s. 12, part IV, ch. 72-299; s. 49, ch. 79-65.

373.443 Immunity from liability.—No action shall be brought against the state or district, or any agents or employees of the state or district, for the recovery of damages caused by the partial or total failure of any dam, impoundment, reservoir, appurtenant work, or works upon the ground that the state or district is liable by virtue of any of the following:

373.503 Manner of taxation.—

(1) It is the finding of the Legislature that the general regulatory and administrative functions of the districts herein authorized are of general benefit to the people of the state and should substantially be financed by general appropriations. Further, it is the finding of the Legislature that water resources programs of particular benefit to limited segments of the population should be financed by those most directly benefited. To those ends, this chapter provides for the establishment of permit application fees and a method of ad valorem taxation to finance the works of the district.

(2)(a) The Legislature declares that the millage authorized for water management purposes by s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution shall be levied only by the water management districts set forth in chapter 373 and intends by this section to prevent any laws which would allow other units of government to levy any portion of said millage. However, this does not preclude such units of government from financing and engaging in water management programs if otherwise authorized by law.

(b) Pursuant to s. 11(a)(21), Art. III of the State Constitution, the Legislature hereby prohibits special laws or general laws of local application pertaining to the allocation of any portion of the millage authorized for water management purposes by s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution to any unit of government other than those districts established by chapter 373.

(c) The authority of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District and the Southwest

Florida Water Management District to levy ad valorem taxes within the territories specified in chapter 25270, Laws of Florida, 1949, and chapter 61-691, Laws of Florida, respectively, as heretofore amended, shall continue until those districts have authority to levy ad valorem taxes pursuant to this section.

(3) The districts may levy ad valorem taxes on property within the district solely for the purposes of this chapter and of chapter 25270, Laws of Florida, 1949, as amended, and chapter 61-691, Laws of Florida, as amended. The authority to levy ad valorem taxes as provided in this act shall commence with the year 1977. However, the taxes levied for 1977 by the governing boards pursuant to this section shall be prorated to ensure that no such taxes will be levied for the first 4 days of the tax year, which days will fall prior to the effective date of the amendment to s. 9(b), Art. VII of the Constitution of the State of Florida, which was approved March 9, 1976. When appropriate, taxes levied by each governing board may be separated by the governing board into a millage necessary for the purposes of the district and a millage necessary for financing basin functions specified in s. 373.0695. Beginning with the taxing year 1977, and notwithstanding the provisions of any other general or special law to the contrary, the maximum total millage rate for district and basin purposes shall be:

(a) Northwest Florida Water Management District: 0.05 mill.

(b) Suwannee River Water Management District: 0.75 mill.

(c) St. Johns River Water Management District: 0.375 mill.

(d) Southwest Florida Water Management District: 1.0 mill.

(e) South Florida Water Management District: 0.80 mill.

The maximum millage assessed for district purposes shall not exceed 25 percent of the total authorized millage when there are one or more basins in a district, and the maximum millage assessed for basin purposes shall not exceed 75 percent of the total authorized millage.

(4) It is hereby determined that the taxes authorized by this chapter are in proportion to the benefits to be derived by the several parcels of real estate within the districts to which territories are annexed and transferred. It is further determined that the cost of conducting elections within the respective districts or within the transferred or annexed territories, including costs incidental thereto in preparing for such election and in informing the electors of the issues therein, is a proper expenditure of the department, of the respective districts, and of the district to which such territory is or has been annexed or transferred.

History.—s. 1, part V, ch. 72-299; s. 24, ch. 73-190; s. 12, ch. 76-243.

Note.—Chapter 76-243, which created paragraph (2)(b), was passed by the requisite three-fifths vote in each house. See s. 11(a)(21), Art. III, State Const.

373.506 Costs of district.—If it should appear necessary to procure funds with which to pay the expenses of a district, or to meet emergencies, before a sufficient sum can be obtained from the collection of the tax, the board may borrow a sufficient amount of money to pay expenses and to meet emergencies and may issue interest-bearing negotiable notes therefor and pledge the proceeds of the tax imposed under the provisions of this chapter for the repayment thereof. Said board may issue to any person performing work or services or furnishing anything of value interest-bearing negotiable evidence of debt.

Note.—Former s. 378.19.

373.507 Districts, basins, and taxing authorities; budget and expense reports; audits.—Each district and basin referred to in chapter 76-243, Laws of Florida, shall furnish a detailed copy of its budget and past year's expenditures to the Governor, the Legislature, and the governing body of each county in which the district or basin has jurisdiction or derives any funds for the operations of the district or basin. Each district, basin, and taxing authority shall make provision for an annual postaudit of its financial accounts and activities. Additionally, each district, basin, and taxing authority shall make provision for an independent performance audit of its financial accounts and activities in order that a complete performance audit shall be conducted for each 3-year period. The year in which these performance audits are conducted shall be determined by the Department of Environmental Regulation. These post-audits and performance audits shall be made in accordance with the rules of the Auditor General promulgated pursuant to ss. 166.241 and 11.47.

History.—s. 16, ch. 76-243; s. 1, ch. 77-367.

373.516 Benefits to rights-of-way.—The governing board of the district shall assess benefits to rights-of-way of railroads and other public service corporations in like manner as for other property, and the imposition and collection of said tax shall be in like manner as is provided with respect to other property, except that the basis of value of railroad rights-of-way for assessment purposes is hereby fixed at $4,000 per mile without reference to number of tracks, or other facilities thereon, and the governing board of the district shall furnish the property appraiser of the county in which such rights-of-way is located a description thereof, the number of miles in length and the tax rate on value-benefit basis to be applied in assessing district taxes against said rights-of-way.

373.536 District budget and hearing thereon.—

(1) Commencing October 1, 1975, the fiscal year of districts created under the provisions of this chapter shall extend from October 1 of one year through September 30 of the following year. The governing board of the district shall, on or before July 15 of each year, complete the preparation of a tentative budget for the district covering its proposed operation and requirements for the ensuing fiscal year. The budget shall set forth, classified by object and purpose, and by fund if so designated, the proposed expenditures of the district for bonds or other debt, for construction, for acquisition of land, and other purposes, for operation and maintenance of the district's works, the conduct of the affairs of the district generally, to which may be added an amount to be held as a reserve.

(2) The budget shall also show the estimated amount which will appear at the beginning of the fiscal year as obligated upon commitments made but uncompleted. There shall be shown the estimated unobligated or net balance which will be on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the estimated amount to be raised by district taxes and from other sources for meeting the district's requirements.

(3) On a date to be fixed by the governing board each year, the board shall publish a notice of its intention to adopt the budget or as the same may be amended for the district for the ensuing fiscal year. The notice shall set forth the tentative budget in full, and shall be notice to all owners of property subject to the district taxes that on a date and at a place appearing in the notice, opportunity will be afforded to such owners, their attorneys or agents, to appear before the board and show their objections to the budget. The notice shall be published for 2 consecutive weeks, in one or more newspapers qualified to accept legal advertisements having a combined general circulation in the counties having land in the district, the last insertion of which shall appear not less than 1 nor more than 3 weeks prior to the date set by the board for the hearing on the budget, or if there be no such newspaper then by posting the notice as provided by s. 50.021.

(4) The hearing will be by and before the governing board of the district on a date to be fixed by the board not sooner than 1 week and not later than 3 weeks after the date of the last publication of notice of intention to adopt the budget and may be continued from day to day until terminated by the board. Promptly thereafter, the governing board shall give consideration to objections filed against the budget and in its discretion may amend, modify or change the tentative budget. The board shall adopt a final budget for the district which shall thereupon be the operating and fiscal guide for the district for the ensuing year; provided, however, transfers of funds may be made within the budget by action of the governing board at a public meeting of the governing board. Should the district receive unanticipated funds after the adoption of the final budget, the final budget may be amended by including the said funds, so long as notice of intention to amend shall be published one time in one or more newspapers qualified to accept legal advertisements having a combined general circulation in the counties in the district. The notice shall set forth the proposed amendment and shall be published at least 10 days prior to the public meeting of the board at which the proposed amendment is to be considered. Provided, in the event of disaster or of emergency arising to prevent or avert the same, the governing board shall not be limited by the budget but shall have authority to apply such funds as may be available therefor or as may be procured for such purpose.

(2) The proceeds of all bonds so issued, over and above the amounts which may be necessary to retire the outstanding promissory notes of the district, and over and above the amounts reasonably necessary for the board to retain in order to cover its administrative and operating expenses, shall be turned over to the canal authority, to be used by it in paying the costs and expenses of acquiring a right-of-way for a canal across the state, running through or adjacent to the boundaries of the counties comprising the district, together with sea and river approaches thereto and such lateral and connecting branches as may be necessary or desirable, and in paying its administrative and operating expenses while so engaged in the acquisition of said right-of-way, and paying for any other expenses authorized to be incurred by said authority in and by part I of this chapter. All of the said bonds need not be sold at once, but the same shall be sold in such amounts, and at such times as to meet the monetary needs of the authority in acquiring the said right-of-way, and so that the acquisition thereof by the authority shall not be delayed or interrupted by lack of funds.

(3) Any of the proceeds of such bonds, or other district moneys which may have been turned over to the authority as in this act provided, and which shall not be needed for the purpose of acquiring said right-of-way or in paying the costs and expenses incident thereto, shall, after said right-of-way shall have been completely secured, be returned and repaid to the district and paid into the bond sinking fund to be created as hereafter provided.

(4) If any of the bonds authorized to be issued and sold hereunder, have not been sold by the time said right-of-way shall have been completely acquired, and after all expenses incident to such acquisition have been paid, then such bonds shall not be sold thereafter, but the same shall be canceled, and any unused portion of said bonds at that time still re-

1374.411 Bonds; election for issuance.—

(1) Before issuing any bonds, the issue shall be provided for by a resolution of the district board, setting forth the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, the denominations and date or dates of maturity thereof, the rate of interest the same are to bear, the time and place where the bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable, and such other terms and conditions as authorized by this act, upon which it is proposed to issue the bonds. The resolution shall further call for and fix a date and otherwise provide for the holding of an election for submission to the qualified freeholders residing in the district, for their approval or disapproval, of the question of the issuance of the bonds. Notice of the resolution and election shall be published in each county in the district once a week for 4 consecutive weeks before the election is held. The board shall cause to be prepared a sufficient number of ballots to be used at the election, which ballots shall be in substantially the following form:

OFFICIAL BALLOT
SPECIAL BONDING ELECTION
The Florida Canal Navigation District

(Place a crossmark (x) before the proposition of your choice)

FOR: Issuing Florida Canal Navigation District Bonds in an amount not to exceed the sum of $2,750,000 bearing interest at the rate of 7½ percent per annum, the proceeds of which bonds, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used in acquiring a right-of-way for a canal across the state of Florida, running through said district.

AGAINST: Issuing Florida Canal Navigation District Bonds in an amount not to exceed the sum of $2,750,000 bearing interest at the rate of 7½ percent per annum, the proceeds of which bonds, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used in acquiring a right-of-way for a canal across the state of Florida, running through said district.

(2) The election shall be held at the several places in the district where the last general election was held in each of the counties of the district, unless the district board shall otherwise direct, and said board shall appoint the inspectors and clerks of election for each of the election precincts in said district. Only the freeholders who are qualified electors, as herein provided, and residing in said district shall be eligible to vote in said election. The election shall be conducted and the canvass of the votes certified to and returned, and the returns canvassed substantially in the manner and within the time prescribed by general law for holding bond elections, except as herein otherwise provided, and except that the returns of the election from each precinct in each of the counties in said district shall be delivered to the chairman and secretary of the district board instead of to the county officers or official to whom the returns are usually made. The board shall hold a meeting as soon thereafter as is practicable for the purpose of canvassing the election returns and certifying the returns. If a majority of the freeholders who are qualified electors residing in the district shall have participated in the election and a majority of the votes cast in the election are in favor of the issuance of the bonds, then the district board shall be authorized to issue and sell the bonds, in the manner as herein authorized, in the amount specified in the resolution calling the election, and to use the proceeds as authorized in this act. If, however, a majority of the freeholders who are qualified electors residing in the district shall not have participated in the election, or if a majority of the freeholders shall have participated but less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the issuance of the bonds, then and in either of such cases, no bonds shall be issued.

1374.451 Bonds; validity and incontestability.

—This act, without reference to any other act or statute of the Legislature of the state, shall be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds herein authorized, which bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper and which shall not be invalid because of any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issuance and sale thereof, and any and all such bonds shall be incontestable in the hands of bona fide purchasers thereof. All the bonds, regardless of time of sale, shall be of equal rank and without priority of one over the other, except as to the time of maturity as may be fixed in the bonds. No proceedings in respect to the issuance of said bonds shall be necessary, except such as are required by this act. Provided, however, that the district board may, if it deems such action expedient, validate the bonds, in the same manner as is provided by general law for the validation of bonds of counties and municipalities. If the validation proceedings are pursued, they may be instituted by petition filed in the circuit court in and for Duval County, and the proceedings thereon shall be conducted in the same manner and shall have the same effect as is provided by general law for the validation of county and municipal bonds except that notice of hearing on the petition shall be given by publication in one or more newspapers published in each county in the district, once a week for 3 consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least 18 days prior to the date fixed for the hearing.

History.—s. 16, ch. 17023, 1935; s. 12, ch. 79-167.

The board shall have the right to reject any or all bids, and if no satisfactory bid is received on the day advertised for the sale thereof, the bonds or any part thereof may be sold at private sale at any time within 60 days thereafter, at not less than the highest bid received at the advertised sale, and at not less than the above stated minimum price of 95 cents on the dollar, plus accrued interest to date of delivery. The board may, however, sell any or all of the bonds at private sale at any time, whether notice has been published or not, pro-

There is hereby created a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of all of the bonds, and until all of the bonds issued shall have been paid, or until there shall have been accumulated in said sinking fund sufficient funds to pay all of such bonds, the board shall set apart and pay into said sinking fund annually, beginning with the year following the year in which the bonds are issued, out of taxes levied and imposed by this act and other funds of the district at least  $3\frac{1}{2}$  percent of the total amount of bonds issued and sold hereunder. The sinking fund for the payment of the bonds shall not be appropriated to or used for any other purpose.

History.—s. 18, ch. 17023, 1935; s. 12, ch. 79-167.

§374.481 Redemption of bonds, investment of sinking fund.—The board is hereby authorized and empowered to invest the moneys belonging to the sinking fund in bonds issued under the provisions of this act, or in bonds issued by the United States. Whenever necessary or expedient in the opinion of the board, the securities in said sinking fund may be sold and the proceeds used in paying maturing bonds of the district or in calling the bonds for redemption as hereinabove in s. 374.391 provided, or for the purpose of being invested in conformity with the provisions hereof. Provided, however, that whenever the total amount of money in the sinking fund (computing the bonds held as cash on the basis of their then market value, less the cost of sale), shall exceed the amount necessary to pay bonds maturing during the next ensuing 12 months, the surplus shall immediately be used by the board for the purpose of calling bonds for redemption in the manner as prescribed in s. 374.391.

§374.491 Deposit of funds.—All district funds shall be deposited in a bank or banks to be designated by the board, including federal savings and loan associations. The board shall designate as such depository or depositories the bank or banks that will offer the best inducement as to the payment of interest on daily balances, but before any district moneys are deposited in the depository or depositories, security ample to protect the deposits shall be furnished to the district (without expense to the district), which security shall be in the form either of a surety bond or bonds executed by a surety company or companies authorized to do business in this state, or in the form of a deposit, to the credit of the district, of bonds of the United States or of the district, or insurance for the full amount of the deposit through an agency of the United States. Funds of the district shall be paid out only upon warrant signed by the treasurer of the board and countersigned by the chairman or vice chairman. No warrants shall be drawn or issued disbursing any of the funds of the district except for a purpose authorized by this act and only when the account or expenditure for which the same is to be given in payment has been ordered or approved by the board.

§374.501 Levy of taxes.—

(1) The navigation district shall have, and it is hereby granted, the power to levy, assess, collect and enforce taxes upon all taxable real and personal property in the district, subject to the limitations and restrictions herein contained. The maximum amount of taxation which the district board shall be authorized to levy in any one year shall not exceed six-tenths mill on the dollar on the assessed evaluation of the district. The amount of such levy to be made each year by the district shall be determined by resolution of the district board; and a certified copy of such tax resolution executed in the name of the board by its chairman and attested by its secretary under its corporate seal, shall be delivered to the board of county commissioners of each and every county in the district and to the Department of Revenue immediately after the adoption of such resolution. The moneys received by the district from such levy shall be used by it as follows:

(a) To furnish the amount needed by the board for the annual administrative and operating expenses of the district which amount shall not exceed the amount which would be raised by a levy of one-tenth mill on the dollar on the assessed valuation of the district.

(b) The balance of the amount raised by such annual levy shall be used for the payment of the principal of and interest on the outstanding bonds of the district becoming due and payable during the ensuing year, and for the establishment of reserves for such purposes. If no bonds of the district be outstanding, then the proceeds of said levy, less the amount needed for the annual administrative and operating expenses of the district, shall be turned over by the district to the canal authority of the state to be used by it in acquiring the necessary right-of-way for the Cross Florida Barge Canal, as herein provided.

(2) It shall be the duty of each of said boards of county commissioners, each year, to order the property appraisers of each of said counties to levy and assess, and the county tax collector to collect a tax at the rate fixed by the said resolution of the district board upon all of the real and personal property in said counties for said year and said levies and assessments shall be included in the tax roll and warrant of the property appraisers in each of said counties for such year. The tax collector of each said county shall collect such taxes so levied by the district board in the same manner and at the same time as state and county taxes are collected and shall pay and remit the same upon collection, within the time and in the manner required by law, to the district board.

(3) The property appraiser, tax collector, and the board of county commissioners of each and every county in said district shall, when requested by the district board, prepare from their official records and deliver to the board any and all information that may be requested from time to time from him or them regarding the tax valuations, levies, assessments or collections in such counties.

(4) If any of the lands acquired by the canal authority of Florida with funds provided by the Cross Florida Canal Navigation District under this act become surplus after the rights-of-way needs of the canal authority have been met, such land may be sold and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid to the counties comprising said district in direct proportion to the contribution of each county to the Cross Florida Navigation District.

Note.—Repealed by s. 12, ch. 79-167, effective upon the effective date of deauthorization of the Cross Florida Barge Canal Project by the U.S. Congress, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

374.511 Publication of financial statement.—

At least once in each year the district board shall publish once in some newspaper published in each of the counties of the district, a complete detailed statement of all moneys received and disbursed by the district during the preceding year. Such statement shall also show the several sources from which such funds were received, and the balance on hand at the time of publishing the statement, and shall show the complete financial condition of the district.

375.065 Public beaches; financial and other assistance by Department of Natural Resources to local governments.—

(1) The Department of Natural Resources is authorized, within the limits of appropriations available to the department for such purposes, to utilize any one or more of the following procedures in establishing and operating a program of financial assistance to local governments for the acquisition of public beach properties:

(a) The department may make grants for, and advance loans to, the governing body of any county or municipality in an amount not to exceed the fair-market value, as determined by the department, of any waterfront property sought to be purchased by said governing body for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a public beach.

(b) The department may require the local governing body to give assurance that it has the financial ability to furnish or secure funds to complete the purchase of the property sought. Any revenue from concessions, tolls, or parking or otherwise produced by the development or operation of such public beach may be pledged to amortize any indebtedness incurred in such beach acquisitions.

(2) The Department of Natural Resources, through its Division of Recreation and Parks, may acquire waterfront property and may lease, sell, or grant acquired land, water areas, and related resources or improvements thereon to the governing body of any county or municipality upon such terms and conditions as the department may require in order to assure that such property will be reserved for public use and benefit in the future.

(3) The division is authorized to promulgate such rules, regulations, and forms as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section and to insure that all projects to which assistance is rendered hereunder are for the purpose of providing public beaches for recreation purposes.

(4) In addition to the authorized assistance procedures provided by this section, the legislature hereby urges the Department of Natural Resources and the Division of Recreation and Parks to give priority to applications relating to the acquisition of public beaches in urban areas, and to make full use of the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965, as amended or other applicable federal programs. This section is supplemental to and shall not limit or repeal any provision of the Outdoor Recreation Act of 1963.

History.—ss. 1-3, ch. 72-86.

375.251 Limitation on liability of persons making available to public certain areas for recreational purposes without charge.—

(1) The purpose of this act is to encourage persons to make available to the public land, water areas and park areas for outdoor recreational purposes by limiting their liability to persons going thereon and to third persons who may be damaged by the acts or omissions of persons going thereon.

(2)(a) An owner or lessee who provides the public with a park area for outdoor recreational purposes owes no duty of care to keep that park area safe for entry or use by others, or to give warning to persons entering or going on that park area of any hazardous conditions, structures, or activities thereon. An owner or lessee who provides the public with a park area for outdoor recreational purposes shall not by providing that park area:

1. Be presumed to extend any assurance that such park area is safe for any purpose,
2. Incur any duty of care toward a person who goes on that park area, or
3. Become liable or responsible for any injury to persons or property caused by the act or omission of a person who goes on that park area.

(b) This section shall not apply if there is any charge made or usually made for entering or using such park area, or any part thereof, or if any commercial or other activity for profit is conducted on such park area, or any part thereof.

(3)(a) An owner of land or water area leased to the state for outdoor recreational purposes owes no duty of care to keep that land or water area safe for entry or use by others, or to give warning to persons entering or going on that land or water of any hazardous conditions, structures, or activities thereon. An owner who leases land or water area to the state for outdoor recreational purposes shall not by giving such lease:

1. Be presumed to extend any assurance that such land or water area is safe for any purpose,
2. Incur any duty of care toward a person who goes on the leased land or water area, or

(b) The foregoing applies whether the person going on the leased land or water area is an invitee, licensee, trespasser, or otherwise.

(4) This act does not relieve any person of liability which would otherwise exist for deliberate, willful or malicious injury to persons or property. The provisions hereof shall not be deemed to create or increase the liability of any person.

(5) The term "outdoor recreational purposes" as used in this act shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, hunting, fishing, swimming, boating, camping, picnicking, hiking, pleasure driving, nature study, water skiing, motorcycling, and visiting historical, archaeological, scenic, or scientific sites.

376.011 Short title.—This chapter shall be known as the "Pollutant Spill Prevention and Control Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-244; s. 1, ch. 74-336.

376.021 Legislative intent.—

(1) The Legislature finds and declares that the highest and best use of the seacoast of the state is as a source of public and private recreation.

(2) The Legislature further finds and declares that the preservation of this use is a matter of the highest urgency and priority, and that such use can only be served effectively by maintaining the coastal waters, estuaries, tidal flats, beaches, and public lands adjoining the seacoast in as close to a pristine condition as possible, taking into account multiple use accommodations necessary to provide the broadest possible promotion of public and private interests.

(3) The Legislature further finds and declares that:

(a) The transfer of pollutants between vessels, between onshore facilities and vessels, between offshore facilities and vessels, and between terminal facilities within the jurisdiction of the state and state waters is a hazardous undertaking;

(b) Spills, discharges, and escapes of pollutants occurring as a result of procedures involved in the transfer, storage, and transportation of such products pose threats of great danger and damage to the environment of the state, to owners and users of shore front property, to public and private recreation, to citizens of the state and other interests deriving livelihood from marine-related activities, and to the beauty of the Florida coast;

(c) Such hazards have frequently occurred in the past, are occurring now, and present future threats of potentially catastrophic proportions, all of which are expressly declared to be inimical to the paramount interests of the state as herein set forth; and

(d) Such state interests outweigh any economic burdens imposed by the Legislature upon those engaged in transferring pollutants and related activities.

(4) The Legislature intends by the enactment of this chapter to exercise the police power of the state by conferring upon the Department of Natural Resources power to:

(a) Deal with the hazards and threats of danger and damage posed by such transfers and related activities;

(b) Require the prompt containment and removal of pollution occasioned thereby; and

(c) Establish a fund to provide for the inspection and supervision of such activities and guarantee the prompt payment of reasonable damage claims resulting therefrom.

(5) The Legislature further finds and declares that the preservation of the public uses referred to herein is of grave public interest and concern to the state in promoting its general welfare, preventing diseases, promoting health, and providing for the public safety and that the state's interest in such preservation outweighs any burdens of liability imposed by the Legislature upon those engaged in transferring pollutants and related activities.

(6) The Legislature further declares that it is the intent of this chapter to support and complement applicable provisions of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, specifically those provisions relating to the national contingency plan for removal of pollutants.

History.—s. 2, ch. 70-244; s. 2, ch. 74-336.

A vessel shall be considered a terminal facility only in the event of a ship-to-ship transfer of pollutants, and only that vessel going to or coming from the place of transfer and the terminal facility. For the purposes of this chapter, "terminal facility" shall not be construed to include waterfront facilities owned and operated by governmental entities acting as agents of public convenience for operators engaged in the drilling for or pumping, storing, handling, transferring, processing, or refining of pollutants; however, each operator engaged in the drilling for or pumping, storing, handling, transferring, processing, or refining of pollutants through a waterfront facility owned and operated by said governmental entity shall be construed as a terminal facility.

376.041 Pollution of waters and lands of the state prohibited.—The discharge of pollutants into or upon any coastal waters, estuaries, tidal flats, beaches, and lands adjoining the seacoast of the state in the manner defined by this chapter is prohibited.

376.051 Powers and duties of the department.—

(1) The powers and duties conferred by this chapter shall be exercised by the Department of Natural Resources and shall be deemed to be an essential governmental function in the exercise of the police power of the state. The Department of Environmental Regulation is directed to cooperate with the Department of Natural Resources and to offer consultative services, enforcement, prosecution, and technical advice to the department. The department may call upon any other state agency for consultative services and technical advice and the agencies are directed to cooperate in said request.

(2) The powers and duties of the department under this chapter shall extend to the boundaries of the state described in s. 1, Art. II of the State Constitution.

(3) Registration certificates required under this chapter shall be issued from the department subject to such terms and conditions as are set forth in this chapter and as set forth in rules and regulations promulgated by the department as authorized herein.

(4) Whenever it becomes necessary for the state to protect the public interest under this chapter, it shall be the duty of the department to keep an accurate record of costs and expenses incurred and thereafter diligently to pursue the recovery of any sums so incurred from the person responsible or from the Government of the United States under any applicable federal act.

(5) The department may bring an action on behalf of the state to enforce the liabilities imposed by s. 376.12. The Department of Legal Affairs shall represent the department in any such proceeding.

History.—s. 5, ch. 70-244; s. 2, ch. 71-137; s. 5, ch. 74-336; s. 62, ch. 79-65.

376.06 Operation without registration prohibited.—

(1) No person shall operate or cause to be operated a terminal facility as defined in s. 376.031(9) without a registration certificate.

(2) Registration certificates shall be issued on an annual basis and shall expire on December 31 annually, subject to such terms and conditions as the department may determine are necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

(3) As a condition precedent to the issuance or renewal of a registration certificate, the department shall require satisfactory evidence that the applicant has implemented, or is in the process of implementing, state and federal plans and regulations for prevention, control, and abatement of pollution when a discharge occurs.

(4) Registration certificates issued to any terminal facility shall include vessels used to transport pollutants between the facility and vessels within state waters.

(5) The department shall require, in connection with the issuance of a terminal facility registration certificate, the payment of a reasonable fee for processing applications for registration certificates. This fee shall be in addition to the excise tax imposed by s. 376.11(4). The fee shall be reasonably related to the administrative costs of verifying data submitted pursuant to obtaining the certificates and reasonable inspections; however, the fee shall not exceed $250 per terminal facility per year.

(6) No later than October 1, 1974, every owner or operator of a terminal facility shall obtain a registration certificate. The department shall issue a registration certificate upon the showing that the registrant can provide all required equipment to prevent, contain, and remove discharges of pollutants.

(7) On or after a date to be determined by the department, but in no case later than October 1, 1974, no person shall operate or cause to be operated any terminal facility without a terminal facility registration certificate issued by the department. No registration certificate shall be valid for more than 1 year unless revalidated by the department. Each applicant for a terminal facility registration certificate shall pay the registration certificate application fee and shall submit information, in a form satisfactory to the department, describing the following:

(a) The barrel or other measurement capacity of the terminal facility.

(b) All prevention, containment, and removal equipment, including, but not limited to, vehicles, vessels, pumps, skimmers, booms, chemicals, and communication devices to which the facility has access, whether through direct ownership or by contract or membership in an approved discharge cleanup organization.

(c) The terms of agreement and operation plan of any discharge cleanup organization to which the owner or operator of the terminal facility belongs.

(8) Upon showing of satisfactory containment and cleanup capability under this section, and upon payment of the registration certificate application fee required by the department under this section, the applicant shall be issued a registration certificate covering the terminal facility and related appurtenances, including vessels as defined in s. 376.031(12).

376.07 Regulatory powers of department.—

The department shall from time to time adopt, amend, repeal, and enforce reasonable regulations insofar as they relate to discharges of pollutants into the waters of this state or onto the coasts of this state.

(1) The regulations shall be adopted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 120.

(2) The department shall adopt regulations including, but not limited to, the following matters:

(a) Operation and inspection requirements for terminal facilities, vessels, and other matters relating to certification under this chapter, but shall not require vessels to maintain spill prevention gear, holding tanks of any kind, and containment gear in excess of federal requirements.

(b) Procedures and methods of reporting discharges and other occurrences prohibited by this chapter.

(c) Procedures, methods, means, and equipment to be used by persons subject to regulation by this chapter in the removal of pollutants.

(d) Development and implementation of criteria and plans to meet pollution occurrences of various degrees and kinds.

(e) Creation by contract or administrative action of a state response team which shall be responsible for creating and maintaining a contingency plan of response, organization, and equipment for handling emergency cleanup operations. The state plans shall include detailed emergency operating procedures for the state as a whole and the team shall from time to time conduct practice alerts. These plans shall be filed with the governor and all Coast Guard stations in the state and Coast Guard captains of the port having responsibility for enforcement of federal pollution laws within the state, on or before January 1, 1975. The contingency plan shall include all necessary information for the total containment and cleanup of pollution, including but not limited to an inventory of equipment and its location, a table of organization with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all persons responsible for implementing every phase of the plan, a list of available sources of supplies necessary for cleanup, and a designation of priority zones to determine the sequence and methods of cleanup. The state response team shall act independently of agencies of the Federal Government but is directed to cooperate with any federal cleanup operation.

(f) Requirements for minimum weather and sea conditions for permitting a vessel to enter port and for the safety and operation of vessels, barges, tugs, motor vehicles, motorized equipment, and other equipment relating to the use and operation of terminals, facilities, and refineries, the approach and departure from terminals, facilities, and refineries and requirements that containment gear approved by the department be on hand and maintained by terminal facilities and refineries with adequate personnel trained in its use.

(g) Requirements that, prior to being granted entry into any port in this state, the master of a vessel shall report:

1. Any discharges of pollutants the vessel has had since leaving the last port;

2. Any mechanical problem on the vessel which creates the possibility of a discharge; and

3. Any denial of entry into any port during the current cruise of the vessel.

Any person who shall make or cause to be made any false statement in response to requirements of any provisions of this chapter with a fraudulent intent shall be guilty of a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084, as required in s. 837.01.

(h) Requirements that any registrant causing or permitting the discharge of a pollutant in violation of the provisions of this chapter, and at other reasonable times, be subject to a complete and thorough inspection. If the department determines there are unsatisfactory preventive measures or containment and cleanup capabilities, it shall, a reasonable time after notice and hearing in compliance with chapter 120, suspend the registration until such time as there is compliance with the department requirements.

(i) Such other rules and regulations as the exigencies of any condition may require or as may reasonably be necessary to carry out the intent of this chapter.

376.09 Removal of prohibited discharges.—

(1) Any person discharging pollutants as prohibited by s. 376.041 shall immediately undertake to contain, remove, and abate the discharge to the department's satisfaction. Notwithstanding the above requirement, the department may undertake the removal of the discharge and may contract and retain agents who shall operate under the direction of the department.

(2) If the person causing a discharge, or the person in charge of facilities at which a discharge has taken place, fails to act, the department may arrange for the removal of the pollutant, except that if the pollutant was discharged into or upon the navigable waters of the United States, the department shall act in accordance with the national contingency plan for removal of such pollutant as established pursuant to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, and the costs of removal incurred by the department shall be paid in accordance with the applicable provisions of said law. Federal funds provided under said act shall be used to the maximum extent possible prior to the expenditure of state funds.

(3) In the event of discharge the source of which is unknown, any local discharge cleanup organization shall, upon the request of the department or its designee, immediately contain and remove the discharge. No action taken by any person to contain or remove a discharge, whether such action is taken voluntarily or at the request of the department or its designee, shall be construed as an admission of liability for the discharge.

(4) No person who, voluntarily or at the request of the department or its designee, renders assistance in containing or removing pollutants shall be liable for any civil damages to third parties resulting solely from acts or omissions of such person in rendering such assistance, except for acts or omissions amounting to gross negligence or willful misconduct.

(5) Nothing in this chapter shall affect in any way the right of any person who renders assistance in containing or removing pollutants to reimbursement for the costs of the containment or removal under the applicable provisions of this law or the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended, or any rights which that person may have against any third party whose acts or omissions in any way have caused or contributed to the discharge of the pollutants.

History.—s. 8, ch. 70-244; s. 1, ch. 70-439; s. 9, ch. 74-336.

376.10 Personnel and equipment.—The department shall establish and maintain at such ports within the state and other places as it shall determine such employees and equipment, other than equipment furnished by the registrant, as in its judgment may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The department may employ and prescribe the duties of such employees, subject to the rules and regulations of the Division of Personnel of the Department of Administration. The salaries of the employees and the cost of the equipment shall be paid from the Florida Coastal Protection Fund established by this chapter. The department shall periodically consult with other departments of the state and specifically with the Department of Environmental Regulation relative to procedures for the prevention of discharges of pollutants into or affecting the coastal waters of the state from operations regulated by this chapter.

376.11 Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund.—

(1) The purpose of this section is to provide a mechanism to have financial resources immediately available for cleanup and rehabilitation after a pollutant has been discharged, to prevent further damage by the pollutant, and to pay for damages. It is the legislative intent that this section be liberally construed to effect the purposes set forth, such interpretation being especially imperative in light of the danger to the environment and resources.

(2) The Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund is established, to be used by the department as a non-lapsing revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this chapter. To this fund shall be credited all excise taxes, registration fees, penalties, judgments, and other fees and charges related to this chapter. Charges against the fund shall be in accordance with this section.

(3) Moneys in the fund not needed currently to meet the obligations of the department in the exercise of its responsibilities under this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer to the credit of the fund and may be invested in such manner as is provided for by statute. Interest received on such investment shall be credited to the Florida Coastal Protection Fund.

(4)(a) There is hereby levied, to be collected from and paid by each registrant, an excise tax upon each registrant for the privilege of operating a terminal facility and handling all pollutants covered by this chapter, the amount of which is to be determined by the department as measured by the volume in barrels of liquid pollutants transferred to or from the registrant.

(b) The excise tax shall be 2 cents per barrel transferred until the balance in the fund equals or exceeds $35 million. The fiscal year immediately following the year in which the balance in the fund equals or exceeds $35 million, no excise tax shall be levied unless:

1. The balance in the fund is less than or equal to $30 million. The fiscal year immediately following the year in which the balance in the fund is less than or equal to $30 million, the excise tax shall be and shall remain 2 cents per barrel transferred until the fund again equals or exceeds $35 million. The fiscal year immediately following the year in which the fund again is equal to or exceeds $35 million, the excise tax and fund shall be controlled as when the fund first was equal to or exceeded $35 million.

2. There is a discharge of catastrophic proportions, the results of which could significantly reduce the balance in the fund. In the event of such a catastrophic occurrence, the governor and cabinet as the head of the Department of Natural Resources may, by rule, relevy the excise tax in an amount not to exceed 10 cents per barrel for a period of time sufficient to maintain the fund at a balance of $35 million, after payment of the costs and damages related to the catastrophic discharge.

3. The fund is unable to pay any proven claims against the fund at the end of the fiscal year. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the fiscal year following the year in which the fund is unable to pay any proven claims against the fund at the end of the fiscal year, the excise tax shall be and shall remain 5 cents per barrel transferred until all outstanding proven claims have been paid and the fund again equals or exceeds $10 million. The fiscal year immediately following the year in which the fund, after levy of the 5 cents excise tax, again is equal to or exceeds $10 million, the excise tax and fund shall be controlled in accordance with subparagraph 1., unless otherwise provided.

4. The Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund has had appropriated to it by the legislature, but not yet repaid, state funds from the General Revenue Fund. In such event, the excise tax shall continue in effect until all such funds are repaid to the General Revenue Fund.

(c) The excise tax provided for in this section shall be collected monthly by the Department of Revenue on the basis of records certified to the Department of Revenue and Department of Natural Resources and shall be credited to the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund. However, for the purposes of this section, the excise tax on each barrel of the pollutant shall be imposed only once, at the first transfer of the specific pollutant. Each tax barrel of the specific pollutant shall only be considered once for the purpose of this excise tax. This excise tax shall be in addition to all other taxes imposed upon or paid by the registrant.

(5) Moneys in the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund shall be disbursed for the following purposes and no others:

(a) Administrative expenses, personnel expenses, and equipment costs of the department related to the enforcement of this chapter subject to s. 376.18.

(b) All immediate costs involved in the abatement of pollution related to the discharge of pollutants covered by this chapter and the abatement of other potential pollution hazards as authorized herein.

(c) All costs and expenses of the cleanup and rehabilitation of water fowl, wildlife, and all other natural resources damaged by the discharge of pollutants, whether performed or authorized by the department or any other state or local agency.

(d) All provable costs and damages which are the proximate results of the discharge of pollutants covered by this chapter.

(6) The department shall recover to the use of the fund from the person or persons causing the discharge or from the Federal Government, jointly and severally, all sums owed or expended therefrom, pursuant to subsection 376.12(4), except that recoveries resulting from damage due to a discharge of a pollutant or other similar disaster shall be apportioned between the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund and the General Revenue Fund so as to repay the full costs to the General Revenue Fund of any sums disbursed therefrom as a result of such disaster. Requests for reimbursement to the fund for the above costs, if not paid within 30 days of demand, shall be turned over to the Department of Legal Affairs for collection.

376.12 Liabilities and defenses of terminal facilities and vessels.—

(1) Because it is the intent of this chapter to provide the means for rapid and effective cleanup and to minimize damages, any vessel, or its agents or servants, who permits or suffers a prohibited discharge or other polluting condition to take place within state boundaries shall be liable to the fund for all costs of cleanup or abatement, up to an amount not to exceed $14 million or $100 per gross registered ton of such vessel, whichever is the lesser. When the department can show that such discharge was the result of willful or gross negligence or willful misconduct within the privity or knowledge of the owner or operator or agent thereof, such owner or operator shall be liable to the fund for the full amount of such sums expended. When a discharge of pollutants occurs from a terminal facility, recovery of costs of abatement and cleanup shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $8 million, except that when the department can show that such discharge was the result of willful or gross negligence or willful misconduct within the privity or knowledge of the owner or operator, such owner or operator shall be liable to the fund for the full amount of such sums expended. In addition to the foregoing costs of cleanup, terminal facilities shall be liable to the fund for all damages in accordance with the terms of subsections (2), (3), and (4) and s. 376.11(6).

(2) Any person claiming to have suffered damages as a result of a discharge of pollutants prohibited by s. 376.041 may, within 12 months after the cause of action arises, apply to the fund, stating the amount of damage suffered as a result of the discharge. The department shall prescribe appropriate forms and details for such application, which application shall include a provision requiring the applicant to make a sworn verification of the damage claim to the best of his knowledge. The department may, upon petition and for good cause shown, waive the 12-month limitation for filing damage claims.

(a) If the claimant, the person determined by the executive director to be responsible for the discharge, and the executive director or his designee can agree to the damage claim, the department shall certify the amount of the award and the name of the claimant to the treasurer who shall pay the award from the fund, subject to the provisions of subsection (5). The settlement mutually arrived at shall be binding upon all parties as to all issues and cannot be further attacked, collaterally or by separate action, in the future.

(b) If the claimant, the person determined by the executive director to be responsible for the discharge, and the executive director or his designee cannot agree to the amount of the damage award, the claim shall forthwith be transmitted for action to the board of arbitration as provided herein. A claimant's submission of his claim to arbitration and payment resulting therefrom shall be a waiver of all other remedies. However, when the amount of proven damages exceeds the amounts available to any claimant or claimants from the fund, such claimant or claimants shall have the right to a pro rata share of all funds received by the fund until the total amount of the proven damages is paid to the claimant or claimants. The department shall be a necessary party to all arbitration and court proceedings under this section.

(c) Each person's damage claims arising from a single occurrence shall be stated in one application. Damages omitted from any claim at the time the award is made shall be deemed waived.

(d) If a person damaged by a discharge of pollutant chooses to make a claim against the fund and accepts payment from, or a judgment against, the fund, then the department shall be subrogated to any cause of action that the claimant may have had, to the extent of such payment or judgment, and shall diligently pursue recovery on that cause of action pursuant to subsection (4) and s. 376.11(6). In any such action, the amount of damages shall be proved by the department by submitting to the court a written report of the amounts paid or owed from the fund to claimants. Such written report shall be admissible in evidence, and the amounts paid from or owed by the fund to the claimants stated therein shall be irrebuttably presumed to be the amount of damages.

(e) The fund is absolutely liable for all claims proven against the fund as provided for in this section.

(3) A board of arbitration shall consist of three persons: One to be chosen by the claimants; one to be chosen by the persons determined by the department to have caused the discharge or by the fund if the discharge is of unknown origin; and one to be chosen by the first two appointed members, to serve as a neutral arbitrator. The neutral arbitrator shall serve as chairman. If the two arbitrators fail to agree upon, select, and name the neutral arbitrator within 10 days after their appointment, then the department shall request the American Arbitration Association to utilize its procedures for the selection of the neutral arbitrator. The department is a necessary party to any arbitration of legal proceedings held pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The department shall appear in any such proceedings and shall have the right to appeal any decisions as provided by this chapter.

(a) Arbitrators shall be named by their principals within 30 days after the department receives notice of claims arising from a discharge prohibited by s. 376.041. If either party fails to select an arbitrator within the said 30 days, the other party shall request the American Arbitration Association to utilize its procedures for the selection of such arbitrator, and the two arbitrators shall proceed to select the neutral arbitrator as provided in this section.

(b) Hearings before boards of arbitration shall be informal, and the rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings need not be required. The boards shall have the power to administer oaths and to subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, records, and other evidence relative or pertinent to the issues represented to them for determination. Such power shall be subject to the applicable Florida Rules of Civil Procedure.

(c) Determinations made by a majority of a board shall be subject to judicial review only in the circuit court of the circuit or circuits in which the discharge occurred.

(d) Representation on the board shall not be deemed an admission of liability for the discharge.

(4) It shall be the duty of the department in administering the fund diligently to pursue the reimbursement to the fund of any sum expended from the fund for cleanup, abatement, and damages in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. In any suit to enforce claims of the fund under this chapter, it shall not be necessary for the department in administering the fund to plead or prove negligence in any form or manner. The department in administering the fund need only plead and prove that the prohibited discharge or other polluting condition occurred. The only defenses of a person alleged to be responsible for the discharge to an action for damages, costs and expenses of cleanup, or abatement shall be to plead and prove that the occurrence was solely the result of any of the following or any combination of the following:

(a) An act of war.

(b) An act of government, either state, federal, or municipal.

(c) An act of God, which means only an unforeseeable act exclusively occasioned by the violence of nature without the interference of any human agency.

(d) An act or omission of a third party, without regard to whether any such act or omission was or was not negligent.

(5) In the event the total awards against the fund shall exceed the present balance of the fund, the claimants shall be paid from the future income of the fund.

(6) In the event the total awards for a specific occurrence exceed the current balance of the fund, the immediate award shall be paid on a prorated basis, and all claimants paid on a prorated basis shall be paid a pro rata share of all funds received by the fund until the total amount of the proven damages is paid to the claimant or claimants. However, amounts collected by the fund from the prosecution of causes of action pursuant to paragraph (2)(d) and subsection (4) shall be utilized to satisfy the claims as to which such prosecutions relate to the extent theretofore unsatisfied.

(7) Nothing contained herein shall be construed to limit the liability of vessels, terminal facilities, or the fund for damages.

(8) In addition to the civil penalty, the pilot and the master of any vessel or person in charge of any terminal facility who fails to give immediate notification of a discharge to the department or the nearest Coast Guard station shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. After reporting a discharge, a vessel shall remain in the jurisdiction of the department sufficient time to prove financial responsibility for the damages resulting from the discharge. The pilot and master of a vessel which fails to remain in the jurisdiction of the department for a reasonable time after notice of a discharge shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. In no event shall the department detain the vessel longer than 12 hours after proving financial responsibility. The department shall, by rules and regulations, require that the registrant designate a person at the terminal facility who shall be the person in charge of that facility for the purposes specified by this section.

376.13 Emergency proclamation; Governor's powers.—

(1) Whenever any disaster or catastrophe exists or appears imminent, arising from the discharge of oil, petroleum products or their by-products, or any other pollutants, the Governor shall by proclamation declare the fact and that an emergency exists in any or all sections of the state. If the Governor is unavailable, the Lieutenant Governor shall, by proclamation, declare the fact and that an emergency exists in any or all sections of the state. A copy of such proclamation shall be filed with the Department of State.

(2) In performing his duties under this section, the Governor is authorized and directed to cooperate with all departments and agencies of the federal government, the offices and agencies of other states and foreign countries and the political subdivisions thereof, and private agencies in all matters pertaining to a disaster or catastrophe.

(3) In performing his duties under this section, the Governor is further authorized and empowered:

(a) To make, amend, and rescind the necessary orders, rules, and regulations to carry out this section within the limits of the authority conferred upon him and not inconsistent with the rules, regulations, and directives of the President of the United States or of any federal department or agency having specifically authorized emergency functions.

(b) To delegate any authority vested in him under this section and to provide for the subdelegation of any such authority.

(4) Whenever the Governor is satisfied that an emergency no longer exists, he may terminate the proclamation by another proclamation affecting the sections of the state covered by the original proclamation, or any part thereof. The proclamation shall be published in such newspapers of the state and posted in such places as the Governor, or any person acting in that capacity, deems appropriate.

376.14 Terminal facilities and vessels; financial responsibility.—

(1) Each owner or operator of a terminal facility or vessel, including any barge, using any port in Florida shall be required to establish and maintain evidence of financial responsibility pursuant to federal laws and regulations. Such evidence of financial responsibility shall be the only evidence required by the department that such registrant or vessel has the ability to meet the liabilities which may be incurred under this chapter.

(2) Any claim brought pursuant to this chapter by the fund or any damaged party may be brought directly against the bond, the insurer, or any other person providing a terminal facility or vessel with evidence of financial responsibility.

(3) Each owner or operator of a terminal facility or vessel subject to the provisions of this chapter shall designate a person in the state as his legal agent for service of process under this chapter, and such designation shall be filed with the Department of State. In the absence of such designation, the secretary of state shall be the designated agent for purposes of service of process under this chapter.

376.15 Derelict vessels.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to store or leave any vessel in a wrecked, junked, or substantially dismantled condition or abandoned upon any public waters or at any port in this state without the consent of the agency having jurisdiction thereof or docked at any private property without the consent of the owner of the private property.

(2)(a) The department is hereby designated as the agency of the state authorized and empowered to remove any derelict vessel from public waters in any instance when the vessel obstructs or threatens to obstruct navigation, contributes to air or water pollution, or in any other way constitutes a danger or potential danger to the environment.

(b) This section shall constitute the authority of the department for such removal, but is not intended to be in contravention of any applicable federal act.

(c) The Department of Legal Affairs shall represent the Department of Natural Resources in such actions.

History.—s. 15, ch. 70-244; s. 1, ch. 70-439.

376.16 Enforcement and penalties.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person to violate any provision of this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order of the department made hereunder. Violation shall be punishable by a civil penalty of up to $50,000 per violation per day to be assessed by the department. Each day during any portion of which the violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.

(2) Penalties assessed herein for a discharge shall be the only penalties assessed by the state, and the assessed person or persons shall be excused from paying any additional penalty for water pollution assessable under chapter 403 for the same occurrence.

(3) The penalty provisions of this section shall not apply to any discharge promptly reported and removed by a registrant or vessel in accordance with the rules, regulations and orders of the department.

History.—ss. 10, 16, ch. 70-244; ss. 7, 14, ch. 74-336.

376.165 "Hold-harmless" agreements prohibited.—Any agreement entered into after July 1, 1974, to "hold-harmless" a vessel or terminal facility from liability for the occurrence of a discharge prohibited by this chapter, agreed to by a governmental agency or political subdivision, is deemed contrary to public policy and is hereby prohibited.

History.—s. 14, ch. 74-336.

376.18 Budget approval.—The department shall submit to each regular session of the Legislature its budget recommendations for disbursements from the fund pursuant only to paragraph 376.11(5)(a). Upon appropriation thereof by the Legislature, the Comptroller shall authorize expenditures therefrom as approved by the department.

History.—s. 18, ch. 70-244; s. 16, ch. 74-336.

376.19 County and municipal ordinances; powers limited.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to deny any county or municipality authority to exercise police powers by ordinance or law under any general or special act, and laws and ordinances promulgated in furtherance of the intent of this chapter to promote the general welfare, public health, and public safety shall be valid unless in direct conflict with the provisions of this chapter or any rule, regulation, or order of the department adopted under authority of this chapter. However, in order to avoid unnecessary duplication, no county, municipality, or other political subdivision of the state may adopt or establish a similar program of licensing and fees for the accomplishment of the purposes of this chapter.

History.—s. 19, ch. 70-244.

376.20 Limitation on application.—Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to apply to the storage or transportation of liquefied petroleum gas or to industrial effluents discharged into the waters or atmosphere of the state pursuant to either a federal or state permit.

376.205 Individual cause of action for damages.—The remedies in this act shall be deemed to be cumulative and not exclusive. Nothing in this act shall require pursuit of any claim against the fund as a condition precedent to any other remedy. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, nothing contained herein shall prohibit any person from bringing a cause of action in a court of competent jurisdiction for all damages resulting from a discharge or other condition of pollution covered by this chapter. In any such suit, it shall not be necessary for the person to plead or prove negligence in any form or manner. Such person need only plead and prove the fact of the prohibited discharge or other pollutive condition and that it occurred. The only defenses to such cause of action shall be those specified in subsection 376.12(4). In addition to any other remedy, the injured party shall be entitled to recover costs of the action and reasonable attorneys' fees.

History.—s. 18, ch. 74-336.

376.21 Construction.—This chapter, being necessary for the general welfare and the public health and safety of the state and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes set forth under this chapter and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended.

History.—s. 1, ch. 22823, 1945.

AN INTERSTATE COMPACT TO CONSERVE

ARTICLE I.

This agreement may become effective within any compacting state at any time as prescribed by that state, and shall become effective within those states ratifying it whenever any three of the states of Texas, Oklahoma, California, and New Mexico have ratified and Congress has given its consent. Any oil-producing state may become a party hereto as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE II.

The purpose of this compact is to conserve oil and gas by the prevention of physical waste thereof from any cause.

ARTICLE III.

Each state bound hereby agrees that within a reasonable time it will enact laws, or if laws have been enacted, then it agrees to continue the same in force, to accomplish within reasonable limits the prevention of:

- (a) The operation of any oil well with an inefficient gas-oil ratio.
- (b) The drowning with water of any stratum capable of producing oil or gas, or both oil and gas in paying quantities.
- (c) The avoidable escape into the open air or the wasteful burning of gas from a natural gas well.
- (d) The creation of unnecessary fire hazards.

(e) The drilling, equipping, locating, spacing or operating of a well or wells so as to bring about physical waste of oil or gas or loss in the ultimate recovery thereof.

(f) The inefficient, excessive or improper use of the reservoir energy in producing any well.

The enumeration of the foregoing subjects shall not limit the scope of the authority of any state.

ARTICLE IV.

Each state bound hereby agrees that it will, within a reasonable time, enact statutes, or if such statutes have been enacted then that it will continue the same in force, providing in effect that oil produced in violation of its valid oil and/or gas conservation statutes or any valid rule, order or regulation promulgated thereunder, shall be denied access to commerce; and providing for stringent penalties for the waste of either oil or gas.

ARTICLE V.

It is not the purpose of this compact to authorize the states joining herein to limit the production of oil or gas for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing the price thereof, or create or perpetuate monopoly, or to promote regimentation, but is limited to the purpose of conserving oil and gas and preventing the avoidable waste thereof within reasonable limitations.

ARTICLE VI.

Each state joining herein shall appoint one representative to a commission hereby constituted and designated as THE INTERSTATE OIL COMPACT COMMISSION, the duty of which said commission shall be to make inquiry and ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances and conditions as may be disclosed for bringing about conservation and the prevention of physical waste of oil and gas, and at such intervals as said commission deems beneficial it shall report its findings and recommendations to the several states for adoption or rejection.

The commission shall have power to recommend the coordination of the exercise of the police powers of the several states within their several jurisdictions to promote the maximum ultimate recovery from the petroleum reserves of said states, and to recommend measures for the maximum ultimate recovery of oil and gas. Said commission shall organize and adopt suitable rules and regulations for the conduct of its business.

No action shall be taken by the commission except: (1) By the affirmative votes of the majority of the whole number of the compacting states, represented at any meeting, and (2) by a concurring vote of a majority in interest of the compacting states at said meeting, such interest to be determined as follows: Such vote of each state shall be in the decimal proportion fixed by the ratio of its daily average production during the preceding calendar half-year to the daily average production of the compacting states during said period.

ARTICLE VII.

No state by joining herein shall become financially obligated to any other state, nor shall the breach of the terms hereof by any state subject such state to financial responsibility to the other states joining herein.

ARTICLE VIII.

This compact shall expire September 1, 1937, but any state joining herein may, upon 60 days' notice, withdraw herefrom.

The representative of the signatory states have signed this agreement in a single original which shall be deposited in the archives of the Department of State of the United States, and a duly certified copy shall be forwarded to the governor of each of the signatory states.

This compact shall become effective when ratified and approved as provided in Article I. Any oil-producing state may become a party hereto by affixing its signature to a counterpart to be similarly deposited, certified and ratified.

Done in the City of Dallas, Texas, this sixteenth day of February, 1935.

History.—s. 2, ch. 22823, 1945.

377.03 Extension of compact.—The Governor of Florida is further authorized and empowered, for and in the name of the state, to execute agreements for the further extension of the expiration date of the said "The Interstate Oil Compact" to conserve oil and gas, and to determine if and when it shall be for the best interest of the state to withdraw from said compact upon 60 days' notice as provided by its terms. In the event he shall determine that the state should withdraw from said compact he shall have full power and authority to give necessary notice and to take any and all steps necessary and proper to effect the withdrawal of the state from said compact.

History.—s. 3, ch. 22823, 1945.

from, to encourage the continuous and economic supply of the demand therefor; to safeguard the health, property and public welfare of the citizens of said state and other interested persons and for all purposes indicated by the provisions herein. (5) NOTIFYING OWNER OF DEPOSITS LOCATED.—The person in charge of the Division of Resource Management and his assistants, when they discover any mineral deposits, or other substance of value shall notify the owner of the land upon which such deposits occur. Failure to notify the owner of such deposit before disclosing the same to any other person shall constitute a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(6) CHEMICAL ANALYSIS BY STATE CHEMIST.—All chemical, analytical or assay work shall be performed by the state chemist and his assistants at the direction of the Governor upon request of the Division of Resource Management.

377.10 Certain persons not to be employed by division.—No person in the employ of, or holding any official connection or position with any person, firm, partnership, corporation or association of any kind, engaged in the business of buying or selling mineral leases, drilling wells in the search of oil or gas, producing, transporting, refining, or distributing oil or gas shall hold any position under, or be employed by, the Division of Resource Management in the prosecution of its duties under this law.

377.18 Common sources of oil and gas.—All common sources of supply of oil and gas or either of them shall have the production therefrom controlled or regulated in accordance with the provisions of this law.

History.—s. 13, ch. 22819, 1945.

377.19 Definitions.—Unless the context otherwise requires, the words defined in this section shall have the following meanings when found in ss. 377.06, 377.07, 377.10-377.40:

(1) "Division" shall mean the Division of Resource Management of the Department of Natural Resources.

(2) "State" shall mean the State of Florida.

(3) "Person" shall mean any natural person, corporation, association, partnership, receiver, trustee, guardian, executor, administrator, fiduciary, or representative of any kind.

(4) "Oil" shall mean crude petroleum oil and other hydrocarbons, regardless of gravity, which are produced at the well in liquid form by ordinary production methods, and which are not the result of condensation of gas after it leaves the reservoir.

(5) "Gas" shall mean all natural gas, including casinghead gas, and all other hydrocarbons not defined as oil in subsection (4) above.

(6) "Pool" shall mean an underground reservoir containing or appearing to contain a common accumulation of oil or gas or both. Each zone of a general structure which is completely separated from any other zone on the structure is considered a separate pool as used herein.

(7) "Field" shall mean the general area which is underlaid, or appears to be underlaid, by at least one pool; and "field" shall include the underground reservoir, or reservoirs, containing oil or gas, or both. The words "field" and "pool" mean the same thing when only one underground reservoir is involved; however, "field" unlike "pool," may relate to two or more pools.

(8) "Owner" shall mean the person who has the right to drill into and to produce from any pool, and to appropriate the production either for himself or for himself and another, or others.

(9) "Producer" shall mean the owner or operator of a well or wells capable of producing oil or gas, or both.

(10) "Waste," in addition to its ordinary meaning, shall mean "physical waste" as that term is generally understood in the oil and gas industry. "Waste" shall include:

(a) The inefficient, excessive or improper use or dissipation of reservoir energy; and the locating, spacing, drilling, equipping, operating or producing of any oil or gas well or wells in a manner which results, or tends to result, in reducing the quantity of oil or gas ultimately to be recovered from any pool in this state.

(b) The inefficient storing of oil; and the locating, spacing, drilling, equipping, operating, or producing of any oil or gas well or wells in a manner causing, or tending to cause, unnecessary or excessive surface loss or destruction of oil or gas.

(c) Producing oil or gas in such a manner as to cause unnecessary water channeling or coning.

(d) The operation of any oil well or wells with an inefficient gas-oil ratio.

(e) The drowning with water of any stratum or part thereof, capable of producing oil or gas.

(f) Underground waste however caused and whether or not defined.

(g) The creation of unnecessary fire hazards.

(h) The escape into the open air, from a well producing both oil and gas, of gas in excess of the amount which is necessary in the efficient drilling or operation of the well.

(i) The use of gas for the manufacture of carbon black.

(j) Permitting gas produced from a gas well to escape into the air.

(k) Abuse of the correlative rights and opportunities of each owner of oil and gas in a common reservoir due to nonuniform, disproportionate and unratable withdrawals, causing undue drainage between tracts of land.

liquid products or byproducts derived from oil or gas, and blends or mixtures of two or more liquid products or byproducts derived from oil or gas, whether hereinabove enumerated or not.

(12) "Illegal oil" shall mean oil which has been produced within the state from any well, or wells, in excess of the amount allowed by rule, regulation or order of the division, as distinguished from oil produced within the state from a well not producing in excess of the amount so allowed, which is "legal oil."

(13) "Illegal gas" shall mean gas which has been produced within the state from any well or wells in excess of the amount allowed by any rule, regulation or order of the division, as distinguished from gas produced within the State of Florida from a well not producing in excess of the amount so allowed, which is "legal gas."

(14) "Illegal product" shall mean any product of oil or gas, any part of which was processed or derived, in whole or in part, from illegal gas or illegal oil or from any product thereof, as distinguished from "legal product," which is a product processed or derived to no extent from illegal oil or illegal gas.

(15) "Reasonable market demand" shall mean the amount of oil reasonably needed for current consumption, together with a reasonable amount of oil for storage and working stocks.

(16) "Tender" shall mean a permit or certificate of clearance for the transportation or the delivery of oil, gas or products, approved and issued or registered under the authority of the division.

(17) The use of the word "and" shall include the word "or" and the use of "or" shall include "and," unless the context clearly requires a different meaning, especially with respect to such expressions as "oil and gas" or "oil or gas."

(18) "Well site" shall mean the general area around a well, which area has been disturbed from its natural or existing condition, as well as the drilling or production pad, mud and water circulation pits, and other operation areas necessary to drill for or produce oil or gas.

(1) The division shall have jurisdiction and authority over all persons and property necessary to administer and enforce effectively the provisions of this law and all other laws relating to the conservation of oil and gas.

(2) The division shall have authority, and it shall be its duty, to make such inquiries as it may deem proper to determine whether waste, over which it has jurisdiction, exists or is imminent. In the exercise of such power, the division shall have the authority to:

(a) Collect data.

(b) Make investigations and inspections.

(c) Examine properties, leases, papers, books, and records and to examine, survey, check, test, and gauge oil and gas wells, tanks, storage tanks, treatment plants and facilities, and modes of transportation used to gather and process crude oil or gas and products derived from wells within the state, prior to delivery to a common carrier.

(d) Hold hearings.

(e) Provide for the keeping of records and the making of reports.

(f) Take such action as may be reasonably necessary to enforce this law.

(3) The jurisdiction of the division shall extend to the state boundaries as set forth in s. 1, Art. II of the State Constitution.

History.—s. 16, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 72-394; s. 1, ch. 76-188.

377.22 Rules, regulations and orders.—

(1) The Department of Natural Resources shall provide, by rules and regulations, for ratable takings in all pools on a reasonable and equitable basis.

(2) The department shall adopt such rules and regulations, and shall issue such orders, governing all phases of the exploration, drilling, and production of oil, gas, or other petroleum products in the state, including exploration, drilling, and production in the offshore waters of the state as may be necessary for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter. Such rules, regulations, and orders shall ensure that all precautions are taken to prevent the spillage of oil or any other pollutant in all phases of the drilling for, and extracting of, oil, gas, or other petroleum products. The department shall revise such rules and regulations from time to time as may be necessary for the proper administration and enforcement of this chapter. Rules, regulations, and orders promulgated in accordance with this section shall be for, but shall not be limited to, the following purposes:

(a) To require the drilling, casing, and plugging of wells to be done in such a manner as to prevent the pollution of the fresh, salt, or brackish waters or the lands of the state.

(b) To prevent the alteration of the sheet flow of water in any area.

(c) To require that appropriate safety equipment be installed to minimize the possibility of an escape of oil or other petroleum products in the event of accident, human error, or a natural disaster during drilling, casing, or plugging of any well and during extraction operations.

(d) To require the drilling, casing, and plugging of wells to be done in such a manner as to prevent the escape of oil or other petroleum products from one stratum to another.

(e) To prevent the intrusion of water into an oil or gas stratum from a separate stratum except as provided by rules of the division relating to the injection of water for proper reservoir conservation and brine disposal.

(f) To require a reasonable bond, conditioned upon the performance of the duty to plug properly each dry and abandoned well and the full and complete restoration, by the applicant, of the area over which the drilling or production is conducted to the similar contour and general condition in existence prior to such operation.

(g) To require and carry out a reasonable program of monitoring or inspection of all drilling operations or producing wells, including regular inspections by division personnel.

(h) To require the making of reports showing the location of all oil and gas wells, the making and filing of logs, the taking and filing of directional surveys, the filing of electrical, sonic, radioactive, and mechanical logs of oil and gas wells, if taken, the saving of cutting and cores, the cuts of which shall be given to the Bureau of Geology, and the making of reports with respect to drilling and production records. However, such information, or any part thereof, at the request of the operator, shall be held confidential by the division for a period of 90 days after the completion of a well, and, at the option of the division, for a longer period.

(i) To prevent wells from being drilled, operated or produced in such a manner as to cause injury to neighboring leases or property.

(j) To prevent the drowning by water of any stratum, or part thereof, capable of producing oil or gas in paying quantities, and to prevent the premature and irregular encroachment of water which reduces, or tends to reduce, the total ultimate recovery of oil or gas from any pool.

(k) To require the operation of wells with efficient gas-oil ratio, and to fix such ratios.

(l) To prevent "blow outs," "caving" and "seepage," in the sense that conditions indicated by such terms are generally understood in the oil and gas business.

(m) To prevent fires.

(n) To identify the ownership of all oil or gas wells, producing leases, refineries, tanks, plants, structures and all storage and transportation equipment and facilities.

(o) To regulate the "shooting," perforating and chemical treatment of wells.

(p) To regulate secondary recovery methods, including the introduction of gas, air, water, or other substance into producing formations.

(q) To regulate gas cycling operations.

(r) If necessary for the prevention of waste, as herein defined, to determine, limit and prorate the production of oil or gas, or both, from any pool or field in the state.

(s) To require, either generally or in or from particular areas, certificates of clearance or tenders in connection with the transportation or delivery of oil or gas, or any product.

(t) To regulate the spacing of wells and to establish drilling units.

(u) To prevent, so far as is practical, reasonably avoidable drainage from each developed unit which is not equalized by counterdrainage.

377.23 Monthly reports to division.—Every producer of oil or gas in the state shall submit to the division, on forms prescribed by the division, a monthly report of the actual production from each and every oil and gas well operated by him. Said producer shall submit a duplicate copy of said report at the same time to the Department of Banking and Finance; and said reports shall be submitted through the medium of the United States mails, and it shall be unlawful for the same to be transmitted or received in any other way.

History.—s. 17, ch. 22819, 1945; s. 1, ch. 69-266; ss. 12, 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.24 Notice of intention to drill well; permits; abandoned wells and dry holes.—

(1) Before any well in search of oil or gas shall be drilled, the person desiring to drill the same shall notify the division upon such form as it may prescribe and shall pay a fee of $50 for each well. The drilling of any well is hereby prohibited until such notice is given and such fee has been paid and permit granted.

(2) Each application for the drilling of a well in search of oil or gas in this state shall include the address of the residence of the applicant, or each applicant, which address shall be the address of each person involved in accordance with the records of the Division of Resource Management until such address is changed on the records of the division after written request.

(3) Each abandoned well and each dry hole shall be plugged promptly in the manner and within the time required by regulations to be prescribed by the Department of Natural Resources, and the owner of such well shall give notice upon such form as the division may prescribe, of the drilling of each dry hole and of the owner's intention to abandon, and shall pay a fee of $15. No well shall be abandoned until such notice has been given and such fee has been paid.

(4) Application for permission to drill or abandon any well may be denied by the division for only just and lawful cause.

(5) No permit to drill a gas or oil well shall be granted within the corporate limits of any municipality, unless the governing authority of the municipality shall have first duly approved the application for such permit by resolution.

(6) No permit to drill a gas or oil well shall be granted at a location in the tidal waters of the state, abutting or immediately adjacent to the corporate limits of a municipality or within 3 miles of such corporate limits extending from the line of mean high tide into such waters, unless the governing authority of the municipality shall have first duly approved the application for such permit by resolution.

(7) No permit to drill a gas or oil well shall be granted on any improved beach, located outside of an incorporated town or municipality, or at a location in the tidal waters of the state abutting or immediately adjacent to an improved beach, or within 3 miles of an improved beach extending from the line of mean high tide into such tidal waters, unless the county commissioners of the county in which such beach is located shall have first duly approved the application for such permit by resolution.

(8) For the purposes of this section and law, an improved beach, situated outside of the corporate limits of any municipality or town, shall be and is hereby defined to be any beach adjacent to or abutting upon the tidal waters of the state and having not less than 10 hotels, apartment buildings, residences or other structures, used for residential purposes, on or to any given mile of such beach.

History.—s. 18, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 68, ch. 79-65.

377.241 Criteria for issuance of permits.—The division, in the exercise of its authority to issue permits as hereinafter provided, shall give consideration to and be guided by the following criteria:

(1) The nature, character and location of the lands involved; whether rural, such as farms, groves, or ranches, or urban property vacant or presently developed for residential or business purposes or are in such a location or of such a nature as to make such improvements and developments a probability in the near future.

(2) The nature, type and extent of ownership of the applicant, including such matters as the length of time the applicant has owned the rights claimed without having performed any of the exploratory operations so granted or authorized.

(3) The proven or indicated likelihood of the presence of oil, gas or related minerals in such quantities as to warrant the exploration and extraction of such products on a commercially profitable basis.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-299; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.242 Permits for drilling or exploring and extracting through well holes or surface extractions.—The Division of Resource Management shall be vested with the power and authority:

(1) To issue permits for the drilling, exploring for, or production of oil, gas, or other petroleum products which are to be extracted from below the surface of the land, including submerged lands, only through the well hole drilled for oil, gas, and other petroleum products. No permit shall be required for preliminary geophysical tests and other exploratory operations prior to actual drilling which are now permitted by the division for oil, gas and other petroleum products. No structure intended for the drilling for, or production of, oil, gas, or other petroleum products may be constructed on submerged lands within 1 mile seaward of the coastline of the state or as otherwise provided in s. 377.24(7). No such structures shall be constructed within 1 mile of the seaward boundary of any state, local, or federal park or aquatic or wildlife preserve or on the surface of freshwater lakes, rivers, and streams. No permit shall be granted within 1 mile inland from the coastline unless the division is satisfied that the estuaries, beaches, and shore areas of the state will be adequately protected in the event of accident. Each permit shall contain an agreement by the permitholder that said permitholder will not prevent inspection by division personnel at any time.

(2) To issue permits to explore for and extract minerals which are subject to extraction from the land by means other than through a well hole.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-299; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 72-394; s. 69, ch. 79-65.

377.2421 Division to review federal applications.—The division shall review all applications for federal oil leases in the territorial waters of the United States adjacent to Florida waters and shall signify its approval or objection to each application.

History.—s. 4, ch. 72-394.

377.243 Conditions for granting permits for extraction through well holes.—

(1) Prior to the application to the Division of Resource Management for the permit to drill for oil, gas, and related products referred to in s. 377.242(1), the applicant must own a valid deed, or other muniment of title, or lease granting said applicant the privilege to explore for oil, gas, or related mineral products to be extracted only through the well hole on the land or lands included in the application. However, unallocated interests may be unitized according to s. 377.27.

(2) As a condition precedent to the issuance or renewal of a permit, the division shall require satisfactory evidence that the applicant has implemented, or is in the process of implementing, programs for control of pollution related to oil, petroleum products or their byproducts, and other pollutants and the abatement thereof when a discharge occurs.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-299; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 5, ch. 72-394; s. 70, ch. 79-65.

377.244 Conditions for granting permits for surface exploratory and extraction operations.—

(1) Exploration for and extraction of minerals under and by virtue of the authority of a grant of oil, gas or mineral rights, or which, subsequent to such grant, may be interpreted to include the right to explore for and extract minerals which are subject to extraction from the land by means other than through a well hole, that is by means of surface exploratory and extraction operations such as sifting of the sands, dragline, open pit mining or other type of surface operation, which would include movement of sands, dirt, rock, or minerals, shall be exercised only pursuant to permit issued by the Division of Resource Management upon applicant complying with the following conditions:

(a) Applicant must own a valid deed, or other muniment of title, or lease granting applicant the right to explore for and extract oil, gas and other minerals from said lands.

(b) The applicant shall post a good and sufficient surety bond with the division in such amount as the division may determine is adequate to afford full and complete protection for the owner of the surface rights of the lands described in the application, conditioned upon the full and complete restoration, by the applicant, of the area over which the exploratory and extraction operations are conducted to the same condition and contour in existence prior to such operations.

(2) The provisions of this act shall not apply to the exploration and removal from lands of peat, muck, marl, limestone, limerock, kaolin, fuller's earth, phosphate, common clays, gravel, shell, sand and similar substances; it being the legislative determination that the mining and extraction operations, and the grants of authority under which these activities are conducted for said substances exempted from the provisions of this act, are dissimilar from the exploratory and extraction operations and the grants of authority under which these activities are conducted for substances which come within the purview of the regulatory provisions of this act.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-299; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 71, ch. 79-65.

377.245 Provision for distribution of earnings to lessees or owners of the fractional undivided mineral rights not owned by applicant for permit under ss. 377.243 and 377.244.—Lessees or owners of the fractional undivided oil, gas or other mineral rights in lands described in permits issued under the provisions of ss. 377.243 and 377.244, not owned by the applicant named in said permits, shall, as to all productive wells or surface mineral operations on said lands, be entitled to and be paid their pro rata part of the earnings after costs of exploration and operation have been allocated. The division shall prescribe such reasonable and appropriate rules and regulations as shall be deemed necessary and proper to implement the provisions of this section and all other sections of this act.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-299; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.25 Production pools; drilling units.—

(1) No rule, regulation or order of the division shall be such in terms or effect:

(a) That it shall be necessary at any time for the producer from, or the owner of, a tract of land in the pool, in order that he may obtain such tract's just and equitable share of the production of such pool, as such share is set forth in this section, to drill and operate any well or wells on such tract in addition to such well or wells as can without waste produce such share, or

(b) As to occasion net drainage from a tract, unless there be drilled and operated upon such tract a well or wells in addition to such well or wells thereon as can without waste produce such tract's just and equitable share, as set forth in this section, of the production of such pool.

(2) For the prevention of waste and to avoid the augmenting and accumulation of risks arising from the drilling of an excessive number of wells, the board shall establish a drilling unit or units for each pool. A drilling unit, as contemplated herein, means the maximum area in a pool which may be efficiently and economically drained by one well, and such unit shall constitute a developed area as long as a well is located thereon which is capable of producing oil or gas in paying quantities.

(3) Each well permitted to be drilled upon any drilling unit shall be drilled approximately in the center thereof, with such exception as may be reasonably necessary where the division finds that the unit is partly outside the pool or, for some other reason, a well approximately in the center of the unit would be nonproductive or where topographical conditions are such as to make the drilling approximately in the center of the unit unduly burdensome. Whenever an exception is granted, the division shall take such action as will offset any advantage which the person securing the exception may have over other producers by reason of the drilling of the well as an exception, and so that drainage from developed units to the tract, with respect to which the exception is granted, will be prevented or minimized, and the producer of the well drilled, as an exception, will be allowed to produce no more than his just and equitable share of the oil and gas in the pool, as such share is set forth in this section.

(4) Subject to the reasonable requirements for prevention of waste, a producer's just and equitable share of the oil and gas in the pool, also sometimes referred to as a tract's just and equitable share, is that part of the authorized production for the pool, whether it be the total which could be produced without any restriction on the amount of production, or whether it be an amount less than that which the pool could produce if no restriction on amount were imposed, which is substantially in the proportion that the quantity of recoverable oil and gas in the developed area of his tract or tracts in the pool bears to the recoverable oil and gas in the total developed area of the pool, insofar as these amounts can be practically ascertained; and, to that end, the rules, regulations, permits and orders of the division shall be such as will prevent or minimize reasonably avoidable net drainage from each developed unit, that is, drainage which is not equalized by counter-drainage, and will give to each producer the opportunity to use his just and equitable share of the reservoir energy.

History.—s. 19, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 23, ch. 78-95.

377.26 Location of wells.—Whenever the division fixes the location of any well or wells on the surface, the point at which the maximum penetration of such well into the producing formation is reached shall not unreasonably vary from the vertical drawn from the center of the hole at the surface; provided, that the division shall prescribe rules, regulations and orders governing the reasonableness of such variation.

History.—s. 20, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.27 Drilling units.—

(1) When two or more separately owned tracts of land are embraced within an established drilling unit, the owners thereof may validly agree to integrate their interest and to develop their lands as a drilling unit. Where, however, such owners have not agreed to integrate their interests, the division shall, for the prevention of waste and to avoid the risks involved in the drilling of unnecessary wells, require such owners to do so and to develop their lands as a drilling unit.

(2) Should the owners of separate tracts embraced within a drilling unit fail to agree upon the integration of the tracts and the drilling of a well on the unit, and should it be established that the division is without authority to require integration as provided for in subsection (1), then, subject to all other applicable provisions of this law, the owners of each tract embraced within the drilling unit may drill on their respective tracts; but the allowable production therefrom shall be such proportion of the allowable for the full drilling unit as the area of such separately owned tract bears to the full drilling unit.

377.28 Cycling, pooling, and unitization of oil and gas.—

(1) The Department of Natural Resources may consider the need for the operation as a unit of an entire field, or of any pool or pools, portion or portions, or combinations thereof within a field, for the production of oil or gas, or both, and other minerals which may be associated and produced therewith, in order to avoid the drilling of unnecessary wells, otherwise to prevent waste, or to increase the ultimate recovery of the unitized minerals by additional recovery methods.

(2) The department shall issue an order requiring unit operation if it finds that:

(a) Unit operation of the field, or of any pool or pools, portion or portions, or combinations thereof within the field, is reasonably necessary to prevent waste, to avoid the drilling of unnecessary wells, or to increase the ultimate recovery of oil or gas by additional recovery methods; and

(b) The estimated additional cost incident to the conduct of such operation will not exceed the value of the estimated additional recovery of oil or gas.

The phrase "additional recovery methods" as used herein includes, but is not limited to, the maintenance or partial maintenance of reservoir pressures; recycling; flooding a pool or pools, or parts thereof, with air, gas, water, liquid hydrocarbons, any other substance, or any combination thereof; or any other method of producing additional hydrocarbons approved by the department.

(3) The order shall be fair and reasonable under all the circumstances, shall protect the rights of interested parties, and shall include:

(a) A description of the area embraced, termed the "unit area" and a description of the pool or pools, or portions thereof, affected and lying within the unit area.

(b) A statement of the nature of the operations contemplated.

(c) A method of allocation among the separately owned tracts in the unit area of all the oil or gas, or both, produced from the unit pool within the unit area and not required in the conduct of such operation or unavoidably lost, such method of allocation to be on a formula that is fair and equitable and that will protect the correlative rights of all interested parties.

(d) A provision for adjustment among the owners of the unit area (not including royalty owners) of their respective investments in wells, tanks, pumps, machinery, materials, equipment, and other things and services of value attributable to the unit operations. The amount to be charged unit operations for any such item shall be determined by the owners of the unit area (not including royalty owners). However, if said owners of the unit area are unable to agree upon the amount of such charges or upon the correctness thereof, the department shall determine the amount. The net amount charged against the owners of a separately owned tract shall be considered expense of unit operation chargeable against such tract. The adjustment provided for herein may be treated separately and handled by agreements separate from the unitization agreement.

(e) A provision that the costs and expenses of unit operation, including investment, past and prospective, be charged to the separately owned tracts in the same proportions that such tracts share in unit production. The expenses chargeable to a tract shall be paid by the person not entitled to share in production free of operating costs and who, in the absence of unit operation, would be responsible for the expense of developing and operating such tracts, and such person's interest in the separately owned tract shall be primarily responsible therefor. The obligation or liability of such persons in the several, separately owned tracts for the payment of unit expense shall at all times be several, and not joint or collective. The unit operator shall have a first and prior lien upon:

1. The leasehold estate, exclusive of the royalty interest provided thereby, and upon unleased oil and gas rights, exclusive of one-eighth interest therein, in and to each separately owned tract; and

2. The interest of the owners thereof in and to the unit production and all equipment in possession of the unit, to secure the payment of the amount of the unit expense charged to and assessed against such separately owned tract.

(f) The designation of, or a provision for the selection of, a unit operator. The conduct of all unit operations by the unit operator and the selection of a successor to the unit operator shall be governed by the terms and provisions of the unitization agreements.

(g) A provision that when the full amount of any charge made against any interest in a separately owned tract is not paid when due by the person or persons primarily responsible therefor, then all of the oil and gas production allocated to the interest in default in such separately owned tract, upon which operator has a lien, may be appropriated by the unit operator and marketed and sold for the payment of such charge, together with interest at a rate of 6 percent per annum. The remaining portion of the unit production, or the proceeds derived therefrom, allocated to each separately owned tract shall in all events be regarded as royalty to be paid to the owners, free and clear of all unit expense and free and clear of any lien therefor. The owner of any overriding royalty, oil and gas payment, or other interest who is not primarily responsible for the unpaid obligation shall, to the extent of any payment or deduction from his share, be subrogated to all the rights of the unit operator with respect to the interest or interests primarily responsible for such payment. Any surplus received by the operator from any such sale of production shall be credited to the person or persons from whom it was deducted, in the proportion of their respective interest.

(h) The time the unit operation shall become effective and the manner in which, and the circumstances under which, the unit operation shall terminate.

(4) An order requiring unit operation shall not become effective unless and until:

(a) A contract incorporating the unitization agreement has been signed or ratified or approved in writing by the owners of at least 75 percent in interest as costs are shared under the terms of the order and by 75 percent in interest as production is to be allocated to the royalty owners in the unit area. If any entity owns both royalty interests and interests responsible for costs, such party may vote as an owner responsible for costs or as a royalty owner, at his election, but not as both, and his interest that is not voted shall be excluded in calculating the percentages of consent and nonconsent.

(b) A contract incorporating the required arrangements for operations has been signed or ratified or approved in writing by the owners of at least 75 percent in interest as costs are shared, and the department has made a finding to that effect either in the order or in a supplemental order. Both contracts may be encompassed in a single document. In the event the required percentage interests have not signed, ratified, or approved the said agreements within 6 months after the date of such order, or within such extended period as the department may prescribe, it shall be automatically revoked.

(5)(a) The department, by entry of new or amending orders, may from time to time add to unit operations portions of pools not theretofore included, may add to unit operations new pools or portions thereof, and may extend the unit area as required. Any such order, in providing for allocation of production from a unitized zone of the unit area, shall first allocate to such pool or pools or portion thereof so added a portion of the total production of oil or gas, or both, from all pools affected within the unit area, as enlarged, and not required in the conduct of unit operations or unavoidably lost; such allocation to be based on a formula for sharing that is considered to treat each tract and each owner fairly and equitably during the remaining course of unit operations. The production so allocated to such added pool or pools or portions thereof shall be allocated to the separately owned tracts which participate in such production on a fair and equitable basis. The remaining portion of unit production shall be allocated among the separately owned tracts within the previously established unit area in the same proportions as those specified prior to the enlargement unless such proportions are shown to be erroneous by data developed subsequent to the former determination, in which event the errors shall be corrected. Orders promulgated under this section shall become operative at 7 a.m. on the first day of the month next following the day on which the order becomes effective.

(b) An order promulgated by the department shall not become effective unless and until:

1. All of the terms and provisions of the unitization agreement relating to the extension or enlargement of the unit area or to the addition of pools or portions thereof to unit operations have been fulfilled and satisfied and evidence thereof has been submitted to the department.

2. The extension or addition effected by such order has been agreed to in writing by the owners of at least 75 percent in interest as costs are shared in the area or pools or portions thereof to be added to the unit operation by such order and by 75 percent in interest as production is to be allocated to the royalty owners in the area or pools or portions thereof to be added to the unit operations by such order and evidence thereof has been submitted to the department. If any entity owns both royalty interests and interests responsible for costs, such party may vote as an owner responsible for costs or as a royalty owner, at his election, but not as both, and his interest that is not voted shall be excluded in calculating the percentages of consent and nonconsent.

In the event both of the requirements specified in subparagraphs 1. and 2. are not fulfilled within 6 months after the date of such order, or within such extended period as the department may prescribe, it shall be automatically revoked.

(6) When the contribution of a separately owned tract with respect to any unit pool has been established, such contribution shall not be subsequently altered except to correct a mathematical or clerical error that caused the tract contribution to be erroneous, unless an enlargement of the unit is effected. No change or correction of the contribution of any separately owned tract shall be given retroactive effect, but appropriate adjustment shall be made for the investment charges as provided in this section.

(7) The portion of unit production allocated to a separately owned tract within the unit area shall be deemed, for all purposes, to have been actually produced from such tract, and operations with respect to any unit pool within the unit area shall be deemed, for all purposes, to be the conduct of operations for the production of oil or gas, or both, from each separately owned tract in the unit area.

(8) Subsections (1) through (7) shall apply only to field or pool units, and shall not apply to the unitization of interests within an individual drilling unit.

(9) All orders requiring integration, pooling, cycling, repressuring pressure maintenance, or secondary recovery operations shall be upon terms and conditions that are just and reasonable, will afford to the owner of each tract the opportunity to recover his just and equitable share of the oil and gas in the pool without unnecessary expense, and, as to individual drilling units, will prevent or minimize reasonably avoidable drainage from each unit which is not equalized by counterdrainage. The portion of the production allocated to the owner of each tract included in unit operation formed by a unit operation order shall, when produced, be considered as if it had been produced from such tract by a well drilled thereon. In the event such integration or pooling is required, the operator designated by the department to develop and operate the unit operation shall have the right to charge against each other owner's interest in the production from the wells drilled by such designated operator the actual expenditures required for such purpose, not in excess of what are reasonable, including a reasonable charge for supervision, and the operator shall have the right to receive the first production from such wells drilled by him thereon which otherwise would be delivered or paid to the other parties jointly interested in the drilling of the well so that the amount due by each of them for his share of the expense of drilling, equipping, and operating the well may be paid to the operator of the well out of production, with the value of production calculated at the market price in the field at the time such production is received by the operator or placed to his credit. In the event of any dispute relative to such costs, the division shall determine the proper cost. In the event a dry hole should be drilled on an individual drilling unit, no liability for any part of the cost of drilling said well shall attach to any person or persons by reason of the unit operation order of the department.

377.29 Agreements in interest of conservation.—Agreements made in the interest of conservation of oil or gas, or both, or for the prevention of waste, between and among owners and operators, or both, owning separate holdings in the same oil or gas pool, or in any area that appears from geological or other data to be underlaid, by a common accumulation of oil or gas, or both, or between and among such owners or operators, or both, and royalty owners therein, of the pool or area, or any part thereof, as a unit for establishing and carrying out a plan for the cooperative development and operation thereof, when such agreements are approved by the division, are hereby authorized and shall not be held or construed to violate any of the statutes of this state relating to trusts, monopolies, or contracts and combinations in restraint of trade.

History.—s. 23, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.30 Limitation on amount of oil or gas taken.—

(1) Whenever the total amount of oil or gas which all the pools in the state can produce exceeds the amount reasonably required to meet the reasonable market demand for oil or gas in this state, then the division shall limit the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in the state by fixing an allowable for the state among the pools on a reasonable basis and in such a manner as to avoid undue discrimination, and so that waste will be prevented. In allocating the allowable for the state, and in fixing allowable for pools producing oil or gas, the division shall take into account the producing conditions and other relevant facts with respect to such pools, including the separate needs for oil and gas and shall formulate rules setting forth standards or a program for the distribution of the allowable for the state, and shall distribute the allowable for the state in accordance with such standards or program, and where conditions in one pool or area are substantially similar to those in another pool or area, then the same standards or program shall be applied to such pools and areas so that as far as practicable a uniform program will be followed; provided, however, the division shall permit the production of a sufficient amount of natural gas from any pool to supply adequately the reasonable market demand for such gas for light and fuel purposes if such production can be obtained without waste; and provided, further, that if the amount allocated to a pool as its share of the allowable for the state is in excess of the amount which the pool should produce to prevent waste, then the division shall fix the allowable for the pool so that waste will be prevented.

(2) Whenever the division limits the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in any pool in this state to an amount less than that amount which the pool could produce if no restriction were imposed, which limitation may be imposed either incidentally to, or without, a limitation of the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in the state, the division shall prorate or distribute the allowable production among the producers in the pool on a reasonable basis so as to prevent or minimize reasonably avoidable drainage from each developed unit which is not equalized by counterdrainage, and so that each producer will have the opportunity to produce or receive his just and equitable share, as above set forth, subject to the reasonable requirement for the prevention of waste.

(3) After the effective date of any rule, regulation or order of the division fixing the allowable production of oil or gas, or both, for any pool, no person shall produce from any well, lease or property more than the allowable production which is applicable, nor shall such amount be produced in a different manner than that which may be authorized.

History.—s. 24, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106.

377.31 Evidence of rules and orders.—A certified copy of any division rule, regulation, or order shall be received in evidence in all courts of this state with the same effect as the original thereof.

History.—s. 25, ch. 22819, 1945; ss. 25, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 23, ch. 78-95.

377.32 Issuance of subpoenas; service, etc.—

(1) The division is hereby empowered to issue subpoenas for witnesses, to require their attendance and the giving of testimony before it, and to require the production of books, papers and records in any proceeding before the division as may be material upon questions lawfully before the division. Such subpoenas shall be served by the sheriff or any other officer authorized by law to serve process in this state. No person shall be excused from attending and testifying, or from producing books, papers and records before the division or a court, or from obedience to the subpoena of the division or a court, on the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring any person to produce any books, papers or records, or to testify in response to any inquiry not pertinent to some question lawfully before the division or court for determination. No natural person shall be subjected to criminal prosecution or to any penalty or forfeiture for, or on account of, any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may be required to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the division or court, or in obedience to its subpoena; provided, that no person testifying shall be exempted from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

(2) In case of failure or refusal on the part of any person to comply with any subpoena issued by the division, or, in case of the refusal of any witness to testify or answer as to any matter regarding which he may be lawfully interrogated, any circuit court in this state, on the application of the division, may issue an attachment for such person and compel him to comply with such subpoena and to attend before the division and produce such documents, and give his testimony upon such matters as may be lawfully required, and such court shall have the power to punish for contempt as in case of disobedience of like subpoena issued by or from such court, or for refusal to testify therein.

(1) Any interested person adversely affected by any statute of this state with respect to conservation of oil or gas, or both, or by provisions of this law may seek relief by a suit for injunction against the division, as defendant, or the members thereof by suit in the chancery court in the county or counties wherein the property involved is situated, or in the chancery court of Leon County. Such suit shall have precedence over all other causes, proceedings, or suits on the docket of a different nature, and the attorney representing the division may have the case set for trial after 10 days' notice to the plaintiff or his attorney. Such trial shall be de novo, and the burden of proof shall be upon the plaintiff. The statute or provision of this law complained of shall be taken as prima facie valid, and such presumption shall not be overcome, in connection with any application for injunctive relief, including temporary restraining order, by verified complaint or affidavit of, or in behalf of, the applicant.

(2) No temporary restraining order or injunction shall be granted against the division or against its attorneys, agents, employees, or representatives restraining the attorneys, agents, employees, or representatives from enforcing any statute of this state relating to conservation of oil or gas, or any of the provisions of this law, except after due notice, served upon the executive director of the department, and after a hearing at which it shall be shown to the court by legal evidence that the act done or threatened is without sanction of law or that the provisions of this law are invalid or unreasonable and, if enforced against the complaining party, will cause an irreparable injury. If the division shall so request at such hearing, it shall be entitled to a trial on the merits within 10 days after the granting of any temporary order, and, if the plaintiff is not ready for trial at such time, the court shall be authorized to dissolve the temporary restraining order.

(3) No temporary injunction of any kind against the division, or against its attorneys, agents, employees or representatives, shall become effective until the plaintiff shall execute a bond in the amount and upon the conditions the court directs. The bond shall be made payable to the Governor and his successors in office, shall be approved by the court or clerk, and shall be for the use and benefit of all persons who may be injured by the acts done under the protection of the injunction.

377.34 Actions and injunctions by division.—

(1) Whenever it shall appear that any person is violating, or threatening to violate, any statute of this state with respect to the conservation of oil or gas, or both, or any provision of this law, or any rule, regulation or order made thereunder by any act done in the operation of any well producing oil or gas, or by omitting any act required to be done thereunder, the division, through its counsel, or the Department of Legal Affairs on its own initiative, may bring suit against such person in the Circuit Court in the County of Leon, state, or in the Circuit Court in the county in which the well in question is located, at the option of the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, to restrain such person or persons from continuing such violation or from carrying out the threat of violation. In such suit, the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, may obtain injunctions, prohibitory and mandatory, including temporary restraining orders and temporary injunctions, as the facts may warrant, including, when appropriate, an injunction restraining any person from moving or disposing of illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, and any or all such commodities may be ordered to be impounded or placed under the control of a receiver appointed by the court if, in the judgment of the court, such action is advisable.

(2) In the event the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, should fail to bring suit within 10 days to enjoin any actual or threatened violation of any statute of this state with respect to the conservation of oil and gas, or of any provision of this law, or of any rule, regulation or order made thereunder, then any person or party in interest adversely affected by such violation, and who has notified the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, in writing of such violation, or threat thereof, and has requested the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, to sue, may, to prevent any or further violation, bring suit for that purpose in the Circuit Court of the County of Leon, in the state. If, in such suit, the court should hold that injunctive relief should be granted, then the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, shall be made a party and shall be substituted for the person who brought the suit, and the injunction shall be issued as if the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, had at all times been the complainant.

(3) If any such defendant cannot be personally served with summons in that county, personal jurisdiction of that defendant in such suit may be obtained by service made upon him or any employee or agent of that defendant at any place in Florida and by the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs, mailing copy of the complaint in the action to the defendant at the address of the defendant then recorded with the division, or the Department of Legal Affairs.

377.35 Suits, proceedings, appeals, etc.—In all proceedings brought under authority of this law, or of any oil or gas conservation statute of this state, or of any rule, regulation or order made thereunder, and in all proceedings instituted for the purpose of contesting the validity of any provision of the law, or of any oil or gas conservation statute, or of any rule, regulation or order made thereunder, review may be had pursuant to Art. V, State Constitution, the Florida Appellate Rules and chapter 120.

377.36 False entries and statements; incomplete entries, etc.; penalties.—Any person who, for the purpose of evading this law, or of evading any rule, regulation or order made thereunder, shall intentionally make, or cause to be made, any false entry or statement of fact in any report required to be made by this law, or by any rule, regulation or order made hereunder; or who, for such purpose shall make, or cause to be made, any false entry in any account, record or memorandum kept by any person in connection with any provision of this law, or of any rule, regulation or order made thereunder; or who, for such purpose, shall omit to make, or cause to be omitted, full, true and correct entries in such accounts, records or memoranda, of all facts and transactions pertaining to the interest or activities in the petroleum industry of such person, as may be required by the division under authority given in this law, or by any rule, regulation or order made hereunder; or who, for such purpose, shall remove out of the jurisdiction of the state, or who shall mutilate, alter, or, by any other means, falsify any book, record, or other paper pertaining to the transaction regulated by this law, or by any rule, regulation or order made hereunder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

377.37 Penalties.—

(1) Any person who violates any provision of this law or any rule, regulation, or order of the division made under this chapter or who violates the terms of any permit to drill for or produce oil, gas, or other petroleum products referred to in s. 377.242(1), or any lessee, permitholder, or operator of equipment or facilities used in the exploration, drilling, or production of oil, gas, or other petroleum products who refuses inspection by the division as provided in this chapter, shall be liable for a civil penalty of up to $500 per day for every day during which said violation occurs. The payment of any damages or penalties as provided for herein shall not have the effect of changing illegal product into legal product, illegal oil into legal oil, or illegal gas into legal gas; nor shall such payment have the effect of authorizing the sale, purchase, acquisition, transportation, refining, processing, or handling in any other way of such illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product. The payment of any such damages or penalties shall not impair or abridge any cause of action which any person may have against the person violating any provision of this law or any rule, regulation, or order for an injury resulting to him from such violation.

(2) Any person knowingly and willfully aiding or abetting any other person in the violation of any statute of this state relating to the conservation of oil or gas, or the violation of any provision of this law, or any rule, regulation or order made thereunder shall be subject to the same damages as are prescribed herein for the violation by such other person.

377.371 Pollution prohibited; reporting, liability.—

(1) No person drilling for or producing oil, gas, or other petroleum products shall pollute land or water; damage aquatic or marine life, wildlife, birds, or public or private property; or allow any extraneous matter to enter or damage any mineral or freshwater-bearing formation.

(2) All spills or leakage of oil, gas, other petroleum products, or waste material shall be reported to the division and those of any quantity which cannot be immediately controlled shall be reported immediately to the division and the appropriate federal agencies.

(3) Because it is the intent of this chapter to provide the means for rapid and effective cleanup and to minimize damages resulting from pollution in violation of this chapter, if the waters of the state are polluted by the drilling or production operations of any person or persons and such pollution damages or threatens to damage human, animal, or plant life, public or private property, or any mineral or water-bearing formation, said person shall be liable to the state for all costs of cleanup or other damage incurred by the state. In any suit to enforce claims of the state under this chapter, it shall not be necessary for the state to plead or prove negligence in any form or manner on the part of the person or persons conducting the drilling or production operations; the state need only plead and prove the fact of the prohibited discharge or other polluting condition and that it occurred at the facilities of the person or persons conducting the drilling or production operation. No person or persons conducting the drilling or production operation shall be liable if said person or persons prove that the prohibited discharge or other polluting condition was the result of any of the following:

- (a) An act of war.
  - (b) An act of government, either state, federal, or municipal.
  - (c) An act of God, which means an unforeseeable act exclusively occasioned by the violence of nature without the interference of any human agency.
  - (d) An act or omission of a third party without regard to whether any such act or omission was or was not negligent.
- (4) Any person who is found liable for damages or costs of cleanup as provided in this section shall not be liable for penalties under the provisions of chapter 403 or chapter 376.

History.—s. 8, ch. 72-394.

377.38 Illegal oil, gas and other products; handling, sale, use, etc., prohibited.—

(1) The sale, purchase or acquisition, or the transportation, refining, processing or handling in any other way of illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product is hereby prohibited.

(2) Unless and until the division provides for certificates of clearance or tenders, or some other method, so that any person may have an opportunity to determine whether any contemplated transaction of sale, purchase or acquisition, or of transportation, refining, processing or handling in any other way, involves illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, no liquidated damage shall be imposed for the sale, purchase or acquisition, or the transportation, refining, processing or handling in any other way, of illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, except under circumstances hereinafter stated. Liquidated damages shall be imposed for the commission of each transaction prohibited in this section when the person committing the same knows that illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product is involved in such transaction, or when such person could have known or determined such fact by the exercise of reasonable diligence or from facts within his knowledge. However, regardless of lack of actual notice or knowledge, liquidated damages as provided in this law shall apply in any sale, purchase or acquisition, and to the transportation, refining, processing or handling in any other way, of illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, where administrative provision is made for identifying the character of the commodity as to its legality. It shall likewise be a violation for which liquidated damages shall be imposed for any person to sell, purchase or acquire, or to transport, refine, process or handle in any other way any oil, gas or any product without complying with all applicable rules, regulations or orders of the division relating thereto.

377.39 Seizure and sale of illegal oil, gas and their products.—

(1) Apart from, and in addition to, any other remedy or procedure which may be available to the division, or any liquidated damages which may be sought against or imposed upon any person with respect to violations relating to illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, all illegal oil, illegal gas and illegal product shall, except under such circumstances as are stated herein, be contraband and shall be seized and sold, and the proceeds applied as herein provided. Such sale shall not take place unless the court shall find, in the proceeding provided for in this subsection, that the commodity involved is contraband. Whenever the division believes that illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product is subject to seizure and sale, as provided herein, it shall, through its counsel, bring a civil action in rem for that purpose in the Circuit Court of the county where the commodity is found or the action may be maintained in connection with any suit or cross action for injunction or for liquidated damages relating to any prohibited transaction involving such illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product. Any interested person, who may show himself to be adversely affected by any such seizure and sale, shall have the right to intervene in such suit to protect his rights.

(2) The action referred to above shall be strictly in rem and shall proceed in the name of the state as plaintiff against the illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product mentioned in the complaint, as defendant, and no bond or bonds shall be required of the plaintiff in connection therewith. Upon the filing of the complaint, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons directed to the sheriff of the county, or to such other officer or person as the court may authorize to serve process, requiring him to summon any and all persons without undertaking to name them, who may be interested in the illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product mentioned in the complaint to appear and answer within 30 days after the issuance and service of such summons. The summons shall contain the style and number of the suit and a very brief statement of the nature of the cause of action. It shall be served by posting one copy thereof at the courthouse door of the county where the commodity involved in the suit is alleged to be located and by posting another copy thereof near the place where the commodity is alleged to be located. One copy of such summons shall be posted at least 5 days before the return day stated therein, and the posting of such copy shall constitute constructive possession of such commodity by the state. A copy of the summons shall also be published once each week for 4 successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the suit is pending and having a bona fide circulation therein if such a newspaper is published. No judgment shall be pronounced by any court condemning such commodity as contraband until after the lapse of 5 days from the last publication or posting of said summons. Proof of service of said summons, and the manner thereof, shall be provided by general law.

(3) Where it appears by a verified pleading on the part of the plaintiff or by affidavit or affidavits, or by oral testimony, that grounds for the seizure and sale exist, the clerk, in addition to the summons or warning order, shall issue an order of seizure, which shall be signed by the clerk and bear the seal of the court. Such order of seizure shall specifically describe the illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, so that the same may be identified with reasonable certainty. It shall direct the sheriff to whom it is addressed to take into his custody, actual or constructive, the illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product described therein, and to hold the same subject to the orders of the court. Said order of seizure shall be executed as a writ of attachment is executed. No bond shall be required before the issuance of such order of seizure, and the sheriff shall be responsible upon his official bond for the proper execution thereof.

(4) In a proper case, the court may direct the sheriff to deliver the custody of any illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, seized by him under an order of seizure, to a receiver or conservator to be appointed by the court, which receiver or conservator shall act as the agent of the court and shall give bond with such approved surety as the court may direct, conditioned that he will faithfully conserve such illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, as may come into his custody and possession in accordance with the order of the court; provided, that the court may in its discretion appoint any agent of the division as such receiver or conservator.

(5) Sales of illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product made under the authority of this law, and notices of such sales, shall be in accordance with the laws of this state relating to the sale and disposition of attached property; provided, however, that where the property is in the custody of a receiver or conservator, the sale shall be held by said receiver or conservator, and not by the sheriff. For his services hereunder, such receiver or conservator shall receive a reasonable fee to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale or sales to be fixed by the court ordering such sale.

(6) The court may order that the commodity be sold in specified lots or portions, and at specified intervals, instead of being sold at one time. Title to the amount sold shall pass as of the date of the act which is found by the court to make the commodity contraband. The judgment shall provide for payment of the proceeds of the sale into the General Revenue Fund, after first deducting the costs in connection with the proceedings and the sale. The amount sold shall be treated as legal oil, legal gas or legal product, as the case may be, in the hands of the purchaser, but the purchaser and the commodity shall be subject to all applicable laws, and rules, regulations and orders with respect to further sale or purchase or acquisition, and with respect to the transportation, refining, processing or handling in any other way, of the commodity purchased.

(7) Nothing in this section shall deny or abridge any cause of action a royalty owner, or a lienholder, or any other claimant, may have, because of the forfeiture of the illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product, against the person whose act resulted in such forfeiture. No illegal oil, illegal gas or illegal product shall be sold for less than the average market value at the time of sale of similar products of like grade and character.

377.40 Negligently permitting gas and oil to go wild or out of control.—

(1) In order to protect further the gas fields and oil fields in the state, it is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person to permit negligently any gas or oil well to go wild or to get out of control. The owner of any such well shall, after 24 hours' written notice by the division given to him or the person in possession of such well, make reasonable effort to control such well.

(2) In the event of the failure of the owner of such well, within 24 hours after service of notice above provided for, to control the same, if such can be done within the period or to begin, in good faith upon service of such notice, operations to control such well, or upon failure to prosecute diligently such operations, then the division shall have the right to take charge of the work of controlling such well, and it shall have the right to proceed, through its own agents or by contract with a responsible contractor, to control the well or otherwise to prevent the escape or loss of gas or oil from such well, all at the reasonable expense of the owner of the well. In order to secure the division in the payment of the reasonable cost and expense of controlling or plugging of such well, the division shall retain the possession of the same and shall be entitled to receive and retain the rents, revenues and income therefrom until the costs and expenses incurred by the division shall be repaid. When all such costs and expenses have been repaid, the division shall restore possession of such well to the owner; provided, that in the event the income received by the division shall not be sufficient to reimburse the division, as provided for in this section, the division shall have lien or privilege upon all of the property of the owner of such well, except such as is exempt by law, and the division shall proceed to enforce such lien or privilege by suit brought in any court of competent jurisdiction, the same as any other like civil action, and the judgment so obtained shall be executed in the same manner now provided by law for execution of judgments. Any excess over the amount due the division which the property seized and sold may bring, after payment of court costs, shall be paid over to the owner of such well.

377.601 Legislative intent.—

(1) The Legislature finds that the ability to deal effectively with present shortages of resources used in the production of energy is aggravated and intensified because of inadequate or nonexistent information and that intelligent response to these problems and to the development of a state energy policy demands accurate and relevant information concerning energy supply, distribution, and use. The Legislature finds and declares that a procedure for the collection and analysis of data on the energy flow in this state is essential to the development and maintenance of an energy profile defining the characteristics and magnitudes of present and future energy demands and availability so that the state may rationally deal with present energy problems and anticipate future energy problems.

(2) The Legislature further recognizes that every state official dealing with energy problems should have current and reliable information on the types and quantity of energy resources produced, imported, converted, distributed, exported, stored, held in reserve, or consumed within the state.

(3) It is the intent of the Legislature in the passage of this act to provide the necessary mechanisms for the effective development of information necessary to rectify the present lack of information which is seriously handicapping the state's ability to deal effectively with the energy problem. To this end, the provisions of ss. 377.601-377.608 should be given the broadest possible interpretation consistent with the stated legislative desire to procure vital information.

(4) It is the policy of the State of Florida to:

(a) Develop and promote the effective use of energy in the state and discourage all forms of energy waste.

(b) Play a leading role in developing and instituting energy management programs aimed at promoting energy conservation.

(c) Include energy considerations in all planning.

(d) Utilize and manage effectively energy resources used within state agencies.

(e) Encourage local governments to include energy considerations in all planning and to support their work in promoting energy management programs.

(f) Include the full participation of citizens in the development and implementation of energy programs.

(g) Consider in its decisions the energy needs of each economic sector, including residential, industrial, commercial, agricultural, and governmental uses.

(h) Promote energy education and the public dissemination of information on energy and its environmental, economic, and social impact.

(i) Encourage the research, development, demonstration, and application of alternative energy resources, particularly renewable energy resources.

(j) Consider, in its decision making, the social, economic, and environmental impacts of energy-related activities, so that detrimental effects of these activities are understood and minimized.

(k) Develop and maintain energy-emergency-preparedness plans to minimize the effects of an energy shortage within Florida.

Upon a finding by the Governor, implementation of any emergency program shall be upon order of the Governor that a particular kind or type of fuel is, or that the occurrence of an event which is reasonably expected within 30 days will make the fuel, in short supply. The 'department shall then respond by instituting the appropriate measures of the contingency plan to meet the given emergency or energy shortage. The Governor may utilize the provisions of s. 252.36(5) to carry out any emergency actions required by a serious shortage of energy sources.

(b) The 'department shall constitute the responsible state agency for performing or coordinating the functions of any federal energy programs delegated to the state, including energy supply, demand, conservation, or allocation.

The 'department shall provide information to consumers regarding the anticipated energy-use and energy-saving characteristics of products and services in coordination with any federal, state, or local governmental agencies as may provide such information to consumers.

(j) The 'department shall coordinate energy-related programs of state government, including, but not limited to, the programs provided in this section. To this end, the 'department shall:

1. Provide assistance to other state agencies, counties, municipalities, and regional planning agencies to further and promote their energy planning activities.

2. Require, in cooperation with the Department of General Services, all state agencies to operate state-owned and state-leased buildings in accordance with energy conservation standards as adopted by the Department of General Services. History.—s. 3, ch. 75-256; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 78-25; s. 127, ch. 79-190.
Note.—See s. 43, ch. 79-190, which transferred the powers, duties, and functions of the Department of Administration provided in this section, except for former paragraph (2)(k), to the Executive Office of the Governor.

377.705 Solar Energy Center; development of solar energy standards.—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This act shall be known and may be cited as the Solar Energy Standards Act of 1976.

(2) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

(a) The Legislature recognizes that if present trends continue, Florida will increase present energy consumption six-fold by the year 2000. Because of this dramatic increase and because existing domestic conventional energy resources will not provide sufficient energy to meet the nation's future needs, new sources of energy must be developed and applied. One such source, solar energy, has been in limited use in Florida for 30 years. Applications of incident solar energy, the use of solar radiation to provide energy for water heating, space heating, space cooling, and other uses, through suitable absorbing equipment on or near a residence or commercial structure, must be extensively expanded. Unfortunately, the initial costs with regard to the production of solar energy have been prohibitively expensive. However, because of increases in the cost of conventional fuel, certain applications of solar energy are becoming competitive, particularly when life-cycle costs are considered. It is the intent of the Legislature in formulating a sound and balanced energy policy for the state to encourage the development of an alternative energy capability in the form of incident solar energy.

(b) Toward this purpose, the Legislature intends to provide incentives for the production and sale of, and to set standards for, solar energy systems. Such standards shall ensure that solar energy systems manufactured or sold within the state are effective and represent a high level of quality of materials, workmanship, and design.

(3) DEFINITIONS.—

(a) "Center" is defined as the Florida Solar Energy Center of the Board of Regents.

(b) "Solar energy systems" is defined as equipment which provides for the collection and use of incident solar energy for water heating, space heating or cooling, or other applications which normally require or would require a conventional source of energy such as petroleum products, natural gas, or electricity and which performs primarily with solar energy. In such other systems in which solar energy is used in a supplemental way, only those components which collect and transfer solar energy shall be included in this definition.

(4) FLORIDA SOLAR ENERGY CENTER TO SET STANDARDS, REQUIRE DISCLOSURE, SET TESTING FEES.—

(a) The center shall develop and promulgate standards for solar energy systems manufactured or sold in this state based on the best currently available information and shall consult with scientists, engineers, or persons in research centers who are engaged in the construction of, experimentation with, and research of solar energy systems to properly identify the most reliable designs and types of solar energy systems.

(b) The center shall establish criteria for testing performance of solar energy systems and shall maintain the necessary capability for testing or evaluating performance of solar energy systems. The center may accept results of tests on solar energy systems made by other organizations, companies, or persons when such tests are conducted according to the criteria established by the center and when the testing entity has no vested interest in the manufacture, distribution or sale of solar energy systems.

(c) The center shall be entitled to receive a testing fee sufficient to cover the costs of such testing. All testing fees shall be transmitted by the center to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the Solar Energy Center Testing Trust Fund, which is hereby created in the State Treasury, and disbursed for the payment of expenses incurred in testing solar energy systems.

LAND RECLAMATION

- 378.011 Land Use Advisory Committee.
 378.021 Master reclamation plan.
 378.031 Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund.
 378.101 Florida Institute of Phosphate Research.

378.011 Land Use Advisory Committee.—

(1) There is hereby created a Land Use Advisory Committee which shall be composed of the following:

(a) One member from the Bureau of Geology of the Division of Resource Management of the Department of Natural Resources, who shall serve as chairman, to be appointed by the executive director of said department;

(b) One member from the Executive Office of the Governor, to be appointed by the Governor;

(c) One member from the Tampa Bay Regional Planning Council, one member from the Central Florida Regional Planning Council, and one member from the North Central Florida Regional Planning Council, to be appointed by the respective directors of said regional planning councils;

(d) One member to represent the Board of County Commissioners of Polk County, one member to represent the Board of County Commissioners of Hillsborough County, and one member to represent the Board of County Commissioners of Hamilton County, to be appointed by the chairmen of said boards;

(e) One member from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, to be appointed by the Executive Director of said commission; and

(f) Two members of the public, to be appointed by the Governor.

(2) Members of the Land Use Advisory Committee shall receive no compensation but shall receive travel and per diem allowances as provided by s. 112.061.

(3) The duties of the Land Use Advisory Committee shall be:

(a) To evaluate the lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock prior to July 1, 1975, which lands are unreclaimed and not subject to mandatory reclamation under part II of chapter 211, for the purpose of identifying and designating, as a part of the general reclamation plan to be developed pursuant to paragraph (b), the following items:

1. The potential land use needs of the area;
2. The types of landforms, surface water regimes, and vegetation deemed desirable to enhance the natural recovery of land into mature sites with high potential for the land use desired;
3. The kinds and descriptions of lands with viable naturally developed environmental systems such that artificial reclamation need not be undertaken; and
4. A prioritization of kinds and descriptions of lands to be reclaimed and potential land uses to best serve the public interest.

(b) To develop a general reclamation plan for lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock which are not subject to mandatory reclamation under part II of chapter 211, which plan shall not be inconsistent with local government plans prepared pursuant to the Local Government Comprehensive Planning Act of 1975, and which plan shall be developed utilizing the standards set forth in s. 211.32(3)(a). If, however, the application of the standards set forth in s. 211.32(3)(a) would unnecessarily reverse the natural development of certain lands, which in their present state enhance the overall environmental quality of the area, the committee may recommend in the general reclamation plan that exceptions to the standards set forth in s. 211.32(3)(a) be granted for said lands.

(c) To consider the advice and expertise of governmental agencies and interested groups and individuals.

(d) To furnish its report to the Department of Natural Resources on or before July 1, 1979. The Land Use Advisory Committee shall have no final authority to require the implementation of the general reclamation plan contained in its report.

History.—s. 3, ch. 78-136; s. 128, ch. 79-190.

378.021 Master reclamation plan.—

(1) The Department of Natural Resources shall adopt by rule, as expeditiously as possible upon receipt of the report of the Land Use Advisory Committee, a master reclamation plan to provide guidelines for the reclamation of lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock prior to July 1, 1975, which lands are not subject to mandatory reclamation under part II of chapter 211. In developing said master reclamation plan, the Department of Natural Resources shall conduct an onsite evaluation of all lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock prior to July 1, 1975, which lands are not subject to mandatory reclamation under part II of chapter 211, and shall consider the report and plan prepared by the Land Use Advisory Committee under s. 378.011. The master reclamation plan adopted by the Department of Natural Resources shall be consistent with local government plans prepared pursuant to the Local Government Comprehensive Planning Act of 1975.

(2) The master reclamation plan shall identify which of the lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock prior to July 1, 1975, meet the following criteria:

(a) The quality of surface waters leaving the land does not meet applicable water quality standards, if any; or, health and safety hazards exist on the land; or, the soil has not stabilized and revegetated; or, the remaining natural resources associated with the land are not being conserved;

(b) The environmental or economic utility or aesthetic value of the land would not naturally return within a reasonable time, and reclamation would substantially promote the environmental or economic utility or the aesthetic value of the land; and

(c) The reclamation of the land is in the public interest because the reclamation, when combined with other reclamation under the master plan, would provide a substantial regional benefit.

(3) Lands evaluated by the department under subsection (1) which meet the criteria set forth in subsection (2) shall be identified with specificity in the master reclamation plan. Lands evaluated by the department under subsection (1) which do not meet the criteria set forth in subsection (2) shall also be identified with specificity in the master reclamation plan as lands which are acceptable in their present form.

(4) Upon adoption of the master reclamation plan as a rule, such plan shall provide the guidelines for approval of reclamation programs for lands covered in the plan, recognizing that reclamation of such lands is not mandatory, but that any payment of costs expended for reclamation paid under s. 378.031 shall be contingent upon conformity with the guidelines set forth in the master reclamation plan.

378.031 Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund.—

(1) Money paid into the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund shall be made available for the costs expended for reclamation accomplished in accordance with programs approved by the Department of Natural Resources for lands mined or disturbed by the severance of phosphate rock prior to July 1, 1975, which lands are not subject to mandatory reclamation under s. 211.32(3). The Comptroller shall, upon written verification by the Department of Natural Resources of completion of an approved program for reclamation of lands not subject to mandatory reclamation, and upon verification of the cost of the reclamation, grant payments of funds from the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund in an amount equal to 100 percent of the costs incurred in completing the reclamation program, subject to the following limitations:

(a) A landowner shall not be entitled to payments in excess of the funds available in the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund.

(b) No moneys shall be paid to the landowner in excess of amounts actually expended to effect reclamation.

(c) As to lands which are deemed reclaimed without the necessity of reclamation after the adoption of the master reclamation plan, no moneys shall be paid to the landowner.

(d) Moneys shall be paid only for reclamation which is consistent with the master reclamation plan to be developed under s. 378.021 and adopted as a rule.

(2) Money paid into the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund may also be used by the Department of Natural Resources to purchase land included within the master plan developed and adopted as a rule under s. 378.021, at a negotiated price, when the Department of Natural Resources reasonably determines that such purchase will serve the public interest because of the exceptional need to accomplish particular reclamation and restoration and finds that the landowner is unable or unwilling to restore or reclaim the land in accordance with the master plan. In the event that a sale price cannot be agreed upon, the Department of Natural Resources is authorized to exercise the power of eminent domain and to proceed to condemn said property in accordance with the provisions of chapter 73. Where property is acquired under this subsection, the Department of Natural Resources shall reclaim and restore such land as soon as practicable, with the costs of such reclamation and restoration to be paid in advance from the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund. Such land shall within a reasonable time thereafter be resold at public sale, at a price not less than that expended by the state for reclamation. The proceeds of such sale shall be payable to the Nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund.

378.101 Florida Institute of Phosphate Research.—

(1) There is created a Florida Institute of Phosphate Research, which is empowered:

(a) To conduct or cause to be conducted such environmental studies related to radiation and water consumption, or other environmental effects of phosphate mining and reclamation, as may from time to time be deemed reasonably necessary by the institute for the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of this state and particularly the citizens of the regions where phosphate mining or processing occurs.

(b) To conduct or cause to be conducted a thorough and comprehensive study of reclamation alternatives and technologies in the phosphate mining or processing industry, including wetlands reclamation.

(c) To conduct or cause to be conducted a thorough and comprehensive study of phosphatic clay disposal and utilization as a part of phosphate mining, together with all environmental or land use related thereto.

(d) To establish methods for better and more efficient phosphate recovery mining and processing in this state as it may determine most beneficial to the economy, environment, and way of life of the citizens of the state.

(e) To enter into any mutually satisfactory contract with any firm, institution, corporation, or federal or state agency, as may be reasonably required or desired in carrying out the research and studies herein authorized.

(f) To make available to the public the results of its research program so that the research efforts will result in the public being better informed as to the effects of phosphate mining in the state.

(g) To hold public hearings and consult with representatives of the phosphate industry and all other interested parties; to assign priorities for its research and studies; to make public from time to time its intentions as to future research and study; and to allocate its resources and personnel for such research and studies as it may determine from time to time to be in the public interest.

(h) To provide suitable and sufficient laboratory facilities and equipment, making use insofar as practical of the existing laboratory facilities and equipment of the State University System and other facilities as may be available, for carrying out the research and studies herein authorized.

(i) To administer the Phosphate Research Trust Fund and to expend funds therefrom for its administration and for carrying out the purposes set forth in this section.

(2) The work of the Florida Institute of Phosphate Research shall be directed by a three-member board appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor. The Governor shall make these appointments on the basis of ability to set priorities for the phosphate research and otherwise give direction to a professional, efficient, and broad phosphate research effort. In setting such priorities, emphasis shall be given to applied research which tends to solve real problems of the industry in which the public has a substantial interest. The policies and decisions of the board shall be implemented through an executive director chosen by the board on the basis of professional competence, both scientific and administrative.

380.045 Resource planning and management committees; objectives; procedures.—

(1) Prior to recommending an area as an area of critical state concern pursuant to s. 380.05, the Governor, acting as the chief planning officer of the state, shall appoint a resource planning and management committee for the area under study by the state land planning agency. The committee shall, from the time of appointment, remain in existence for no less than 6 months.

History.—s. 2, ch. 79-73.

380.05 Areas of critical state concern.—

(1)(a) The state land planning agency may from time to time recommend to the Administration Commission specific areas of critical state concern. In its recommendation, the agency shall include recommendations with respect to the purchase of lands situated within the boundaries of the proposed area as environmentally endangered lands and outdoor recreation lands under the Land Conservation Act of 1972. The agency also shall include any report or recommendation of a resource planning and management committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045; the dangers that would result from uncontrolled or inadequate development of the area and the advantages that would be achieved from the development of the area in a coordinated manner; a detailed boundary description of the proposed area; specific principles for guiding development within the area; and an inventory of lands owned by the state, federal, county, and municipal governments within the proposed area.

(b) Within 45 days following receipt of a recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same with or without modification and by rule designate the area of critical state concern and the principles for guiding the development of the area. The rule shall become effective 20 days after filing with the Secretary of State, except that an emergency rule adopted by the commission and designating an area of critical state concern shall become effective immediately on filing. Any rule adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall be presented to the Legislature for review pursuant to paragraph (c). An economic impact statement prepared pursuant to s. 120.54(2)(a) shall not be grounds for a challenge of the rule; however, a landowner shall not be precluded from using adverse economic results as grounds for challenge. Such principles for guiding development shall apply to any development undertaken subsequent to the legislative review pursuant to paragraph (c) of the designation of the area of critical state concern with or without modification but prior to the adoption of land development rules and regulations for the critical area pursuant to subsections (6) and (8). No boundary or principles for guiding development shall be adopted without a specific finding by the commission that the boundaries or principles are consistent with the protection of the resources or area sought to be protected. The commission is not authorized to adopt any rule that would provide for a moratorium on development in any area of critical state concern.

(c) A rule adopted by the commission pursuant to paragraph (b) designating an area of critical state concern and principles for guiding development shall be submitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House for review no later than 30 days prior to the next regular session of the Legislature. The Legislature may reject, modify, or take no action relative to the adopted rule. In its deliberations, the Legislature may consider, among other factors, whether a resource planning and management committee established a program pursuant to s. 380.045. In addition to any other data and information required pursuant to this chapter, all rules presented to the Legislature shall include a detailed legal description of the boundary of the area of critical state concern, proposed principles for guiding development, and a detailed statement of how the area meets the criteria for designation as provided in subsection (2).

(d) If, after the repeal of the boundary designation of an area of critical state concern pursuant to subsection (15), the state land planning agency determines that the administration of the local land development regulations within a formerly designated area is inadequate to protect the former area of critical state concern, then the state land planning agency may recommend to the commission that the area be redesignated as an area of critical state concern. Within 45 days following the receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same with or without modification. The commission may, by rule, make such redesignation effective immediately, at which time the boundaries and regulations in effect at the time the previous designation was repealed shall be reinstated. Within 90 days of such redesignation, the commission shall begin rulemaking procedures to designate the area an area of critical state concern under paragraph (b).

(2) An area of critical state concern may be designated only for:

(a) An area containing, or having a significant impact upon, environmental or natural resources of regional or statewide importance, including, but not limited to, state or federal parks, forests, wildlife refuges, wilderness areas, aquatic preserves, major rivers and estuaries, state environmentally endangered lands, Outstanding Florida Waters, and aquifer recharge areas, the uncontrolled private or public development of which would cause substantial deterioration of such resources. Specific criteria which shall be considered in designating an area under this paragraph include:

1. Whether the economic value of the area, as determined by the type, variety, distribution, relative scarcity, and condition of the environmental or natural resources within the area, is of substantial regional or statewide importance.

2. Whether the ecological value of the area, as determined by the physical and biological components of the environmental system, is of substantial regional or statewide importance.

3. Whether the area is a designated critical habitat of any state or federally designated threatened or endangered plant or animal species.

4. Whether the area is inherently susceptible to substantial development due to its geographic location or natural aesthetics.

5. Whether any existing or planned substantial development within the area will directly, significantly, and deleteriously affect any or all of the environmental or natural resources of the area which are of regional or statewide importance.

(b) An area containing, or having a significant impact upon, historical or archaeological resources, sites, or statutorily defined historical or archaeological districts, the private or public development of which would cause substantial deterioration or complete loss of such resources, sites, or districts. Specific criteria which shall be considered in designating an area under this paragraph include:

1. Whether the area is associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the history of the state or region.

2. Whether the area is associated with the lives of persons who are significant to the history of the state or region.

3. Whether the area contains any structure that embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or that represents the work of a master, or that possesses high artistic values, or that represents a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction and which are of regional or statewide importance.

4. Whether the area has yielded, or will likely yield, information important to the prehistory or history of the state or region.

(c) An area having a significant impact upon, or being significantly impacted by, an existing or proposed major public facility or other area of major public investment including, but not limited to, highways, ports, airports, energy facilities, and water management projects.

(3) Each regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. Each regional planning agency shall solicit from the local governments within its jurisdiction suggestions as to areas to be recommended. A local government in an area where there is no regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time areas wholly or partially within its jurisdiction that meet the criteria for areas of critical state concern as defined in this section. If the state land planning agency does not recommend to the commission as an area of critical state concern an area substantially similar to one that has been recommended, it shall respond in writing as to its reasons therefor.

(4) Prior to submitting any recommendation to the commission under subsection (1), the state land planning agency shall give notice to any committee appointed pursuant to s. 380.045 and to all local governments and regional planning agencies that include within their boundaries any part of any area of critical state concern proposed to be designated by the rule, in addition to any notice otherwise required under chapter 120.

(5) After the commission adopts a rule designating the boundaries of and principles for guiding development in an area of critical state concern and within 180 days of such adoption, the local government having jurisdiction may submit to the state land planning agency its existing land development regulations for the area, if any, or shall prepare, adopt, and submit new or modified regulations, taking into consideration the principles set forth in the rule designating the area as well as the provisions of its local government comprehensive plan, if adopted.

(6) If the state land planning agency finds that the land development regulations submitted by a local government comply with the principles for guiding the development of the area specified under the rule designating the area, the state land planning agency shall by rule approve the land development regulations. Such approval, or disapproval pursuant to subsection (8), shall be no later than 60 days after submittal of the land development regulations by the local government. No proposed land development regulation within an area of critical state concern becomes effective under this subsection until the state land planning agency rule approving it becomes effective.

(7) The state land planning agency and any applicable regional planning agency shall, to the greatest extent possible, provide technical assistance to local governments in the preparation of land development regulations for areas of critical state concern.

(8) If any local government fails to submit land development regulations within 180 days after the commission adopts a rule designating an area of critical state concern, or if the regulations submitted do not comply with the principles for guiding development set out in the rule designating the area of critical state concern and with the provisions of an adopted local government comprehensive plan, in either case, within 120 days, the state land planning agency shall submit to the commission recommended land development regulations applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern. Within 45 days following receipt of the recommendation from the agency, the commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same with or without modification, and by rule establish land development regulations applicable to that local government's portion of the area of critical state concern. However, such rule shall not become effective prior to legislative review of an area of critical state concern pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). In the rule, the commission shall specify the extent to which its land development regulations shall supersede local land development regulations or be supplementary thereto. Notice of any proposed rule issued under this section shall be given to all local governments and regional planning agencies in the area of critical state concern, in addition to any other notice required under chapter 120. The land development regulations adopted by the commission under this section may include any type of regulation that could have been adopted by the local government. Any land development regulations adopted by the commission under this section shall be administered by the local government as part of, or in the absence of, the local land development regulations.

(9) If, within 12 months after the commission adopts a rule designating an area of critical state concern, land development regulations for the area have not become effective under either subsection (6) or subsection (8), the designation of the area as an area of critical state concern terminates. No part of such area may be recommended for redesignation until at least 12 months after the date the designation terminates pursuant to this subsection. The running of the 12-month period subsequent to the initial designation shall be tolled upon challenge pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120 to either the designation of the area of critical state concern or the adoption of land development regulations under subsection (6) or subsection (8).

(10) At any time after the adoption of land development regulations by the commission under this section, a local government may propose land development regulations under subsection (5) which, if approved by the state land planning agency as provided in subsection (6), shall supersede any regulations adopted under subsection (8).

(11) Land development regulations submitted by a local government in an area of critical state concern and approved pursuant to subsection (6) may be amended or rescinded by the local government, but the amendment or rescission becomes effective only upon approval thereof by the state land planning agency. The state land planning agency shall either approve or reject the requested changes within 60 days of receipt thereof. Land development regulations for an area of critical state concern adopted by the commission under subsection (8) may be amended or rescinded by rule by the commission in the same manner as for original adoption.

(12) Upon request of a substantially interested person pursuant to s. 120.54(5), a local government or regional planning agency within the designated area, or the state land planning agency, the commission may by rule remove, contract, or expand any designated boundary. Boundary expansions shall be subject to legislative review pursuant to paragraph (1)(c). No boundary shall be modified without a specific finding by the commission that such changes are consistent with necessary resource protection. The total boundaries of an entire area of critical state concern shall not be removed by the commission unless a minimum time of 1 year has elapsed from the adoption of regulations adopted pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10). Before totally removing such boundaries, the commission shall make findings that the regulations adopted pursuant to subsection (1), subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10) are being effectively implemented by local governments within the area of critical state concern to protect the area and that adopted local government comprehensive plans within the area have been conformed to principles for guiding development for the area.

(13) If the state land planning agency determines that the administration of the local land development regulations within the area is inadequate to protect the state or regional interest prior to the repeal of the critical state concern designation pursuant to subsection (15), the state land planning agency may institute appropriate judicial proceedings, as provided in s. 380.11, to compel proper enforcement of the land development regulations.

(14) Any local government which lies either wholly or partially within an area of critical state concern and which has adopted a local government comprehensive plan pursuant to chapter 163 shall conform such plans to the principles for guiding development for the area of critical state concern.

(15) Any rule adopted pursuant to this section designating the boundaries of an area of critical state concern and the principles for guiding development therein shall be repealed by the commission no earlier than 12 months and no later than 3 years after approval by the state land planning agency or adoption by the commission of all land development regulations pursuant to subsection (6), subsection (8), or subsection (10). Any repeal pursuant to this subsection may be limited to any portion of the area of critical state concern. Such repeal shall be contingent upon approval by the state land planning agency of local land development regulations pursuant to subsection (6) or subsection (10), upon such regulations being effective for a period of 12 months, and upon adoption or modification by the applicable unit of local government of a local government comprehensive plan pursuant to subsection (14).

(16) No person shall undertake any development within any area of critical state concern except in accordance with this chapter.

(17) If an area of critical state concern has been designated under subsection (1) and if land development regulations for the area of critical state concern have not yet become effective under subsection (6) or subsection (8), a local government may grant development permits in accordance with such land development regulations as were in effect immediately prior to the designation of the area as an area of critical state concern.

(18) Neither the designation of an area of critical state concern nor the adoption of any regulations for such an area shall in any way limit or modify the rights of any person to complete any development that has been authorized by registration of a subdivision pursuant to chapter 478, by recordation pursuant to local subdivision plat law, or by a building permit or other authorization to commence development on which there has been reliance and a change of position, and which registration or recordation was accomplished, or which permit or authorization was issued, prior to the approval under subsection (6), or the adoption under subsection (8), of land development regulations for the area of critical state concern. If a developer has by his actions in reliance on prior regulations obtained vested or other legal rights that in law would have prevented a local government from changing those regulations in a way adverse to his interests, nothing in this chapter authorizes any governmental agency to abridge those rights.

(19) In addition to any other notice required to be given under the local land development regulations, the local government shall give notice to the state land planning agency of any application for a development permit in any area of critical state concern, except to the extent that the state land planning agency has in writing waived its right to such notice in regard to all or certain classes of such applications. The state land planning agency may by rule specify additional classes of persons who shall have the right to receive notices of and participate in hearings under this section.

(20) At no time shall a land area be designated an area of critical state concern if the effect of such designation would be to subject more than 5 percent of the land of the state to supervision under this section, except that if any supervision by the state is retained, the area shall be considered to be included within the limitations of this subsection. If 5 percent of the lands of the state are designated as areas of critical state concern pursuant to this section, a redesignation pursuant to paragraph (1)(d) will not be prohibited by this subsection.

(21) Within 30 days after the effective date of the designation of an area of critical state concern pursuant to paragraph (1)(c) or paragraph (1)(d), the state land planning agency shall record a legal description of the boundaries of the area of critical state concern in the public records of the county or counties in which the area of critical state concern is located.

380.055 Big Cypress Area.—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This section shall be known and may be cited as "The Big Cypress Conservation Act of 1973."

(2) LEGISLATIVE INTENT.—It is the intent of the Legislature to conserve and protect the natural resources and scenic beauty of the Big Cypress Area of Florida. It is the finding of the Legislature that the Big Cypress Area is an area containing and having a significant impact upon environmental and natural resources of regional and statewide importance and that designation of the area as an area of critical state concern is desirable and necessary to accomplish the purposes of "The Florida Environmental Land and Water Management Act of 1972" and to implement s. 7, Art. II of the State Constitution.

(3) DESIGNATION AS AREA OF CRITICAL STATE CONCERN.—The "Big Cypress Area," as defined in this subsection, is hereby designated as an area of critical state concern. "Big Cypress Area" means the area generally depicted on the map entitled "Boundary Map, Big Cypress National Freshwater Reserve, Florida," numbered BC-91,001 and dated November 1971, which is on file and available for public inspection in the office of the National Park Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C., and in the office of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, which is the area proposed as the Federal Big Cypress National Freshwater Reserve, Florida, together with such contiguous land and water areas as are ecologically linked with the Everglades National Park, certain of the estuarine fisheries of South Florida, or the freshwater aquifer of South Florida, the definitive boundaries of which shall be set in the following manner: Within 120 days following the effective date of this act, the state land planning agency shall recommend definitive boundaries for the Big Cypress Area to the Administration Commission, after giving notice to all local governments and regional planning agencies which include within their boundaries any part of the area proposed to be included in the Big Cypress Area and holding such hearings as the state land planning agency deems appropriate. Within 45 days following receipt of the recommended boundaries, the Administration Commission shall adopt, modify, or reject the recommendation and shall by rule establish the boundaries of the area defined as the Big Cypress Area.

(4) ADOPTION OF LAND DEVELOPMENT REGULATIONS.—The provisions of subsections (5)-(8), (10)-(12), (14), and (17) of s. 380.05 shall not apply to the Big Cypress Area. All other provisions of this chapter shall apply to the Big Cypress Area. Any provision of this chapter to the contrary notwithstanding, the state land planning agency has the right, and its duty shall be, to submit recommended land development regulations applicable to the Big Cypress Area to the Administration Commission concurrent with the boundaries recommended pursuant to subsection (3). The Administration Commission shall either reject the recommendation as tendered or adopt the same by rule with or without modification. The commission shall specify the extent to which regulations adopted pursuant to this section supersede local land development regulations.

(5) ACQUISITION OF BIG CYPRESS NATIONAL PRESERVE.—

(a) It is the intent of the Legislature to provide the means to accomplish an agreement between the State of Florida and the Government of the United States, whereby the state will contribute toward the cost of a program of acquisition of land and water areas and related rights and interests within the area proposed as the Federal Big Cypress National Preserve, Florida. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Governor and the Cabinet begin immediately an acquisition program within the area proposed as the Federal Big Cypress National Preserve, Florida, on behalf of the state pending action by the Government of the United States in the Big Cypress Area.

(b) The Governor and Cabinet shall set aside from the proceeds of the full faith and credit bonds authorized by the Land Conservation Act of 1972, or from other funds authorized, appropriated, or allocated for the acquisition of environmentally endangered lands, or from both sources, $40 million for acquisition of the area proposed as the Federal Big Cypress National Preserve, Florida, or portions thereof.

(c) The Governor and Cabinet are empowered to acquire land and water areas within the Federal Big Cypress National Preserve, Florida, created by Pub. L. No. 93-440, in order to conserve and protect the natural resources and scenic beauty therein and to donate and convey title in land and water areas so acquired or currently owned by the state to the Government of the United States or its agency upon the expenditure by the United States of an amount of federal funds at least equal to the acquisition cost of the land and water areas donated by the state. The intent of this condition for the donation of land and water areas by the state is to insure that the investment of federal funds in the acquisition of land and water areas for the Big Cypress National Preserve will be not less than the investment of state funds in the land and water areas so donated. In making such acquisitions, the Governor and Cabinet shall give priority to those land and water areas within the area proposed as the Federal Big Cypress National Preserve, Florida, which are essential to the integrity of the environment, the destruction of which would cause irreparable damage to the Everglades National Park, the estuarine fisheries of South Florida, or the underlying freshwater aquifer.

(6) FUNCTION OF WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT.—It is the finding of the Legislature that the Big Cypress Area, as a water storage and recharge area, is an integral part of the water resources of any water management district of which the Big Cypress Area is or may be a part. It is the legislative intent that there be close cooperation and coordination of efforts between the water management district and the Department of Natural Resources in carrying out the intent and purposes of this section. The Governor and Cabinet as head of the Department of Natural Resources are authorized to delegate to the water management district, or to a board therein, any power authorized in this section to be exercised by the department, and the district or basin is authorized to accept the powers delegated to it and shall have the power and duty to carry out the intent and purposes of this section to the fullest extent possible within its capabilities and resources.

(7) EMINENT DOMAIN WITHIN BIG CYPRESS AREA.—The Governor and Cabinet as the head of the Department of Natural Resources are empowered and authorized to acquire by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any land or water areas and related resources and property, and any and all rights, title and interest in such land or water areas and related resources and other property, lying within the boundaries of the Big Cypress Area. The Legislature finds that the exercise of the power of eminent domain within the Big Cypress Area to accomplish the purposes of this section is necessary and for a public purpose.

(8) INDIAN RIGHTS.—Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, members of the Miccosukee Tribe of Indians of Florida and members of the Seminole Tribe of Florida may continue their usual and customary use and occupancy of lands and waters within the Big Cypress Area, including hunting, fishing, and trapping on a subsistence basis and traditional tribal ceremonials. Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny or impair, or authorize the denial or impairment, of any rights granted by or pursuant to chapter 285 relative to Indian reservation and affairs, and the lands of the Seminole Tribe of Florida and of the Miccosukee Tribe of Indians of Florida, as described in s. 285.061(1), shall be excluded from the Big Cypress Area as defined in this section.

380.0551 Green Swamp Area; designation as area of critical state concern.—

(1) The Green Swamp Area, the boundaries of which are described in chapter 22F-5, Florida Administrative Code, is hereby designated an area of critical state concern effective July 1, 1979. The state land planning agency, in conjunction with the applicable local governments, shall review suggested changes to the existing boundary in the area immediately to the south of the southern boundary of the City of Clermont in Lake County and the area along the existing southern boundary around Lake Julia and the City of Polk City in Polk County for possible deletion from the area of critical state concern. The state land planning agency shall report to, and shall make specific recommendations to, the commission relative to any proposed deletion by August 1, 1979. The commission shall take action on the recommendations of the state planning agency no later than October 1, 1979. Chapters 22F-5, 22F-6, and 22F-7, Florida Administrative Code, are hereby adopted and incorporated herein by reference. The boundaries described in chapter 22F-5, Florida Administrative Code, shall be modified pursuant to s. 380.05(12). There shall be appointed a resource planning and management committee as provided in s. 380.045.

(2) The land development regulations contained in chapters 22F-6 and 22F-7, Florida Administrative Code, shall be the land development regulations for the applicable local government's portion of the area of critical state concern until either:

(a) An applicable local government complies with the provisions of s. 380.05(10); or

(b) Such regulations are repealed pursuant to subsection (3).

(3) Chapters 22F-5, 22F-6, and 22F-7, Florida Administrative Code, shall be repealed by the commission no earlier than July 1, 1980, and no later than July 1, 1982. Upon recommendation by the state land planning agency to the commission, any repeal of such rules pursuant to this subsection may be effective only for one local government's portion of the Green Swamp Area. Such repeal shall be contingent upon approval by the state land planning agency of local land development regulations pursuant to s. 380.05(6) or (10), upon such regulations being effective for a period of 12 months, and upon adoption or modification by the applicable local government of a local government comprehensive plan pursuant to s. 380.05(14).

History.—s. 5, ch. 79-73.

380.0552 Florida Keys Area; designation as area of critical state concern.—

(1) The Florida Keys Area, the boundaries of which are described in chapter 22F-8, Florida Administrative Code, is hereby designated an area of critical state concern effective July 1, 1979. Chapters 22F-8 through 22F-13, Florida Administrative Code, are hereby adopted and incorporated herein by reference. There shall be appointed a resource planning and management committee as provided in s. 380.045.

(2) The land development regulations contained in chapters 22F-9 through 22F-13, Florida Administrative Code, shall be the land development regulations for the applicable local government's portion of the area of critical state concern until either:

(a) An applicable local government complies with the provisions of s. 380.05(10); or

(b) Such regulations are repealed pursuant to subsection (4).

(3) The City of Key West, as incorporated, shall be removed from under the provisions of chapters 22F-8 and 22F-12, Florida Administrative Code, upon approval by the state land planning agency of the land-use element of the local government comprehensive plan pursuant to chapter 163, notwithstanding the 1-year minimum requirement of subsection (4).

(4) Chapters 22F-8 through 22F-13, Florida Administrative Code, shall be repealed by the commission no earlier than July 1, 1980, and no later than July 1, 1982. Upon recommendation by the state land planning agency to the commission, any repeal of such rules pursuant to this subsection may be effective only for one local government's portion of the Florida Keys Area. Such repeal shall be contingent upon approval by the state land planning agency of local land development regulations pursuant to s. 380.05(6) or (10), upon such regulations being effective for a period of 12 months, and upon adoption or modification by the applicable local government of a local government comprehensive plan pursuant to s. 380.05(14).

380.06 Developments of regional impact.—

(1) "Development of regional impact," as used in this section, means any development which, because of its character, magnitude, or location, would have a substantial effect upon the health, safety, or welfare of citizens of more than one county.

(2)(a) The state land planning agency shall recommend to the Administration Commission specific guidelines and standards for adoption pursuant to this subsection. The Administration Commission shall by rule adopt guidelines and standards to be used in determining whether particular developments shall be presumed to be of regional impact. Such guidelines and standards shall be subject to legislative review as provided in s. 380.10(2). In adopting its guidelines and standards, the Administration Commission shall consider and be guided by:

1. The extent to which the development would create or alleviate environmental problems such as air or water pollution or noise.

2. The amount of pedestrian or vehicular traffic likely to be generated.

3. The number of persons likely to be residents, employees, or otherwise present.

4. The size of the site to be occupied.

5. The likelihood that additional or subsidiary development will be generated.

6. The extent to which the development would create an additional demand for, or additional use of, energy, including the energy requirements of subsidiary developments.

7. The unique qualities of particular areas of the state.

(b) Any modifications to the initial guidelines and standards prescribed pursuant to this subsection shall not modify or abridge rights that have vested pursuant to subsection (12) or development of regional impact status determinations acquired through executed agreements or binding letters issued pursuant to this section, upon which the developer has relied and upon the basis of which he has changed his position prior to the effective date of such rules.

(3) Each regional planning agency may recommend to the state land planning agency from time to time types of development for designation as developments of regional impact under subsection (2). Each regional planning agency shall solicit from the local governments within its jurisdiction suggestions regarding developments to be recommended.

(4)(a) If any developer is in doubt whether his proposed development would be a development of regional impact, whether his rights have vested pursuant to subsection (12), or whether a proposed substantial change to a development of regional impact concerning which rights had previously vested pursuant to subsection (12) would divest such rights, he may request a determination from the state land planning agency. Within 60 days of the receipt of such request, the state land planning agency shall issue a binding letter of interpretation with respect to the proposed development. Binding letters of interpretation issued by the state land planning agency shall bind all state, regional, and local agencies, as well as the developer.

(b) In determining whether a proposed substantial change to a development of regional impact concerning which rights had previously vested pursuant to subsection (12) would divest such rights, the state land planning agency shall review the proposed change within the context of:

1. Its conformance with any adopted state comprehensive plan and any rules of the state land planning agency;

2. All rights and obligations arising out of the vested status of such development;

3. Permit conditions or requirements imposed by the Department of Environmental Regulation, the Department of Natural Resources, or any water management district created by s. 373.069, or any of their successor agencies or any appropriate federal regulatory agency; and

4. Any regional impacts arising from the proposed change.

(c) If a proposed substantial change to a development of regional impact concerning which rights had previously vested pursuant to subsection (12) would result in reduced regional impacts, the change shall not divest rights to complete the development pursuant to subsection (12).

(d) Requests for determinations made pursuant to this subsection shall be in writing and in such form as prescribed by the state land planning agency.

(5) A developer may undertake a development of regional impact if:

(a) The land on which the development is proposed is within the jurisdiction of a local government that has adopted a zoning ordinance under chapter 163 or under appropriate special or local laws or ordinances and the development has been approved under the requirements of this section;

(b) The land on which the development is proposed is within an area of critical state concern and the development has been approved under the requirements of s. 380.05; or

(c) The developer has given written notice to the state land planning agency and to any local government having jurisdiction to adopt zoning or subdivision regulations for the area in which the development is proposed and, after 90 days have passed, no zoning or subdivision regulations have been adopted or designation of area of critical state concern issued.

(6) If the development of regional impact is to be located within the jurisdiction of a local government that has adopted a zoning ordinance, the developer shall file an application for development approval with the appropriate local government having jurisdiction. The application shall contain, in addition to such other matters as may be required, a statement that the developer proposes to undertake a development of regional impact as defined under this section.

(7) The appropriate local government shall give notice and hold a hearing on the application in the same manner as for a rezoning as provided under the appropriate special or local law or ordinance and shall comply with the following additional requirements:

(a) The notice of hearing shall state that the proposed development would be a development of regional impact. However, in no case shall the appropriate local government issue notice of public hearing until the appropriate regional planning agency provides written notice that the application for development approval contains sufficient information for the regional planning agency to discharge its responsibilities under subsection (8) or that any additional information requested will not be supplied by the applicant. A public hearing date shall be set by the appropriate local government at the next scheduled meeting.

(b) If a regional planning agency determines that the application is insufficient, it shall provide in writing to the appropriate local government and the applicant a statement of any additional information desired within 15 working days of the receipt of the application by the regional planning agency. The applicant may supply the information requested by the regional planning agency and shall communicate its intention to do so in writing to the appropriate local government and the regional planning agency within 5 working days of the receipt of the statement requesting such information, or the applicant shall notify the appropriate local government and the regional planning agency in writing that the requested information will not be supplied.

(c) The notice shall be published and given in the usual manner, but at least 60 days in advance of the hearing.

(d) The notice shall be given to the state land planning agency, to the applicable regional planning agency, and to such other persons as may have been designated by the state land planning agency as entitled to receive such notices.

(e) The appropriate local government shall render a decision on the application within 30 days after the hearing, unless an extension is requested by the developer. The development order shall include findings of fact and conclusions of law consistent with subsection (11).

(f) When a development of regional impact is proposed within the jurisdiction of more than one local government, the local governments, at the request of the developer, may hold a joint public hearing.

(g) If a developer proposes any change to a development of regional impact previously approved pursuant to this section, the local government may, without waiving the right to injunctive relief under s. 380.11, require further review consistent with local procedures. The approved development of regional impact shall not be subject to further review pursuant to this section unless the local government finds a substantial deviation from the terms of the original development order. As used in this section, "substantial deviation" means any change to the previously approved development of regional impact which creates a reasonable likelihood of additional adverse regional impact or any other regional impact created by the change, not previously reviewed by the regional planning agency.

(h) In determining whether a development of regional impact previously approved pursuant to this section is subject to further review pursuant to this section, the local government shall consider the following changes which shall be presumed not to be substantial deviations requiring further review:

1. An increase in the number of dwelling units of not more than 5 percent or 200 dwelling units, whichever is less;

2. A decrease in the number of dwelling units which does not require a major redistribution of density;

3. A decrease in the area set aside for common open space of not more than 5 percent or 50 acres, whichever is less;

4. An increase in the area set aside for common open space;

5. An increase in the floor area proposed for non-residential use of not more than 5 percent or 10,000 square feet, whichever is less;

6. A decrease in the regional impact of the development, as approved in the local government order;

7. A change required by permit conditions or requirements imposed by the Department of Environmental Regulation, the Department of Natural Resources, or any water management district created by s. 373.069, or any of their successor agencies, or any appropriate federal regulatory agency.

(i) Unless the presumptions set forth in paragraph (h) are rebutted by clear and convincing evidence offered by the moving party, the development shall not be subject to further development of regional impact review pursuant to this section. The appropriate local government shall afford a reasonable opportunity for a developer or other substantially affected party to present evidence to support or rebut such presumptions.

(8) Within 50 days after receipt of the notice required in paragraph (7)(d), the regional planning agency, if one has been designated for the area including the local government, shall prepare and submit to the local government a report and recommendations on the regional impact of the proposed development. The regional planning agency shall afford the developer or any substantially affected party reasonable opportunity to present evidence to the agency head relating to the proposed regional agency report and recommendations. In preparing its report and recommendations, the regional planning agency shall consider whether, and the extent to which:

(a) The development will have a favorable or unfavorable impact on the environment and natural resources of the region.

(b) The development will have a favorable or unfavorable impact on the economy of the region.

(c) The development will efficiently use or unduly burden water, sewer, solid waste disposal, or other necessary public facilities.

(d) The development will efficiently use or unduly burden public transportation facilities.

(e) The development will favorably or adversely affect the ability of people to find adequate housing reasonably accessible to their places of employment.

(f) The development complies with such other criteria for determining regional impact as the regional planning agency shall deem appropriate, including, but not limited to, the extent to which the development would create an additional demand for, or additional use of, energy, provided such criteria and related policies have been adopted by the regional planning agency pursuant to s. 120.54.

(9) The state land planning agency shall print biweekly, and mail to any person upon payment of a reasonable charge to cover costs of preparation and mailing, a list of all notices of applications for developments of regional impact that have been filed with the state land planning agency.

(10) If the development is in an area of critical state concern, the local government shall approve it only if it complies with the land development regulations therefor under s. 380.05.

(11) If the development is not located in an area of critical state concern, in considering whether the development shall be approved, denied, or approved subject to conditions, restrictions, or limitations, the local government shall consider whether, and the extent to which:

(a) The development unreasonably interferes with the achievement of the objectives of an adopted state land development plan applicable to the area;

(b) The development is consistent with the local land development regulations; and

(c) The development is consistent with the report and recommendations of the regional planning agency submitted pursuant to subsection (8) of this section.

(12) Nothing in this section shall limit or modify the rights of any person to complete any development that has been authorized by registration of a subdivision pursuant to chapter 478, by recordation pursuant to local subdivision plat law, or by a building permit or other authorization to commence development on which there has been reliance and a change of position, and which registration or recordation was accomplished, or which permit or authorization was issued, prior to the effective date of the rules issued by the Administration Commission pursuant to subsection (2). If a developer has, by his actions in reliance on prior regulations, obtained vested or other legal rights that in law would have prevented a local government from changing those regulations in a way adverse to his interests, nothing in this chapter authorizes any governmental agency to abridge those rights.

(a) For the purpose of determining the vesting of rights under this subsection, approval pursuant to local subdivision plat law, ordinances, or regulations of a subdivision plat by formal vote of a county or municipal governmental body having jurisdiction after August 1, 1967, and prior to July 1, 1973, shall be sufficient to vest all property rights for the purposes of this subsection, and no action in reliance on, or change of position concerning, such local governmental approval shall be required for vesting to take place.

(b) For the purpose of this act the conveyance of, or agreement to convey, property to the county, state, or local government as a prerequisite to zoning change approval shall be construed as an act of reliance to vest rights as determined under this subsection, provided such zoning change is actually granted by such government.

(13)(a) If a development project includes two or more developments of regional impact, a developer may file a comprehensive development of regional impact application.

(b) If a proposed development is planned for development over an extended period of time, the developer may file an application for master development approval of the project and agree to present subsequent increments of the development for preconstruction review. This agreement shall be entered into by the developer, the regional planning agency, and the appropriate local government having jurisdiction.

(c) The state land planning agency, by rule, shall establish uniform procedures to implement this subsection.

(14)(a) The state land planning agency shall adopt rules to insure uniform procedural review of developments of regional impact by the state land planning agency and regional planning agencies pursuant to this section. These rules shall be adopted pursuant to chapter 120 and shall include all forms, application content, and review guidelines necessary to implement developments of regional impact review.

(b) Regional planning agencies shall be subject to rules adopted by the state land planning agency; however, a regional planning agency may adopt additional rules not inconsistent with rules adopted by the state land planning agency, to promote efficient review of developments of regional impact applications. Regional planning agency rules shall be adopted pursuant to chapter 120.

(15) Any proposed hospital which has a designed capacity of not more than 100 beds is exempt from the provisions of this section.

380.07 Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission.—

(1) There is hereby created the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission, which shall consist of the Administration Commission.

(2) Whenever any local government issues any development order in any area of critical state concern, or in regard to any development of regional impact, copies of such orders as prescribed by rule by the state land planning agency shall be transmitted to the state land planning agency, the regional planning agency, and the owner or developer of the property affected by such order. Within 45 days after the order is rendered, the owner, the developer, an appropriate regional planning agency by vote at a regularly scheduled meeting, or the state land planning agency may appeal the order to the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission by filing a notice of appeal with the commission. The appellant shall furnish a copy of the notice of appeal to the opposing party, as the case may be, and to the local government which issued the order. The filing of the notice of appeal shall stay the effectiveness of the order and shall stay any judicial proceedings in relation to the development order, until after the completion of the appeal process.

(3) Prior to issuing an order, the Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission shall hold a hearing pursuant to the provisions of chapter 120. The commission shall encourage the submission of appeals on the record made below in cases in which the development order was issued after a full and complete hearing before the local government or an agency thereof.

(4) The Florida Land and Water Adjudicatory Commission shall issue a decision granting or denying permission to develop pursuant to the standards of this chapter and may attach conditions and restrictions to its decisions.

380.08 Protection of landowners' rights.—

(1) Nothing in this chapter authorizes any governmental agency to adopt a rule or regulation or issue any order that is unduly restrictive or constitutes a taking of property without the payment of full compensation, in violation of the constitutions of this state or of the United States.

(2) If any governmental agency authorized to adopt a rule or regulation or issue any order under this chapter shall determine that, to achieve the purposes of this chapter, it is in the public interest to acquire the fee simple or lesser interest in any parcel of land, such agency shall so certify to the state land planning agency, the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, and other appropriate governmental agencies. Prior to such agency's acquiring such land, the seller of the land shall file a statement with the Department of State disclosing, for the period from January 1, 1970, to the date of the statement, all financial transactions concerning the land, all parties having a financial interest in any transaction, and the amount of the tax assessment thereon for each year.

(3) If any governmental agency denies a development permit under this chapter, it shall specify its reasons in writing and indicate any changes in the development proposal that would make it eligible to receive the permit.

380.085 Judicial review relating to permits and licenses.—

(1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Agency" means any official, officer, commission, authority, council, committee, department, division, bureau, board, section, or other unit or entity of state government.

(b) "Permit" means any permit or license required by this part.

(2) Any person substantially affected by a final action of any agency with respect to a permit may seek review within 90 days of the rendering of such decision and request monetary damages and other relief in the circuit court in the judicial circuit in which the affected property is located; however, circuit court review shall be confined solely to determining whether final agency action is an unreasonable exercise of the state's police power constituting a taking without just compensation. Review of final agency action for the purpose of determining whether the action is in accordance with existing statutes or rules and based on competent substantial evidence shall proceed in accordance with chapter 120.

(3) If the court determines the decision reviewed is an unreasonable exercise of the state's police power constituting a taking without just compensation, the court shall remand the matter to the agency which shall, within a reasonable time:

(a) Agree to issue the permit;

(b) Agree to pay appropriate monetary damages; however, in determining the amount of compensation to be paid, consideration shall be given by the court to any enhancement to the value of the land attributable to governmental action; or

(c) Agree to modify its decision to avoid an unreasonable exercise of police power.

(4) The agency shall submit a statement of its agreed-upon action to the court in the form of a proposed order. If the action is a reasonable exercise of police power, the court shall enter its final order approving the proposed order. If the agency fails to submit a proposed order within a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days which specifies an action that is a reasonable exercise of police power, the court may order the agency to perform any of the alternatives specified in subsection (3).

(5) The court shall award reasonable attorney's fees and court costs to the agency or substantially affected person, whichever prevails.

(6) The provisions of this section are cumulative and shall not be deemed to abrogate any other remedies provided by law.

380.10 Adoption of standards and guidelines.—

(1) The standards and guidelines adopted by the Administration Commission pursuant to s. 380.06(2) shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives for presentation to the regular session of the Legislature. The initial standards and guidelines shall be approved or disapproved by concurrent resolution of the 1973 Legislature<sup>1</sup> or be modified by law, and, upon concurrence by both houses of the Legislature, the provisions of the standards and guidelines shall become effective as the initial standards and guidelines of the Administration Commission. In the event the 1973 Legislature disapproves the initial standards and guidelines submitted to it pursuant to s. 380.06(2), the Administration Commission shall adopt by rule new standards and guidelines and submit said standards and guidelines to the Legislature.

(2) Thereafter, any change made by the Administration Commission in the guidelines and standards relating to developments of regional impact which have been approved by the Legislature shall be submitted to the next regular session of the Legislature and shall not become effective until approved by that Legislature. However, the Administration Commission shall have the authority to make any change which it designates as an emergency act that is vital to the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of more than one county. Such an emergency change shall be effective upon its adoption by the commission, but the continuance of this effectiveness beyond the next regular session of the Legislature shall be subject to approval by that Legislature, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 120.

- 380.20 Short title.
- 380.21 Legislative intent.

- 380.22 Lead agency authority and duties.
- 380.23 Federal consistency.
- 380.24 Local government participation.
- 380.25 Previous coastal zone atlases rejected.

380.19 Department of Environmental Regulation.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature that the environmental aspects of the coastal areas of this state have attracted a high percentage of permanent population and visitors and that this concentration of people and their requirements has had a serious impact on the natural surroundings and has become a threat to the health, safety, and general welfare of the citizens of this state. It is further determined that a coordinated effort of interested federal, state, and local agencies of government is imperative to plan for and effect a solution to this threat, and that the creation of an advisory council will aid in accomplishing this purpose and in the implementation of s. 7, Art. II of the State Constitution, and s. 20.03(9).

(2) As used in this section:

(a) <sup>1</sup>["Department" means the Department of Environmental Regulation.]

(b) "Coastal zone" means that area of land and water from the territorial limits seaward to the most inland extent of maritime influences.

(c) "Interested agency" means any unit of state or local government administering laws, regulations, or ordinances designed to manage an environmental aspect of the coastal zone.

<sup>2</sup>(3) There is created within the Department of Natural Resources the Florida Coastal Coordinating Council, to consist of the executive director of the Department of Natural Resources, who shall be chairman, the executive director of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, and the executive director of the Department of Pollution Control, all of whom shall serve ex officio on the council and who shall be considered as the base members of the council. Additional members from interested state or local units of government may serve on the council by unanimous request and at the pleasure of its base members.

(a) To employ a staff director and such other personnel as may be necessary to aid in carrying out the work of the <sup>1</sup>[department];

(b) To conduct, direct, encourage, coordinate, and organize a continuous program of research into problems relating to the coastal zone;

(c) To review, upon request, all plans and activities pertinent to the coastal zone and to provide coordination in these activities among the various levels of government and areas of the state;

(d) To develop a comprehensive state plan for the protection, development, and zoning of the coastal zone, making maximum use of any federal funding for this purpose;

(e) To provide a clearing service for coastal zone matters by collecting, processing, and disseminating pertinent information relating thereto;

(f) To make use of pertinent data as may be secured from departments, boards, commissions, officials, agencies, and institutions, except such records or information as may be required by law to be confidential; and

(g) To provide such other services as any interested agency may request.

All interested agencies are requested to make available such records, data, information, and statistics as are necessary or proper for the operation of the <sup>1</sup>[department].

(5)(a) Any research project or any form of empirical study prepared by the <sup>1</sup>[department] or its staff which is wholly or partially financed by state funds shall be reported to the office of the Governor or his designee, with two copies of the report each to the Speaker of the House, the President of the Senate, and the library maintained by the Joint Legislative Management Committee.

(b) Reports shall be submitted 30 days prior to commencement of the project and on January 1 of each year thereafter until termination of the project. Upon conclusion of the project a final report shall be submitted.

(c) All reports shall contain a description of the project or study conducted. The description shall include the source of funds and the duration, purpose, and location of each project or study. Final reports shall also include all findings and conclusions of the research or study.

(d) Nothing in this section shall require the filing of reports on projects that have been classified due to national defense or security.

(e) The Joint Legislative Management Committee shall make report forms available and keep records of all reports submitted.

(6) The <sup>1</sup>[department] is to be advisory to any interested agency requesting its service in matters relating to the coastal zone to provide coordination of efforts and to avoid duplication of effort in the interest of governmental efficiency.

(7) The <sup>1</sup>[department] is authorized to make and shall adopt rules for the implementation of this section in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 120.

History.—ss. 1-7, ch. 70-259; s. 2, ch. 71-137; s. 20, ch. 72-178.

Note.—Bracketed language substituted for a reference to the Coastal Coordinating Council. See s. 18, ch. 75-22, which transferred the powers, duties, and functions of the council to the Division of Resource Management of the Department of Natural Resources; also see s. 4, ch. 77-306, which transferred the "powers, duties, personnel, and functions . . . described in s. 370.0211(4)(a)-(g)" to the Department of Environmental Regulation.

Note.—The Coastal Coordinating Council was abolished and its powers, duties, and functions transferred. See s. 18, ch. 75-22.

Note.—Former s. 370.0211.

380.20 Short title.—Sections 380.21-380.25 may be cited as the "Florida Coastal Management Act of 1978."

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-287.

380.21 Legislative intent.—

(1) The Legislature finds that:

(a) The coast is rich in a variety of natural, commercial, recreational, ecological, industrial, and aesthetic resources, including, but not limited to, energy facilities, as that term is defined in s. 304(5) of the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, of immediate potential value to the present and future well-being of the residents of this state.

(b) It is in the state and national interest to protect, maintain, and develop these resources through

(c) State land and water management policies should, to the maximum possible extent, be implemented by local governments through existing processes for the guidance of growth and development.

(2) The Legislature therefore grants authorization for the Department of Environmental Regulation to compile a program based on existing statutes and existing rules and submit an application to the appropriate federal agency as a basis for receiving administrative funds under the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972. It is the further intent of the Legislature that enactment of this legislation shall not amend existing statutes or provide additional regulatory authority to any governmental body except as otherwise provided by s. 380.23. The enactment of this legislation shall not in any other way affect any existing statutory or regulatory authority.

380.22 Lead agency authority and duties.—

(1) The Department of Environmental Regulation shall be the lead agency pursuant to 16 U.S.C. s. 1451, et seq., and shall compile and submit to the appropriate federal agency an application to receive funds pursuant to s. 306 of the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended (16 U.S.C. ss. 1451-1464). The application for federal approval of the state's program shall include program policies that only reference existing statutes and existing implementing administrative rules. In the event the application or the program submitted pursuant to this subsection is rejected by the appropriate federal agency because of failure of this act, the existing statutes, or the existing implementing administrative rules to comply with the requirements of the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended, no state coastal management program shall become effective without prior legislative approval. The coastal management application or program may be amended from time to time to include changes in statutes and rules adopted pursuant to statutory authority other than this act.

(2) The Department of Environmental Regulation shall also have authority to:

(a) Establish advisory councils with sufficient geographic balance to insure statewide representation.

(b) Coordinate central files and clearinghouse procedures for coastal resource data information and encourage the use of compatible information and standards.

(c) Provide to the extent practicable financial, technical, research, and legal assistance to effectuate the purposes of this act.

(d) Review rules of other affected agencies to determine consistency with the program and to report any inconsistencies to the Legislature.

(3) The Secretary of Environmental Regulation shall adopt by rule a specific formula for allocation of federal funds for the administration of the program.

History.—s. 7, ch. 78-287.

380.23 Federal consistency.—

(1) When an activity requires a permit or license subject to federal consistency review, the issuance or renewal of a state license shall automatically constitute the state's concurrence that the licensed activity or use, as licensed, is consistent with the federally approved program. When an activity requires a permit or license subject to federal consistency review, the denial of a state license shall automatically constitute the state's finding that the proposed activity or use is not consistent with the state's federally approved program, unless the United States Secretary of Commerce determines that such activity or use is in the national interest as provided in the Federal Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972.

(2) Where federal licenses, permits, activities, and projects listed in subsection (3) are subject to federal consistency review and are seaward of the jurisdiction of the state, or there is no state agency with sole jurisdiction, the Department of Environmental Regulation shall be responsible for the consistency review and determination; however, the department shall not make a determination that the license, permit, activity, or project is consistent if any other state agency with significant analogous responsibility makes a determination of inconsistency. All decisions and determinations under this subsection shall be appealable to the Governor and Cabinet.

(3) Consistency review shall be limited to review of the following activities, uses, and projects to ensure that such activities and uses are conducted in accordance with the state's coastal management program:

(a) Federal development projects and activities of federal agencies which significantly affect coastal waters and the adjacent shorelands of the state.

(b) Federal assistance projects which significantly affect coastal waters and the adjacent shorelands of the state and which are reviewed as part of the review process developed pursuant to OMB Circular A-95.

(c) Federally licensed or permitted activities affecting land or water uses when such activities are in or seaward of the jurisdiction of local governments required to develop a coastal zone protection element as provided in s. 380.24 and when such activities involve:

1. Permits required under ss. 10 and 11 of the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1899, as amended.

2. Permits required under s. 103 of the Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act of 1972, as amended.

3. Permits required under ss. 201, 402, 403, 404, and 405 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, as amended, unless such permitting activities pursuant to such sections have been delegated to the state pursuant to said act.

4. Permits required under the Marine Protection, Research and Sanctuaries Act of 1972, as amended, 33 U.S.C. ss. 1401, 1402, 1411-1421, and 1441-1444.

5. Permits for the construction of bridges and causeways in navigable waters required pursuant to 33 U.S.C. s. 401, as amended.

6. Permits relating to the transportation of hazardous substance materials or transportation and dumping which are issued pursuant to the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. ss. 1801-1812, as amended, or 33 U.S.C. s. 419, as amended.

7. Permits and licenses required under 43 U.S.C. s. 717 for construction and operation of interstate gas pipelines and storage facilities.

8. Permits required under 15 U.S.C. s. 717, as amended, for construction and operation of facilities needed to import and export natural gas.

9. Permits and licenses required for the siting and construction of any new electrical power plants as defined in s. 403.503(7), as amended.

10. Permits and licenses required for drilling and mining on public lands.

11. Permits for areas leased under the OCS Lands Act, as amended, including leases and approvals under 43 U.S.C. s. 1331, as amended, of exploration, development, and production plans.

12. Permits for pipeline rights of way for oil and gas transmissions.

13. Permits and licenses required for deep-water ports under 33 U.S.C. s. 1503, as amended.

(4) The department shall by rule adopt procedures for the expeditious handling of emergency repairs to existing facilities for which consistency review is required pursuant to subsections (1), (2), and (3).

(5) In any coastal management program submitted to the appropriate federal agency for its approval pursuant to this act, the department shall specifically waive its right to determine the consistency with the coastal management program of all federally licensed or permitted activities not specifically listed in subsection (3).

(6) Agencies shall not review for federal consistency purposes an application for a federally licensed or permitted activity if the activity is vested, exempted, or excepted under its own regulatory authority.

(7) The department shall review the items listed in subsection (3) to determine if in certain circumstances such items would constitute minor permit activities. If the department determines that the list contains minor permit activities, it may by rule establish a program of general concurrence pursuant to federal regulation which shall allow similar minor activities, in the same geographic area, to proceed without prior department review for federal consistency.

(8) This section shall not apply to the review of federally licensed or permitted activities for which permit applications are filed with the appropriate federal agency prior to approval of the state coastal management program by the appropriate federal agency pursuant to 16 U.S.C. s. 1451, et seq.

History.—s. 8, ch. 78-287.

380.24 Local government participation.—

Units of local government abutting the Gulf of Mexico or the Atlantic Ocean, or which include or are contiguous to waters of the state where marine species of vegetation listed by rule pursuant to s. 403.817 constitute the dominant plant community, shall develop a coastal zone protection element pursuant to s. 163.3177. Such units of local government shall be eligible to receive technical assistance from the state in preparing coastal zone protection elements and shall be the only units of local government eligible to apply to the department for available financial assistance. Local government participation in the coastal management program authorized by this act shall be voluntary.

History.—s. 9, ch. 78-287.

380.25 Previous coastal zone atlases rejected.

—The legislative draft of the coastal management program submitted to the Legislature by the department dated March 1, 1978, and the previously prepared coastal zone atlases are expressly rejected as the state's coastal management program. The department shall not divide areas of the state into vital, conservation, and development areas.

History.—s. 10, ch. 78-287.

(a) Advances in scientific knowledge have led to the development of preventive and therapeutic capabilities in the control of cancer. Such knowledge and therapy must be made available to all citizens of this state through educational and therapeutic programs.

(b) The present state of our knowledge concerning the prevalence, cause or associated factors, and treatment of cancer have resulted primarily from a vast federal investment into basic and clinical research, some of which is expended in Florida. (c) Research in cancer has implicated the environment as a causal factor for many types of cancer, i.e. sunshine, X rays, diet, smoking, etc., and programs are needed to further document such cause and effect relationships. Proven causes of cancer should be publicized and be the subject of educational programs for the prevention of cancer.

If the health systems agency fails to make a recommendation within the 60-day period and if said period is not extended as hereinafter provided, then it shall be deemed that the proposal is recommended for approval by the agency. The 60-day period may be extended by written mutual agreement of the applicant, the department, and the health systems agency, but in no event shall the extension be for more than 60 days. Such rules, regulations, and standards shall be in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act.

(c) Upon review of the applications for certificates of need, the recommendations of the health systems agencies, and the relationship between the applications, the state health plan, and the state medical facilities plan, the department shall issue or deny certificates of need for proposed capital expenditures in their entirety or for identifiable portions of the total project. If denial of the certificate of need by the department is counter to the recommendation of the local health systems agency, the department shall outline its reason for denial, item by item, to the health systems agency, in writing. The department shall make its determination within not more than 90 days from the day the application is declared to be complete, unless the total review period is otherwise extended according to paragraph (5)(e) or the applicant agrees, in writing, to an extension of the determination due date of the department. If the department fails to render a determination within 90 days, or within an otherwise extended period, from the day the application is declared to be complete, it shall be deemed that the application for a certificate of need is denied. In cases of capital expenditure applications for the provision of new health services to inpatients, the department shall not issue a certificate of need unless the findings prescribed in subsection (5)(e) are documented in writing.

(d) Denial by the department shall be in writing setting forth its findings of fact upon which such denial is based.

(e) Any applicant or health systems agency aggrieved by the issuance or denial of a certificate of need shall have the right, within not more than 30 days from the day notice of the issuance or denial of such certificate is received from the department, to seek relief according to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act. Such hearings as may take place according to the provisions of this paragraph shall be regarded as meeting the requirements of Section 1122 of Public Law 92-603.

(f) A certificate of need shall terminate 1 year after the date of issuance, unless the applicant has commenced construction, if the project provides for construction or incurred an enforceable capital expenditure commitment for projects not involving construction, or unless the certificate of need validity period is extended by the department for an additional period of up to 6 months, upon showing of good cause by the applicant for the extension.

The program is intended to provide additional outpatient and inpatient services, a continuing supply of highly trained physicians, graduate medical education, and a program for continuing education in professional skills for practicing physicians in the state.

(b) The Legislature further acknowledges the critical need for increased numbers of family physicians to provide the necessary current and projected health and medical services. In order to meet both present and anticipated needs, the Legislature supports an expansion in the number of family practice residency positions so that 150 new family physicians can be graduated into practice each year by 1988. The Legislature intends that the funding for graduate education in family practice be maintained at a minimum of $10,000 per resident per year. Should funding for this act remain constant or be reduced, it is intended that all programs funded by this act be maintained or reduced proportionately.

(3) PROGRAM FOR COMMUNITY HOSPITAL EDUCATION; STATE AND LOCAL PLANNING.—

3. Supervision of the educational program of the hospital by a physician who is not the hospital administrator.

(b) Each participating hospital shall provide a postgraduate education program for physicians in private practice in the local area.

383.14 Screening of infants for metabolic and other hereditary and congenital disorders.—It shall be the duty of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services to promote the screening of all infants born in Florida for phenylketonuria and other metabolic, hereditary, and congenital disorders known to result in significant impairment of health or intellect, as screening programs accepted by current medical practice become available and practical in the judgment of the department. Tests shall be performed at such times and in such manner as may be prescribed by the department after consultation with the Infant Screening Advisory Council.

(1) RULES.—After consultation with the Infant Screening Advisory Council, the department shall promulgate and enforce rules requiring that every infant born in Florida shall, prior to becoming 2 weeks of age, be subjected to a test for phenylketonuria and, at the appropriate age, be tested for such other metabolic diseases and hereditary or congenital disorders as the department may deem necessary from time to time. The department is empowered to promulgate such additional rules as are found necessary for the administration of this section, including rules relating to the methods used and time or times for testing as accepted medical practice indicates, and rules requiring mandatory reporting of the results of tests for these conditions to the department.

(2) DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND REHABILITATIVE SERVICES; POWERS AND DUTIES.—The department shall administer and provide certain services to implement the provisions of this section and shall:

(c) Promote education of the public about the prevention and management of metabolic, hereditary, and congenital disorders.

(d) Maintain a confidential registry of cases, including information of importance for the purpose of follow-up services to prevent mental retardation, to correct or ameliorate physical handicaps, and for epidemiologic studies, if indicated.

(e) Supply the necessary dietary treatment products where practicable for diagnosed cases for as long as medically indicated when the products are not otherwise available.

(f) Promote the availability of genetic studies and counseling in order that the parents, siblings, and affected infants may benefit from available knowledge of the condition.

(3) OBJECTIONS OF PARENT OR GUARDIAN.—The provisions of this section shall not apply when the parent or guardian of the child objects thereto. A written statement of such objection shall be presented to the physician or other person whose duty it is to administer and report such tests under the provisions of this section.

(4) ADVISORY COUNCIL.—There is established an Infant Screening Advisory Council made up of 10 members appointed by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services. The council shall be composed of two consumer members, two practicing pediatricians, one representative from each of the three medical schools in the state, and one representative each from the Children's Medical Services Program Office, the Health Program Office, and the Developmental Services Program Office. History.—s. 1, ch. 65-519; ss. 19, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-140; s. 129, ch. 77-147; s. 1, ch. 78-245; s. 2, ch. 79-26.

383.15 Legislative intent.—The Legislature finds and declares that many of the diseases and disabilities of the perinatal period have debilitating, costly, and often fatal consequences if left untreated. Many of these debilitating conditions could be prevented or ameliorated if regional perinatal care program center services were available to the general public. Such perinatal care services are critical to the well-being and development of a healthy society and represent a constructive, cost beneficial, and essential investment in the future of our state. Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature to stimulate and encourage the development of regional perinatal care program centers throughout the state. The Legislature further intends that development of regional perinatal care program centers shall not effectuate a reduction or dilution of the current financial commitment of the state as indicated through appropriation, to the existing regional neonatal intensive care program centers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 76-54; s. 1, ch. 77-171.

383.16 Definitions.—As used in this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

(2) "Office" means the Children's Medical Services Program Office.

(3) "Centers" or "Regional Perinatal Intensive Care Program Centers" means units designated by the department within hospitals, specifically designed to provide a full range of health services to women with high-risk pregnancies and newborn infants in need of intensive care.

which are integrated into a regional perinatal intensive care program and which have an established working relationship with the designated center.

(5) "Patient" means a woman with a high risk pregnancy who has been declared financially and medically eligible or a newborn infant in need of intensive care and declared financially and medically eligible, notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 391.

(7) "Minimum support grants" means grants of equal amount which are distributed by the department to all centers.

History.—s. 2, ch. 76-54; s. 1, ch. 77-171; s. 1, ch. 79-351.

383.17 Regional perinatal intensive care center program; authority.—The department is authorized to make grants and reimbursements to hospitals licensed under chapter 395, in accordance with agreements entered into pursuant to this act. These grants or reimbursements shall be designed to assist hospitals in helping to establish and maintain centers and affiliated centers. The cost of administering the regional programs shall be paid by the department from funds appropriated for this purpose.

History.—s. 3, ch. 76-54; s. 1, ch. 77-171.

383.18 Grant agreements; conditions.—Grants made under this act shall be contingent upon the department's entering into contractual agreements with recipient centers which provide that patients will receive services of such centers. Parents or guardians of these patients shall not be additionally charged for treatment and care which has been contracted for by the department. Grants shall be disbursed in accordance with conditions set forth in s. 383.19.

383.19 Grant disbursements and reimbursements; guidelines.—

(1) The department shall use guidelines for development of centers which include, but are not limited to, the need for regional perinatal intensive care program center and affiliated center services and the requirements of the population to be served. One center may be established to serve a geographic area which experiences at least 10,000 live births per year. First priority in the establishment of these centers shall be given to the seven neonatal intensive care centers located in Escambia, Duval, Alachua, Orange, Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Dade Counties; and three new centers shall be established, subject to further legislative approval and to appropriations becoming available specifically for such centers, to be located in Broward, Dade, and Palm Beach Counties. From funds appropriated for this program, each established center shall receive an equal minimum support grant. Affiliated centers shall be entitled to funds appropriated for the perinatal intensive care program only after established centers have received minimum support grants as provided above and after agreement, and establishment of a working relationship, between an affiliated center and a center. Each fiscal year, the amount of minimum support grants shall be computed so that the aggregate of all such grants is not less than 200 percent or more than 250 percent of the sum allocated for equalization funds. If funds designated for minimum support grants are not expended for such grants because a center terminates or does not enter into a contractual agreement with the department, such funds shall revert to equalization funds and be distributed accordingly.

(2) Centers and affiliated centers which are reimbursed funds under this act shall comply with standards established by rule of the department.

(3) The department shall give priority consideration to establishing centers in hospitals which have demonstrated an interest in perinatal intensive care by developing resources to match grants made pursuant to this act.

(4) Hospitals organized on a private, for-profit basis that do not accept county, state, or federal funds or indigent patients shall not be eligible for funds under this act.

The chairman of the council shall be elected from the membership of the council and shall serve for a period of 2 years. The council shall meet at least semiannually or upon call of the chairman or the director of the office. All depressions, lagoons, marshes, ponds, or lakes wherein mosquitoes incubate or hatch are declared to be public nuisances, as harmful or inimical to the comfort, health, welfare, and prosperity of the inhabitants and may be abated as hereinafter provided. 388.071 Result of election.—If the board of county commissioners shall find and determine that the result of said election is adverse to the proposition of creating the proposed district for the control of mosquitoes and other arthropods under this chapter, no other election for the same purposes shall be held within 1 year thereafter; but if a majority of the votes cast at such special election shall be in favor of creating such district, then said board of county commissioners shall enter an order constituting the territory in which said special election was held, a district for the control of mosquitoes and other arthropods, designating said district by its name, and shall declare and publish the boundaries of said district once each week for 2 successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in each county incorporated within the boundaries of the district.

(4) CONSENTS REQUIRED.—Prior to terminating a pregnancy, the physician shall obtain the written informed consent of the pregnant woman or, in the case of a mental incompetent, the written consent of her court-appointed guardian.

(a) If the pregnant woman is under 18 years of age and unmarried, in addition to her written request, the physician shall obtain the written informed consent of a parent, custodian, or legal guardian of such unmarried minor, or the physician may rely on an order of the circuit court, on petition of the pregnant unmarried minor or another person on her behalf, authorizing, for good cause shown, such termination of pregnancy without the written consent of her parent, custodian, or legal guardian. The cause may be based on a showing that the minor is sufficiently mature to give an informed consent to the procedure, or based on the fact that a parent unreasonably withheld consent by her parent, custodian, or legal guardian, or based on the minor's fear of physical or emotional abuse if her parent, custodian, or legal guardian were requested to consent, or based upon any other good cause shown. At its discretion, the court may enter its order ex parte. The court shall determine the best interest of the minor and enter its order in accordance with such determination.

(b) If the woman is married, the husband shall be given notice of the proposed termination of pregnancy and an opportunity to consult with the wife concerning the procedure. The physician may rely on a written statement of the wife that such notice and opportunity have been given, or he may rely on the written consent of the husband to the proposed termination of pregnancy. If the husband and wife are separated or estranged, the provisions of this paragraph for notice or consent shall not be required. The physician may rely upon a written statement from the wife that the husband is voluntarily living apart or estranged from her.

(c) In the event a medical emergency exists and the above requirements have not been complied with, a physician may terminate a pregnancy if he has obtained at least one corroborative medical opinion attesting to the medical necessity for emergency medical procedures and to the fact that to a reasonable degree of medical certainty the continuation of the pregnancy would threaten the life of the pregnant woman.

(5) STANDARD OF MEDICAL CARE TO BE USED DURING VIABILITY.—If a termination of pregnancy is performed during viability, no person who performs or induces the termination of pregnancy shall fail to use that degree of professional skill, care, and diligence to preserve the life and health of the fetus which such person would be required to exercise in order to preserve the life and health of any fetus intended to be born and not aborted. "Viability" means that stage of fetal development when the life of the unborn child may with a reasonable degree of medical probability be continued indefinitely outside the womb. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, the woman's life and health shall constitute an overriding and superior consideration to the concern for the life and health of the fetus when such concerns are in conflict.

(6) EXPERIMENTATION ON FETUS PROHIBITED; EXCEPTION.—No person shall use any live fetus or live, premature infant for any type of scientific, research, laboratory, or other kind of experimentation either prior to or subsequent to any termination of pregnancy procedure except as necessary to protect or preserve the life and health of such fetus or live, premature infant.

(7) REFUSAL TO PARTICIPATE IN TERMINATION PROCEDURE.—Nothing in this section shall require any hospital or any person to participate in the termination of a pregnancy, nor shall any hospital or any person be liable for such refusal. No person who is a member of, or associated with, the staff of a hospital, nor any employee of a hospital or physician in which or by whom the termination of a pregnancy has been authorized or performed, who shall state an objection to such procedure on moral or religious grounds shall be required to participate in the procedure which will result in the termination of pregnancy. The refusal of any such person or employee to participate shall not form the basis for any disciplinary or other recriminatory action against such person.

(8) EXCEPTION.—The provisions of this section shall not apply to the performance of a procedure which terminates a pregnancy in order to deliver a live child.

(9) PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION.—

(a) Any person who willfully performs, or participates in, the termination of a pregnancy in violation of the requirements of this section is guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(b) Any person who performs, or participates in the termination of a pregnancy in violation of the provisions of this section which results in the death of the woman shall be guilty of a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

390.002 Termination of pregnancies; reporting.—

(1) The director of any medical facility in which a pregnancy is terminated shall maintain a record of such procedures. The record shall include the date the procedure was performed, the reason for same, and the period of gestation at the time the procedure was performed. A copy of such record shall be filed with the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, which shall be responsible for keeping such records in a central place from which statistical data and analysis can be made.

(2) If the termination of pregnancy is not performed in a medical facility, the physician performing the procedure shall be responsible for maintaining the record and reporting as required in subsection (1).

(3) Records maintained pursuant to this section shall be privileged information and deemed to be confidential records and shall not be revealed except upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction in a civil or criminal proceeding.

390.012 Powers of department; rules.—The department shall have the authority to develop and enforce standards for the health, care, and treatment of persons in abortion clinics and for the safe operation of such clinics, and to that end it may adopt and enforce rules necessary and proper to carry out such standards. These rules shall be comparable to rules which apply to all surgical procedures requiring approximately the same degree of skill and care as the performance of first trimester abortions. The rules shall be reasonably related to the preservation of maternal health of the clients. The rules shall not impose a legally significant burden on the woman's freedom to decide whether to terminate her pregnancy. The rules shall provide for, but shall not be limited to:

(1) The establishment of minimum standards for the care and treatment of clients of an abortion clinic;

(2) The availability of aftercare services and emergency medical services to be administered by a hospital; and

(3) The transportation of patients requiring emergency care from an abortion clinic to a licensed hospital.

History.—s. 2, ch. 78-382.

390.013 Effective date of rules.—Any abortion clinic which is in operation at the time of adoption of any applicable rule under this act shall be given a reasonable time under the particular circumstances, not to exceed 1 year from the date of such adoption, within which to comply with such rule.

History.—s. 3, ch. 78-382.

390.014 Licenses; fees, display, etc.—

(1) No abortion clinic shall operate in this state without a currently effective license issued by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

(4) Counties and municipalities applying for licenses under this act shall be exempt from the payment of the license fees.

(5) The license shall be displayed in a conspicuous place inside the clinic.

(6) A license shall be valid only for the clinic to which it is issued, and it shall not be subject to sale,

History.—s. 4, ch. 78-382.

390.015 Application for license.—

(1) An application for a license to operate an abortion clinic shall be made to the department on a form furnished by it for that purpose. The application shall be accompanied by the applicable license fee.

Sixty days prior to the expiration date, an application for renewal of such license shall be submitted to the department on a form furnished by the department. The license may be renewed if the applicant has met the requirements of this act and of all rules adopted pursuant to this act.

(2) A licensee against which a revocation or suspension proceeding is pending at the time of license renewal may be issued a conditional license which shall be effective until final disposition of the proceeding by the department. If judicial relief is sought from the order resulting from the revocation or suspension proceeding, the court having jurisdiction may order that the conditional license be continued for the duration of the judicial proceeding.

History.—s. 6, ch. 78-382.

390.017 Grounds for suspension or revocation of license.—The license of an abortion clinic may be revoked, or may be suspended for a period not to exceed 2 years, or the department may refuse to renew such license, if it is determined in accordance with the provisions of chapter 120 that the clinic has violated a provision of this act or any rule or lawful order of the department.

History.—s. 7, ch. 78-382.

ocation or suspension.—If the department finds that one or more grounds exist for the revocation or suspension of a license issued to an abortion clinic, the department may, in lieu of such suspension or revocation, impose a fine upon the clinic in an amount not to exceed $1,000 for each violation. The fine shall be paid to the department within 60 days from the date of entry of the administrative order. If the licensee fails to pay the fine in its entirety to the department within the period allowed, the license of the licensee shall stand suspended, revoked, or renewal or continuation may be refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period and without any further administrative or judicial proceedings.

390.021 Injunction.—In addition to the other powers provided by this act, the department may institute injunction proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to restrain or prevent the establishment or operation of an abortion clinic which does not have a license or is in violation of any provision of this act or of any rules adopted pursuant to this act.

390.025 Abortion referral or counseling agencies.—

(1) As used in this section, an "abortion referral or counseling agency" is any person, group, or organization, whether funded publicly or privately, that provides advice or help to persons in obtaining abortions.

(2) An abortion referral or counseling agency, before making a referral or aiding a person in obtaining an abortion, shall furnish such person with a full and detailed explanation of abortion, including the effects of and alternatives to abortion. If the person advised is a minor, a good faith effort shall be made by the referral or counseling agency to furnish such information to the parents or guardian of the minor. No abortion referral or counseling agency shall charge or accept any fee, kickback, or compensation of any nature from a physician, hospital, clinic, or other medical facility for referring a person thereto for an abortion.

If such afflicted person refuses to accept such voluntary treatment, or if his record and actions indicate that he will not actually persist in treatment in a tuberculosis hospital until he is no longer a danger to the public health, or if said afflicted person has absented himself from a state tuberculosis hospital against medical advice and without having been discharged by the medical director thereof, then the department or its authorized representative may file a petition setting forth such facts and asking that examination be conducted as herein provided. Such petition may be presented to the judge of the circuit court of the county wherein such person resides or is found.

such report and interpose his defense thereto. After the hearing the judge shall enter an appropriate order. If the judge determines that such person has active tuberculosis and is dangerous to the public health, he shall commit such person for compulsory isolation, quarantine, and compulsory treatment to the custody of the medical director of a hospital operated by the department for such period of time as shall, in the opinion of the medical director of the hospital, be necessary to improve the health of such person, so that he will not have active tuberculosis or will not be dangerous to the public health, and such order shall determine whether or not the person so committed has sufficient available means to pay for his care and treatment at a hospital operated by the department.

(4) The alleged tuberculous infected person shall have the right to summon witnesses in his own behalf, and if indigent and unable to procure the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, the court shall have summoned a reasonable number of witnesses for such person to be paid by the county.

The judge after considering the petition and support evidence may enter an order:

(a) Determining that it is necessary for the protection of the public health that the alleged tuberculous person be confined until the disposition by the court of the examining committee report; and

(b) Directing the medical director of the hospital operated by the department to confine the alleged tuberculous person until further order of the court and that during the confinement he shall be quarantined or compulsorily isolated by the director. 393.061 Short title.—This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Retardation Prevention and Community Services Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335.

393.062 Legislative findings and declaration of intent.—The Legislature finds and declares that existing state programs for the treatment of retarded and other developmentally disabled individuals, which often unnecessarily place clients in large state institutions, are unreasonably costly, are ineffective in bringing the individual client to his or her maximum potential, and are in fact debilitating to a great majority of clients. A redirection in state treatment programs for the retarded and other developmentally disabled individuals is necessary if any significant amelioration of the problems faced by such individuals is ever to take place. Such redirection should place primary emphasis on programs that have the potential to prevent or reduce the severity of retardation and other developmental disabilities. Further, the Legislature declares that greatest priority shall be given to the development and implementation of community-based residential placements, services, and treatment programs for the retarded and other developmentally disabled individuals which will enable such individuals to achieve their greatest potential for independent and productive living, which will enable them to live in their own homes or in facilities located in their own communities, and which will permit clients to be diverted or removed from unnecessary institutional placements. Finally, the Legislature declares that, in developing community-based programs and services for retarded and other developmentally disabled individuals, private businesses, not-for-profit corporations, units of local government, and other organizations capable of providing needed services to clients in a cost-efficient manner shall be given preference in lieu of operation of programs directly by state agencies.

393.064 Prevention; plan and report to the Legislature.—

(1) The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, in carrying out its assigned purpose under s. 20.19(1) of preventing to the maximum extent possible the occurrence and incidence of physical and mental diseases and disabilities, shall give priority to the development, planning, and implementation of programs which have the potential to prevent or reduce the severity of retardation and other developmental disabilities. The department shall identify, through demonstration projects, through departmental program evaluation, and through monitoring of programs and projects conducted outside of the department, any medical, social, economic, or educational methods, techniques, or procedures which have the potential to effectively ameliorate retardation and other developmental disabilities. The department shall determine the costs and benefits that would be associated with such prevention efforts and shall implement, or recommend the implementation of, those methods, techniques, or procedures which are found likely to be cost-beneficial. The department in its legislative budget request shall identify funding needs for such prevention programs.

(2) In planning and developing its programs and recommendations relating to the prevention of retardation and other developmental disabilities, the department shall consider and evaluate the potential for new or improved programs in the following areas:

(a) Primary prevention:

1. Preconceptional.

2. Prenatal, including maternal nutrition, immunization, and special care for high risk populations, including teenage pregnancies.

(b) Secondary prevention:

3. Early intervention, including medical services, developmental and behavioral therapy, and educational training.

(3) Other agencies of state government shall cooperate with and assist the department, within available resources, in implementing programs which have the potential to prevent, or reduce the severity of, retardation and other developmental disabilities and shall consider the findings and recommendations of the department in developing and implementing agency programs and formulating agency budget requests.

(4) The department shall submit to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as part of the 5-year plan required by s. 393.069, a plan for programs designed to prevent and reduce the severity of retardation and other developmental disabilities. The plan shall outline department proposals for the identification of appropriate prevention efforts, the development of prevention programs, and the provision of services under such programs. All data, projections, and estimates in the plan shall be arrayed by district. The plan shall be resubmitted annually as part of the 5-year plan. The plan shall contain the following elements:

393.065 Intake.—

(1) Application for services shall be made in writing to the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, in the district in which the applicant resides. The department shall review each application for eligibility. The department may screen eligible applicants to determine the need for prevention or other services. Each applicant shall be determined to be in need of services through screening or the diagnostic evaluation process, prior to being accepted as a client.

(2) The department shall prescribe and provide an appropriate individual habilitation plan for each client. The parent or guardian of the client or, if competent, the client, shall be consulted in the development of the plan and shall receive a copy of the plan. Each plan shall include the most cost-beneficial, least restrictive environment for accomplishment of the objectives for client progress and a specification of all services authorized. The plan shall include provisions for the most appropriate level of care for the client. Within the specification of needs and services for each client, when residential care is necessary, the department shall move toward placement of clients in residential facilities based within the client's community. The ultimate goal of each plan, whenever possible, shall be to enable the client to live a dignified life in the least restrictive setting, be that in the home or in the community.

(a) The department shall develop and prescribe by rule a standard habilitation plan form. This form shall be used by each district.

(b) In the interest of continuity of care, one member of the professional staff of the department shall be designated to be responsible for supervising implementation of an individual habilitation plan and recording the client's progress.

(c) The department shall place a client in the most appropriate, least restrictive, and most cost-beneficial residential facility according to his individual habilitation plan. Considerations for placement shall be made in the following order:

1. Client's own home or the home of a caretaker.
2. Foster care facility.
3. Group home facility.
4. Residential habilitation center.
5. Intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.
6. Nursing home facility.
7. Sunland Centers.

(d) In developing a client's annual habilitation plan, the department shall identify measurable objectives for client progress and shall specify a time period expected for achievement of each objective.

(e) The department shall review progress in achieving the objectives specified in each client's habilitation plan, at least semiannually, and shall revise the plan annually, following consultation with the client, if competent, or with the parent or guardian of the client. The department shall annually report in writing to the client, if competent, or to the parent or guardian of the client with respect to the client's habilitative and medical progress.

(f) The department shall develop specific categories for the measurement of client progress.

393.066 Community services and treatment for the retarded and other developmentally disabled.—

(1) The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall plan, develop, organize, and implement its programs of services and treatment for the retarded and other developmentally disabled persons along district lines. The goal of such programs shall be to allow clients to live as independently as possible in their own homes or communities and to achieve productive lives as close to normal as possible.

(2) All programs of services and treatment for clients shall be administered through the districts, shall be based in the community, and shall serve all clients regardless of the type of residential setting in which the client lives. All departmental service personnel, other than those required to provide room and board and personal care to residents of state-operated institutions and facilities, shall be assigned by the district to community-based programs, provided that there is no net loss of federal funding from either title XX or title XIX of the Social Security Act. In addition, all purchased services shall be approved by the district.

(3) All services needed shall be purchased instead of provided directly by the department, when such arrangement is most cost-efficient, in accordance with s. 20.19(13).

(4) Community-based services shall, to the extent of available resources, include:

- (a) Day care services.
- (b) Respite care services.
- (c) Medical care services.
- (d) Recreation.
- (e) Physical therapy.
- (f) Training, including developmental training.
- (g) Social services.
- (h) Parent training.
- (i) Other habilitative and rehabilitative services as needed.

(5) The department shall utilize the services of private businesses, not-for-profit organizations, and units of local government whenever such services are more cost-efficient than providing such services directly by the department, including arrangements for provision of residential facilities.

(6) In order to improve the potential for utilization of more cost-effective, community-based residential facilities, the department shall promote the statewide development of day care services for clients who have a regular place of domicile and who do not require 24-hours-a-day care in a hospital or other health care institution, but who may, in the absence of day care services, require admission to a Sunland Center. Each day care service facility shall provide a protective physical environment for clients, make available to all day care service participants at least one meal on each day of operation, provide facilities to enable participants to obtain needed rest while attending the program, and provide social and educational activities designed to stimulate interest and provide socialization skills.

(7) For the purpose of making needed community-based residential facilities available at the least possible cost to the state, the department is authorized to lease privately owned residential facilities under long-term rental agreements, if such rental agreements are projected to be less costly to the state over the useful life of the facility than state purchase or state construction of such a facility. In addition, the department is authorized to permit, on any public land to which the department holds the lease, construction of a residential facility for which the department has entered into a long-term rental agreement as specified in this subsection.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335.

(2) The application shall be under oath and shall contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the applicant, if an individual; if the applicant is a firm, partnership, or association, the name and address of each member thereof; if the applicant is a corporation, its name and address and the name and address of each director and each officer thereof; and the name by which the facility is to be known.

(f) Information relating to the number, experience, and training of the employees of the facility and to the moral character of the applicant and employees.

(g) Such other information as the department determines necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

(3) The applicant shall submit evidence which establishes the good moral character of the applicant and of the manager or supervisor of the facility.

(4) The applicant shall furnish satisfactory proof of financial ability to operate and conduct the facility in accordance with the requirements of this chapter and all rules promulgated hereunder.

(5) The department shall promulgate rules establishing minimum standards for licensure for residential facilities, including minimum standards of quality and adequacy of care.

(6) The department may conduct unannounced inspections to determine compliance by residential facilities with the provisions of this chapter and the rules adopted pursuant thereto. The facility shall make copies of inspection reports available to the public upon request.

(7) Each residential facility licensed by the department shall forward annually to the department a true and accurate sworn statement of its costs of providing care.

(8) The department may audit the records of any residential facility which it has reason to believe may not be in full compliance with the provisions of this section.

(9) The department shall establish, for the purpose of control of costs, a uniform management information system and a uniform reporting system with uniform definitions and reporting categories.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335; s. 154, ch. 79-400.

393.068 Demonstration project.—The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, a combination demonstration project and evaluation study to determine the desirability of establishing a family placement program for retarded and developmentally disabled persons throughout the state. In carrying out the project, the department shall establish or cause to be established programs in at least three districts. When it is determined by the department to be more cost-effective and in the best interest of the client to maintain such client in the home of a caretaker in order to avoid unnecessary institutionalization, the parent or guardian of the client or, if competent, the client may enroll the client in the family placement program. The caretaker of a client enrolled in the family placement program shall be reimbursed according to a rate schedule set by the department.

(1) All existing community resources available to the client shall be utilized to support program objectives. Additional services may be incorporated into the program as appropriate and to the extent that resources are available. The department is authorized to accept gifts and grants in order to carry out the program.

(2) The department may contract for the provision of any portion or all of the services required by the program. Such purchase of service contracts shall be used whenever the requirements of s. 20.19(13) exist.

(3) When possible, services shall be obtained under the "Florida Comprehensive Annual Services Program Plan under Title XX of the Social Security Act" and the "Florida Plan for Medical Assistance under Title XIX of the Social Security Act."

(4) To provide a range of personal services for the client, the use of volunteers shall be maximized. The department shall assure appropriate insurance coverage to protect volunteers from personal liability while acting within the scope of their volunteer assignments under the program.

(5) The department shall submit to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as part of the 5-year plan required by s. 393.069, an evaluation report summarizing the progress of the family placement program. The report shall include the information and data necessary for an accurate analysis of the costs and benefits associated with the establishment and operation of the programs that were established.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335.

393.069 Departmental plan; submission to the Legislature.—The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall submit to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, not later than January 31, 1978, a comprehensive 5-year plan for the provision of services to retarded and other developmentally disabled persons. Such comprehensive plan shall be updated and resubmitted not later than January 31 each calendar year through 1982. The comprehensive plan shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

(1) The plan for departmental programs designed to prevent, and reduce the severity of, retardation and other developmental disabilities, required by s. 393.064.

(2) An identification and projection of retardation and developmental disability program needs, including service programs, personnel, facilities, and other needed resources; a projection of the cost of funding such program needs; and an estimation of the benefits attendant to funding such program needs.

(3) A review of the appropriateness and availability of the various categories or levels of care being provided in the state for clients, including an identification of gaps in service programs and an estimation of the extent and percentage of unserved need in each category or level of care.

(4) A plan for the use or alternative use or disposition of the Sunland Centers.

(5) An evaluation of the results of the demonstration project required by s. 393.068.

(6) A compilation of client progress reports, using the categories for measurement of client progress developed by the department pursuant to s. 393.065 and used in the development of each client's habilitation plan, along with a summary of overall client population progress by type of client and category of measurement.

(7) A statement and projection of client fee collections.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335.

393.071 Client fees.—The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall charge fees for services provided to clients in accordance with s. 402.33.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-335.

393.11 Hearing and order for involuntary admission to residential services; recommendation of examining commission.—

(1) When a person is retarded and requires involuntary admission to residential services provided by the retardation program of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, the circuit court of the county in which the person resides shall have jurisdiction to conduct a hearing and enter an order involuntarily admitting the person in order that he may receive the care, treatment, and rehabilitation which he needs. It is the intent of the Legislature that, for the purpose of identifying developmental disabilities, diagnostic capability be established in every program function of the department in the districts, including, but not limited to, youth services, mental health, vocational rehabilitation, and social and economic services.

(2) In no case shall an order authorizing an admission to residential care be considered an adjudication of mental incompetency. In addition, any child involuntarily admitted to residential services of the retardation program of the department shall, upon reaching majority, be given a hearing to determine his competency. The hearing and order for involuntary admission shall be conducted and entered in the county in which the person is residing or in the county from which the original admittance was made. The hearing shall be conducted and the order entered according to the following procedure:

(a) Three persons, one of whom shall be a physician licensed and practicing under chapter 458, shall constitute a petition committee. These persons shall state under oath the name of the person being considered for involuntary admission, his residence, his family conditions, his physical condition, and the nature and extent of his retardation as established by competent evaluation.

(b) Upon receiving the petition, the court shall immediately appoint an examining commission to examine the person being considered for involuntary admission to residential services of the retardation program of the department. The court shall appoint no fewer than three disinterested experts qualified in the field of mental retardation, including at least one licensed and qualified physician, one licensed and qualified psychologist, and one qualified social worker, to examine the applicant and to testify in person at the hearing on admission to residential care. Members of the commission shall not be employees of the department or be associated with each other in practice or in employer-employee relationships. If there is not a practicing psychologist within the county who meets the above standards, the judge may appoint one additional physician to be a member of the examining commission. Such expert testimony shall include, but not be limited to:

1. The degree of the applicant's retardation.
2. The purpose to be served by residential care.
3. The appropriate habilitation and treatment.

Other evidence regarding the appropriateness of the applicant's admission may be introduced at the hearing by any interested party.

(c) Hearing on the petition shall be held as soon as practicable after the petition is filed. The applicant shall be physically present throughout the entire proceeding, be represented by counsel, and be provided the right and opportunity to be confronted with, and to cross-examine, all witnesses alleging the appropriateness of his admission to residential care. All evidence shall be presented according to the usual rules of evidence. All stages of each proceeding shall be stenographically reported. The burden of proof shall be on the party alleging the appropriateness of the applicant's admission to residential care. The burden of proof shall be by clear and convincing evidence. In all cases, the court shall issue findings to support its decision and state the basis for such findings.

(d) An applicant shall be represented by counsel at all stages of a judicial admission proceeding. In the event an applicant cannot afford counsel, the court shall appoint a public defender not less than 20 days before the scheduled hearing. In all cases, a court-appointed, or otherwise procured, attorney shall represent the rights and legal interests of the applicant, regardless of who may initiate the proceedings or pay the attorney's fee.

(e) If the examining commission finds the examined person to be retarded or developmentally disabled and in need of treatment and rehabilitation within residential services of the retardation program of the department, these findings shall be reported to the court. The department shall then inform the court of all available services for the person. The court may order the involuntary admission of the person to residential services of the department. If the evidence presented to the court is not sufficient to warrant involuntary admission to residential services, but the court feels that residential services would be beneficial, the court may recommend that the person seek voluntary admission. The order of involuntary admission to residential care shall be accompanied by the report of the examining commission; shall explicitly document the degree of retardation, the purpose to be served by residential care, and the least restrictive placement for the person; and shall include copies of any other records that may be required by the department. Upon receiving the order and records, the department shall, within 45 days, provide the court with a copy of the person's habilitation plan outlining treatment and rehabilitative programs and documenting that the person has been placed in the most appropriate, least restrictive, and most cost-beneficial residential facility.

(3) Appeal of a final order in a judicial admission proceeding shall be by right in accordance with Art. V of the State Constitution and the Florida Appellate Rules. Pendency of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay admission until a final determination is made.

(4) At any time and without notice, any person involuntarily admitted to the retardation program of the department, or his parent or legal guardian in his behalf, is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus to question the cause, legality, and appropriateness of the client's involuntary admission, upon proper application. Each client or his parent or legal guardian shall receive specific written notice of the right to petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

(5) The court which issues the initial order for involuntary admission of a person under this section may enter further orders to ensure that the person is receiving adequate care, treatment, habilitation, and rehabilitation within available resources.

393.115 Discharge.—

(1) DISCHARGE AFTER ADMISSION TO RESIDENTIAL CARE.—

(a) If, at any time after any person has been admitted to residential care for the retarded provided by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, the resident, his parent or legal guardian, if the resident is not competent, or the department is of the opinion that the resident's admission is no longer appropriate, the department shall, upon request, immediately proceed for a hearing to determine the appropriateness of continued residential care for the resident.

(b) If the department determines that the resident's continued admission to residential care is not essential or that the resident is not dangerous to himself or others, as documented in the resident's written habilitation plan, the resident shall be immediately discharged by the department. If the department determines that the resident's continued admission is essential or that the resident is dangerous to himself or others, as documented in the resident's written habilitation plan, he shall remain admitted to residential care provided by the department.

(c) Nothing in this section shall in any way limit or restrict the resident's right to a writ of habeas corpus or the right of the department to transfer a resident receiving residential care to a program of appropriate services provided by the department when such is the appropriate habilitative setting for the resident.

(2) DISCHARGE AFTER CRIMINAL OR JUVENILE COMMITMENT.—Any mentally retarded person committed to the custody of the department pursuant to the provisions of the applicable criminal or juvenile court law shall be discharged in accordance with the requirements of the applicable criminal or juvenile court law.

Note.—Former s. 393.05.

393.12 Competency.—

of admission to nonresidential services or residential care for a condition of mental retardation. No person shall be presumed incompetent solely by reason of his acceptance in nonresidential services or admission to residential care; nor shall any such person be denied the full exercise of all legal rights guaranteed to citizens of Florida and of the United States, except as expressly determined by an appropriate court of law.

(2) When there is clear reason to believe that a person is incompetent by reason of a condition of mental retardation, proceedings to determine the competency of the individual may be initiated in accordance with the provisions and requirements of chapter 744. Such proceedings shall be initiated only if an adjudication of incompetency is essential for the appointment of a legal guardian of the person or property of the mentally retarded person.

(3) The effect of an adjudication of incompetency and the procedures for restoration to competency shall be as provided in chapter 744.

(4) The judge conducting proceedings to determine the competency of a person may issue an order for the least restrictive type of guardianship for the person, pursuant to part III of chapter 744.

393.122 Applications for continued residential services.—

(1) Before October 1, 1977, the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall notify each client who will be 18 years of age or older before January 1, 1978, who is presently receiving residential services from the department, and who has not been adjudicated incompetent, and the parents or next of kin of each such client, that the client will be discharged unless application for continuation of residential services is made by January 1, 1978.

(2) At least 90 days prior to the date that a client who is receiving residential services from the department and who has not been adjudicated incompetent reaches 18 years of age, the department shall notify the client and his parents or next of kin that the client will be discharged upon reaching 18 years of age unless application for continuation of residential services is made by that time.

(3) If a client is discharged from residential services under the provisions of this section, application for needed services shall be encouraged.

(4) No client receiving services from the department as of July 1, 1977, shall be denied continued services due to any change in eligibility requirements by chapter 77-335, Laws of Florida.

(5) Development of nonretarded developmental disability programs shall not effectuate a reduction or dilution of the ongoing financial commitment of the state through appropriations for mental retardation programs and services.

History.—s. 5, ch. 77-335.

393.13 Personal treatment of clients.—

(1) SHORT TITLE.—This act shall be known as "The Bill of Rights of Retarded Persons."

(2) LEGISLATIVE INTENT.—

(a) The Legislature finds and declares that the system of care which the state provides to mentally retarded individuals must be designed to meet the needs of the clients as well as protect the integrity of their legal and human rights. Further, the current system of care for retarded persons is in need of substantial improvement in order to provide truly meaningful treatment and habilitation.

(b) The Legislature further finds and declares that the design and delivery of treatment and services to the mentally retarded should be directed by the principles of normalization and therefore should:

1. Abate the use of large institutions.

2. Continue the development of community-based services which provide reasonable alternatives to institutionalization in settings that are least restrictive to the client.

3. Provide training and education to mentally retarded individuals which will maximize their potential to lead independent and productive lives and which will afford opportunities for outward mobility from institutions.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that duplicative and unnecessary administrative procedures and practices shall be eliminated, and areas of responsibility shall be clearly defined and consolidated in order to economically utilize present resources. Furthermore, personnel providing services should be sufficiently qualified and experienced to meet the needs of the clients, and they must be sufficient in number to provide treatment in a manner which is beneficial to the clients.

(d) It is the intent of the Legislature:

1. To articulate the existing legal and human rights of the retarded so that they may be exercised and protected. The mentally retarded person shall have all the rights enjoyed by citizens of the state and the United States.

2. To provide a mechanism for the identification, evaluation, and treatment of persons with mental retardation.

3. To divert those individuals from institutional commitment who, by virtue of professional diagnosis and evaluation, can be placed in less costly, more effective community environments and programs.

4. To mandate the development of a plan which will indicate the most effective and efficient manner in which to implement treatment programs which are meaningful to individuals with mental retardation, while safeguarding and respecting the legal and human rights of such individuals.

5. Once the plan mandated under the provisions of subparagraph 4. is presented to the Legislature, to fund improvements in the program in accordance with the availability of state resources and yearly priorities determined by the Legislature.

6. To provide programs for the proper habilitation and treatment of the mentally retarded person, which shall include, but not be limited to, comprehensive medical care, education, recreation, physical therapy, training, social services, and habilitative and rehabilitative services suited to the needs of the individual regardless of age, degree of retardation, or handicapping condition. No mentally retarded person shall be deprived of these enumerated services by reason of inability to pay.

7. To fully effectuate the normalization principle through the establishment of community services for the mentally retarded person as a viable and practical alternative to institutional care at each stage of individual life development. If care in an institutional facility becomes necessary, it should be in the least restrictive setting.

(e) It is the clear, unequivocal intent of this act to guarantee individual dignity, liberty, pursuit of happiness, and protection of the civil and legal rights of mentally retarded persons.

(3) CLIENT RIGHTS.—

(a) Clients shall have a right to dignity, privacy, and humane care.

(b) Clients shall have the right to religious freedom and practice. Nothing shall restrict or force infringement on a client's right to religious preference and practice.

(c) Clients shall have an unrestricted right to communication:

1. Each client shall be allowed to receive, send, and mail sealed, unopened correspondence. No client's incoming or outgoing correspondence shall be opened, delayed, held, or censored by the facility unless there is reason to believe that it contains items or substances which may be harmful to the client or others, in which case the chief administrator of the facility may direct reasonable examination of such mail and regulate the disposition of such items or substances.

2. Clients in residential facilities shall be afforded reasonable opportunities for telephone communication.

3. Clients shall have an unrestricted right to visitations. However, nothing in this provision shall be construed to permit infringement upon other clients' rights to privacy.

(d) Each client has the right to the possession and use of his own clothing and personal effects. The chief administrator of the facility may take temporary custody of such effects when it is essential to do so for medical or safety reasons. Custody of such personal effects shall be promptly recorded in the client's record, and a receipt for such effects shall be immediately given to the client, if competent, or his parent or legal guardian.

1. All money belonging to a client held by the department shall be held in compliance with subsections 402.17(2) and (7).

2. All interest on money received and held for the personal use and benefit of a client shall be the property of that client and shall not accrue to the general welfare of all clients or be used to defray the cost of residential care. Interest so accrued shall be used or conserved for the personal use or benefit of the individual client as provided in subsection 402.17(2).

3. Upon the discharge or death of a client, a final accounting shall be made of all personal effects and money belonging to the client held by the department. All such personal effects and money, including interest, shall be promptly turned over to the client or his heirs.

(e) Each client shall receive education and training services regardless of chronological age, degree of retardation, or accompanying disabilities or handicaps. Clients may be provided with instruction in sex education, marriage, and family planning as prescribed in the client's individual habilitative program.

(f) Each client shall receive prompt and appropriate medical treatment and care for physical and mental ailments and for the prevention of any illness or disability. Medical treatment shall be consistent with the accepted standards of medical practice in the community.

1. Medication shall be administered only at the written order of a physician. Medication shall not be used as punishment, for the convenience of staff, as a substitute for a habilitation plan, or in unnecessary or excessive quantities.

2. Daily notation of medication received by each client in a residential facility shall be kept in the client's record.

3. Periodically, but no less frequently than every 6 months, the drug regimen of each client in a residential facility shall be reviewed by the attending physician or other appropriate monitoring body, consistent with appropriate standards of medical practice. All prescriptions shall have a termination date.

4. Pharmacy services at each residential facility shall be directed or supervised by a professionally competent pharmacist licensed according to the provisions of chapter 465.

5. Pharmacy services shall be delivered in accordance with the provisions of chapter 465.

6. Prior to instituting a plan of experimental medical treatment or carrying out any necessary surgical procedure, express and informed consent shall be obtained from the client, if competent, or his parent or legal guardian. Information upon which the client shall make necessary treatment and surgery decisions shall include, but not be limited to:

a. The nature and consequences of such procedures.

b. The risks, benefits, and purposes of such procedures.

c. Alternate procedures available.

7. When the department is the legal guardian of a client, or the custodian of a client whose parent or legal guardian is unknown or unlocatable and whose physician is unwilling to perform surgery based solely on the client's consent, a court of competent jurisdiction shall hold a hearing to determine the appropriateness of the surgical procedure. The client shall be physically present, unless the client's medical condition precludes such presence, represented by counsel, and provided the right and opportunity to be confronted with, and to cross-examine, all witnesses alleging the appropriateness of such procedure. In such proceedings, the burden of proof by clear and convincing evidence shall be on the party alleging the appropriateness of such procedures. The express and informed consent of a person described in subparagraph 6. may be withdrawn at any time, with or without cause, prior to treatment or surgery.

8. The absence of express and informed consent notwithstanding, a licensed and qualified physician may render emergency medical care or treatment to any client who has been injured or who is suffering from an acute illness, disease, or condition if, within a reasonable degree of medical certainty, delay in initiation of emergency medical care or treatment would endanger the health of the client.

(g) Clients shall be provided with suitable opportunities for behavioral and leisure time activities which include social interaction.

(h) Each client shall be provided with appropriate physical exercise as prescribed in the client's individual habilitation plan. Indoor and outdoor facilities and equipment for such physical exercise shall be provided.

(i) Each client shall receive humane discipline.

(j) No client shall be subjected to a treatment program to eliminate bizarre or unusual behaviors without first being examined by a physician to rule out the possibility that such behaviors are organically caused.

1. Treatment programs involving the use of noxious or painful stimuli shall be prohibited.

2. All alleged violations of this paragraph shall be reported immediately to the chief administrative officer of the facility or the district administrator, the department head, and the district Human Rights Advocacy Committee. A thorough investigation of each incident shall be conducted and a written report of the finding and results of such investigation shall be submitted to the chief administrative officer of the facility or the district administrator and to the department head within 24 hours of the occurrence or discovery of the incident.

(k) Each client engaged in work programs which require compliance with federal wage and hour laws shall be provided with minimum wage protection and fair compensation for labor in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR part 529.

(l) Clients shall have the right to be free from physical restraint. Physical restraints shall be employed only in emergencies to protect the client from imminent injury to himself or others. Restraints shall not be employed as punishment, for the convenience of staff, or as a substitute for a habilitative plan. Restraints shall impose the least possible restrictions consistent with their purpose and shall be removed when the emergency ends. Restraints shall not cause physical injury to the client and shall be designed to allow the greatest possible comfort.

1. Mechanical supports used in normative situations to achieve proper body position and balance shall not be considered restraints, but shall be prescriptively designed and applied under the supervision of a qualified professional with concern for principles of good body alignment, circulation, and allowance for change of position.

2. Totally enclosed cribs and barred enclosures shall be considered restraints.

3. Daily reports on the employment of restraints by those specialists authorized in the use of restraints shall be made to the appropriate chief administrator of the facility, and a monthly summary of such reports shall be relayed to the district administrator and the district Human Rights Advocacy Committee. The reports shall summarize all such cases of restraints, the type used, the duration of usage, and the reasons therefor.

4. The department shall post a copy of the rules and regulations promulgated under this section in each living unit of residential facilities. A copy of the rules and regulations promulgated under this section shall be given to all staff members of residential facilities and made a part of all preservice and inservice training programs.

(m)1. Each client shall have a central record. The record shall include data pertaining to admission and such other information as may be required under regulation by the department.

2. Unless waived by the client, if competent, or his parent or legal guardian if the client is incompetent, the client's central record shall be confidential. The client's central record shall not be a public record, and no part of it shall be released except:

a. The record may be released to physicians, attorneys, and government agencies having need of the record to aid the client, as designated by the client, if competent, or his parent or legal guardian, if the client is incompetent.

b. The record shall be produced in response to a subpoena or released to persons authorized by order of court, excluding matters privileged by other provisions of law.
